SILICA INDUSTRY WILL BE STARTED IN CORONA

Charles G. Wolfe May Have Been a Victim of Foul Play

Corona Merchant Fails to Return From Business Trip Two Weeks Ago; Wife Is Worried Over Prolonged Absence

Just what motive and circumstances surround the disappearance of Charles G. Wolfe, local grain and feed dealer, are of considerable mystery to those interested in the case. Wolfe left Corona on the morning of December 4, and has not been heard from since, with the exception of the deed of his property to his wife. The facts of the case have been presented to Chief of Police Bradshaw, who is lending whatever effort possible towards the clearing up of the situation.

Two weeks ago Wolfe left this city with his suitcase packed in a very similar nature as though he were going away for a week end business trip. He left for Orange, where he also has business connections. Wolfe is said to have told Mrs. R. C. Burkett, mother of Mrs. Wolfe and a resident of Orange, that he was going to Garden Grove and on to Los Angeles. Nothing more than that is known of his whereabouts.

Business Worried

Wolfe is said to have been worried somewhat over business conditions and his wife feels that there is a possibility of his being temporarily mentally deranged.

Several days following the disappearance, the wife of the missing man received a letter containing details to their property both in this city and in Orange. The letter contained a "bill of sale" turning the feed store of his located at Ramona and Third streets, over to Mrs. Wolfe. She has taken over active management of the store and business is being conducted as usual, she said.

Foul Play

Mrs. Wolfe stated this morning that her husband may have been the victim of foul play. She said that he had the habit of carrying several hundred dollars in his person most of the time and that he trusted everybody. He was a good dresser, and may have fallen in with a "bad character," which might account for his disappearance, she added.

Wolfe is forty years of age, and has been a resident of this city for the past two years. He was last seen driving in his new Buick touring car with the license number 651-986.

Course Held to Undertake New Work for Institution Near Arlington

Plans for the future of La Sierra Academy, were given special study by more than 150 delegates to a one-day session of the Southern California conference of the Seventh Day Adventist church held at the Arlington Institution yesterday. Definite consideration was given to strengthen the industrial features of the school.

Plans are being made by the conference officials to enlarge the equipment of the school in the near future. Yearly additions will be made, it was decided. The most recent addition was the $45,000 administration building, erected last year by the industrial classes of the school to provide tuition for the students.

Deposit Is Found On the Craig Ranch Near the City Limit Line

Corporation Organization Already Complete, Engineers Study Land for Erection of Plant to Handle Building Material Product

Engineers were here yesterday from Los Angeles to look over the ground with a view to commencing immediate construction of plant for Corona's newest industry—the development of a silica deposit near the city limits on the Elsinore Road. Work will be started at once on the plant, which is expected to be in operation by March 1st. These facts were disclosed by M. B. Fitch of Corona, president and manager of the new organization.

Fitch stated that the company had already been formed and was a closed corporation. The enterprise represents an investment of approximately $215,000, he said. Other officers of the company: P. J. Wessel of La Habra, vice president and treasurer; George Soule, secretary.

Five Products

Silica will be developed in five different grades, according to screen sizes, the finer grade for glass manufacture; the next for molding sand; then stucco; roofing stucco and the coarser for filters, roofing and stucco. The clay separated from the silica will be used as a composition for clay bricks.

The Los Angeles office of the company and also the office of the sales organization is 514 San Fernando Bldg., Los Angeles.

Discovery of the silica deposit was not sudden, Fitch has been working on his project for more than a year, studying the different formations near Corona, desiring to get a deposit showing both quantity and quality as well as a condition for cheap preparation and transportation.

Craig Ranch

The Craig ranch, just two miles from the city limits on the Corona-Elsinore highway, has been purchased by the newly organized company. The purchase involves 629 acres of land. The silica deposit forms a big bar on the ranch close to the surface and is crossed by the highway, making it most accessible, with the power line of the Southern Sierras Power Co. along the side of the highway. The power used will be entirely electrical.

CHURCH WORKERS FINANCE COMPANY ARE CHOSEN AS OFFICERS ORGANIZES IN CORONA

Baptist Association Elects Three Coronans to Position in New Organization

Three local church workers were chosen as officers of the re-organized Baptist Association of this district as a result of a meeting Monday evening at San Bernardino. T. C. Jameson was elected Moderator, the presiding officer of the University Baptist Association, while Mrs. P. A. Suydam was made secretary-director of the women's work, and Mrs. Lawrence Thome, secretary-director of the Children's World Crusaders.

The meeting was held at San Bernardino for the purpose of forming a new association, there having formerly been four in Southern California State Baptist Convention—the number now being nine. This represents 120 Baptist churches.

The newly formed University Association embraces thirteen churches in the citrus district, all working towards the promotion of Baptist work in this field. Those included: First Church of Pomona, Calvary Church, Pomona, Corona, Ontario, San Dimas, Chino, Riverside, Colton, San Bernardino, Redlands, Yucaipa, Banning and Hemet.

Rev. W. Earl Smith of Ontario was made clerk of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coughron, corner of Olive and Taylor streets, had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bradshaw and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bradshaw and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bradshaw.

TRUSTEES IN FAVOR OF PICTURE SHOWING PLANNED FOR CORONA

County Film Will Be Viewed for First Time at Chamber of Commerce Meet. Jan. 20

That Corona should be represented in the annual New Year's Day Tournament of Roses at Pasadena with an appropriate float was the decision of the City Trustees last night when they appointed two of their number as a committee to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and American Legion.

C. E. Harris and N. H. Norton were selected by Mayor Nonhof to act with the other two organizations with instructions to investigate the possibility of joining together and entering a float in the monster fiesta held every year at Pasadena.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce, instructing them to proceed with plans, providing the city and the local American Legion should each under-write a third of the expenses entailed.

By-Products Sewer

The city has accepted a proposal of the Exchange Lemon Products Company of $15,000 for the building of a separate sewer to be used for that institution.

Motion was carried that request of C. W. Harris to cut driveway in front of lot 11, be granted, the work to be done under the supervision of the Street Superintendent.

Motion was carried that request of J. I. Harbison to lay a water pipe in the parking space from the Morga property on Commercial street be granted, the work to be under supervision of the Street Superintendent.

Motion was carried that the request of the United Chemical Company to build a bridge at their own expense across the storm drain on Compton avenue, south of the spur track of railroad which enters the El Cerrito Ranch, be granted and be under the direction of the Street Superintendent.

Motion was carried that the resolution be accepted regarding the deed by A. H. Cross of land on West Eighth street near Ventura, to eliminate an irregularity in the road.

Motion was carried that a committee be appointed from the Board of Trustees to act in conjunction with committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion regarding the preparing of a float to be entered by Corona in the annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Motion was carried that proposition of Exchange By-Products Company, in regard to the paying of $15,000 for sewer expenses, be accepted.

Motion was carried that the City Attorney be instructed to take proceedings to abandon the east 10 feet of Joy street adjoining and abutting lots 15-16-17-18 of block 194 of Alhambra Colony and Townsite.

Motion was carried that the Board adjourn until Thursday, December 18.

CHILDREN SING YULETIDE CAROLS

Children of the fifth and sixth grades of the Washington and Lincoln schools, and also a number of the junior high students went about Corona this afternoon singing Christmas carols to the "shut-ins" under the direction of Miss Mary Ryan, supervisor of music in the Corona schools. It seemed to be a pleasure to the younger generation for them to be able to give a bit of the true Christmas spirit by the lusty way in which they sang "Silent Night" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," if bystanders could be judges.

Bridge Party at Turk Home Saturday Night

Auction Bridge was featured at a delightful little party given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Turk, 614 Howard street, at which time the following guests were entertained: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parker and their house guests, Dr. and Mrs. Spencer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lincoln, Miss Clara Minor and Mr. Fay S. Reeder.

Eastern Publicity

There is a possibility that the film may be taken East after it has been shown in Los Angeles for some time where it will not yet been considered but will probably be taken up in connection with other publicity work at a future meeting of the County Chamber of Commerce, it is understood. Final pictures and titles for the new county film were turned into the laboratory today, Davis asserted and he expects the film to be completed within the next two weeks.

The new film is 2,000 feet long and shows scenes of each district in Riverside county from Winfield on the west to Blythe and the Palo Verde valley on the extreme east.

SANTA ANA CANYON HIGHWAY IS CLOSED

Road Work Commences Today and Will Continue Approximately Thirty Days

"Santa Ana Canyon highway closed, best route to Orange County Points via Chino."

The above sign, displayed on a corner of Sixth and Main streets, tells the story. Santa Ana Canyon highway was closed to traffic this morning at 7:30 o'clock for the re-surfacing of the highway between the Riverside county line and the city limits of Corona.

It is estimated that the road will be closed for approximately thirty days. The highway will be opened as soon as a detour can be made possible.

Arrangements will be made by Supervisor T. C. Jameson, it is announced, to have road improvement done so that the highway will be opened on the two week's holidays, Christmas and New Year's day.

The highway will not be completed by that time, but the road will be in a condition that it can be opened for travel on the two days mentioned.

