Review of Tables V-5 and V-6 can reveal trends in housing as they combine eight years of HUD data. First, the total number of complaints made to HUD and state fair housing agencies, such as DFEH, fell from 10,155 total complaints in Fiscal Year 2010 to 8,186 total complaints in Fiscal Year 2017, representing a 19 percent decrease. However, those decreases in discrimination complaints were not evenly dispersed amongst all categories over that eight-year period. In fact, discrimination allegations based on a failure to make a reasonable accommodation to policies, rules or procedures rose by 76 percent over that period. The percentage of complaints based on a failure to make a reasonable accommodation as a percentage of the total number of complaints filed rose from 25 percent of all complaints filed in FY2010 to 41.1 percent of all complaints filed in FY2017.

D. Hate Crimes

Hate crimes are violent acts against people, property, or organizations because of the group to which they belong or identify with. The Federal Fair Housing Act makes it illegal to threaten, harass, intimidate, or act violently toward a person who has exercised their right to free housing choice. Some examples include threats made in person, writing or by telephone, vandalism of the home or property, or unsuccessful attempts at any of these. Again, a comparison between Tables V-5 and V-6 reveal some interesting information about possible hate crimes related to housing. Beginning in FY2010, the total number of complaints made to HUD and state agencies based on coercion, intimidation, threats, interference, or retaliation totaled 1,478 before peaking at 1,913 complaints in FY2012 and did not return to pre-2010 levels until 2016. While the data does not indicate the reason for this spike in complaints based on coercion, intimidation, threats, interference, and retaliation, the data does suggest that discrimination most closely associated with hate crimes may be on the rise in housing discrimination, as this category of complaint still represents 17.8 percent of all complaints filed for FY 2017.

Table V-7 summarizes the hate crime incidents by bias motivation as reported by the FBI¹ for calendar years 2013-2017 by law enforcement agencies in Riverside County. It is important to note that not all incidents of coercion, intimidation, threats, interference, or retaliation rise to the level of a hate crime, and even with those incidents that do, not all such incidents are reported to the police.

In Riverside County, there were a total of 153 hate crimes reported to the FBI from 2013 to 2017, the most recent year data was available. The most prevalent hate crime bias motivation reported was race, ethnicity and ancestry. The relatively low occurrence of hate crimes within the County relative to its population size indicates that hate-motivation does not appear to coincide with incidences of housing discrimination in Riverside County and does not indicate an impediment to fair housing choice.

E. Fair Housing Legal Status

In the last year, no cases were reported as filed in a court of competent jurisdiction by the FHCRC to enforce fair housing laws. FHCRC was successful in addressing the fair housing cases that were investigated on behalf of County residents during this time period; therefore, there is no litigation to report.

Previous chapters of this A.I. study examined changes in the County of Riverside during the last five years, analyzed the private lending market, reviewed key public policies for impediments to fair housing, and examined fair housing statistics throughout the County. Building upon the previous analysis, this chapter recommends actions to improve fair housing choice in Riverside County. Table VI-1 at the end of this chapter summarizes the recommendations to address the impediments to fair housing choice that have been identified, including an implementation schedule.

A. Prior-Identified Impediment Carried Over Into the 2019 A.I.

Discrimination against Persons with Disabilities

Consistent with findings in the 2014 A.I., nearly 63 percent of the discrimination complaints in the County of Riverside over the last five years were on the basis of physical or mental disability. In total, there were 3,108 fair housing complaints surfaced through the work of the Fair Housing Council of Riverside County (FHCRC) over the last five years, with 1,586 or 51.03 percent of all discrimination cases reported on the basis of physical disability and with 370 or 11.90 percent of all discrimination cases reported on the basis of mental disability. These two case categories were the leading causes (first and second, respectively) of discrimination complaints in Riverside County according to FHCRC data. Table VI-1 illustrates the number of disability discrimination cases over the five-year period of study.

Fair Housing Discrimination Cases in Riverside County

Basis	2013- 2014	2014- 2015	2015- 2016	2016- 2017	2017- 2018	Total
Number of Disability Discrimination Cases (Physical and Mental)	309	524	402	285	436	1,956

Source: Fair Housing Council of Riverside County Quarterly Reports (2014-2018).

The high proportion of disability complaints to FHCRC is consistent with other communities in the area and is also consistent with data at the state and federal level. Fair housing discrimination on the basis of disability demonstrates a lack of understanding in the housing industry of the housing rights of persons with disabilities. Disabled persons are experiencing difficulties when requesting reasonable accommodations or modifications. In particular, persons with cognitive disabilities experience significantly more problems with these accommodations.

2019 Status: This impediment was addressed during the 2013-2018 planning period through education and outreach to housing providers through workshops, audits, information and referrals. However, given that nearly 63 percent of all fair housing complaints received by FHCRC over the last five years were on the basis of disability, this impediment has not been adequately addressed and remains a high priority in this A.I.

Recommendations: The County of Riverside and its contracted fair housing service provider should continue providing educational opportunities for property owners, property managers, and residents throughout the County to provide information concerning the law as it pertains to reasonable accommodations and reasonable modifications, which are some of the leading reasons why persons with disabilities encounter discrimination when seeking housing or attempting to maintain their housing. This could be addressed through workshops, public services announcements, literature distribution and through the provision of landlord-tenant mediation services to address potential discrimination before it occurs.

It is recommended that the County provide for, under contract, multiple workshops per year for the next five years in locations throughout the County focused on the housing rights applicable to persons with physical disabilities and persons with mental disabilities. The content of these workshops should be tailored to landlords, tenants and government officials (e.g., code enforcement, PHA staff, EDA staff), including a general introduction to fair housing laws and discrimination, and then primarily focus on forms of discrimination against persons with disabilities, such as unreasonably denying or refusing to address requests for reasonable accommodation and modification.

It is further recommended that the County continue contracting with a fair housing service provider for both discrimination and landlord-tenant services. Consultation with fair housing agencies indicates that offering free landlord-tenant services is the best way to identify more serious, but less often reported incidences of discrimination that leads to the types of large-scale pattern-and-practice cases that impact thousands of people each year and have the scale to warrant investigative and legal support from regulatory agencies.

Responsible Entity: County of Riverside.

Timeframe: Each year starting July 1, 2019 and ending June 30, 2024.

B. New Impediment to Fair Housing Choice

This 2019-2024 A.I. revealed the following new impediment and recommendations:

Siting and Standards for Transitional and Supportive Housing

Chapter 4 of this A.I. studies public policies to determine if impediments to fair housing choice exist that negatively affect the ability of members of protected classes to secure or maintain housing. Review of the 2017-2021 Housing Element of the General Plan and County Ordinance 348 governing land use planning and zoning in the County of Riverside revealed that transitional and supportive housing are not currently defined in the Ordinance and are not treated as a permitted use in residential zones.

Recommendation: Implement Action 1.5c of the Housing Element to revise Ordinance 348 to include a definition of transitional housing and supportive housing that is consistent with State of California Health and Safety Code Sections 50675.14 and 50675.2; and, revise the Ordinance to list transitional and supportive housing as permitted uses within residential zones.

Responsible Entity: According to Action 1.5c, the County of Riverside Transportation and Land Management Agency (TLMA) is responsible for implementing this recommendation.

Timeframe: No later than June 30, 2020.

C. Recommendations to Address Impediments to Fair Housing Choice

The recommendations included in Table VI-2 on the following page outline the County's action plan to eliminate the three current impediments to fair housing choice identified above. The recommendations include a designated agency or agencies that should be involved in the implementation of each recommendation, as well as a target date for completion.

County of Riverside Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice

Dear Residents and Community Stakeholders,

Fair housing is a condition where all people, regardless of their personal characteristics, have equal access to housing of their choice that they can afford. As a recipient of federal funding, the County is required to “affirmatively further fair housing,” which means taking affirmative actions, in addition to combatting discrimination, that overcome patterns of segregation and fosters inclusive communities free from barriers that restrict access to opportunity based on protected characteristics. Residents play a critical role in addressing housing discrimination by providing the County with feedback critical to the completion of our Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice, a component of the County’s housing and community development planning efforts required by both the federal government and the State of California. Community participation is the key to crafting an effective plan to affirmatively further fair housing. There are two ways to participate:

Take a Survey: Residents and community stakeholders are encouraged to complete a survey about fair housing issues in the County of Riverside. Surveys are available online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/riversideai> (English Language)

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/riversideai2> (Spanish Language)

Attend a Community Meeting: Residents and community stakeholders are encouraged to attend a community meeting to discuss how the County can be more inclusive and ‘combat discrimination to overcome patterns of segregation.’ The meeting dates, times and locations include:

Condado de Riverside Análisis de Impedimentos para la Elección de Vivienda

Estimados Residentes y Partes Interesadas de la Comunidad,

La Vivienda Justa es una condición en la que todas las personas, independientemente de sus características personales, tienen el mismo acceso a la vivienda de su elección que pueden solventar. El Condado como recipiente de fondos federales, está obligado a “promover afirmativamente la vivienda justa”, lo que significa “tomar acciones afirmativas, además de combatir la discriminación, que superen los patrones de segregación y fomenten la inclusión de comunidades libres de barreras que restringen el acceso a oportunidades basadas en características protegidas. Los residentes juegan un papel fundamental para abordar la discriminación en la vivienda proporcionando al Condado sus comentarios críticos para la realización de nuestro Análisis de Impedimentos para la Elección de Vivienda Justa, un componente de los esfuerzos de planificación de la vivienda y desarrollo comunitario del Condado requerido tanto por el gobierno federal como por el Estado de California. La participación de la comunidad es la clave para elaborar un plan efectivo para promover de manera afirmativa la vivienda justa. Hay dos maneras de participar:

Tome una Encuesta: Se alienta a los residentes a que completen una encuesta sobre asuntos de vivienda justa en el Condado de Riverside. Las encuestas están disponibles en línea en:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/riversideai> (En Idioma Inglés)

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/riversideai2> (En Idioma Español)

Asista a una Reunión Comunitaria: Se les alienta a los residentes y partes interesadas de la comunidad a asistir a una reunión comunitaria para discutir cómo el Condado puede ser más inclusivo y ‘combatir la discriminación para superar los patrones de segregación’. Las fechas de las reuniones, horas y lugares incluyen:

A.I. Survey Results

To gain insight into resident perspectives of fair housing practices in Riverside County, the County released an “Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice Survey” to residents in November 2018. The survey consisted of 34 questions related to fair housing issues, community planning needs (such as access to healthcare and transportation), questions regarding schools and questions about the job market. Many of the questions were open-ended, allowing the community to provide additional comments beyond simply answering “yes or no.” The survey was published in English and in Spanish using surveymonkey.com. Links to the surveys were publicized in the public notices for community participation and through email distribution. The survey response period was open for approximately 75 days. During that time, 150 responses were received, many of which contained additional feedback via the open-ended questions.

