regarding arroyo-watersheds that traverse both the unincorporated County area as well as through the City of Riverside." The City of Riverside endorsed the formation of the CCAC on December 14, 2004 (item no. 18) and directed that the City Council appoint City representatives from applicable wards. As shown in Attachment 1 of the report, the CCAC is composed of representatives from the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth Supervisorial Districts and five of the seven city wards.

The CCAC has worked diligently to address the many issues affecting city and county arroyos, but after two years of effort, the CCAC has not completed arroyo policies and maps that could assist the County and City in reviewing land development. To assist the CCAC in completing these activities, it is recommended that the County Planning Department and City Community Development Department share chairmanship of the CCAC and serve as support staff to assist the CCAC in finalizing its policy and mapping recommendations.

Within 90 days, it is further recommended that the Planning Department return to the Board with a report on the CCAC arroyo map and policies and an update regarding the future role of the CCAC. The City of Riverside recently issued a RFP to delineate the natural arroyo boundaries in the city. It is recommended that the Planning Department review the City's RFP and report back to the Board on its recommendation regarding retaining a consultant to provide similar services for arroyos in the unincorporated area.