BUSINESS GIRLS ENTERTAIN LIONS

Six members of the local Business Girls club, with their president Miss Mildred Buzan, stormed the Corona Lions at their meeting today in Hotel Kinney.

Following the singing of the first verse of "California Here I Come" by Lion Dave Jones, the Misses Bernice and Lella Brown, Georgia Lawrence, Teresa Greer, Thelma Gardner, Myrtle and Mildred Buzan, fled into the banquet room singing "The Christmas Refrain." The Miss Mildred Buzan then made a short talk regarding the purposes of the local Business Girls' club and their forthcoming benefit dance at the Corona Country club on Christmas night.

The young ladies then sang "Louisville Lou" and marched into the chamber of commerce rooms to await the close of the Lion's club meeting, when many tickets were sold.

Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart to fear thy name.

Another year about to make its bow, and the annual list of resolutions is being prepared. Start out the new year right with a resolution on Safety First. The Automobile accident toll in California shows a decided increase over last year, as last year did over the year before. This is a state of affairs that cannot be improved by legislation or by spasmodic campaigns but only through the limitation of motor cars to those who are able to drive them carefully or to the education of the individual to a more healthy respect for his own life and the lives of others.—National Automobile Club Weekly.

Today's Talk by Geo. M. Adams

THE INVISIBLE LIFE

All of us would like to be known for what we are—for what we are in our truest moments and at our truest selves.

But alas! The world, even our closest friends, all too often see and think they know us, but have only caught our shadow, our fleeting, our momentary selves. And from this they build a picture as to what we are—and we are not this picture at all.

All of us live an invisible life. But it is this life mostly that represents us at our fairest value and most sterling worth.

If the veil could be pulled aside and we allowed to look in on our friend when he is most alone or most in trouble or most pressed by the cruel thrusts of life, then we would have a different basis from which to estimate him.

The fact is that we know no one—not even that one who is most dear.

A Washington or Cromwell or Gladstone at prayer—alone. What a picture if their heart might be revealed at such a time as God is able to see.

When a man has toiled and suffered for half a century and then dies with his work strewn about him, so much of it noble and pure, how the crowd gathers to garner up the smallest scrap that they might feel an interest in one who understood and was not afraid in the face of privation, abuse and isolation.

Everyone who rises, whose soul mounts day by day, unnoted by the busy world, lives an invisible life of worth, and to that one alone does compensation come in its heavenly meaning. He who greatly strives and suffers knows. His understanding is a divine link with that which holds the stars together.

Don't worry over being misunderstood, my friend. No one is understood. If people were understood they would become commonplace.

PLACING THE RESPONSIBILITY

The Long Beach Press-Telegram is strong for the Boulder Canyon dam but discreetly sidesteps the question as to who is responsible for "summing up the works" so that action by the present session of congress now seems unlikely. The Press-Telegram says:

"Successful accomplishment cannot be expected for the development of the Colorado River and its control unless there is a unity of effort and interest. It is a gigantic undertaking, fully justified by the utilization of the great forces represented by this stream. It should be impossible for the people of the Southwest, and the power interests of the same locality, and the several states which are concerned in the Colorado River compact, to so adjust their differences that the thirty acres of the desert may receive their life-giving water, that the lowlands adjacent to the river may be protected against overflow, that the great cities which are springing up along the California Coast may have the benefit of surplus water for domestic use, and that power may be created in almost unlimited quantities for the benefit of industry and agriculture.

"These are the benefits that are within reach, provided a plan can be evolved which of which all States and all interests can combine enthusiastically for mutual success."

"The failure of Arizona to ratify the river pact is of course one unfortunate cause for delay but there is no reason to believe that the plan, if the effort of the Long Beach paper will just look about a bit, he will discover that the most serious 'monkey wrench' that has been thrown into the works is the "flood control" bill of Congressman Fredericks of Los Angeles county who is commonly supposed to represent at Washington, not so much the people of his district as the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and certain business interests that figure large in shaping the policy of that organization. The practical result, of the Fredericks bill will be to confuse the issue, to create the impression that Southern California, and especially the great commercial center of the Southwest, Los Angeles, is divided on the matter. Another obstacle is the activity of the Colorado River Control club that appears to be spokesman for the Chandler land interests. That organization, as might be expected, is co-operating with Congressman Fredericks.

The solution for the Colorado River problem is the speedy passage of the Swing-Johnson bill; and people of Southern California ought to set behind that measure unitedly and vigorously instead of considering alternative schemes or indulging in vague platitudes about the importance of unity.

MANY PRIVILEGES GIVEN Student Must Make Not Less Than Ten Points to be Considered in the Society

Scholarship Society for the Junior high school for the fourth quarter carries a long list of young students who have earned the honor of a place on the roll.

The Junior high society is a very active organization and students who attain the position are considered honored, indeed. A student must acquire not less than 10 points to be included on the list and members of the society are allowed many privileges that make membership worth while. At commencement time special mention is made of the honor.

NEW THEORIES IN PRUNING TO BE SHOWN BY EXPERTS

Pruning Demonstration Will Be Conducted By Members of University Extension

AT THRASHER CITRUS GROVE

Tomorrow Afternoon, Lemon And Main Streets; General Discussion And Work

A pruning demonstration under direction of state university extension experts on citrus culture is to be given tomorrow (Thursday) morning and afternoon. The morning session will be held at the Thrasher grove at ten o'clock at Main and Lemon Streets.

M. M. Winslow, county agent, and W. R. Schoonover, of the university experiment station, will lead in the demonstrations of pruning and discussions of questions concerning this interesting phase of citrus growing.

Figures from the latest continuous experiments as conducted by the university are upsetting many of the old and established theories and practices. As the field meeting is free to all growers or others who may be interested it is an occasion that hardly anyone in this district can afford to miss.

RIVONA BOYS ARE GIVEN OVATION IN LOS ANGELES CONVENTION

Secured Because of Performance of Last Night; Boys Dated Six Weeks Ahead

Rivona Orchestra was toasted in Los Angeles last night as the most exclusive and efficient organization on the coast, the occasion being the convention of the United Brethren churches of California.

Prof. R. C. Norton was forced to accept an ovation during the banquet that session closed to even the most noted of directors and the reception of the boys' concert work has brought them all back to Corona with increased confidence in their ability to produce a musical program of merit.

All but five of the boys of the orchestra were present for the Brotherhood convention, one automobile load experiencing the trouble and failing to arrive for the big engagement.

Three future engagements have been secured through last night's appearance. Mr. Norton being hailed as the greatest boys' director on the coast. The boys two concerts a week for the next six weeks, with new engagements coming in every day.

The map which named them strawberries must have eaten early one to get the straw flavor.

MUSICAL WORK IS BEGUN IN CLASS BY NORTON AT JUNIOR HIGH

Little Fellows Take Naturally To Cornet, Clarinet Or Violin And Produce Harmony

100 PIECE BAND IS PLANNED Musical Ability Will Be Aid In Better Marks In School; Credit To Be Given

Actual instruction in the use of band and orchestra instruments has begun at the Junior High School under direction of Prof. R. C. Norton, who has formed classes of beginners and will devote a considerable amount of time to them.

Classes are already formed for the cornet, clarinet and violin and other instruments will be added as fast as sufficient pupils make application.

This is a very attractive method of instruction because Mr. Norton's time can be secured at party rates, so to speak, and the hour's usual fee is divided by as many students as appear for study.

Students taking these lessons will be credited in the school for their music work, and as they advance into high school their proficiency will be of considerable further aid to them in work of high order.

It is truly astonishing the ability being shown by youngsters under the tutelage of Prof. Norton. Little fellows who would not be expected to have any sense of harmony are taking naturally to band and orchestra instruments and developing remarkably. The accomplishment of the boys of the Rivona orchestra is apparently to be repeated in forming of a 100 piece boys' band the ambition of Mr. Norton.

CALENDAR SOCIAL MONTHS CHOSEN FOR COMING YEAR

Hawaiian Troupe From Pomona College Delights Large Audience at Cong. Church

DAYS TO BE DRAWN SOON

Will Be Selected Without Partiality as Drawn by Months From the Hat

Bringing suggestions of Hawaiian fragrance and romance, haunting melodies of the islands told members of the Calendar social last night of the joy and pathos that mingles in the native and modern version songs.

The ballads were given, too, with true understanding of the Hawaiian atmosphere, presented by island students of the Pomona college, Lucille De Silva, Hilto Everett, Trasyanda, Honolulu; Charlotte Dickinson, Pomona college, and Charles Dickinson, Corona.

Solo and quartet numbers, singing and playing of the ukulele, steel guitar and guitar, were given, every number being received with thunderous applause with many demands for encore.

Miss De Silva is a true artist with the steel guitar, and Miss Charlotte Dickinson proved no less popular in Spanish costume with two special songs. Charles Dickinson brought down the house with his song, "I Wonder Where My Baby Is Tonight?" ending with a most lively Charleston dance. He is a sophomore in the local high school.

The songs were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. C. A. Dickinson.

