BACKGROUND CONTINUED:

The center is fully funded through a grant of $3.5 million from the National Science Foundation. This effort has created new opportunities for students studying science, technology, engineering, and mathematics. Our objective is to assist the center in their efforts to provide highly trained and skilled workers to our county, region, and state in order to reduce unemployment and provide training for higher wage jobs. Many of these new jobs are being created as a result of the import and export activities of the thousands of manufacturing and logistics businesses in Riverside County. Once fully operational the center will have the ability to meet employer demands for skilled and trained workers in the field of Supply Chain Technology. EDA-OFT staff support and participation was specifically requested by Norco College. Our current list of corporate partners includes: Converse, Nike, Dole, Fed Ex, Kroger, UPS, Toyota, Payless, New Balance, and Amazon. There are four collegiate partners in this program from other parts of the country. They are: Tacoma Community College, Tacoma, Washington; Sinclair Community College, Dayton, Ohio; Oakton Community College, Des Plaines, Illinois; and Jefferson Community and Technical College, Louisville, Kentucky. A National Visiting Committee is also already in place and consists of Cardinal Health Care, Ohio Department of Education, League of Innovation, Michigan State University, the U.S. Department of Defense, and the U.S. Department of Labor.
