BACKGROUND:

Summary

San Diego State University Foundation (SDSUF) established the Public Child Welfare Training Academy (PCWTA), now referred to as Child Welfare Development Services (CWDS), in July 1996 as one of five Title IV-E funded regional training academies in the State of California. CWDS serves the five counties of the Southern Region (Imperial, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego). In collaboration with the California Social Work Education Center (CalSWEC) and the California Department of Social Services (CDSS), CWDS develops and delivers culturally appropriate, competency-based, in-service child welfare curricula to numerous regional public child welfare staff and child welfare-related community providers annually. The purpose of these trainings is to improve outcomes for children and families in the child welfare system through reinforcement of best practice standards. Additionally, CWDS provides state-mandated child welfare training to Riverside County child welfare social workers.

As the State implements new programs and services, and as counties identify specific training needs, CWDS develops training curricula to assist counties with developing staff and preparing them for program and practice changes. SDSUF-CWDS provides coaching to focus on implementation of Safety Organized Practice and other issues including best practice, case plan field tools, solution focused questions, engagement, time management and integrating training into practice. These training and coaching services are intended to assist staff in implementing a variety of program and practice changes to enhance their ability to effectively serve children and families.

DPSS' Children's Services Division has experienced an influx in the hiring of Social Workers. This contract amendment is being requested to add two (2) Core Induction trainings to ensure that newly hired staff will receive coaching and training as required. The addition of the Core Induction trainings will increase the annual maximum reimbursable amount (MRA) by $185,830, from $587,299 to $773,129 annually.

Impact on Residents and Businesses

The coaching and training provided through this agreement enhances service provision to residents of Riverside County and is required to enable the Department to most effectively implement new approaches being adopted through the State.

Contract History and Price Reasonableness

Ordinance 459 allows for selection and award of contracts with vendors that have been designated to provide contracted services for state and federal programs. The State designated SDSUF as the regional PCWTA to support the training needs of county child welfare staff. As a result of this designation, SDSUF is the organization needed to provide the required Induction training for newly hired CSD staff. The cost of these training services is based on standard University rates that are charged to all counties in our region.
