The Housing Authority of the County of Riverside is a public agency chartered by the State of California to administer the development, rehabilitation or financing of affordable housing and community development programs to enhance the quality of life and revitalize neighborhoods to foster self-sufficiency. The County has been asked to convey the Property to the Housing Authority to supplement land for a potential low income housing project in Jurupa Valley, County of Riverside for causing a significant effect on the environment” State CEQA Guidelines, Section 15061(b)(3). The use of this exemption is appropriate if “it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the activity in question may have a significant effect on the environment.” Ibid. This determination is an issue of fact and if sufficient evidence exists in the record that the activity cannot have a significant effect on the environment, then the exemption applies and no further evaluation under CEQA is required. See Muzzy Ranch Co. v Solano County Airport Land Use Comm’n (2007) 41 Cal.4th 372.

With certainty, there is no possibility that the Project may have a significant effect on the environment. As stated, the project is only the conveyance of title in real property from the County to the Housing Authority. It does not approve any construction activities and would not lead to any direct or reasonably foreseeable indirect physical environmental impacts. Any future activity or project at the location would require CEQA review from the lead agency and any potential change of use or future project would be speculative at this time. Therefore, it can be seen with certainty that the Project as proposed would not cause a significant environmental impact and the Project is exempt from CEQA.

Based upon the identified exemption above, the County of Riverside, Economic Development Agency hereby concludes that no physical environmental impacts are anticipated to occur and the project as proposed is exempt under CEQA.
