SUBMITTAL TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS COUNTY OF RIVERSIDE, STATE OF CALIFORNIA

BACKGROUND:

Summary

In its role to initiate and support projects and services involving young people in Riverside County, the Youth Commission provides advice, assistance, and recommendations to the Board of Supervisors and County Department heads. The Youth Commission works to anticipate the educational, recreational and cultural needs of the youth of Riverside County, and it works to ensure the coordination of community resources to improve the quality of life for all its youth. One of the directives of the Board of Supervisors is the requirement to submit an annual report. This report is designed to be a compilation of the activities and the accomplishment of the Youth Commission and its comprising five Youth Advisory Councils.

The Commission and Youth Advisory Councils wish to thank the Boards of Supervisors for their continued support, insight, and commitment by appointing the Commission to continue to be a voice for the youth in Riverside County.

Impact on Residents and Businesses

Each of the five Riverside County Youth Advisory Councils works towards improving the community by volunteering their time and efforts with organizing members of the community. The Youth Commission also host several events aimed toward improving the lives of young people throughout Riverside County by providing them the resources to achieve their goals.

The Riverside County Youth Advisory Councils consists of high school students throughout the County. Cumulatively, they have volunteered 1,856 hours of community service during the past year. If those students were paid California's minimum wage of $15.00/hour, they donated the equivalent of $27,840 in free services to their communities. The website

"Independent sector.org" places a value of $25.43 per hour of volunteer work and using this figure the Youth Commission donated nearly $47,198.08 this year. While in reality, it is not possible to place a dollar value on the services they provide, it is important to understand that they are accomplishing real goals, learning incredibly valuable life lessons and making Riverside County a better place for all of us.

Riverside County Youth Commission County-Wide Events and Collaborations 2020-2021 Council Year

The Youth Commission collaborates with many organizations to support community members throughout the county. By joining the efforts of all five Youth Advisory Councils, the Youth Commission can make a larger impact on the community and the organizations we work with. The Commissioners from each of the five Youth Advisory Councils sit on the Youth Commission Board to represent and make collaborative decisions on behalf of all the Councils. Below is a list of organizations that the Youth Commission decided to collaborate with for the 2021-2022 council year.

RUHS Public Health: Community Health Assessment

The Youth Commission was invited by the Riverside County University Health System - Public Health to participate in the Riverside County Community Health Assessment (CHA). The Community Health Assessment assists in the creation of the County's Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) which will be in place for the next five years. The RUHS—Public Health Community Health Assessment is an opportunity for community members to provide feedback regarding the health and wellbeing of all county residents to create a healthier, equitable, and more resilient Riverside County. In order for the Youth Commission to participate in this important project, the YC Coordinator and Legislative Interns were required to participate in five trainings with the other community partners participating in the CHA collaborative. This project was a big commitment from the Youth Commission staff and was ongoing from August 2021 through January 2022. The Youth Commission assisted with the engagement process by hosting focus groups, small group interviews, and community forums for data collection. The Youth Commission was pleased to allow our program's council members and Riverside County residents to use their voice to help make a difference in their communities. The full report that the Youth Commission compiled, which details our contribution of data collection and analysis for the CHA, is attached to this report in Attachment A.

Continuum of Care: Youth Point in Time Count

The Youth Commission voted yes to work in collaboration with Continuum of Care (CoC) Division to help with the annual Youth Point in Time Count. This event serves as a census to account for homeless youth living within Riverside County. During the Youth Commission meeting our commissioners agreed to participate in the Come and be Connected events that provided a direct connection for homeless youth to come be counted and connected to resources. These events took place at various locations within the county in February 2022. The 2021-2022 Youth Commission kicked off the school year in the fall with the Annual Youth Retreat. This event is intended to prepare, excite, and train the council members for the upcoming school year. The 23rd Annual Youth Retreat was a virtual pleasure. Youth Retreat was created to prepare the new and returning council members for the year to come. The day consisted of two different speakers including YAC 101 presented by the YAC coordinators and Brown Act/ Parliamentary Procedures presented by County Counsel's Sarah Moore. The students get to see firsthand what a day in the life of a county employee is like. The 23rd Youth in Government Day was a success despite the limitations of the ongoing pandemic we were still experiencing. The event was held completely virtually and allowed students from all districts to meet with mentors from many county departments. This year's event focused on providing youth with small group online mentoring sessions via Zoom. The Youth Commission was pleased to allow our program's council members and Riverside County residents to use their voice to help make a difference in their communities.