The survey results for all 34 questions are included below. The responses to open-ended questions were lightly edited for readability, formatting, and removal of duplicate answers such as “none” or “N/A”. Unintelligible responses, responses containing personally-identifiable information, and responses containing inappropriate language were removed.

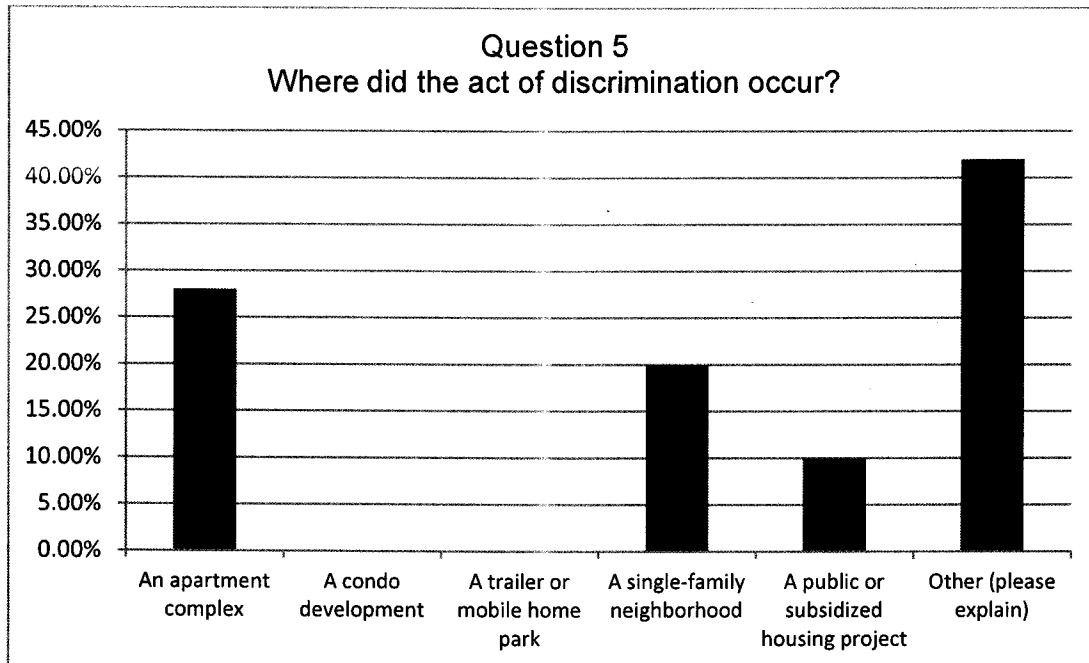

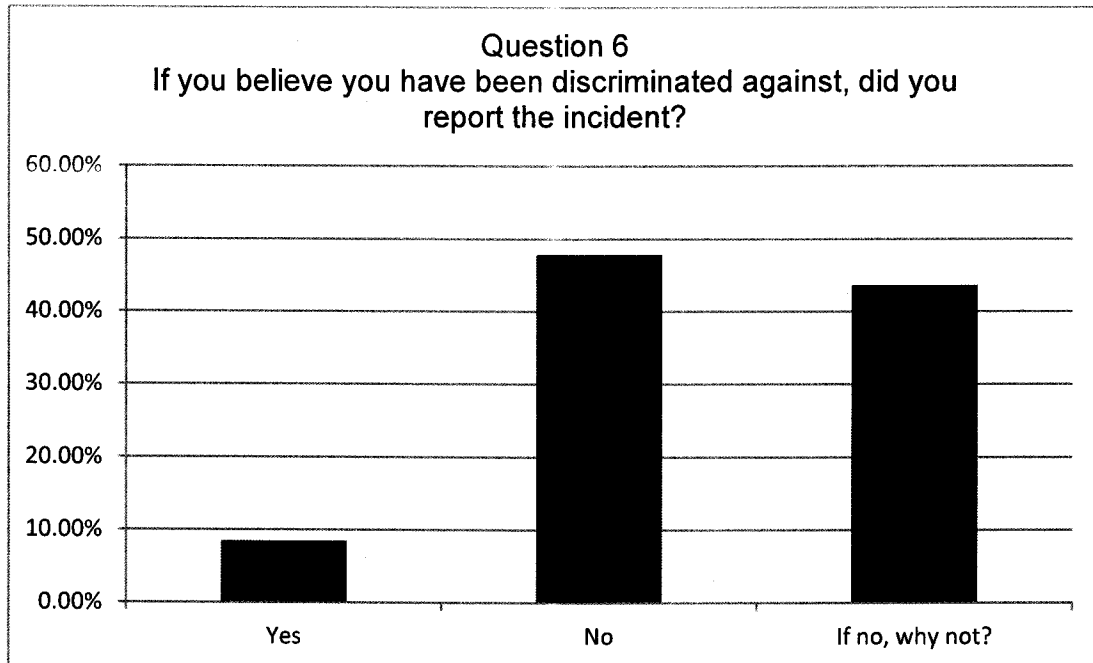

Other: Please Explain

- Couldn't say, I was told that cash aid didn't count as income.
- The rent was raised to above 3% of my income while on Housing Choice Voucher Program. Rent raised over $400.00 in two years then due to no longer accepting Section 8, the rent was intentionally raised to get the lower income residents out. Upon no longer being able to afford the rent and utilities, they filed an unlawful detainer for less than what I was paying. I was paying $575 they were only charging $408.50 according to their paperwork. They then stated that if I move within three weeks, there is no balance owed as a settlement offer.
- All these places that say they help with hotel vouchers, they help with shelter, and can help with rental assistance is all lies.
- Owner and his family.
- Rental agencies.
- I don't feel I've been discriminated against.
- My credit is bad so I have to live in a one bedroom w my disabled sister and my daughter. I recently became disabled myself please help.
- No one
- Housing department
- Both Real Estate Agent & Mortgage lender
- I am homeless.
- None
- N/A
- CV Housing Coalition agent
- I have not been discriminated

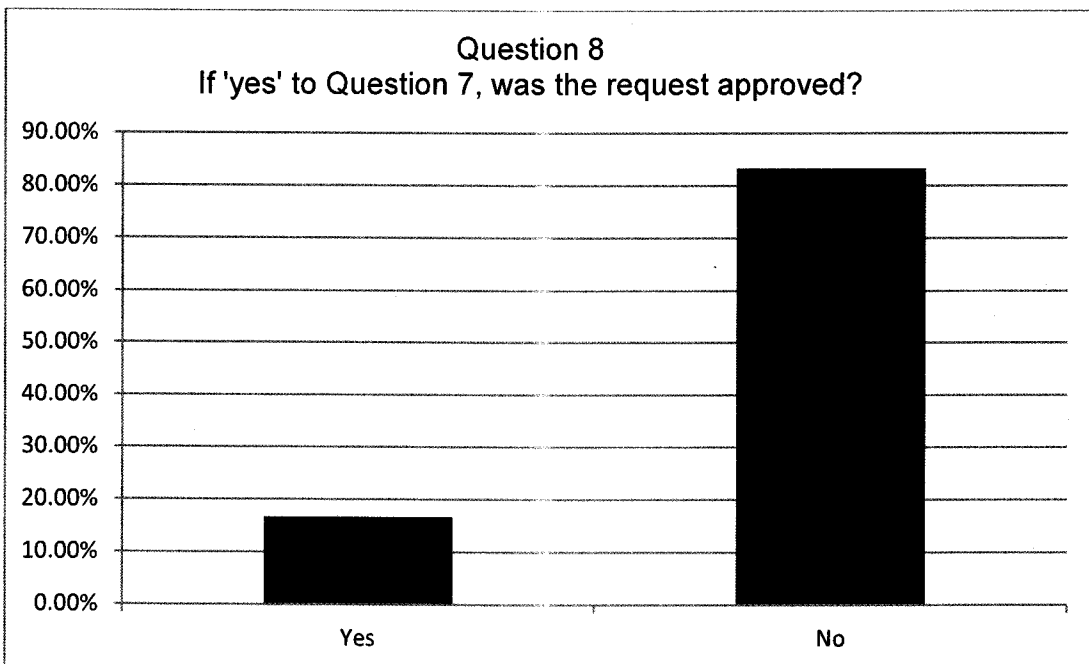

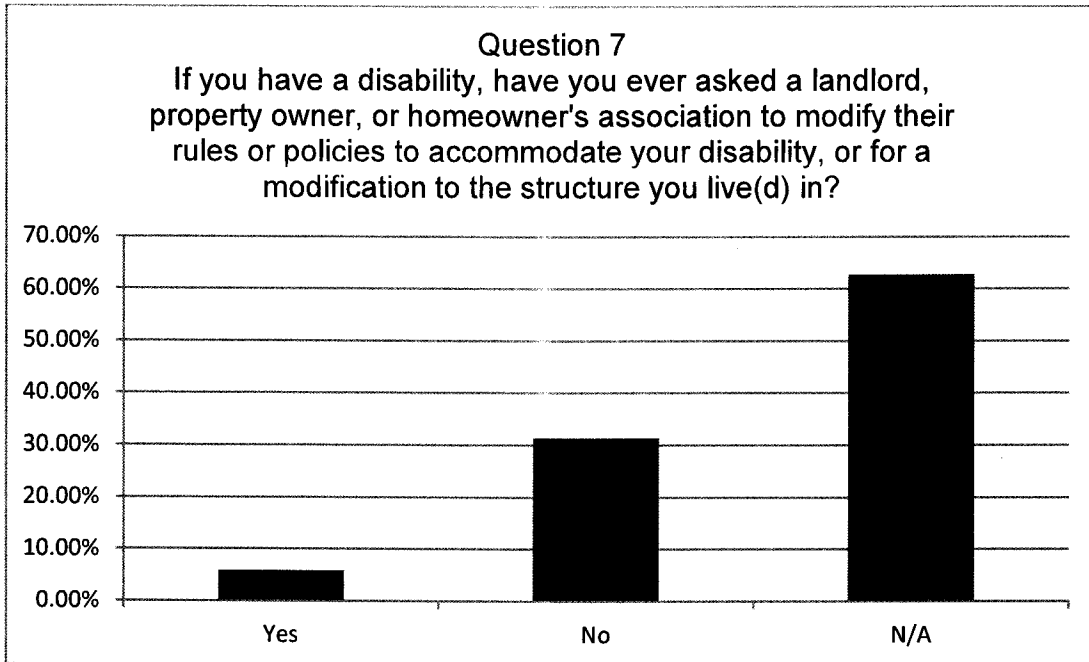

Other: Please Explain

- La Pacifica Apartments, Cannon Property Management.
- 211 and the Jurupa self-sufficiency office I couldn't even get any kind of help for me and my two children that just became homeless because I receive $647 of child support per month.
- Meadowview Apartments
- Nowhere specific just in the who rental application process
- None
- N/A
- Housing department
- No act
- En una oficina

If no, why not?