Two hundred and thirty-two people sat down to the pot luck supper in the banquet room of the Congregational church and a count of the contribution for the evening showed a total of $108.73. This will bring the total put away in the bank, earned by these unique programs, to $1453.38. It is hoped, according to Rev. Charles Evans, to bring this amount to $1800 at the May Calendar Social and that amount will reduce the church debt by one half. Church debt is now $3200, but is rapidly being paid off through efforts being made by the Calendar Social organization.

The different "months" were elected last night, each of whom will be in charge of one of the social affairs of each month. These will gather at some convenient time before next meeting and will choose the members of each month to sit at tables.

Each of all members of the social will be "shaken up in hat" and drawn blindly by the "months." This will assure a new arrangement for gatherings during the coming year and will avoid the dilemma into which the affair naturally drifts after twelve months of meeting.

But one more meeting will be held before the fiscal year begins in June. At the May meeting the months will have chosen their days so that the different groups will be announced at that time.

January, Mrs. Otis Ballard; February, Mrs. C. W. Field; March, Mrs. Fred Snidercor; April, Mrs. L. L. Andrews; May, Mrs. T. A. Fraser; June, Mrs. Wm. Walker; July, Mrs. O. R. VanDerhook; August, Mrs. Harry Whealy; September, Mrs. Harry

REX GOODCELL TO BE SPEAKER AT LIONS LUNCHEON

Candidate For Governor Will Give His Experiences For Leaving Government Service

Meeting Will Be Joint Affair Between Lions and Rotary Service Clubs

Lions luncheon hour this week promises to be one of the most eventful of the year, with a combined meeting of members of both service clubs, Lions and Rotarians, with Rex E. Goodcell, candidate for governor, as the guest of honor.

Goodcell, who has just resigned as Collector of Internal Revenue has been secured through the efforts of N. H. Norton, Lion Pres., to lead a brief discussion on his reasons for leaving the government employ to enter politics.

As a product of this section of the state, Goodcell is naturally carrying into the contest, the support of a large number of San Bernardino and Riverside county electors, and his appearance here tomorrow will be occasion for a most interested gathering of service club members.

ACCIDENT VICTIM FAST RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Wilbert Miller Allowed to Sit Up Soon, And Is Promised Complete Recovery Soon

Smiling among great bouquets of fragrant roses and other California blooms, longingly gazing at a box of choice chocolate creams—all tributes of sympathy and hope for recovery from friends—Wilbert Miller sat propped up in bed today, cheerily greeting those who called for a brief word.

The doctors promise that he will be permitted to be out of bed within a day or so, declares Wilbert, and it will be a most welcome change from the position necessitated, but his back is sore from the automobile accident a week ago.

Recovery of the lady had been most remarkable, declare the physicians, who say that he could not have been in better condition for the accident. If he had tripped for it. A rib was broken and pierced his lung, causing a most serious condition which at first was thought might prove fatal.

Several attempts have been made to draw a dislocated collar bone back into the shoulder, but it appears this will have to await sufficient recovery for an operation to wire the two bones in place.

Young Miller is now well on the road to recovery and anxiety of the family is now relieved almost entirely as to ultimate result.

One of Largest Bodies of Ore Known Taken Over by Company

The following story, contributed by R. Z. Elbert, contains some interesting history concerning the famous tin mines of Corona, and apparently carries a promise that the district will soon be scene of intensive development. (The Editor.)

Announcement is made that a company known as the "United States Tin Company" has recently been organized to take over and re-open the Temescal Tin Mine, located near Corona. Their experiment will be watched with deep interest, since the Temescal mine produced the only commercial bar tin ever made in the United States.

March 30, 1892, 136 tons of metallic tin—the first and last share of native tin—shipped from this mine via Colon, reached New York. It is stated that the receipt of this shipment caused tin dealers in London to telegraph New York dealers to lower their prices.

That same year the English company who had purchased the mine, 1890, ordered it closed down and no active attempt to open it has since been made.

The history of this Temescal Tin Mine District is one of the most interesting stories ever told in the annals of mining. Tin was discovered in what was known as the Cajalito Hills by Daniel Sexton, a pioneer of 1841, about 1850. When samples of the ore were sent to San Francisco considerable interest was aroused.

Justice Waite rendered the decision of the United States Supreme Court, March 19, 1888, re-affirming a decision of the United States Land office, that the property was located on the San Jacinto Sobrante Rancho, and not upon the Temescal Grant made to Leandro Serrano, in 1819, which up to sometime in the sixties had been supposed to include the tin mine district which today is a mining district.

The litigation over what was believed to be the richest tin deposit in this country and what was claimed as perhaps the richest body of high grade tin ever discovered anywhere, involved a very large number of people and of interests. Don Albi Stearns, shrewd Yankee that he was, obtained a hold upon the Temescal Grant early in the fifties; he and his successors, as well as John A. Carter, (who later claimed the right to the tin mine), fought for the claim to the bitter end. At one time the supposed tin mine was a large number of citizens filed in mine claims—most of these later being assigned to the Phelps-Dodge Company, of New York. The successful claimants, the "San Company," which had acquired the rights of the original stock company, largely made up of men connected with the United States Land office, who it is claimed had sworn to the boundary line of the San Jacinto Sobrante Rancho eleven miles over in order to include the tin district, had done considerable development work and had shipped ore from the mine to New York and England. Their superintendent, E. N. Robinson, a mining engineer of long experience, had also been in England and succeeded in interesting English tin mine men in this new field.

An English syndicate, including such men as Sir Henry Balfour, Irish secretary, E. G. Kent, General Sir John Stokes, vice-president of the Suez canal; Herman Gurnham, director of the International Bank of London, and others, was formed and sent experts to this country to examine the Temescal tin mine property, and report. After several men had been sent and exhaustive reports submitted, the syndicate purchased, in 1889, the San Jacinto Sobrante Rancho from the owners. Soon afterwards men and money began to arrive from England and within the next two years a large sum was expended in substantial buildings and in opening up the mine.

Favorable Reports

This company issued a pamphlet in 1890 containing copies of the reports made by the Temescal Tin District. The first of these was a very exhaustive document prepared by Col. E. N. Robinson, who had been actively connected with the property since the sixties.

The Temescal Tin District, located in the Temescal mountains, is an area of about 25 eleven miles in length (s. e. by n. e.) and two miles in width (n. e. by s. e.) known as the "Temescal parallel tin mines."

Again he says: "The total work done aggregates more than 1150 feet of shaft, tunnels, drifts, winze and cross-cuts; such work being of sufficient extent to determine the fact that this one lode (of the many in the district) is of great magnitude and remarkable richness; that it will average at least six feet in width and holds its permanency in every part thereof."

He goes on to detail work done, shipments and assays made in this country and in England and states that he had manufactured a quantity of tin plates, using the fine ore of the district to coat American iron and finding equal to the best imported English tin. He submits elaborate estimates of the possible yield, of the cost of mining, smelting, etc. and of the value of the ore.

In conclusion, I contend that the Temescal tin district can be made to produce a considerable quantity of tin in the United States, and such has been my opinion since I first became connected with its development more than twenty years ago.

He then gives his reasons for his prediction and signs himself, "H. N. Robinson, M. E. A. 1888, State Engineer."

Professor Henry Matthey, of San Francisco, ends an exhaustive statement, including figures of assays and estimates of work and costs, by saying:

"It is the first time in my professional career (being devoted to mines and metallurgy) that I have encountered so many magnificent veins in a mining district. Pig tin can be produced here at a very remunerative price, with no possible competition. My conclusion is that in the very near future the opening and exploitation of the tin veins of the grant will create one of the best paying mining industries in the United States."

County Chamber Holds Monthly Meeting At Arlington

Lyman King Tells of the Need for Revision of State System of Taxation

RELIEVE PEOPLE OF BURDEN Passed on By Corporation to Their Patrons; Jameson Tells of Corona's Exhibit

Members of the Riverside county chamber of commerce gathered for the monthly meeting at Arlington yesterday and were given opportunity to hear former senator, Lyman King of Redlands, attack the present system of taxation.

Senator King is an expert on taxation, and he gave a more or less technical explanation of the changes necessary to equitize taxes and make them less burdensome and yet revenue producing. Changes in the system, would reduce the public from paying the corporation taxes, which are invariably passed on to the consumer. (Continued on Page 4)

EDITORIAL OPINION

BY F. F. LINDENBERGER

THERE IS MUCH UNKNOWN

The more one studies this young-old world of ours the greater grows the mass of things we do not know. Efforts to fill gaps in the human chronicle have served to suggest vast periods of endeavor whose existence and conduct have been thrust away on the shelves of the dark, remote past.

Scientists poking their inquisitive prods among the centuries of decay of Central America and South America are only proving again that today's peoples know practically nothing of the thousands of centuries that have gone before. They are gathering bits, here and there, to hint that this globe has been peopled time and again by races that have come and built themselves to high stages and have crumbled. Over and over again has the story been repeated and the history of these races is a dark page, unknown, mysterious, utterly gone and thrust away as new tribes are begun with probable hope of the Supreme Being that they will prove worthy.

