Rachael Johnson

Riverside County Farm Bureau Executive Director

Rachael's family raised and trained quarter horses in Nevada and Texas. She participated in 4-H and Future Farmers of America (FFA) growing up. She had no idea that her future would find her choosing a career in agriculture advocacy.

In 1997, she was hired to fill the Office Manager position at Riverside County Farm Bureau. After a few years, she was encouraged to apply for Executive Director at the San Bernardino County Farm Bureau, becoming the Executive Director in 2000.

In 2007 she pursued and was selected to the position of Region I Field Representative for the California Farm Bureau Federation (CFBF). In this roll, she served as the liaison between twelve county farm bureaus and CFBF, traveling regularly up and down and across the State of California. From Salinas to El Centro, she fielded questions, helped County offices solve concerns, and learned about the many and varied problems and solutions that could be applied across the agriculture-member spectrum. This experience with Agricultural issues on a county, statewide and national basis, often involved traveling to Sacramento and Washington, D.C. to lobby legislators and regulators with Farm Bureau Directors.

In December of 2017, Rachael returned to the Riverside County Farm Bureau as the new Executive Director. With her enthusiasm in advocating for Ag brings a renewed excitement to our County, and we look forward to a long and rewarding process.