- I didn't know I should have.
- In the process of taking them to small claims court for the major breaches of contract concerning habitability (constant smoke-filled unit after agreed non-smoking building was offered and accepted at the time of move in).
- I do not have consistent income. I am a felon, and I have an eviction, and a dog.
- Happens too often.
- What good will it do? Calls are never answered.
- I've never experienced this. I didn't know how to handle it. Not aware of Fair Housing.
- At the time my family was in crisis and needed to find housing.
- I didn't have time to go report it. Since I'm fixed income, I believed that is the norm.
- Because I feel like I am a low-income family and the managers feel superior.
- I don't feel discriminated.
- Because they switch management too frequently.
- Because it was too close to the voucher deadline. These property managers and landlords know that participants have deadlines and can show their bias and if the participant doesn't take it, the participant is in danger of losing their voucher.
- Couldn't get ahold of any employee or my case worker to tell.
- No one to help.
- I am homeless in need of housing.
- N/A
- I could not prove this action, so I did not waste my time.
- Did not know who to report this information.

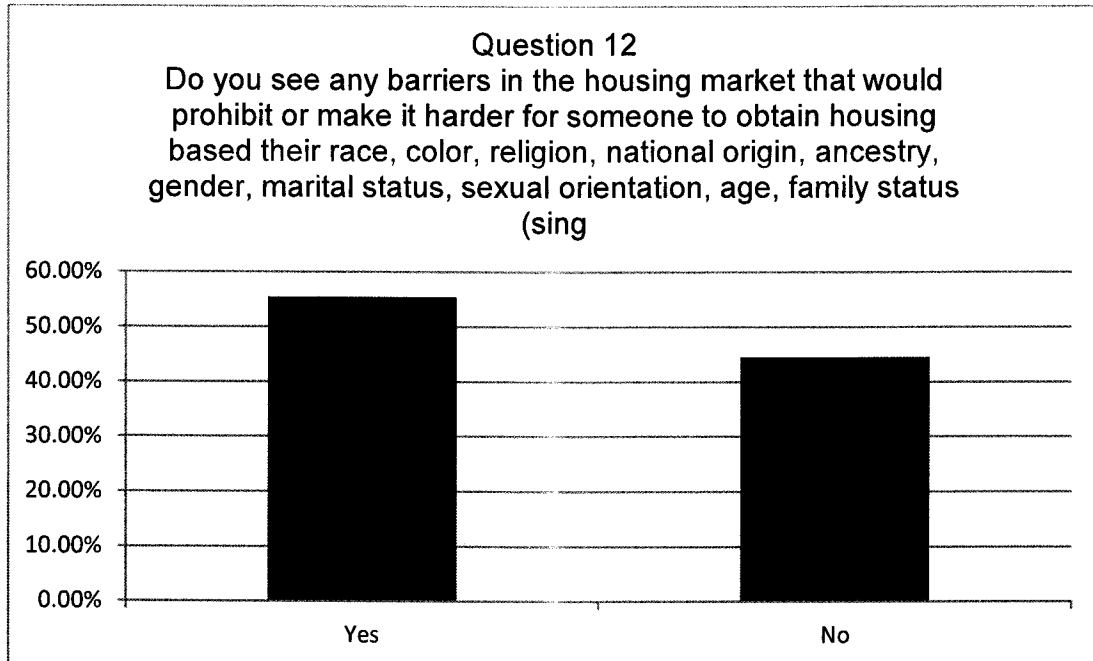

Question 11
 If yes to Question 10, what barriers?

Open-ended responses:

- Criminal history

- Some of the barriers are: prices of units too high; very few affordable apartments available; not enough work history; bad credit.
- I have been on some type of housing program and not sure which it is but due to the policy of its term I cannot move to a bigger unit. I've been in this unit for years and have four children. I've called emailed wrote letters etc. But I am back to square one. What other options do I have?
- Most low-income housing require a $1,000/Mo. minimum income. My combined income (SS & SSI) is just below that. I can't qualify anywhere. My property is being sold and I must leave! I'm almost 67 years old and I have no family that will help me. I don't even know where to start. Please help!
- Having a previous eviction, income source, lack of affordable options in the area.
- Low income housing or landlords willing to work with housing programs
- recently was evicted and denied for a property management due to credit score on my part and my dad not making enough on his own
- inadequate housing allowance. long waiting lists
- The rent is too high for a single mother with children.
- A large number of managers no longer accept Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers due to the activities of others who may not truly appreciate the opportunity that this program provides.
- Pets, Felony record and cost.
- Not hearing back from agency, nor any kind of follow up. Have been on list longer than 6 months and heard nothing on my status or where I'm at on waitlist.
- Because I receive child support in the amount of $647 for the two kids a month.
- Not enough money to pay rent due to rent being too expensive
- First some of the employees don't know if your concerns are fair housing or HUD-related.
- I had issues with management because of my appearance.
- no consistent income, eviction, felon, and a high-risk breed dog.
- Credit is not good enough, single income is too low, no rental history due to living on site for employment, cannot afford a home large enough for my family in a safe area close to children's schools.
- Most apartments or houses don't accept Housing Vouchers. They scoff when you even ask. It's a little disparaging.
- Cost and availability. Many landlords, etc. do not wish to work with social agencies. As an example, there are certain programs that pay rent for those in mental health programs. If able to pass barrier that income may not qualify and program will assist/pay full amount, once the knowledge of the program type is provided, there is often a change in attitude due to the perception/stigma of a person in need of mental health services.
- Having to have more than one person living with you in order to rent a 2+ bedroom home.
- Not exceeding a certain salary.

- Not being allowed to have children on the property.
- Extremely long wait list that never moves.
- Sometimes landlords/property management do not like to rent to people with children
- Low self-esteem with serious depression
- Financial SSI income shows too low and I have bad credit nor enough for security deposit
- My husband is disabled and has a legitimate service dog (certified thru Riverside County Animal Control Tag) and we have encountered numerous obstacles when trying to secure housing. We were served a notice to vacate from our previous home because of the service dog.
- I am a single mom, recently divorced recently became disabled and my credit is bad. I pay a grand to live in a dump and my sister is disabled as well. We need more affordable housing fast. Please.
- Weathering apartment after 5 years not done floor haven't been done since before the last tents mildew smell under carpet under sink.
- Property managers and landlords tell you they will fix a few minor things before inspection. Day of inspection nothing's been fixed. Even after inspection, they will do things like take the metal covering off the dishwasher drain so that when you run the dishwasher the water runs all over the counter. Then the landlord and property manager say they fixed it but they took the piece so that the appliance does not function properly. So the participant faces telling what the landlord and property manager did or just not use the dishwasher and keep the place and use the voucher and continue the stress of looking for another place to live that is unbiased towards participants based on race or level of income.
- Denied any assistance even when I been eligible for multiple housing programs
- Can't seem to contact Section 8 applied and have confirmation.
- Source of income and/or my 15-year-old daughter.
- Cost of living. There isn't enough affordable housing within Riverside County. Working a job making close to $50,000
- It is still difficult finding housing.
- SSI not enough for a rental
- Income
- High rents
- financial barriers like high deposits, high housing cost
- Affordability
- Market is too high as far as rent prices. It is difficult to find housing for lower-income households
- Rent for most units available is just not affordable. We need more programs to assist low income family that can't afford these high rents. And we need to build more affordable units in the City.
- Income being too high, and not being elderly

Question 13
 If yes to Question 12, what barriers?

Open-ended responses:

- Source of income
- Prices too high for valley incomes
- Decrease supply of available rental units
- Based on me being a single mother of four. I don't agree much with the placement of housing in a high crime neighborhood and my children going to a school where they must deal with other making fin of the color of their skin
- Stop only catering to Veterans
- Criminal history
- Getting printed info. It would be nice to be able to have the information to really study it or go over it so that I don't have keep calling the workers. Who, as a matter of fact, don't always call back within 48 hours.
- Income
- Not making enough to apply for a place and bad credit
- Units not available to the elderly because of age
- Programs not available in RVC that are available in other counties, such as, using the voucher to purchase a home.
- Low voucher amount
- Because there isn't a two person household or family is trying to help them with their rent. I have been denied renting a home for me and my children.

- Relating to race and income
- The Gentrification of Moreno Valley.
- Cost of living and qualifications to rent
- There is racism and prejudice against African Americans in housing or low-income living units.
- Lots of homeless Vets
- In my case for an error of who ever took care of application had to wait more time and was offer an apartment 3 hours from doctors and was told take it or you out the waiting list.
- Mental health issues I have been plagued with.
- Landlords want people to make 2.5 - 3 x the monthly rent for income, that's nearly impossible.
- Discriminations of these kind happen to all poor everyday without fail. We have no voice and no one has the time for us. We are of no value to anyone.
- If you are a recipient of SSI/SSDI or TANF, the landlords seem to treat you differently. I've noticed they ask more invasive questions. For example, "Do you plan on being on that, till it runs out?" "Why are you on that?" If you have children. "Are all of your children by the same father?" "Do you plan on having more?" and "Do you have a boyfriend?"
- Ingrained perception of the population in need of/qualified for particular social programs such as those that offer assistance to parties dealing with mental health.
- Income, cost of living, rising rental prices
- Being too young, not having enough credit, student loans.
- Disability, income, rents are too high...can't afford.
- income requirements and credit score
- The lack of fair treatment for mentally ill when we report a problem with land lord
- Income requirements
- There are many. Race, Age, disability, income and familial status, sexual orientation and plenty more.
- The cost of living is high and the wages out here are low.
- The energy allowance for some reason stopped after child came and my rent went up.
- There is not enough quality housing since the year 2013. The housing available is private landlords that are always hawking dilapidated units on Section 8 like renovated garages or renovated storage sheds. The decent places to live have waiting lists that take years. Also, requiring double deposit is a huge barrier because there is no requirement for the landlord to return the funds even if the place is left in immaculate condition. The place I moved to charged a one-month deposit, however, I had to use my own money to purchase extra cleaning supplies and rags to use my labor to clean a filthy unit but there was nowhere else to use the voucher. I got a place that had two other applications already turned in and my family was the third application and was accepted. I constantly move because of discrimination and never see the deposit monies returned.