Our records of the Ancient Egyptians, Hebrews, Greeks and Romans are to us an almost complete story and we have often complacently believed that ancient history tells us of the world since its began.

But day after day we have come to realize that little of our world is known. On the Gobi desert are found traces of life of the remotest past entirely unheard of by moderns. In Central America they are uncovering traces of a mighty race with a far higher degree of intelligence than the ancient Egyptian.

The Maya, who ruled before the Aztec, the Nahuatl, had reached a high state of human existence, but their origin and reason for passing is buried deep in the mystic past. Their history, could it be discovered would be as absorbingly interesting and valuable as is the Greek or Roman. Their marvelous temples are being uncovered, bit by bit, and are disclosing an architecture superior to much of our present day "perfection." It may be that future generations will have text books telling of these people, their religion, their kingdoms and customs, just as now we study the ancient Greek and Roman.

CREATING UNDERSTANDING

At the eleventh annual Conference, Second District, Rotary International, held in San Diego last week, an outstanding feature was the pageant-drama given as a Rotary prophecy, and entitled "International Understanding."

In the Mission Inn at Riverside Monday night a note for fuller understanding between the Japanese and people of the United States, was also sounded.

Both in the program of talks at the Inn, and through the enactment of the pageant-drama in San Diego, the dominant thought was: "when people understand one another, there is no strife or discord."

Wrong motives and acts have impelled many governments to make war. Right motives in life and brotherly love expressed in thought and deed promote community growth and enlarge our horizon toward life. The same attitude in governmental affairs can be carried through toward successfully maintaining peace and amity among nations.

Frank A. Miller wielded a mighty trowel in spreading the cement of friendship between Japan and the United States last Monday night, when he, together with Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Richardson were hosts to that vast company of prominent Japanese and American peoples.

May greater power to him and others of his thought, be manifested again, and yet again.

THE GREAT MOMENT

We overheard a suggestion the other day, to the effect that the high school girl graduates should appear on commencement day in middie blouses and simple skirts.

Hearing that we were carried back in memory to our own commencement days, so many years ago, and recall with a flash of happiness the picture of Gertrude, Jennie or Mary as they came forward for their sashpkins in frills and airy garments, faces aglow with dread pleasure of the greatest moment in their lives.

It seems to us they carried simple bouquets, whose bright colors set off the pretty dresses to perfection. The memory of that great occasion seems pictured forever in minds of all who participated, and the happiness of it was as much because of the pretty dresses, in most cases made by the girls themselves.

It is questionable if the day would be recalled with such happy memory were the girls to have marched up in somber zebra, girl scout uniform, or uniform dress of any kind. It occurs to us that the very school instruction, sewing, harmony of color and design, would really demand that these young ladies should use their ingenuity toward making themselves attractive.

Of course, it is hardly fair to allow the girls to doll so prettily and leave the boys to follow suit, for the following suit means a real expense to the male. If their dress were limited to corduroy trousers and blue chambray shirts there might be a solution.

The peculiar feature for the girls is that middie blouses will cost far more than the few dollars required to completely equip themselves in party dresses these days. But the boy seems to have no choice, except that a $40 suit of apparel is good for as long as he doesn't grow out of it.

MEXICAN SHOOTER TAKEN AT WHITTIER

After disappearing following the asserted shooting of a fellow Mexican in a drunken brawl near here February 26, last, Luis Gomez, 28 years of age, was arrested on the Laffingwell ranch at Whittier yesterday by Special Investigator Kelley of the district attorney's office. Gomez, who is said to have confessed to officers, is held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The shooting, it is said, took place on the Foothill ranch south of Corona, when Gomez and C. Landano became involved in a fight.

argument. Gomez maintained that Miran drew a large knife from his belt and that Gomez shot in self defense. Miran, shot through the back, has fully recovered, it is said.

Gomez's whereabouts was discovered by Kelley while he was investigating the fatal shooting of Francisco Diaz last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kuster returned last night after several days spent in San Diego where they attended the Rotary convention and were guests of the Rotary's sister Mrs. Earl Thayer and family at their home in that city.

SECRETARY ASKS FOR SUGGESTIONS ON PROJECTS FOR CIVIC PROGRESS

Community Prosperity Is Aim of the Chamber With Many Ideas Already Filed

BETTERMENT PROGRAM URGED

Secretary Believes an Aggressive Program Might Be Evolved That Would Help

Just what project should the Corona Chamber of Commerce accept as necessary for the community's prosperity?

This is the question being passed about by H. H. Burch, secretary. On his desk he finds a stack of cards, handed in some time ago giving suggestions along this line. Among them are found the following:

"Help beautify Corona. Clean up Main street."

"Increase membership by securing women members and make them welcome."

"Improve parking spaces and start tree planting campaign for other than pepper trees."

"Recreation for business men."

"Bond issue for city's needs."

"Start lawn planting campaign for parking."

"Meet on time, clean up the town."

"Educate the young people of Corona to better citizenship ideals."

"School bond issue."

"Exploit our natural resources."

"Our membership should be doubled."

"City and school bond issues."

"Supervise play during summer vacation."

"Establish a planning commission for plantings and buildings."

The above are only a few of the typical suggestions that are now on the secretary's desk and Mr. Burch is asking whether or not they appeal to citizens; or worthy material for an aggressive campaign.

"Can a program of work be made up of these suggestions for the year? If you could tell the chamber what to do your suggestions would be most welcome."

A chamber of commerce is a voluntary organization of the people of a city who contribute time and money and who work together for the common good of the city," stated Mr. Burch today. "This department will be glad to register the ideas and suggestions for the idea box and a free interchange of constructive suggestions may stimulate the kind of civic spirit needed in Corona."

RECKLESS DRIVERS PAY TRAIN DAMAGE

If you care to assault a 340 ton Southern Pacific locomotive with the family flier, or crash a railroad crossing gate with a Rolls Royce, just sail right ahead.

Advices J. E. Newman, claims attorney for the company. But Newman adds, it's going to cost you money!

This year, in accord with its new policy of bringing suit against careless motorists who risk their lives and damage company property, the railroad has collected thousands of dollars in scores of claims and judgments ranging from $2.21 to $300. Last year, one flagman was killed, five others injured and 200 lowered crossing gates along the company's right of way crashed through by reckless automobilists.

Many standing trains were run into and damaged by careless drivers. And so the railroad decided that during 1926 the careless and the reckless should pay the piper.

Mrs. Elmo Hough notified to Costa Mesa Wednesday afternoon accompanied by a car load of friends, to attend the funeral services for the late Mrs. C. J. Oleson, wife of the former pastor of the local Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Thompson and a number of others also made the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shaffer of Garrettsville, Ohio, motored to Monrovia Saturday where they spent the week and with the latter's father at his home in that city.

INFANT DAUGHTER PASSES SUDDENLY

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Hastings, Corrine B. Hastings, passed away Monday evening at 11:15 o'clock at the Corona hospital.

The little one was less than nine months old. The Hastings live at 408 1/2 Victoria avenue and have a host of friends who grieve with them over the sudden loss.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Catholic church, with interment at Sunnyslope.

CORONA SANTA FE ASKS TO LEASE PROPOSED RAILWAY

Joint Application Is Filed With Railroad Commission to Allow Lease to Santa Fe

SHARES ARE TO BE ISSUED

Five Shares Would go to Directors and Balance to Mother Road for Financing

Corona and Santa Fe Railway Company and The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company have filed a joint application with the Railroad Commission for authority for the former to lease to the latter its line of railroad which the former company proposes to build from a point approximately one mile northwest of Alhambra, Riverside county, which point is the end of existing tracks of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, then northwesterly to a point three-quarters of a mile south of Poppyville in Riverside county, at a point where the tracks of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company end, a distance of approximately 14.6 miles.

Corona and Santa Fe Railway Company has also requested authority from the Railroad Commission to issue 495 shares of its capital stock to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company to finance construction of the proposed line, and also to issue five shares of stock to its directors.

For the evening services the Corona boys' orchestra was present and gave a number of selections. A voluntary collection was taken for the boys which amounted to $1.00 and will go toward their uniforms.

Rev. Reed's evening talk was addressed particularly to the children and told of the four sides of life, physical, mental, social and spiritual. His subject was "The Law of Karma," told of the need for developing each of these in life.

As this week is Boys' Week Rev. Reed announced that union services will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday evening at 7:30 with Rev. B. F. Davis of the Methodist church to give the address of the evening. A musical program will be given in charge of Miss Mary Brown.

For the church programs were prepared for Mother's Day, the pretty pink hand painted card on the front cover being the work of Miss Mary Love.

MRS. C. J. OLESON PASSES AWAY IN L. A. HOSPITAL

Wife of Pastor at Costa Mesa, Formerly of this City, to Be Given Last Rites Tomorrow

A letter received today by Mrs. C. J. Oleson, formerly pastor of the local Methodist church, brought the sad news that Mrs. Ethel E. Oleson, wife of the pastor, passed away at the Methodist hospital of Los Angeles Sunday night at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Oleson has been occupying the pulpit of the Methodist church at Costa Mesa, since leaving Corona and it is there that the funeral services will be held tomorrow, Wednesday, afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Fairhaven cemetery, Santa Ana, according to information by telephone with the Santa Ana undertaking establishment today.