The Overall Process

On September 30, 2021, the Riverside County Youth Commission (RVYC) voted YES to collaborate with Riverside Unified Health System for the CHA Project. The Riverside County Youth Commission shared social media flyers and collected data through December 9, 2021, to January 19, 2022. Students were informed of the project and its importance during the Riverside County's Youth Advisory Council (YAC) meetings. The Youth Advisory Council Members participated by filling out and sharing an electronic survey via social media. A community forum discussion was held virtually through Zoom, on January 19th, 2022. The virtual discussion had an attendance of 63 participants; the online survey was completed by 93 participants.

Section 1: Online Survey Data Collection Overview

An online survey was created for the Community Health Assessment to hear from Riverside County residents who are under the age of 24. The survey provided an opportunity for individuals to vocalize how racism affects their overall health and well-being. The objective of the assessment was to evaluate the needs of the community and improve the quality of life for all residents. The survey included 10 questions that reflected participant's social demographics and cross examined the effects of racism on their health. The online survey received 93 responses.

The first few questions were regarding age range, city of residence, and ethnicity. According to the data collected, Figure 1 demonstrates that the majority of participants were 14 to 16 years old.

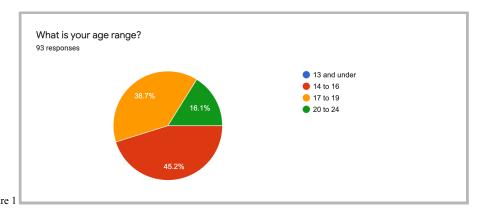

Figure 2 demonstrates that Riverside residents accounted for 23.8% of our participants. Beaumont residents accounted for 11.1% and all others were scattered across Banning, Eastvale, Jurupa Valley, Menifee, Moreno Valley, Temecula, Hemet, and Murrieta.

The next formulated question focused on ethnicity and revealed that the majority of community members identify as Hispanic or Black/African American. Based on these findings, it can be theorized that minorities are disproportionately impacted by racism.

The following question asked participants how racially and ethnically diverse they felt Riverside County was. The results illustrated by a numerical scale of 1-10, 28% of respondents selected a 7 to describe the level of diversity. As for representation, on a scale from 1-10, respondents chose "6" and "8" to describe how well they feel represented in their community.

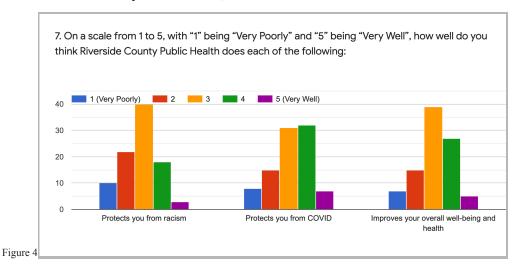

In terms of resource availability and accessibility, 50.5 % of respondents stated that they "somewhat" know how to locate appropriate information. About 49.5% of survey participants stated they have personally experienced racism in Riverside County. Those who have had those experiences state it is an occurrence that happens occasionally, rather than most of the time. Figure 3 describes that 35.2% felt experiences of racism were infrequent and rarely a common act.

The survey also asked participants about their opinion on whether recent news and political activity shifted the way they perceive racial inequality. Almost half of the participants (45.2%) stated that it "somewhat" changed their perspectives; and 44.1% stated that it changed their views "very much."

Members of the community feel Riverside County Public Health is addressing racism, Covid-19, and overall health issues "moderately". Figure 4 shows that most participants rated Riverside County a "3" for the ways in which they improve health and overall well-being, protect the community from racism, and Covid-19.