- The amount of rent now days are way too high for anyone to afford. Hardly no jobs or it's hard for anyone to get one. The family size to big, you have to make at least three times the rent.
- Homelessness, wrongful misdemeanor.
- High down payments for single parent of a low-income family.
- Source of income is a major obstacle, people do not want to rent to a person on cash aid, they think you're going to lay around all day using electricity and trashing the place.
- The language
- Source of income may be limited to federal assistance programs.
- Affordability and because of NIMBYism! Also, the homeless population, with multiple barriers, have few options because of the NIMBYism in SW Riverside county.
- Perception of culture based on ethnic origin and family size.
- Rents are really high right now and the rental market is very competitive, therefore it is hard to find housing for someone that does not have consistent long-term income
- Not enough affordable units. People are priced out of the majority of the inventory of available rental housing units.
- Por los ingresos
- Costos de renta muy altos

Question 14

What suggestions do you have for increasing housing or homeownership opportunities in the County of Riverside?

Open-ended responses:

- I think that housing should be more affordable to families that live and work in Riverside County. In the Desert Areas, I think more and more people are owning homes to rent out on apps like Air B & B for the season and the concerts. That takes a great deal of the properties that used to be on the market for families to rent or own. Houses in the local market should not be used for short-term rentals like hotels. That is what hotels are for.
- My opinion would be to encourage those who are on welfare or unemployment that it's okay to have a job. Take note that the longer they go without a job the more comfortable they become with only paying a certain amount for rent. Government assistance should not last forever. I believe housing programs should help those grow into homeownership rather than simply paying half of their rent.
- We are in desperate need of safe, affordable, senior housing. Can you please help me to get started in the process of securing housing right away?
- More rent-to-own opportunities or more low-income housing.
- Take a look at what limited options are available in the area, some with 3-year wait lists. Consider rezoning 55+ areas as this is no longer a predominate housing need in Riverside County.
- More housing for the working class.

- Don't make it so hard to qualify to borrow or lease. The minimum qualifications are too high!
- Make the voucher to purchase a home easier to access. Increase the voucher amount to be more realistic compared to the private market. The low voucher amount in RVC is almost assured to cause the voucher holder to fail in finding safe and well maintained housing.
- I am on a low-income fixed budget and cannot afford any apartments in Cathedral City or any other areas in California. I have two children, my son and I both have disabilities with nowhere to live. I have a Masters degree in Education but find it hard to get employment because I am my son's caregiver. Why is there no affordable housing help in California for people like me?
- Build more quality, affordable housing and assistance programs for lower income residents of Moreno Valley and Riverside who are in transition from poverty to reentering society as working adults and or students contributing to society.
- Homeownership will help to curb costs of rent increases. More opportunities on assistance in qualifications for homebuying. Opportunities for new homebuyers.
- Follow-up with calling people back, build more low-income units in good neighborhoods, implement programs to help people rebuild self-sufficiency to afford apartment units and/homeownership.
- Lower prices. People are experiencing the same wages but higher rent and housing costs.
- They should listen a bit more to tenants because we are abused and have been taken advantage of.
- Build income-based housing first for all of us families who are living in motels and in the street. Give job placement that does not require background checks or drug test. Felon, eviction, and pet friendly housing at reasonable cost. Plenty of vacant homes for sale in the county, buy them and rent them to families in need.
- Raise wages so that one person alone can rent or own and not have to rent a room or live 3 generations deep just for shelter and have no security or a chance at a normal life.
- Job security and growth, creating workshops residents can attend for first time home owners with Q&A.
- The main reason a lot of people do not move is high number of crime and homeless people. There are streets with no lights which have not become dumpsters. Because of that the values of nice homes are falling down. Also the gas prices are higher compared to Orange County. If you can sort this out we will have huge number of people moving into Riverside County.
- More housing options in this area.
- Less restrictions on who can stay on the basis of pay or dependents.
- Affordable and newly renovated places to stay that require the landlord or manager to be present at least 4 times a week.
- For every developer that builds a home or an apartment complex, a percentage of that housing development should go towards people with low income or the elderly.

- Build more housing units in Riverside County since we have the land out here that way there would be enough units for the people that need it, maybe even make a new program where people on housing can automatically become a first time home owner maybe with the new programs that the county creates, that way people don't stay on housing for a long time and miss out opportunities and maybe that we can stop poverty, because the poverty level in Riverside County is very high, and it is very embarrassing. The Community Action Partner Heroes offers a program where they help you become a first-time home buyer, and they fix your credit and they assist you with a down payment, but you have to save some money on your part, like a deal, maybe City of Perris can offer something like that.
- Take our concern in a seriously and respond promptly.
- Housing choice voucher should be used toward rent to own or purchasing a home.
- N/A
- Better-educated landlords and property managers.
- All the housing is almost completely gone in Riverside and all that is left is dilapidated housing from private owners. More affordable housing is needed where the family can live longer than one year. If you're going to make participants pay a full rent of deposit, the landlords and property managers need to make the unit clean at their expense not the participant. If you're going to make participants pay a double rent deposit, then you need to make it mandatory that the participant gets their funds back when they place is left clean and in good condition. Homelessness is very real and I am grateful for the program but it is not what it used to be because decent housing is no longer available.
- Help those who are single parents, it's also hard for them to fix or pay off bad credit. If the housing can at one time deal pay or remove all negative items on credit it will be a lot easier for them to get approved for a home help show them how to be responsible and dependable person how to learn to budget their money
- To help those in need especially when it comes to their children being taken, for no having proper living standards based on CPS needs/ regulations
- More assistance to single parents with credit scores not too good but trying to have a home secure for family.
- Other than the opportunities to have more affordable housing, the programs available for homeownership need to be publicized in an effort to reach more people.
- Make it possible to get information on your status when applying for housing assistance.
- Consider evaluating policies that regulate pricing or look into funding such as grants that can assist in providing funds for affordable housing.
- Make assistance programs more attainable for people. The threshold for income could be increased.
- More first-time home buyer programs that tailor to moderate families that can afford mortgages but have too high income.
- Different types of housing opportunities like group living or smaller homes. Housing that provides support to people who need it for mental health, single parents, elderly.
- More support to NGOs (particularly self-help affordable housing developers) who can help leverage and multiply government support to then build more affordable housing units. Grassroots organizations like Habitat for Humanity can provide a low-cost way to increase housing while helping people change their belief system on what they personally can achieve. There is clearly a housing shortage locally and in California to the tune of over 185 k units per year. While ALL housing solutions are needed to address different barriers, self-help home ownership offers multiple solutions to the housing problem overall. First, when contrasted with subsidized rental, self-help home ownership takes people out of entitlement programs by allowing them to acquire wealth, stabilize costs and increase self-esteem. Subsidized rental programs often perpetuate the need for subsidies long term because the gap between subsidized rental and fair market home ownership is just too wide. Self-help home ownership literally stops the need for outside support. In some cases, self-help homes built serve three families: the family from subsidized rental that now becomes a homeowner, the family that moves from temporary housing into the formerly occupied subsidized unit and a homeless family who can now occupy temporary housing. Self-help housing is the back door that gets families permanently out of subsidizes. It is a permanent solution, not a band aid. Secondly, self-help homeowners now contribute to the tax base, their health improves, they become more mindful contributors to the community at large. They advance in their jobs, their kids graduate and more. These are documented outcomes. Families are given hope and they thrive. Thirdly, the community is improved and revitalized when units are strategically placed. In the past, home ownership has received the smallest proportion of funding when compared to subsidized rental or homeless programs. Raising the ratio of dollars in this direction offers the stated benefits and saves the County long term.

- Development fees are one of the biggest barriers to building additional affordable housing in California in general and definitely in the County of Riverside. Consideration of reducing or eliminating fees would help increase development.
- There is a lack of opportunities for families when competing with investors. There should be an incentive for a seller to give priority to a family vs an investor, especially foreign. County should over a tax break or something to give seller willingness to take toe offer of a local family. I have seen many people out bid by big pocket investors.
- We need to increase the affordable housing stock.
- Local dedicated funds need to be made available for the creation of more affordable housing units. State and Federal government also needs to make more funds available at the local level. Competing for State and Federal funds is challenging when most of the funds to go coastal jurisdictions. We have our own challenges here in the Inland Empire.

