BACKGROUND:

On March 27, 2012, the Board of Supervisors approved to accept a funding award from the Corrections Standards Authority for the East County Detention Center. The Indio Courts will need to be relocated to allow for the construction of the East County Detention Center. Once the project has been properly described and an architect selection process completed, the Economic Development Agency will return to the Board in accordance with applicable Board policies as required for the project.

The Economic Development Agency is seeking the approval of funds and will return to the Board to execute any project related agreements.