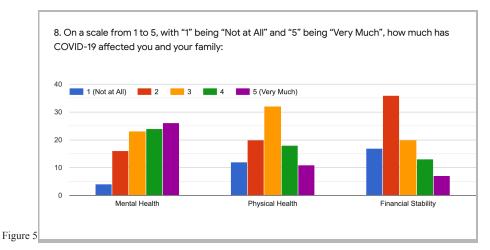

In regards to the previous question, participants were asked "On a scale from 1 to 5, "1 "being "Not at All" and "5" being "Very Much", how much has Covid-19 affected you and your family?" Survey participants Covid-19 had a greater impact on mental and physical health compared to factors like financial stability.

From a statistical perspective, we can theorize that there may be a correlation between Covid-19 lockdowns and the negative impact on mental and physical health due to barriers to lack of social interaction. However, statistical analysis was not used on data collections to confirm this hypothesis.

It was also found that 60% of respondents agreed that Covid-19 impacts some ethnic groups more than others. However, 20.4% of students felt "neutral" and that ethnicity was not a determinant in the pandemic.

Lastly, participants were asked if they or a family member sought assistance from the County or medical provider if they were affected negatively by Covid-19. The data shows that each response is evenly distributed and there was no outlier in response choice.

In conclusion, the data reveals that there is a common narrative within students in Riverside County regarding the impacts of racism on ethnic groups. The questions from the survey collectively demonstrate how young adults in Riverside County are affected by the public health crisis. The discrepancies against people of color confirm how Riverside County needs to better address these issues to improve and protect public health. This data is useful in helping the Riverside University Health System-Public Health to implement an improvement plan that promotes the well-being of the community. Such areas of concentration that need more focus are ensuring community safety for all ethnic groups, and ensuring equity in the form of accessibility to clean air, water, food, and housing. Riverside County should prioritize improving health and the process of sharing these resources so that it is understandable to all community members regardless of socioeconomic status.

Section 2: Virtual Community Forum Discussion Overview

A Community Forum Discussion was held virtually through Zoom, on January 19th, 2022. The virtual discussion had an attendance of 63 participants. Some of these participants also completed the online survey therefore the number of total participants between the survey and the community discussion may be duplicated. The community discussion was advertised to the Youth Advisory Council members who were also asked to share the information with their friends and family who are under the age of 24. The community forum information was also shared on all the YAC's social media pages and on the pages of student participants. Once the virtual focus group began, the project was introduced, the consent form was reviewed, and all participants agreed to the privacy and consent terms through the chat box. All 63 participants were split into two breakout sessions where they could have a more intimate conversation with their peers. Each breakout room had 2 Youth Commission staff facilitators who asked the following questions, tracked the responses and encouraged open dialogue amongst the group.

1. The COVID pandemic has been with us for almost two years. Do you feel that COVID impacts some groups more than other groups? Why or why not?

The consensus was that on average, minorities, low-income neighborhoods, and essential workers were the most mentioned as impacted groups. Students also pointed out that the impact on small businesses and the economy as a whole has contributed to a decrease in productivity.

2. What are some of the barriers that exist in your community that affect your well-being?

According to the results, there were a variety of barriers that impact a community's wellbeing. Some of the barriers addressed from our participants included lack of in-person education, socioeconomic status, race, and accessibility to resources. Each of these barriers profoundly impacts each participant's experience within the community.

It was prevalent that the transition to remote learning was challenging. A participant explained how school was a way to escape home and interact with their peers, though the transition to online limited those exact things. Remote learning seemed to affect student's well-being due to lack of social interaction between peers. Many participants stated how isolated and alone they felt throughout the online learning experience. This barrier of schooling proved to be difficult, learning remoting was essential yet impractical towards their wellbeing.