At the ceremony several prominent ministers of the Methodist church will officiate, principal being Rev. Clyde Crist, district superintendent.

MOTHERS DECIDE DESTINY

Riviera Orchestra Gives Many Selections During Evening Service

The largest attendance in the history of the church crowded the auditorium, side room and gallery yesterday at the First Baptist church during the Bible school hour. More than 300 persons were in the various classes.

Morning worship began at 10:45 with the voluntary played at the piano by Miss Gladys Hoover, "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven. Miss Hoover also played for the offertory, choosing "Barcarolle," by Offenbach. Other musical numbers during the morning were given by the girls' quartet and a solo by Mrs. Skinner, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes."

Rev. Walter S. Reed's sermon, "Mother," was a beautiful tribute to womanhood. He told of the great mother who laid their accomplishments to the precepts received from their mothers. Napoleon declared that every mother holds the destiny of her own child. Abraham Lincoln, too, declared, "All that I am, all that I hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." And at her death she made the appeal that carried him through a hundred doubts, "Abbe, be somebody."

The greatest mother of all was Mary, mother of Jesus. It was only the nature of a good mother that she should be at the cross. Mary was an anxious mother, a careful mother, a religious mother and to her must a great measure of glory be given.

For the evening services the Corona boys' orchestra was present and gave a number of selections. A voluntary collection was taken for the boys which amounted to $1.00 and will go toward their uniforms.

State Officials of the California department of the American Legion have requested the various posts of the organization to discourage the staging of picnics and other similar affairs on Memorial Day with a view to making the observance of that day by the World War veterans a day of reverence for the soldier and soldier dead of the nation.

"The frequent and hearty observance of national holidays is one of the surest means of keeping the fire of patriotism burning in the hearts of the citizens of our Republic and of impressing the aliens in our midst and the children who will be the future citizens, with the glorious past of our Nation which will be their heritage to preserve," State Commander Allen B. Bishy of Pasadena, says in his call to the legion units to cooperate with local patriotic bodies and public officials in observing Memorial day, Sunday, May 20.

The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager will receive

The BULL'S EYE is a publication that goes to print. When does it go to print? It goes to print when there is something to print. A lot of papers, in fact to be exact, all of them, have a certain time to be issued, regardless of the news. If nothing has happened that day or that week they have to come out just the same. They want you to pay for them whether they are any good to you or not. Why should a paper be printed if there is nothing new to read?

Sing Sing don't electrocute a man at a certain hour every day. They wait until they get a good man and then electrocute him. They don't have a set time or custom, and that is the way the BULL'S EYE is operated. We don't go to press at ten o'clock tonight just because we went to press at ten last night. No, sir! We wait until we have something that is worth while to our readers. We get them accustomed to the fact that when they see the BULL'S EYE, they say to themselves, "The BULL" has seen something worth while, and that is why the Paper is out today. Because it has news for you.

We saw a man smoking a sack of "BULL" DURHAM and he was getting such satisfaction out of it that we feel it our duty to tell those that never used "BULL" DURHAM just how they too can get satisfaction.

Remember, you won't see us again until we have something worth while.

F. P. S. There is going to be another piece in this paper soon. Look for it.

C. Keller, chairman, N. G. McCurdy and H. H. Burch, committeemen of the Chamber of Commerce, some forty of the boys visited the plants and studied the methods and work being done.

The boys were entertained and instructed by representatives of the companies. Mr. May of the by-products plant telling them the story of electric acid. Mr. McCurdy showed them the various interesting processes in good laundry work and Mr. Haynes of the Blue Diamond, superintendent of works, conducted them through the great quarry and down through the mills where sand is prepared for the raw materials for the market.

Treats by Mr. Keller for the crowd ended the afternoon jaunt with a nice touch of social fellowship and that part of Boy's week in which the men of tomorrow learn the work of the men of today was pleasantly ended.

Pick and Shovel Start Operating on Dream Route Vista to the Sea Monday Morning Is Announcement

With a force of thirty men, J. E. Elliott, forest supervisor and Construction Foreman Perkins, are in Corona ready to begin actual construction on Corona's scenic road to the mountains south of town.

In an interview today, Mr. Elliott stated that camp was being established, and that by Monday everything would be in readiness for actual work on the project which will mean so much to our community, not only in a scenic and recreational way, but also in the larger sense of affording added protection to our watershed.

With $8,000 raised jointly by Corona citizens and the Riverside county board of supervisors, to match a like amount apportioned by the forestry department, a good permanent road, with a maximum grade of 10 per cent will be an assured reality within three or four months it was stated today by Forest Supervisor Elliott. The fact that the government is starting this work with entirely new equipment, indicates that the work will not only be done well, but speedily.

The thirty men in the camp south of town are delighted with the friendly helpful attitude displayed by Corona citizens, and will no doubt give the best work of which each man is capable.

With the funds limited at this time to $16,000 it will not be possible to build a road wider than 9 feet. However, all the culverts will be put in with a view of eventually having the road widened to the standard 12 foot mountain road width.

As the government will have only $8,000 for their half of the work this year, it will not be possible to carry the project further than Oak Flat at this time. However, Supervisor Elliott stated that assistance has come from Orange county that they will match the government's $14,000 appropriation for next winter, to the end that the department will have a working fund of $28,000 to carry the road over the mountains and down through Black Star canyon to connect with the splendid Orange county road system.

Mr. Elliott was very appreciative of the work done here by our citizens headed by W. H. Jameson, Jr., of the chamber of commerce road committee. He stated that only the best effect could possibly result from such helpful, co-operative endeavor of our people.

That only the best effect could possibly result from such helpful, co-operative endeavor of our people.

HEALTH AND FUN

Mrs. F. T. Noel, of Shafter, has demonstrated in her yard what a woman can accomplish in raising garden truck. Last December, Mr. and Mrs. Noel built a pretty bungalow on their property which consists of one lot 50x150 feet in size. In the spring Mrs. Noel prepared her soil for a vegetable garden. Since then she has produced a variety of vegetables. She says she has saved at least twenty dollars a month in the family grocery bill by her efforts, and that she's had fun doing it. Her health has also greatly benefited by her labors.

ARTHUR LARRABEE CALLS

Arthur Larrabee, former resident of this city, now of Newport Beach, came up last evening to attend the Temescal Lodge of Masons meeting, conferring 3rd degree. Mr. Larrabee, who is a contractor, removed with his family about five years ago and have their home at Newport Beach.

Construction of a new office building in Pasadena, seven stories in height and to cost $276,000 is under way.

TIN MINE STOCK OFFERED IN SALT LAKE

Temescal Advertiser in Papers With History of Local Project

The Temescal tin mine again comes in for public notice with a full column editorial in the current Riverside Advertiser. The Press quotes extensively from the Goldfield Nevada Times, in which the history of the mine is given, and the statement made that the United States Tin Company is now putting on a stock campaign in Salt Lake City to procure funds for reopening the mine.

An interesting fact is stated in the editorial to the effect that tentative arrangements have been made with the Southern Sierras Power Company for a power line to the mine. This last statement has not yet been verified by The Independent, but it is to be hoped the facts are as stated, and that the long expected reopening will be realized soon. Reports of engineers would indicate a valuable deposit of tin awaiting development.

EX-GOVERNOR AND PARTY WILL MAKE WORLD TOUR

Governor Friend W. Richardson and family will head a party of over one hundred prominent Californians on a trip around the world. The Governor's party will leave Los Angeles harbor on February 5, 1927, sailing on the new Cunard liner SS California, that has been chartered for this trip by Frank Clarke, of the famous world cruise man. The cruise marks the sixth successful cruise directed by Clark.

Honolulu will be the first port touched after leaving Los Angeles. From there they will cruise to Japan, China, Philippine Islands, Malay Straits, Burma, India, Egypt, the Holy Land, Greece and Italy. The party will then make an extensive and comprehensive tour of Europe, visiting all points of interest.

LARGEST AVOCADO YIELD

So great is the avocado production in Southern California this season that trees are breaking with their loads, reported the Growers' Exchange, at a meeting held recently at Carlsbad, the center of the industry. Facilities of the Exchange are being extended to properly handle the increased production, due to the large number of new orchards, including the Vista and Rancho Santa Fe districts in San Diego County.

Honestly is the best policy, even though it is the most expensive.

PAST PRESIDENTS OF ROTARY CLUB HAVE INNING

Local Program Split Three Ways by Honored Members; Education, Criticism and Mirth

Past presidents had their inning at Corona Rotary meeting today, with Messrs. M. Scoville, F. J. Mueller and F. W. Kuster contributing a well balanced program of education, helpful criticism and roiling mirth. Not only that, but in addition each past president again felt the heat of the gavel during the meeting, and the crippled children's fund was materially enriched thereby.

