The CVAG is evaluating a project that would connect all nine Coachella Valley cities with a neighborhood electric vehicle/bicycle/walking path. The parkway would extend along the Whitewater River from Palm Springs to Coachella with a connection to Desert Hot Springs. The concept builds upon a decade's old plan to build bike and hiking paths along the Whitewater River. In 2009, the Desert Recreation District and Riverside County Regional Park and Open Space District commissioned a study that estimated the 45 mile path (all of the way to the Salton Sea) would cost about $38 million. It was projected to take decades to assemble the funding, local agency commitments and construct the project.