In regards to socioeconomic status, being low income has a set of uncomfortable barriers. The participants were able to identify that being low-income impacts wellbeing as most low-income families or individuals live in poverty. Living in poverty impacts your wellbeing due to inconsistent living situations or financial instability. Race was also a barrier identified by the participants. They shared how being part of the Hispanic/Latino community has created certain barriers, "In my community, it is heavily Hispanic/Latino-based. I know a lot of my peers and I have dealt with barriers/impacted by outdated expectations from immigrant parents. They have an outdated thinking towards emotions" This experience explores how being part of the Hispanic/Latino community has key culture barriers.

Accessibility to resources was one of the most heavily emphasized barriers for this question. The participants addressed how mental health resources are limited with not enough resources available to support them. This barrier prevents them from improving or addressing the issues they face. This element of accessibility can connect to the other barriers as well, as race and socioeconomic status are elements that impact accessibility. The consistent message was that there were aspects of misinformation and lack of knowledge within their communities that was spread by family and friends.

3. As a resident of Riverside County have you personally experienced racism?

There were a wide range of responses from our participants about this question, ranging from yes and no, as well as calling out other elements of discrimination and micro aggressions. Overwhelmingly, there were responses of not witnessing racism, but they were aware that it happens to others around them. This element further supports the experiences that were shared from participants about the ways in which they face racism or discrimination or micro aggressions.

The type of experiences that students encountered varied. Some had to deal with derogatory comments and were labeled as "violent and a threat." One participant shared their experience in a store, "I have been followed in stores and questioned about stealing when I am with my friends." Racism in our community is not limited to in-person but is prevalent online as well. Participants shared how racism is treated through social media; collectively, their different experiences reveal that racism is an active issue within the community. Additionally, elements of discrimination and micro aggression based on one's races or appearance were apparent. The participants were able to share how their appearance often warrants certain behaviors from people to say inappropriate remarks or make judgments. One comment made was "I have noticed that many people at my school are blindly offensive. Their comments are made casually" and "I think even small comments are made to make people feel left out and insecure about the race, especially because everybody just wants to fit in." Together these comments reveal the causal nature set in place that makes them feel uncomfortable and outed based on their race. The overall theme demonstrates the reality that racism and racially inappropriate comments are still an issue for today.

4. What kinds of programs or initiatives do you think are needed to help reduce racism in your community?

With a firm understanding of the racial climate of our community, the participants were able to make possible resolutions to reduce racism. The resolutions included education, formation of student organizations, hosting open forums, and using media. Given that our focus group is made up of youth, there was major emphasis on education and providing education for students and faculty. Having student organizations was another solution presented. The idea behind having a student organization allows students to appreciate different cultures and promote inclusion. One participant highlighted some key organizations, ``there should be a promotion of student extracurricular activities such as Latinos Unidos, Black Student Union, Chinese Club, etc. to connect students in the community". These organizations uplift Black, Indegenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) students by providing a safe space for these individuals.

5. What are some of the things that the public health department can help to reduce racism and its effects?

Participants strongly suggested educating medical professionals, and subsequently the community, about medical discrimination. They also suggested building better relationships with the community so that health measures like masking and vaccines are not to be feared and taken seriously. The youth are asking for an education about racism that is not surface level. They welcome courses like ethnic studies and encourage a dialogue about race in school.

Section 3: Overall Recommendations

After analyzing both the qualitative and quantitative data from both sources, the Youth Commission has determined that participants recommend an increase to accessibility to resources and expansive education to be priorities.

The youth want assistance to better understand and utilize finance, healthcare, and social services in their community. Students can increase their knowledge about community resources by attending school presentations intended to inform students and faculty. Respondents believe that resources should be accessible to all, regardless of wealth.

The youth are asking for an in-depth educational discussion regarding racism for the purpose of taking preventative measures. Schools are asked to foster inclusivity by providing ethnic studies courses and taught about the importance of empathy. Students would like to have an educational discussion about the effects of racism on mental health, the implications of microaggressions, as well as the consequences of racist remarks and the steps needed to correct their actions. Additionally, students wish that the district administration and its faculty take racist concerns seriously instead of sweeping negative experiences under the rug.