Rotarian Kuster spoke on "business methods" and cited local instances of both good and bad service practices.

Rotarian Mueller spoke on "Rotary Classification," bringing out that it is the business and not the man that holds membership in a Rotary club.

Having chosen as his subject "the development of each individual Rotarian," Charles Scoville closed the program amid gales of laughter and good feeling in pointing to this or that improvement in several of the local members.

Rotary Invited

Herbert Koff, representing the Junior Lions club, was present at the meeting today and invited members of the local Rotary club to meet with the Junior Lions on the evening of Friday, February 4. A like invitation has been extended the local Lion club. The object of the meeting is to bring out support of the forthcoming school bond election.

Among the guests today was Arthur H. Larrabee, former Corona resident, who had come up from Newport Beach to attend the Masonic lodge program last night. He was introduced by Chas. M. Scoville.

T. C. Jameson had as his guest Forest Supervisor Elliott, who spoke briefly regarding proposed mountain road construction in this district. Mr. Elliott was given very appreciative applause and assurance from the club voiced by Joy G. Jameson that Corona appreciates the government's interest in this section.

SUNDAY EVENING IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

"David Livingstone, the Hero of the Dark Continent," a service of song and story, will be presented as the special feature of the service in the Congregational church on Sunday evening. The story of the life of the great explorer and missionary never loses its interest for young and old. It is filled with thrilling incidents as well as serving to uncover the soul of a man whose one ambition was to give the strength of his mind and man, with 47 grade Holsteins in herd to the black people of Africa.

In the story as given on Sunday evening the main features of his life's experiences will be related. This will be throughout interspersed with beautiful and appropriate musical selections, to be given by the choir of the church.

This is really a splendid combination and those who are making their way each Sunday evening to the Congregational church to enjoy the special programs that are presented from week to week are assured of something that will be quite up to the fine type of service that is being held.

At the morning service the pastor of the church will preach and the choir will furnish the music.

A very cordial invitation is extended to all to attend those services.

Artists Sketch of Tin Mine Property As It Looked In Early Days of Operation

Tin Mine Visited by Corona Men on Inspection Tour

J. B. Copen, H. H. Birch and G. M. Green of the Daily Independent, visited the project and were conducted over the property by Mr. Bryant.

This tin deposit, which was discovered in 1853, was worked by a company in 1860. However, the outbreak of the Civil War caused a cessation of work and nothing further was done until about 1880, according to a history of the project. Considerable work was done at the mine more than 20 years ago and there are still many evidences of the earlier operations, including the stone wall of many buildings which have fallen down. The only building standing is a frame shack which is now being used by the developers as an office and assay laboratory.

Several of the pits, which were worked in earlier years, have been carved in, but samples have been taken from two of the pits. Water has filled several of the pits. Samples of the crude ore are being taken at frequent intervals at different points in the hills, and hundreds of assays are being made. Because of the difficulty of getting satisfactory assays, Mr. Bryant established an assay laboratory at the mine.

The tin has soared in price, because of the small production throughout the world, and this fact has attracted mining men to every possible tin location, such as the Tennessee deposit. While no definite reports have been made on the assays, Mr. Bryant and others associated with him seemed optimistic as to the outcome of the new explorations. They are at least determined to make a thorough and scientific test of the deposits before anything definite in the way of installation machinery for production is started.

A report by the California State Mining Bureau following a visit by H. W. Fairbanks in 1892 stated in part:

"At the time of Mr. Fairbanks' visit in 1892 the mine had been opened to a depth of 150 feet by two working shafts. The total length opened on the vein was 300 feet. Two levels had been driven and work was in progress on the third. The main ore body lay in the center of the workings and extended downward in the dip of the vein. The ore milled averaged 5 per cent of tin oxide though large portions were of very high grade. The company prospected Calaveras Hill by a tunnel and by open cuts, and one or more of the veins south by shafts and at the vein this shaft two of husband's pneumatic stamps were in operation. They weighed 900 pounds and dropped 155 times per minute.

"Tin occurs here under conditions different from those in any other known deposit. Tin veins are almost always found in granite rocks but so extensively developed a tourmaline veinstone is remarkable, as is found in this deposit."

It will be remembered that during one of the exploration periods considerable effort was made to establish a town at the site of the mine. Streets were platted and a water system was installed. Now except for the various trenches which have been dug along the side of the hills, from which samples of ore have been taken for assaying, there are only the stilt ruins of former buildings on the site.

The site of the mine is one of the most favored and most beautiful sites, according to those who are working there. A road, cut from the side of the hills, leads to the mine.

OLDEST FESTIVAL IN CALENDAR IS EASTER

spirit, as commemorative of events of which these have been shadows. The Passover, ennobled by the thought of Christ as the true Paschal Lamb, continued to be celebrated and became the Christian Easter.

A modern instance of like adoption of ancient forms to Christian use is reported by G. M. Fisher in his "Creative Forces in Japan." One of them, he says, "is the joyous Buddhist Feast of All Spirits, when torments and passions are set a twinkling far and wide in the rice fields, and the candles are lighted indoors and feasting and merriment. The change into a commemoration of All Saints, marked by a service of praise for departed relatives and friends, is being made by not a few churches. Another is the Shinjo Feast of First Fruits, when the new rice is presented to the gods of fertility; it is found by Christians to be a natural occasion for a service of praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of all good."

As leading to the joyous observance of Easter, increasing importance has been attached by Christian people in later years to Long, or Good, or Good Friday, as it is variously known. As the day on which the tragedy of the Cross was enacted on the Hill of Golgotha, it is the most solemn and sacred in the Christian year. This note of solemnity is even reflected in the affairs of the secular world, most of the states of the nation having made it a legal holiday.

Old Barn Being Removed From A Prominent Place

Improvement is the order of the day in Corona.

The old is giving way to the new and better. An instance of this is the removal of the barn which has stood near the corner of West Tenth and the Boulevard.

This home of Dobbin has had a prominent and conspicuous position in that neighborhood for the past several years, and of late the structure has been what might be called an eyesore.

Realizing the need of improvement to keep pace with other properties in that neighborhood, A. H. Cross, owner has caused removal of the old structure.

May its successor on the land be one of the nicest houses in Corona.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE AWARDED U. C. SENIORS

Harvard University Honors Two California Seniors With One Year's Tuition

Harvard University has honored two students of the University of California at Los Angeles, by awarding them scholarships for graduate work. Ralph Hucho and Edwin Reynolds, both members of the Senior class, are the men who have been awarded the scholarships.

The scholarships each are awarded for one year of post-graduate study. A stipend of $300 is awarded with certain restrictions. Only a limited number of these scholarships are given each year. The excellent scholarship and activity records of the two men were the deciding factors in the awards.

The two students will continue the work at Harvard which they began at the University of California at Los Angeles under Dr. F. W. Sly, who was recently appointed to the faculty of Harvard. They will take work in law and government.

Johann Suter, on whose land in California gold was discovered, died in poverty.

PARKRIDGE SCENE OF BRILLIANT BREAKFAST PARTY

Los Angeles Artists Honored Guests at Musical Given by the Mmes. Ware

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM HAD Vocal and Instrumental Numbers Given by Local and Los Angeles Artists

With Mrs. Frank and Mrs.
Howard Ware as hostesses, one of the most unique and charming affairs of the spring season was given Tuesday morning at Parkridge Country club, beginning with a musicale at ten o'clock followed by a breakfast in the dining room.

This delightful affair was in compliment to two Los Angeles artists, Martha Forsythe-Inman and Dakotah-Mitener, the former a brilliant pianist and the latter a violinist of note. These young women were close friends of Howard Ware, now curator of the music section of the local Woman's Improvement Club, when students at University of Southern California School of Music a few years ago. The honor guests of the morning function presented the program of music featured at the regular W.I.C. meeting held at the club house at three o'clock.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Frank Ware in a comely gown of moiré of blue georgette and little daughter Marjorie in a white lingerie frock with touches of pink. Mrs.
Howard Ware received in white georgette with trimmings of orchid.
Mrs. Inman was a trove of gray printed silks with plaited red georgette sleeves and trim. Miss Mitener was charming in a white chiffon printed in light blue. The honor guests carried lovely bouquets of assorted flowers which were presented them by the hostesses.

A violin solo was the opening number given by Mrs. Inman, accompanied on the piano by Miss Mitener. The selection was an Irish melody and as the artist put it, in keeping with her nickname of "Fatsy." Her encore number, a song, was even more lovely. "A wonderful rendition of a classic was then played as a piano solo by Miss Mitener who to insistent applause, also responded with a second number even more pleasing than her first offering.

Mrs. E. E. Knauper, a Corona favorite with a beautiful voice, then sang a group of eight songs of such variety that her audience still clamored for more.
Her groups included classical numbers from the opera, modern art songs as well as a few humorous ones which brought laughter to the lips of her hearers.
Mrs. Norma R. Robbins accompanied Mrs. Knauper at the piano.

