EXECUTIVE SUMMARY. The primary objective of the County's CPD programs is the development of viable urban communities by providing decent housing, a suitable living environment, and expansion of economic opportunities, principally for persons of low and moderate incomes. The 2015-2016 One Year Action Plan is a component of the Five Year Consolidated Plan that must be updated annually. It provides detailed information on the resources the County expects to receive and the activities to be undertaken to meet the priority needs identified in the Consolidated Plan. At the completion of the Citizen Participation process, and after comments have been received, the County will prepare and submit the final 2015-2016 One Year Action Plan of the 2014-2019 Five Year Consolidated Plan to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. This is anticipated to occur on May 15, 2015.

ANTICIPATED FUNDS. Anticipated allocations to be received through the FY 2015-16 HUD appropriations are: $7,368,169 for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program, including the Metro City Program; $1,597,088 for the Home Investment Partnership (HOME) program, including the Community Housing Development Organizations (CHDO) program; and $583,301 for the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG) program. The County expects to utilize eighty-five percent (85%) of the CPD funds for activities that will benefit low and moderate-income persons.

EDISON OTORGÓ $80,000 PARA STEM EN CAL STATE SAN BERNARDINO

DIANA CERVANTES
ESPECIAL PARA UNIDOS

La reciente película "Spore Parts" narra la historia de un grupo de estudiantes de Cal Hayden High School en el estado de Arizona. La historia relata la experiencia de cuatro jóvenes latinos e indocumentados que ganaron el primer lugar en el concurso de robótica del MIT en el 2001, un sueño que siempre se pintaba indomitable para la minoría.

Como ellos, hoy en día son muy pocos estudiantes latinos de esta región, al igual que el resto del país, que se involucran en esta rama profesional, conocida como STEM por sus siglas en inglés.

Por eso, recientemente la compañía Southern California Edison (SCE, por sus siglas en inglés) otorgó una subvención por $80,000 a Cal State San Bernardino.

El banco además de que otorga becas a estudiantes de bajos ingresos que están buscando una licenciatura en alguno de los campos relacionados a STEM, permitirá que más estudiantes latinos se involucren en este campo.

"[Edison] entiende la importancia de incrementar el número de estudiantes que se gradúan de carreras como ciencia, tecnología, ingeniería y matemáticas y últimamente participan de la fuerza laboral relacionada con los campos que cubren STEM", dijo Tomás D. Morales, presidente de Cal State San Bernardino.

Los jóvenes de Arizona, de origen mexicano, cuya lucha real fue captada en el filme de "Spore Parts" - tenían únicamente $800 para comprar en una ferretería, por lo cual tuvieron que usar partes de autos usados. Económicamente no había más. Pero lo que sí tenían, era un muchas ganas de sacar adelante un fabuloso proyecto: construir y echar a andar un robot bajo el agua. Esta historia, aunque sucedió en Arizona, ha cobrado como el mejor ejemplo de que los latinos pueden destacar en esta área académica. Tammy Tumblin, direc-

tora de filantropía e inversión comunitaria en SCE dijo que "este banco reafirma el compromiso que tiene Edison con Cal State San Bernardino".

Actualmente el Buró de Estadísticas de Trabajo de los Estados Unidos predice que los trabajos en este campo crecerán en el 13 por ciento entre los años del 2012 y el 2022.

Esto significa un 10 por ciento de crecimiento más rápido que en otras áreas de trabajo en una década. La información también indica que los individuos que trabajan en los campos relacionados a STEM en el 2013 ganaron más del doble de un salario medio aproximado de $35,080.

El programa universitario Educación Latina y Dias de Promoción (LEAD, por sus siglas en inglés), con sede en Cal State San Bernardino, también recibió $5,000 de un fondo internacional de Edison. Esto permitirá educar a la comunidad latina sobre la importancia de perseguir grandes educativos más altos y con énfasis en STEM.