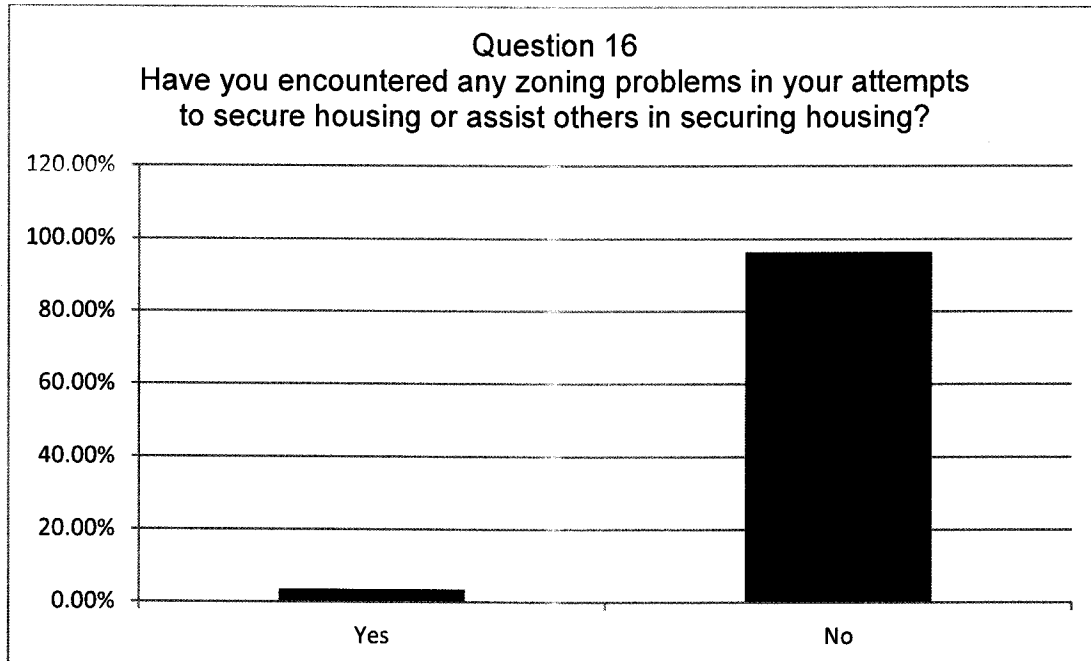

Question 15

What barriers, if any, do you see to establishing a requirement that new housing developments in the County of Riverside have a set-aside for low-income households?

Open-ended responses:

- Investors may want higher returns than what can be offered in the low-income markets.
- Its only for senior citizens and military veterans.
- A lot of homeowners don't really seem to want the low-income housing near them.
- The barrier would be that landlords want top dollar for the units, rather than work with Federal Government and local governments to house low to very low-income tenants.
- None really.
- Unwillingness of investors/developers.
- I don't see any barriers except the bias of the private market in regard to the "quality" of the voucher holders, such as, hygiene, lifestyle of low values etc.
- That there needs to be more low- income housing apartments and townhomes built so that people can afford to live on their own.
- There is not enough affordable housing available and the waiting list for affordable units are one to five years.
- There shouldn't be any barriers to such a requirement as it is desperately needed by residents of Riverside County. The only one I can see is the gentrification of Moreno Valley.
- They are not on the tenant's side that's for sure.
- There should be no barriers.
- My income is too low to afford a home large enough for my family. Or my income is too high to qualify for housing.
- Murrieta at the Monte Vista Apartments is a good example of waste. Out of 64 units only 11 are low income. Yet 100,000 people need those 11 apartments. Pretty self-explanatory.
- I see none, the program would need to be well regulated and the employees and general public educated.
- None, possibly only funding barriers if any. But this would allow housing security for low income families and individuals.
- Most of the low-income people are either involved in drugs or crimes. There are few percentage of low income people who try hard to change their situation, keep surroundings clean and be involved with their own life rather than stealing or planning to hurt someone for a little amount of money.
- High interest rates.
- If done correctly, it can be done. Maybe, an incentive of some kind towards the Developer if they do build and include housing for ALL people of ALL economic levels it just might encourage developers to include this kind of theory into their plans.

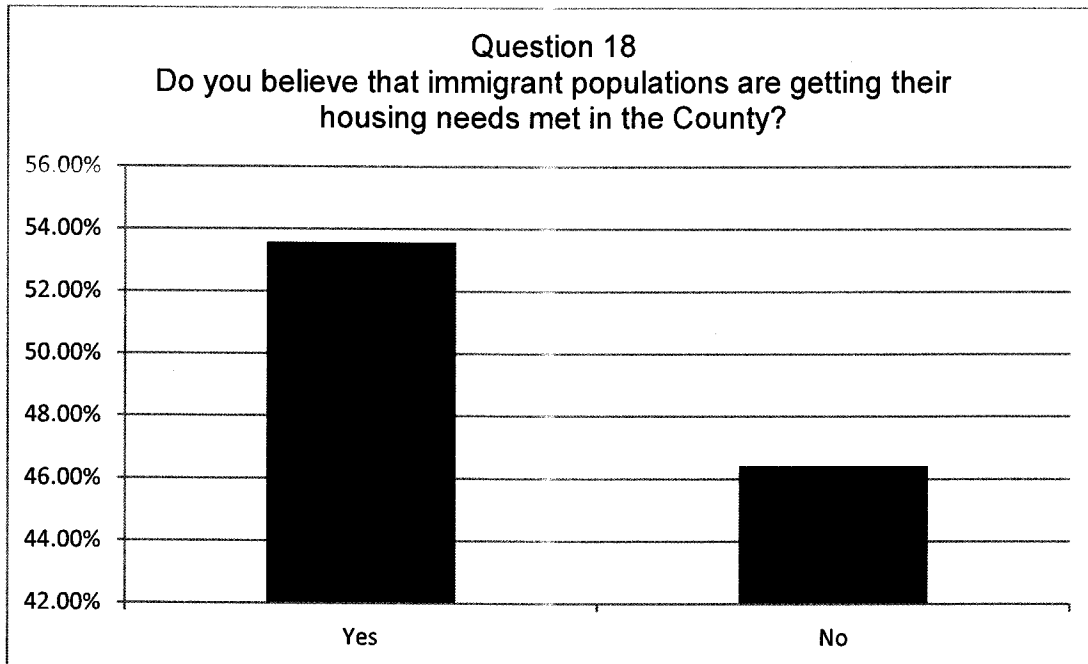

- The waiting list is too long and people don't update their personal information because all of them live like homeless.
- None if it is legitimately going to help those who cannot afford stable housing.
- Greed. People with fixed incomes can't afford first and last months and deposit and make two times the rent plus all the other bizarre requirements and hoops we have to jump through.
- Too much paperwork that's no since and lack of management in handling paperwork.
- The barrier would be long waiting lists that take years.
- Credit Scores/ Waiting Lists
- Current homeowners in the area of developments concern of property values dropping.
- The truth. Welfare recipients, I have found, are usually destructive and have no respect for other people's possessions or property.
- None.
- The guidelines are too strict. There should be more flexibility.
- Residents might not be open to the requirement based on the notion that low-income housing may bring crime to the communities.
- Educating developers and lenders on the County programs
- The only barrier I see is that developers will say they cannot afford it. It is a good idea and should be required to include low income units in all new developments.
- You will always have the NIMBYism but when you explain the success stories and the arguments I pose in the last question, it makes sense. It is all in the messaging but give recipients an out with more funds to self-help housing.
- In order to have developers build affordable housing, fees by the city or county need to be reduced to insure housing can be built at a reasonable cost. My guess is that the cost of building a home has approximately 30% of that cost associated with fees from different agencies.
- I totally support that.
- Pushback from corporations, investors. Lack of available funds to help further.
- There are quite a few barriers...the main barrier is the lack of desire to develop affordable housing and NIMBYism.
- Elected officials have not shown to be in favor of inclusionary housing in the past, that needs to change. We need to attack this huge problem on all fronts, and inclusionary housing is one of those tools.

Question 17
If yes to Question 16, what problems?

Open-ended responses:

- Criminal history
- A lot are 55+
- N/A
- Don't want to rent
- Because I receive child support / and I can't receive any kind of help or assistance due to that.
- Not having enough credit renting for the first time
- When trying to get help, questions fall on deaf ears.
- All housing is out in the desert, not enough affordable housing inland.
- Socioeconomic
- Everything
- Low credit score and high down payments
- Most of the state funding requires development at a high density, 30 DUA's, and most local regions do not allow development to occur at that level
- Housing Element does not designate enough designated areas for affordable housing.

Question 19
If no to Question 18, why not and what can be done to increase housing opportunities for immigrants?

Open-ended responses:

- Immigrants are here to live a better life and yet how can they apply or become a citizen with proper documents and due to that they are being denied for housing
- I don't know.
- Possible discrimination due to the political climate and alienation of immigrants.
- More low-income housing.
- Less restrictions on funds funding sources.
- In today's environment I'm sure it is harder for immigrants to obtain adequate housing. Not sure what could be done except for trying to educate those who discriminate against others.
- Don't know.
- Nobody – immigrant or not – is getting their housing needs met. Rent is too expensive, there are very few houses available for rent, and apartments want a ridiculous amount of money and very high expectations.
- I don't believe it because you need to be a citizen to receive assistance. Honestly, immigrants come to this country to work. They would rather work for their own because that's the culture. We Americans are accustomed to having “help” whenever we need it or want it.

- From personal knowledge of some families living situations. I am not sure what can be done at this time as there is a general distrust among this population and coming forward for government-related programs does not seem advantageous for the immigrant population.
- Information barriers; immigrants may fear that they cannot apply for apartments or housing units because of their status. If this population would know of their rights they would be aware of what they can access.
- Break down language barriers, find people who are sincerely passionate about helping immigrants.
- Assistance (in various programs) in helping them get adjusted into a new country will help. It would be from the very minute they get here until they are finally and able to live on their own without the assistance or help.
- Help them establish credit so they can have a credit score.
- Be more organized and lenient.
- Creating more affordable housing programs.
- I don't know specifics but, I see too many shared homes with multiple families.
- Not sure.
- It is harder for them to secure and afford housing.
- Build more affordable housing projects.
- Lack of knowledge of available housing and assistance programs hurts immigrants
- Increase housing stock so that there are more opportunities for people on the lower end of income spectrum.
- They are afraid.
- Establish communities where walking and local commute can meet needs of parks, grocery stores and create a sense of local community.
- More funding to build affordable housing.
- Immigrants, particularly the ones that don't speak English have a harder time obtaining affordable housing.
- Construir mas casas

Question 20

What suggestions do you have for providing long-term, sustainable housing for the homeless population in the County?