Guests then after congratulating those contributing to the program were asked to visit dining room where at the entrance little Miss Marjorie Ware, presented each with a scroll of music in miniature. On these were inscribed the name of a song and a number which were found to signify places at the party. The scrolls were then placed in the hands of the guests. The result of the drawing was as follows:
One group of eight on being presented at a table where Mrs.
Bella Jingle Bell was the first.

WATER ACT SIGNED BY GOVERNOR YOUNG

Would Bring Colorado River Water thru Riverside and San Bernardino Counties

With the signing of the Metropolitan Water Act Tuesday, Gov.
Young gave impetus to the Colorado river development scheme and the bringing of water from that body to Southern California territory. Terms of the measure provide that waters of the Colorado may be brought thru San Bernardino and Riverside counties into Los Angeles county.

The measure, introduced by Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino county, also will permit the operation of the district south into Orange County and elsewhere as sponsors deem advisable. Although applicable to any part of California, its application at present would be confined to the Southern California project.

The bill provides a method whereby each town or city can vote on whether it wishes to adopt the district, sets up a representative form of district government and authorizes the levying of a tax of not more than five cents on the hundred dollar of valuation for the purpose of retiring bonds used in construction and a tax for operative and other general purposes.
There is no statutory limit on the latter tax.

Auto Goes Thru Window of Local Feed Store Today

"He sure came in a whopping," said Newt Oatman this afternoon in describing the advent of F. Sanchez, Casa Blanca, to the Winship and Oatman store.
Considerable excitement was caused at Sixth and Ramona this afternoon with the crashing of window glass and the wild cries of "Sanchez!" as he careened across Sixth street in a newly purchased Chevrolet touring car.
Wether Sanchez had been accused, to driving another make machine, and lost control of his new rig was not learned at this afternoon. He had just purchased the Chevrolet from F.
E. Jones across the street.

One of the big windows in the Winship and Oatman store was shattered and considerable damage was done to the goods displayed in the window by the result of Sanchez' wild ride.
More money was paid out for allows than for broken beer.

ZONE ORDINANCE PETITION COMES BEFORE CITY TRUSTEES

Council Members Receive Signed Document from Woman's Improvement Club

BOARD APPOINTS COMMITTEE Woman's Club to Name Members to Study Zoning Matter With City Trustees

The City Trustees received a petition Tuesday night at the hands of the Woman's Improvement Club, Civics Section, signed by 450 citizens and property owners, asking for immediate action on the matter of a zoning ordinance. Mrs. L. B. Thome presented the petition and representatives of the club explained the purpose of the request while urging that action be taken at once.

Trustee Norton in discussion of the subject, pointed out the fact that since Zoning was entirely new to the trustees themselves as well as to most of our citizens, that time would be needed for conference with more experienced zoning people, and Mrs. Thome agreed to time a committee consisting of G. E.
Salcedo, N. H. Norton and Mayor C. A. Colburn was appointed to work in conference with others to be designated by the club.

It is probable that in the near future, a City Zoning authority will be asked to come to Corona and after a survey of the situation such recommendations will be made as seems best to meet the situation in a concrete way.

The trustees refused to approve certain subdivision projects as were submitted to them Tuesday night on the grounds that plats as drawn did not give true descriptions of properties in question. Parties requesting approval agreed to change the plat drawings and agree to conform to the city's position. The city Council of Corona seems glad to co-operate with all progressive developments, but they insist that all descriptions must be such as will protect investors as well.

A request by V. A. Gleason to construct a forty-foot street between east Sixth and East Eighth streets was not allowed, the council feeling that all streets should be kept to the sixty-foot width.

GIRLS LEAGUE MOTHERS DAY PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN TOMORROW

The Mothers' Day program to have been sponsored today by the Girls League will be presented tomorrow instead, in the high school auditorium at three p. m.
The postponement was made necessary owing to the large number of mothers having other engagements for today and who desired very much to attend the honorary affair.

TOTAL RED CROSS FUND STILL IS SHORT

Quarter Million of Ten Million Budget Remains to be Raised for Relief

Advices from Washington state the Red Cross' $10,000,000 Mississippi relief fund stands short approximately $250,000 of the quota.

Western states gave $6,281,313 while midwestern states are credited with $2,502,000. Pacific $836,112, and singular and foreign points $32,405.

The nation as a whole has been slow to realize the seriousness of the floods in the great Mississippi basin. In addition to the fact that it is difficult for people to picture disaster of a type outside their own experience, is the fact that this flood is the worst the Mississippi valley has ever known.

First there is the "great flood itself," involving the Mississippi river and many of its tributary streams. From Illinois to the Gulf of Mexico these rivers, big and little, have risen and swollen, violently, overwhelming man-made defences, covering thousands of square miles of farm and woodland, submerging whole towns, destroying property, stock and human life. Scores of thousands of people are temporarily homeless; many of them are losing all their possessions.
Bitter cold, severe winds, heavy rains, famine and disease add to the human suffering and increase the death toll.

The game will be on the Recreation grounds Friday evening and Manager Fred Schaaf hopes a large crowd will be present to inspire the locals to hop in and win.

Employing Printers Meet at Norco Grill For Monthly Study

With about eighteen members of the Orange Belt Employing Printers association present at the monthly meeting, Norco Grill was the scene of an interesting gathering Tuesday night, when N. G. Moore, instructor in printing at Polytechnic high school in Riverside, gave a talk on early craftsmanship. Mr. Moore's remarks were heightened in interest by an exhibit of early printing, noteworthy among which was a leaf from the original bible printed by Gutenberg in 1540.

Clear Tidy Sum at High School Picture Show

With a net clearance of $33.50, the two showings of "The Mark of Zorro," at the high school auditorium yesterday proved a god-send to the High School Parent Teacher Association, under whose auspices the shows were given.

Owing to the fact that a scholarship fund of fifty dollars was needed to be divided as is done annually between the girl and boy of the senior class holding highest marks for the year, as a gift from the P. T. A. the show was given to "Princess" Grade children at ten o'clock Tuesday morning and to Junior and Senior high school students at 1:30 p. m.

The shows were well patronized, and the proceeds were all proceeds and were also greatly enjoyed by those attending as shown by bursts of applause. Ever popular Doug Fairbanks was the lead in the feature, while a Felix comedy furnished the laughter.
Thanks is accorded the student body for the splendid work done and for the fine work the
P. T. A. operators and the Corona

VERY INTERESTING MEETING W. I. C. MEMBERS HELD TUESDAY

Reports, Election of Officers and Musical Program Combined in Session

CONVENTION ECHOES HEARD
Position of Los Angeles Club Women is Clearly Set Forth by Delegates

One of the best attended meetings of the year was held Tuesday afternoon by the "Woman's Improvement Club," the business session being called to order promptly at three o'clock by the president Mrs. Lawrence Thome.
Prior to formal session, a ballot box with Mrs. R. R. Root, parliamentarian in charge, assisted by others, was placed for the convenience of members in waiting for three members to arrive from the list of eight nominees named at the meeting two weeks ago. The ballot remained open until after the close of the meeting, giving late comers an opportunity to cast a ballot.

Reading of the minutes of last meeting was the first item of the program, this being done by Secretary Mrs. E. F. Clark. Election of officers for next year submitted by the nominating committee at last meeting and with nothers named from the floor, were then read and followed by a message from the Los Angeles club, which carried that the secretary cast a vote for those. The new officers for the ensuing year are President Mrs. L. A. Wright; Vice President Mrs. Howard Ware, 2nd Vice Pres. Mrs. O. R. Van Dusen; Secretary Mrs. W. G.
Darr; Corresponding Secy. Mrs.
E. G. Phillips and Treasurer Miss Edith Coupe. The members at large as elected by ballot are Mrs. W. H. Jameson, Mrs. Willard Lincoln and Mrs. Perle Glass.

Thirty applause greeted the naming of each officer as she stood in recognition of the honor accorded her.

The president then announced that owing to the full month of social activities, the May group of the club would not give a large affair as had the March and April groups, but small believe parties at their homes if being found easier in a busy session to assemble a few guests rather than a great many on any one date.

The first of these announced is for Thursday afternoon when Mrs. C. Gully and Mrs. Anna Key entertain with a Bridge Tea at the Gully home on Sixth street.

Another announcement of interest is that the next club meeting will be held on May 22, when 24 will constitute the last meeting of the year and a luncheon will be served catered style with Myra Nye, Los Angeles writer as the featured speaker of the day.

Mrs. E. E. Irwin, Civic Relation chairman, announced that there will be no meeting of that organ on May 28 as formerly announced, as the club group of fiscal year will have ended.
Mrs. F. J. Mueller spoke of the work of the Garden Women in planting the clock home grounds, stating that to mark the anniversary of the club's birth are paid and all the work done that were done and enough remains in the treasury to care for the plants for the

BLACK HAND IS BLAMED

Vengeance Over Girl Likely Cause for Death and Torture at Old Book Quarry

From Corona to New York City is a long way, yet the New York police department may solve the motive for the murder of Tom Liguori, found Sunday in the old Phillips rock quarry near Corona. It may also find that the Italian vengeance was carried out on the victim and that he came to his death hours after being thrown in the old rock quarry pit with its stagnant waters. The discovery of the body by Rex Johnson of Corona, may lead to one of the most brutal murders in the history of the country.