"Como latinos somos la mayoría número uno en los Estados Unidos, nuestro nivel de estudios no es el mismo que nuestros demográficos", dijo Enrique Muñillo, director ejecutivo de LEAD. "LEAD es un programa que genera conciencia sobre la crisis educativa Latina que actualmente existe".

Desde el año 2000 SCE ha donado $334,650 a Cal State San Bernardino, también ha entregado $59,920 al campus de Palm Desert.

BUSCAN CREAR PUENTES Y ENTENDIENDO RACIAL

OLGA ROJAS

La Unión de Estudiantes Negros del San Bernardino Valley College organizó un evento para dialogar sobre la unidad entre afroamericanos y latinos.

Entre los ponentes invitados se encontraba Daniel Walker, investigador asociado con el Centro para la Religión y la Cultura Cívica de la Universidad del Sur de California (USC, por sus siglas en inglés), y presidente de Perfect Works, una empresa consultora que utiliza la historia, la fe, la educación y las artes para lograr un cambio progresivo en el mundo.

"Si venos a tu negro en los Estados Unidos [los afroamericanos] te vamos a decir: este es mi hermano de Mississippi. Pero en realidad si estás en Nueva York esa persona podría ser un puertorriqueño o dominicano no y si se trata de Miami, podría ir a casa de un cubano, un panameño, hondureño o colombiano", dijo Walker.

Ante un auditorio de unas 40 personas el lunes 9 de febrero, en su mayoría estudiantes, Walker explicaba que una gran parte de la gente están en el mismo bote. "La mayoría de nosotros entiende el proceso de esta sociedad. El sistema ya está establecido, no agueguen más leña al fuego. Se trata de educarse y de poner en acción ese entendimiento. Esa acción se traduce en obtener la mejor educación posible", dijo.

Recomendó a los padres mudarse a otro vecindario donde haya mejores escuelas para sus hijos, aunque viven en un lugar pequeño, porque eso a futuro será lo mejor para sus hijos. El estudiante de San Bernardino Valley College, Jimmie Bradley, quien es miembro de la Unión de Es-tudiantes Negros, fue uno de los organizadores de este evento.

"Unos estudiantes enfrentan ciertas preocupaciones sobre su identidad como negros. Tenemos latinos negros que son etiquetados como afroamericanos, y desalienta educar a las personas. En este evento estamos buscando soluciones. Cada uno debe educarse y tomar acciones en su lugar, vecindario y escuelas", dijo Walker. Mencionó que ha habido históricamente modelos de unidad entre negros y latinos en el pasado, y que se pueden usar esas herramientas en el presente y futuro para encontrar progreso.

"Los afroamericanos no invitan a los latinos y los latinos no invitan a los afroamericanos a sus conversaciones, por lo que crean esos puentes de comunicación. Muchos hablan del concepto de justicia económica y ambiental, por que en los vecindarios más pobres es más comúnmente". Así justamente donde viven los latinos y negros", expresó.

De la misma manera, Walker señaló que se alejan cuando se elige a un representante afroamericano o latino, "pero no están haciendo las cosas diferentes a los blancos, están legislando de la misma manera", sentenció.

Otro ejemplo que presentó fue el de los hijos de nivel preparatoria, es, que quieren diversificar racialmente a los miembros de los organismos de seguridad.

"Pero por fuera que teas el mismo modelo de ejecución de la ley, porque no les enseñan humanismo, entonces tendrás a tu propio hermano golpeándote más fuerte. Se puede cambiar a personas, pero lo verdaderamente importante es cambiar el espíritu", dijo el estudiante de psicología, Durante una ponencia que se realizó en San Bernardino Valley College el 9 de febrero, Daniel Walker dijo que los jóvenes están haciendo las cosas mejores.

a aprender sobre la herencia de los afroamericanos. Walker explicó que es importante hablar de los logros de la humanidad, por el simple hecho de haber sido construidos por el hombre, sin etiquetarlos racialmente.