Open-ended responses:

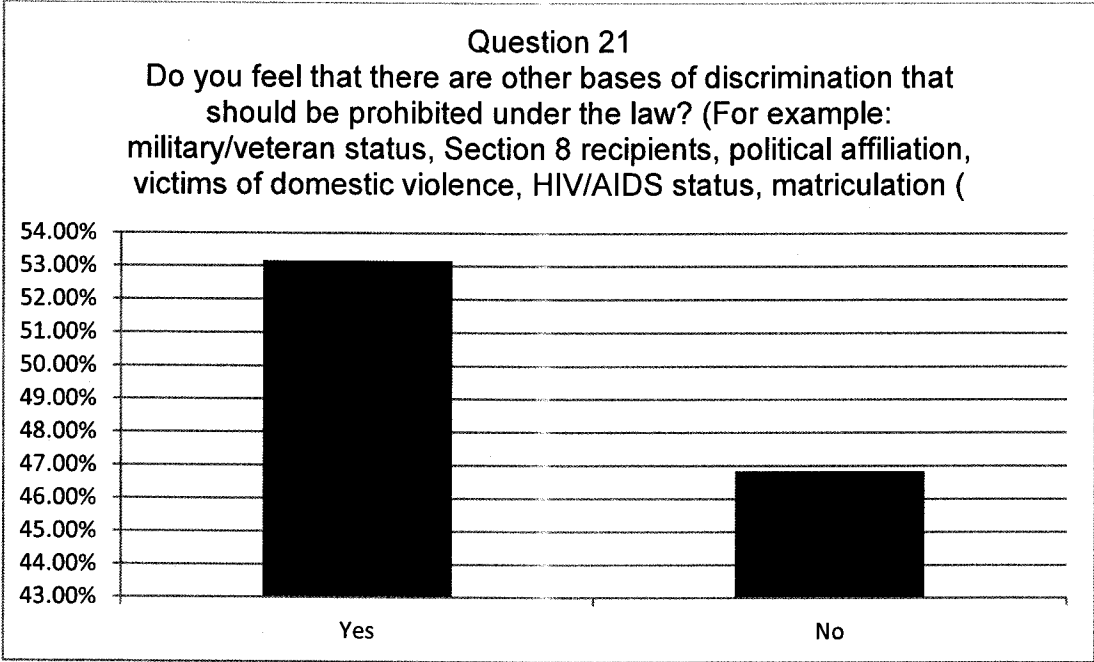

- Stop counting them and actually house them.
- Start providing it.
- Turning condemned hotels /building into shelters for the homeless and using them to assist the homeless into jobs and rehabilitation from drugs and alcohol.

- Provide more low-income housing and more transitional housing shelters. Rent control would be helpful along with providing more financial assistance for families that are facing eviction. Landlords are quick to kick people out and instead they should be trying to help individuals maintain their housing because being quick to evict only adds to the vicious cycle of homelessness. The wages keep going up, but as soon as the wages go up, everything gets more expensive. People need a break from all the increasing prices. Rent control would help in that area.
- Try to have more available housing and apartments, there's not enough
- There needs to be more programs to help them.
- Immigrant populations are getting their housing and food needs met in the County while California (U.S.) residents get "NO" assistance at all. I applied for food assistance and was turned down. How is this acceptable and allowed when I make less than $19,000.00 annually?
- Develop social service programs which assist with chronic homelessness and the various reasons for it's existence, which work directly with developers and owners who are willing to work with the programs and services.
- Not allowing tents and assisting in rehab and then providing off the grid housing like box car and tiny house or multi-housing units.
- I am currently homeless and there are not enough homeless resources of any kind in Riverside County and the ones that exist operate from a shady standpoint. Legit assistance for the homeless population is what's needed.
- Build more home for people in serious need of a place to call home.
- Take this matter seriously. bit phase don't paint the wall with the smallest brush get the biggest roll so you can reach more people in need.
- We need more low-income homes I've been homeless with my baby for a year already, the population of homeless families here are so large, I can't get the help I need to get on my feet! It's extremely exhausting. Being a single mom with a 1 year, homeless is hard, the welfare system doesn't give enough to get a place. The rent here is too high!
- Build project housing, for families, 55+, vets, mentally ill, single men, etc. and place everyone in their respective groups.
- Can some of the empty buildings, schools, properties in different areas be set up to accommodate temporary housing, March ARB perhaps? I would be willing to work there. I have several years of affordable housing experience.
- I talk to plenty of homeless people. They are so transparent. Majority don't want to be in a shelter because of the rules. There's a mental health crisis in their community. We want to help people who either don't want the help or the help needs to be redirected to another need.
- Programs that truly assist and require regular contact and updates to ensure the participant is moving toward self-sufficiency.
- Investments should be made in getting them off the street and help, but not to just house them.
- Accountability; providing programs that would secure their recovery and re-entry to the workforce and also ensuring these programs are mandatory in order for them to become eligible for housing and other social services. Providing them with tools and skills that can support growth.

- Providing a revolving door shelter--- that requires them to actively go out and look for work in order to stay.
- Incentive programs.
- This is a very complex issue due to the fact that each case is so unique. The reason why a person is homeless ranges from some kind of misfortune had happen to drug addiction , alcohol abuse and mental problems. Each case will need to be looked at on an individual and case by case and worked out from there. In this case there is no one simple or “catch all” solution that I can see in dealing with the homeless. You can have the person...no matter what you may offer...will just op to live on the streets. In that case, I would offer them some kind of program where they can be say "look outs" for wild animals that may be invading....a farmer's property. Let them actually..."live off the land".
- First time homebuyer’s assistance program, a new one that the county should create.
- This is a hard question to answer. Most homeless are also suffering from mental disabilities that need to be addressed. Some don't want help, and those that do sometimes can’t get it.
- There are plenty of building and homes that sit vacant. Make them shelters have a resident advisor or two at the location.
- The private landlords and property managers cannot keep getting away with substandard living units and taking participants money. The application process is also becoming expensive and credit checks do not cost the landlord $50 per adult. The homeless population needs housing temporary housing that lasts 3-6 months or one year until they can find a job and locate another place to live on their own. Shelter should be clean and dependable. More affordable housing is necessary for low income people because all the jobs have been transferred overseas.
- I think the ones with children and homeless should be first to get place in homes before disability and veterans. Me I really don't like or trust any shelters.
- Leniency
- Just more consideration for the less fortunate mainly family that has children. For the children that have been taken due to no housing.
- Temporary shelters operated as individual studio apartments with a requirement to attend county job training, and sobriety. The two requirements will contribute to self-sufficiency, empowerment, and Quality of life.
- Services in obtaining employment along with housing.
- Case workers to keep people up to date with their support systems (health insurance, income, food, social...)
- Housing First
- Participants who have been assisted with being homeless, also need a social worker; to help them become long-term housed.
- More funding to build affordable housing.
- Inclusionary housing and increasing the Permanent Supportive Housing stock.

- Local government needs to be on board and support projects in each of their districts. As soon as a few people speak against a project it stops in it's tracks. We all have an obligation to deal with this problem at hand.
- More transitional housing developments
- Providing services only on a temporary basis, encourage working and give benefits
- Increase PSH

Question 22
If “yes” to Question 21, which categories?

Open-ended responses:

- I think all examples mentioned are categories that people discriminate against. Particularly Section 8 recipients. It is hard to find anyone that takes the vouchers.
- Veteran status
- Section 8
- Section 8 recipients from my personal experience, but all which are an issue for self-sustainability.
- Victims domestic violence
- Section 8 or Project-Based. Some employees make comments like “well at least you are getting help” and because of that we should not complain.
- All categories

- Student status, kids, income, etc.
- I have a disabled daughter. It is very hard to find a comfortable, affordable, single story home with carpet. I can't have her crawling around on hardwood or tile. Almost no homes provide this anymore.
- Being poor should be a protected class
- All of the above
- Military status
- Military/Veterans
- Homeless students, pregnant homeless women. parents with children that are homeless.
- Birth origins
- Sect 8 has a horrible stigma, I feel all rental agencies should be obligated to work with sect 8 recipients and the rental amount limit should be flexible according to rental medians.
- Aged out foster kids. I was raised in a foster home and we are not given the tools when we turn 18 that are imperative and conducive to a productive life. We basically have no chance. This needs to change. I actually went into job corps thankfully otherwise I would not have survived this long.
- All the categories mentioned. I am a graduate student and some landlords think I'm talking about kindergarten. I'm working on a doctoral degree because I cannot find work as an adjunct and that is what I am trained to do. Being in graduate school is work and eventually I will obtain employment and become self-sufficient. However, the federal budget cuts have decimated the teaching profession and that has caused me to get a higher degree to be more competitive to obtain work.
- Domestic Violence
- Every Category listed.
- All of the above.
- Student and illness
- Age, gender, income level, mental health, disability, race, religion.
- Section 8 and HIV.
- Section 8 Voucher holders, there is a lot of discrimination goes with Section 8 voucher holders. Landlords just refuse to rent to Section 8 holders.

Question 23

How well or poorly is the prison reentry population re-integrating into our communities and what steps could be taken to improve their ability to reenter and better facilitate their acquisition of safe, affordable housing?

Open-ended responses:

- Not well people hate me cause of the crime I committed.

- Better rehabilitation, education, psychological care, skills development, re-adaptation to society and life skills even before they leave prison!
- Why are U.S. citizen families (with two people disabled) last on the affordable housing and food assistance list? Immigrant populations and prison reentry populations receive assistance before people like myself with no criminal background...how is this fair?
- Everything that is possible without exposing the community to habitual, predatory criminals. People who simply made a mistake and have paid their debt to society should be able to reenter society and commit to their own self development in a similar way to other low income or poverty-stricken individuals and families.
- There is little to no assistance with prison reentry readily available to the actual ex-prisoner. They are barred automatically for felonies.
- Very poor at re-integrating ex-cons back into society.
- Give them job placement, and transitional housing to help integrate them back into society.
- Wow.. Poorly is an understatement. You could start with when someone pays their debt to society for a crime they committed. Incarceration is debt paid. Their record in its entirety should be deleted completely.
- Poorly. Unsure what can help, would need to have more information on the current programs and what services they provide.
- Not familiar.
- Poor. It is hard to get good employment with a clean record, I can't imagine how much more difficult it is for them to get a job.
- Here again is an issue that a "one stop" shop doesn't work. Programs would need to be designed to fit that particular individual. A person needs to feel good about themselves and have a sense of well worth and being and that what they do is valued. Having confidence in themselves. Look into the "why's" they committed the crimes and go from there. Look at and show them what changes and choices they could have made to do something worthwhile. The almighty dollar doesn't always bring happiness. Yes, it may get all the material things but does it really bring you "true" happiness? A question that should be asked.
- They should get help.
- I'm not sure about this. I don't know what to say...I am sure it isn't easy for them to re-enter society hopefully they have a family member or friend to help get on their feet.
- Obviously, if the person has done their time, a second chance should be given depending on the charges. If the person is honest and says this happened and served their time, the person should have a second chance to reintegrate in society with a job and housing. Everyone needs a job and housing to be a productive member of society. The background check system is designed to keep a person perpetually punished.
- The re-integration process for the prison population can makes some changes to ensure less biases when individuals are looking for housing or jobs. They will never be able to afford housing or qualify for housing if the "felon" question remains on housing applications.

