SUBMITTAL TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, COUNTY OF RIVERSIDE, STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FORM 11: Oppose House Resolution No. 29 (California State Assembly) – Relative to outsourcing of public services
DATE: April 17, 2014

This nonbinding resolution of the State Assembly expresses opposition to “outsourcing of public services and assets, which harms transparency, accountability, shared prosperity, and competition.” The resolution also supports “processes that give public service workers the opportunity to develop their own plan on how to deliver cost-effective, high-quality services.” The resolution references the Taxpayer Empowerment Agenda (TEA), a proposal by a group called “In the Public Interest,” which is a project of the national coalition known as the Partnership for Working Families. HR 29 is sponsored by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees.

TEA and HR 29 present a blanket one-size-fits-all understanding of government services being contracted to the private sector that does not fit the reality of several agencies, including the County and other special purpose entities. Much of the County’s work is performed by public employees, with some specialized work performed by the private sector. Existing law provides an adequate framework for what types of services can be contracted out, and any modifications to that framework should be carefully considered. Contracting out is often used to augment staff efforts to support program workloads, which do not appear permanent in nature.

TEA outlines a number of policies that County currently adheres to as part of its Best Practices including:

- Contracts audits and oversight;
- Language allowing the County to cancel contracts if the company does not meet expectations;
- Competitive bidding requirements and transparency for all contracts.