- There needs to be some sort of work programs in the prison or jail system that can help those non-violent offenders try and get a leg up so they can re-integrate into society and decrease the number of repeat offenders.
- I do not know enough about this population to form a meaningful opinion for solutions.
- Allow people at entry into housing programs to have an exception for criminal activity. Once they are housed then if they recidivize then terminate their assistance.
- More adamant screening policies and perhaps resources to help former inmates with redevelopment to be able to get their lives back on track.
- Encourage schooling and centers strict on rules of keeping everyone in line.
- Increase housing and workforce opportunities.

Question 24

How well or poorly is the homeless reentry population re-integrating into our communities and what steps could be taken to improve their ability to reenter and better facilitate their acquisition of safe, affordable housing?

Open-ended responses:

- I think the homeless reentry population needs to be offered long term case management. Someone who literally comes by and checks on them where they live and helps facilitate referrals to jobs and counseling resources. Also, someone that can hold them accountable staying focused on their goals and taking care of their living environment. Also financial responsibility classes would be helpful. Classes that help people learn to budget and pay bills.
- Having shelters that implement a 12-step approach.
- Less restrictions on funding.
- Poor and homeless families receive "NO" assistance at all because there is not enough affordable housing to go around. I am a single mother with a masters degree but cannot work outside the home because I am my son's (Autism w/intellectual disabilities) caregiver. There are "NO" after school programs for my son that would allow me to work outside of the home.
- Same as above only for homeless.
- Poorly handled and programs for homeless are operating off of old methods. Psychological aspects need to be taken into consideration when reentering homeless into population.
- More low-income homes, for domestic violence people, everyone deserves to have a home it's unfair to the children to be homeless for mistakes the parents made.
- Very poorly. Unsure what can help, would need to have more information on the current programs and what services they provide.
- Poorly, employers expect explanations for gaps in employment. How is a homeless person supposed to explain the gaps without feeling embarrassed or judged?
- Programs

- Homeless people are grossly ignored, and people tend to complain about where they are setting up camp. Do like that one city and pay the homeless to clean up the city.
- Poor. Have designated affordable housing to assist people who have lost their homes to foreclosure. Don't put mentally ill people on the street because their mentally ill; they need their own affordable housing because that population has special needs. Newly homeless people normally have bad credit because of foreclosure or eviction and cannot find another place to live and wind up on the street. Credit counseling is definitely needed because without decent credit, the family cannot obtain housing.
- It's very poor needs more genuine individuals who can look past their selfishness and actually see the hardship others are facing in life.
- Hold them accountable for their actions. Those that don't want to live by the rules should be stripped of any public assistance and run out of town.
- Surrounding this population with supportive services and assisting along the way will go a very long way in helping them succeed with affordable housing.
- The Housing Authority of Riverside County is doing an excellent job at housing the homeless population. However, we need more Permanent Supportive Housing units.
- It is very difficult. Landlords don't want to rent to people with criminal backgrounds or back credit. It is nearly impossible to find a homeless person that doesn't have a criminal history for minor offenses or one with good credit history.
- The homeless population is a very serious problem in our County and in the City of Hemet.
- We need to increase supportive services and affordable housing and expand drug treatment options.

Question 25

What particular challenges do you see facing the LGBTQIA+ (Lesbian, Gay, Bi-Sexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual+) community obtaining the housing of their choice? What can or should be done to mitigate or eliminate those challenges?

Open-ended responses:

- Sexual preference should never be used to consider housing applications.
- I am sure that the LGBTQIA communities face their share of challenges.
- People discriminate against them based on their appearance.
- I'm sure they too have to suffer from discrimination. Really what it comes down to is money. A gay person with money will not suffer discrimination as a gay person with no money. Which applies to all the protected classes. How to fix it? Hit the person/business that is discriminating with such a severe monetary fine it would render them poor overnight. Discrimination would essentially stop.
- The landlords ask, "Do you have a boyfriend?" They assume and put someone on the spot. It's none of their business but your forced to answer to secure a place.

- Possibly the application process. Do rental / housing applications require applicants to describe their sex? Are these applications regulated? Do they offer options such as selection transgender, non-binary, etc.?
- This is a hard one, because of the fact that you would have to change the mindset of the general population. It's going to take time and lots of it. It may take years, decades, or even centuries and then again it may never change. It's what us black people have been dealing with the past, present and most likely future. Things have and will get better over the years...but "true" acceptance...that's a WHOLE different ballgame. To me the only solution I can see it education. Educating the populous is the real key.
- They are sexually harassed by pervert landlords like I have been for being a single mother. Landlords are notorious for sexually harassing Section 8 participants. I'm looking for a place to live, not to sleep with you.
- Income, jobs, transportation.
- Awareness, mentorship programs.
- I have not run into this discrimination at all in the City of Riverside, Moreno Valley, Jurupa Valley or Corona where I do most of my business and dealings with housing.
- LGBTQIA+ discrimination is more prevalent than ever. If they are added to federally protected class, then it will help eliminate the issue tremendously.

Question 26

What housing-related issues do you see affecting victims of domestic violence and their families? How can we better ensure that this population has access to safe, affordable, and stable housing options?

Open-ended responses:

- I think people fear renting to victims of domestic violence because they are afraid their abuser will find them and create problems for everyone.
- Create more safe houses.
- More women's shelters that can accommodate women with more than two kids.
- Again, no restrictions on funding.
- Victims of domestic violence are suffering from the past violence, they could offer more help to these victims.
- I am a victim of domestic violence and that is why I am a single mother today. My choices, hum...either I stay in the relationship and die the way my mother did when she was murdered (domestic violence) or become a single parent and have no housing/food assistance from the state I have lived in since 1976. Not much of a choice.
- Hard to relocate with no job/ lack of income.
- I came from a DV shelter. Unfortunately, they don't tell you about housing. I had to be proactive and call Riverside Housing Authority myself. They weren't too helpful either.
- Financial barriers. Providing assistance to domestic violence victims with rental assistance.

- More "safe housing" needs to be established and of course financial assistance. The laws need to be strengthened to protect those who are victims.
- I believe that they are domestic abuse victims and don't feel safe, wherever they might go, there will be some sort of fear. It is very sad when you feel like that, I myself have been a victim of domestic violence, verbal violence, and mental violence. they should be able to be place in a housing unit somewhere in another city, not the same one where the aggressor stays.
- I was a victim of this and reached out for help...the programs in place are a farce. It's a facade.
- Women need a way of reporting domestic violence as well as LGBTQIA+ because we are marginalized by white, male, property owners who think the participant is their property too. There needs to be a safe way to report sexual harassment by landlords because it is a power issue.
- Better restraining orders or protection. Too many women are at risk due to lack of protection.
- Domestic violence families may encounter lower housing options due to lack of credit and/or income/employment/childcare.
- We need to increase supportive services for victims of domestic violence.
- They need to be protected. My sister is currently going through this and it's hard for a single mom to find housing with no help.

Question 27

Do you believe that the County of Riverside has adequate public transportation to allow residents to access housing, schools, shopping, healthcare, jobs, etc.? What can or should be done to improve public transportation in the County?

Open-ended responses:

- No and the bus stops have no covering or seats.
- Yes
- Absolutely not
- Need better access to bus passes.
- At no cost or low cost.
- Offer additional transportation options. An elderly person is not always able to use a bus.
- Make transportation means known. RVC doesn't make public help known or only poorly known even when help is available.
- Some of the lines should run more often and not run more than 5 or 10 minutes behind schedule.
- No. The buses end too early in the night, they go in all different types of direction and bus drivers refuse to accept riders after being a second late.

- The bus needs to run every 10 minutes during the day, 30 in the middle of night, 24 hrs. a day.
- No, the public transportation is not adequate, unsure what can be done to improve.
- It is moderate, not 100% reliable.
- No, I do not believe that Riverside public transportation is adequate. Being an RTA customer, I know from first hand in some areas it works fine but then in other areas it falls flat. I'm a senior so I can only speak on the service that is offered to us. I would like to see the service start earlier and end a bit later. But on the whole....as a native New Yorker with the best transportation in the country I strongly suggest that you take a look at what they are doing in the great City of New York and copy it.
- They say they have transportation available now but only for healthcare purposes, for housing, shopping, and jobs, I have not seen that happen. for school there are busses.
- I honestly don't know. I thankfully have been blessed to never have been without a car.
- The bus runs four times a day.
- Public transportation is way better than it was 15 years ago. Service is pretty dependable.
- Not in the Coachella Valley. The bus system in place now does not have stops in many areas of our valley.
- Not sure.
- No, we have a horrible public transportation system in the Inland Empire. All trains go to OC and LA, no Inland Empire line that allows you to stay within the County. Metrolink only tailors to those that work in LA or OC, not to those that work in Riverside County.
- We definitely need more public transportation in SW Riverside County.
- You should have left the trolley tracks going down the middle of Magnolia Avenue. That would have been the ideal way to get people from one end of town to the other.
- While there is a robust bus system, it sometimes does not run often enough to get people to their jobs on time. Frequency may require some study.
- Better access to route information and frequent routes. possibly providing shade at the stops while waiting.
- No, it takes hours to get from one place to another.
- Have public transportation accessible at all affordable housing developments. Have public transportation work more closely with the affordable housing community.
- Provide on-time services.

Question 28

Do you believe that there is access to quality, affordable healthcare in your community? What can or should be done to improve access to healthcare in your neighborhood?

Open-ended responses:

- I believe there is affordable health care in the community.

- Yes
- No
- California has been great at assisting me and my children with healthcare and for that I am very grateful.
- No. There needs to be an overall healthcare reform, places are over-crowded and people do not know how to attend to small health issues at home.
- No. Hire better doctors and appoint people that are concerned about patient health and not numbers/money to oversee the doctors.
- Not affordable.
- Hard for me to speak on this one...since I have Kaiser, I already have the best health care there is. Here again, I would suggest take a look at what Kaiser is doing and copy that.
- Yes there is.
- No. I can't get seen as of right now actually. I did enroll with Covered California and they want $76 a month. With a fixed income it is impossible.
- No because of the ridiculous deposits and waiting times.
- I have access to quality, affordable healthcare in my community. People in rural areas do not and that's a problem for them because that's where cheaper housing is located.
- No there is not. Some communities of our valley are in desperate need of more free, affordable, medical attention.
- Provide free screenings.

Question 29

Do you believe that there are enough banks in your community to meet the needs of the population? What can or should be done to improve access to banks in your neighborhood?

Open-ended responses:

- Yes. There are plenty of banks.
- Banks are adequate.
- Too many banks but no money to put in the bank.
- No. More ATMs
- Yes, I believe we have enough banks to meet the needs of the population. With a bank on almost every corner I see no problems.
- What kind of banks? nobody has money for the bank accounts.
- They just closed a Chase bank here. There is one teller most times lines tend to be long.
- No issue with access to banking.

Question 30

Do you believe that there is sufficient access to credit through affordable means to the people in your community? What can or should be done to improve access to affordable credit in your neighborhood?

Open-ended responses:

- I don't believe there is sufficient access to affordable credit for people. Low income people can have lower credit scores because they struggle to make payment to their bills on time. Then, once they are late with a payment they are burdened with higher minimum payment, fees and higher interest rates.
- Yes
- No
- There are no options for credit at the moment other than very expensive payday loans and high-priced options for people with little to no credit.
- No. Because poor people are my community and banks/companies do not extend credit to poor people and communities.
- No, everyone's credit is shot, credit should not even be a factor in renting to low income families.
- No and I do not have enough information to comment on improvement.
- Not sure
- Now here is the "real" good question. No! there's no sufficient access to credit through affordable means. Some banks do try to help you out and other not. The ones that try to help are really no help. They just claimed to be helping you out, but in reality its a trick to lure you in to get you in debt. If banks want to help...lower your interest rates!
- No how do I rebuild my credit?
- I think credit should never be used. If you plan on using credit take a class first on finances. They should integrate that in schools as well.
- Mentorship, classes, special programs
- Federal regulations govern most of the credit markets and services so not sure there is much anyone can do on a local level.
- Education and assistance on credit management to better educate community on how to make credit work in their favor.
- No. Most credit available to low income people is these crooks that operate credit shops at high interest to people with bad credit.
- Provide information to the public, social media.

Question 31

Do you believe that there are enough living wage jobs available across all skillsets and education levels in your community? What can or should be done to improve access to good paying, stable jobs in your neighborhood?

Open-ended responses:

- I do not believe there is access to jobs that have living wages in the neighborhood.
- No, there's not enough jobs out there.
- Yes
- No
- No, I have filled out numerous applications/resumes and still have no job. The jobs in the education field are not interested in employing African American women like myself.
- Companies are asking for extensive education and paying very low wages. Companies are now asking for multiple skills for one position and then only paying for one type of skill. Unions charge monthly wages that are not affordable. Rate of pay is very low for office, admin and clerical work.
- No. There is a lot of discrimination in the Inland Empire towards black people on jobs and blacks do not get the job desired, matching with their skills. There is also way too much bilingualism in the I.E., that leads to blackballing and keeping non-bilingual people from working permanently. (e.g. temp agencies)
- No there is not. I have an Associates degree in human services and behavioral and social studies and there are no jobs accepting Associates degree.
- Employers seek to get the person who is the most qualified, but is willing to take less pay.
- I'm retired and have lost track of what is going on in the job market here in Riverside. So I can't speak on something I don't know anything about.
- No, I still have not been hired in one year.
- No. Within the surrounding communities of Eastvale, Jurupa Valley, and Norco, there are a lot of low-income fast food industry jobs, with the exception of the new and upcoming development in Ontario Ranch.
- No. We need more training available.
- No educational opportunities need to be more affordable and efficient.
- While we are making progress on attracting higher wage jobs to the area, there is still a shortage of skilled workers for those higher wage jobs. We need to continue to focus hard on education and college degrees to ensure that there are skilled workers in order to attract better paying industries.
- No. We need more high paying jobs in the area.

Question 32

What can or should be done by the County of Riverside to improve the quality and safety of schools in your neighborhood and in the County?

Open-ended responses:

- Hire more teachers. My daughter's classroom has 44 students and one teacher...this does not make sense. I feel that the school my children attend have an adequate amount of security.
- Easy, give the schools more money and there shouldn't be any exception of where a child is from or what their race is.
- Cameras in the classroom so parents can check up on their kids, police officer liaisons office on all campuses.
- Keep on track with times we live in technologically. Swiftly address issues of bullying, both on and off campus.
- Parent involvement in school.
- Educating children/ students and parents when it comes to active shooters, looking for signs of depression, and overall mental health issues.
- With all the shootings that have been going on lately, this is a very important issue. I really don't know what can be done in this case. There are too many unknowns to deal with. I guess what the County of Riverside has put in place for now is all that we have to work with. As time goes on hopefully things will get better and we once again return to a time that shootings will be a thing of the past.
- Nothing, we are a new world order and the parents don't know how to teach children anything, that's why you see so much violence in school now a days.
- Keep them secure with security guards to be able to protect our kids.
- More security.
- I think the main problem in school is bullying. Do more extensive background checks on teachers.
- Keep pedophiles away from all P-12 schools.
- Hiring more deputies so they can monitor every school in the County.
- Metal Detectors at schools...Schools are just unsafe now.
- Minimize the entry points for each of the schools. Arm the teachers that are willing.
- Better wages for teachers and make it more appealing to want to be a teacher by providing grants, opportunities to create more jobs as teachers, aids, etc.
- Have more traffic enforcement during drop off and pick up times.
- Provide more security.

Question 33

Do you believe that Riverside County's schools are adequately preparing students to compete in the global economy? What can or should be done to better prepare students to compete?

Open-ended responses:

- More classes on skills they will need to live successfully in this world such as credit, how to get a home or auto loan, what is an interest rate, parenting, how to rent an apartment, how to write and follow a budget, how to apply for jobs and how to research schools and colleges.
- Yes
- No they teach to pass standard tests and not how to even function in the real world.
- Provide classes to better prepare students such as financial and real-world skills.
- Absolutely not!
- No, teach them hands on craft skills
- They need to focus on two things. Learning a new language and math.
- Not rewarding them for participation but rather rewarding students that get the highest scores. Students need to learn that competing is healthy and to take criticism in order to grow and not feel entitled. Also supporting our educators and promoting art and creativity.
- No, school does not teach students about life topics, such as: taxes, credit, loans, interest.
- Since my children are grown...one is an 8th grade English teacher and the head of the English department and my other daughter works in the legal department of the Director's Guild. I have lost all contact of what is happening in the schools of Riverside. So, I would like to think and hope that Riverside is doing its best to prepare our children to be able to compete in the global economy of the future.
- I think the student needs to be the one expected to do their duties in this case. It depends on the student's drive. The teachers could actually teach as well. I hear they're just a bump on a log and don't explain anything.
- It depends on the funding the school is receiving. Some school districts have more resources than others so the school districts with more resources have students that are more likely to attend a University.
- As a nation, our students are not adequately prepared to compete in the global economy, unless they were privileged enough to attend private schools. Unfortunately, this issue is one that requires Congressional and Federal actions in order to implement policies and laws preventing educational budget cuts.
- I believe County's schools are not preparing students the same way in every city. Better schools are in the cities where there is more global economy (businesses) and influential people. I believe government should use the same programs in every school no matter of people's color, race, ethnicity... the most important thing is to prepare all of our children to get ready for the future because we are finding it tough, especially these years and it does not look as if it's going to become easier for them.

- No, not all the public schools in our valley.
- No, our school system is flawed...needs major reform to compete on the global economy.
- I think we continue to make progress on education, but I believe we also need to improve on the "trades" that provide good pay but not a college degree, like construction job training; auto mechanic training, etc.
- No, they should have more classes that teach kids real life skills like being an electrician, plumber, certified forklift driver, etc. Not everyone is cut out for college and we should approach our schools that way when teaching kids.
- Make more classes available, other languages, arts, music.

Question 34
Are there any other issues you feel need to be addressed in the Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice?

Open-ended responses:

- More affordable homes need to be made available to the people that live and work in the valley. Low income people have to work too hard and they still cannot afford the price of rent and bills.
- No.
- I would like to see one central starting place to obtain information housing, assistance for people with disabilities, income challenges, senior services, etc.
- The system and locations need to be looked into and updated/reworked.
- All housing should be available to all. Stop using senior or family housing to restrict use. Stop using bedroom size to a lot housing. A unit that is within the recipient's voucher amount should be available to rent.
- That there should be more means to help for single mothers.
- There are no "Fair Housing Choices" because there is not enough affordable housing to go around and the people that do receive affordable housing never move out.
- Yes, the payment standards should be reviewed and increased based on the reality of the market.
- Rent cost control and not allowing landlords to treat residents like they can be evicted for any reason that is very unfair.
- Yes, why does it take so long to get a place?
- Finding housing should not be difficult, I pay $1,200 a month to live in a motel, but yet no one will rent to my family, sad.
- Recertification. Should be the same paperwork all the time. I gather all my paperwork and they want something more from last year. Landlords: It should be mandatory for them to attend a class on do's and don't's. My previous landlord was completely abusive. I had enough and called the police. It seems like the H.A. sides with the Landlords.

- Not sure.
- Yes, the rents in this area has just gotten out of control. What is going on here?! Rent control needs to be established and incentives need to be given to those landlords that work the hardest and really care about their tenants and property. Yes, more affordable housing needs to be built so that the average person can pay a decent rent without having to struggle.
- Rental price in Beaumont for a 3-bedroom is anywhere from $1,800 to higher. Choice voucher for a 3-bedroom $1,680, it makes it impossible to find rent at that price on top of many homeowners do not want to rent to Section 8 recipients.
- How we can be self-sufficient.
- Yes, more tutoring that doesn't require having a car.
- Please make more affordable housing so that people on the Housing Choice Voucher Program can find a decent place to live. The program is really good to participants, however, when the housing market is tight, landlords know they can get away with breaking housing laws.
- You covered a good deal of ground in this survey!
- I think young families with young kids should be a focus in helping them get housing.
- The FH impediment right now is the lack of available affordable housing units.
- There should be more communication with all programs for low income customers, the more all staff knows about other programs available for their customers the more help they can be.

End of Survey