New York police detective yesterday began a search for two men and a woman to question them in connection with the mysterious "torture murder" of Tom Liguori, whose apparently faked and beaten body was found partly submerged in a pool of water in the abandoned stone quarry.

The trio, according to Detective Lieutenant Shannon of Los Angeles, is expected to be able to shed much light on the workings of an old New York feud which Liguori's business partner, Joe Morrell, blames for his murder.

According to Morrell's story to Los Angeles police, Liguori incurred the wrath of a powerful band of Italians who believed he had attacked a 17-year-old daughter of one of the members of the gang. These men swore to a vendetta, promising they would "get" Liguori some day.

Twelve years passed. Liguori and Morrell both came to Los Angeles and became established in the tailoring business here. Liguori disappeared mysteriously from his tailor shop on Jan. 23 and was never seen again until his body was discovered in the stone quarry several days ago.

A few days before Liguori disappeared, according to Morrell, two men and a woman came to the tailor shop and asked for Liguori, giving their names as saying they were from New York.

Liguori was out at the time and they said they would return later. They never did, however, Morrell said. Liguori and Morrell went to the store on the morning of Jan. 23, which was Sunday, and moved some furniture to make more room in the shop.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon Liguori left the shop saying he was going home to lunch. He said Mrs. Liguori told her, just before leaving for the shop in the morning, that he would return at noon.

So Liguori failed out of knowledge existence in this world at 11 o'clock on Jan. 23, although the police believe he may have been kept a prisoner for weeks or even months before being slowly tortured to death.

And Liguori certainly was tortured, according to the evidence revealed with the finding of his body, the detectives say. Morrell has been conducting the tailor shop ever since Liguori's disappearance. Several days after Liguori's disappearance Morrell reported to the police that he had been poisoned by water he had drunk. The matter was only casually investigated by the police at that time.

CO-OPERATE WITH THE PEOPLE ON BETTER ROAD

SHORTER ROAD TO CITY

Business Men Meet and Talk Good Roads; Committee Visiting Mine Today

Yesterday's meeting of the business men and citizens of Corona at the chamber of commerce, well attended, discussed largely the matter of co-operation with the owners of the old tin mine near the city, for the purpose of getting them a better road to the mine to railroad trackage and to the city of Corona.

This morning a committee consisting of T. C. Jameson chairman of the county board of supervisors, C. W. Edwards and Arthur Tuttle are going over the present road from the tin mine to the pavement of the Temescal canyon road, with the idea of ascertaining the cost of putting this road in shape for the use of the mine people.

It was brought out at the meeting yesterday that this road will not only give the mine owners a shorter haul to Corona, but to the spur track of the Santa Fe at the silica plant, which is said to be available to the mine people.

The grade of this road is much less than the road now being used by the mine people which hits Magnolia avenue near the Indian school farm and will save them five miles of hauling from the railroad. The road from Temescal canyon is about three and four-tenths miles long and is in good shape, with easy grades. Only about a mile of this road is in the need of repairing and this is what the Corona business men want to do for the benefit of the mine operators.

It was brought out at the meeting yesterday that eventually the mine people will be running a force of fifty or sixty miners and these people could reside in Corona and get to and from the mine to a better advantage over the road which the chamber of commerce of this city seeks to improve.

For nearly a year work has been going on at the old mine. Surveys have been made, new laterals run and samples of the ore tested. Several men have been working on the mine and at the mine under the direction of Manager Tuttle for the company. Besides there have been a number of Mexicans employed in the mine. Card index files of the mine have been made and it is shown so well that the owners are ready to go ahead with the development program.

It is understood that at present the mine is being watered. The shaft will then be re-mined and a better built. When this work is completed, actual mining will start. It is reported that the company will maintain its working office in Corona, with the general office at Riverside, but that the payroll will be passed out in Corona.

Gold watch will be given to the boy or girl standing highest in supervised work on the work.

County Auditor Court Discharges

Bonding Company Declares Auditor Clerk of Riverside County Is Incompetent

FAILED IN HIS REPORTS

Judge Freeman Declares Office Vacant Yesterday and Has Bond Cancelled

Coming as a great surprise to his friends over Riverside county, Milton S. Clark, county auditor was yesterday ousted from office, when George R. Freeman, judge of the superior court declared the office vacant on account of the cancellation of a bond for $10,000 under which the auditor has been operating. The bonding company had given a ten days' notice of cancellation of the bond claiming that the official "has failed and refused fully to discharge his duties and is not a fit, proper and competent person for the office."

No specific charges were made and owing to the fact that the official had not secured another bond he could not legally continue in the office.

T. C. Jameson, chairman of the board of supervisors, requested the keys to the office following the decision of the judge and they were turned over to him along with the office materials and equipment. The appointment of a successor to the ousted auditor is in the hands of the board of supervisors, the law requiring that the vacancy be filled at once. That will probably not be accomplished before next Tuesday as it will not be possible to secure a special meeting prior to that date.

The late auditor stated to a newspaper representative last night that he understands the action was taken by the bonding company because he had failed to file a report with the state controller on the first Monday in August as required by law. In explanation he stated that he had received a telegram from the state controller that he should have a reasonable time to file a report, a failure to file which carries $1000 penalty under the state law.

At the hearing before Judge Freeman the information was presented by district attorney Fred Ford that a report to the board of supervisors, due by Tuesday, had not been prepared and there was a fear that it wouldn't be ready. The report would give the board a complete list of the recent county tax lists and assessments.

The removal of the county auditor for failure to maintain a bond is the first instance of the kind in the history of the county and came as a direct result of report being made to the bonding company that the August 31 report was delinquent. Clark states. He claims further that there would not have been an assessment if the report had been filed on time.

The deposed official does not expect to make any contest to retain his office, he stated last night. He realizes that he cannot fill the office without having a bond, he stated, and considers the chances of securing one now hopeless.

Harry Rayner, who was for several years county auditor following the resignation of C. O. Reid, having also filled the position of deputy auditor for a number of years, is mentioned at the court house as the probable appointee to fill the vacancy.

CORONA OFFICIAL IN CONTEST FOR AIR MAIL PRIZE

Thirty-Day Contest for Air Mail Honors Started in This District

Patronize the air mail. Send your letter via this fast system, and incidentally assist the Corona postoffice to gain more national recognition. Today, H. A. Griggs, traffic representative of Los Angeles and in charge of this district for the air mail service was in Corona in consultation with Postmaster Roscoe J. Johnson.

He announces a thirty-day campaign among the post offices of Southern California, with special honors to the office making the greatest gain, both in the district and all of the Southland. Corona is in a district with Colton, Riverside and San Bernardino. The percentage of increase in the amount of air-mail dispatched will figure in the winning. Corona folks can well afford to be extra liberal with their air mail patronage in order that the local postoffice may be able to show splendid results.

Letters of ordinary weight can be dispatched anywhere in the United States for ten cents. This low price is made possible through the general use of air mail and further reductions will be forthcoming when the volume warrants.

Lindbergh, the ace of the air mail service has been a big inspiration in increasing the business, according to Mr. Burgess' statement. Many people desire a photograph of the flyer and particulars can be secured at the local postoffice as to how such a photo can be obtained.

Now only can Corona help in this contest, but they can also benefit themselves. For instance a letter mailed in Corona the ordinary way before 4:30 this afternoon would reach Chicago on Friday. By air mail this same letter reaches Chicago at 5:45 o'clock, Wednesday morning.

The air mail business is showing a tremendous increase, according to the Western Air Express representative, who was in Corona today.

REPUBLICANS LEAD

He announces that 11,779 persons will be qualified to cast their ballots for their favorite candidate for mayor and other officers at the election on November 15. Of Q. CORONA RICH IN MINERAL WEALTH SAYS J. L. DAVIS

Even Greater Return From Mines Than Products of Citrus Orchards

Noted for its citrus production and its yearly valuation of approximately $7,000,000, Riverside county's annual output of mineral products is equal to or even exceeding each year the orange and lemon returns, according to James L. Davis of Corona, secretary of the county chamber of commerce.

Due to the beauty of groves and the appeal of golden fruit, one is very likely to overlook the importance of the rock hills and vast clay beds, according to Davis, who declares that the production of natural resources during the last year has been more than $7,000,000. The county chamber displayed at the Sacramento state fair and at the Southern California fair in Riverside a rack of minerals that was declared by state mineralogists to reveal more varieties of commercially important products of the sort than any other county of the state possesses, said Secretary Davis.

Clay products are among the most important nonmetalliferous products of the Temescal canyon, which is more than fifty different varieties through its twenty miles' length, it is claimed. Here is found the Los Angeles Pressed Brick company and a score of other plants producing on mining clay. In the canyon, too, is the great plant of the Blue Diamond Materials company, turning out thousands of tons daily of paving and building rock from the porphyry hills.

From Blythe, where is located the largest gypsum plant in the world, to Prado and the clay beds, lie 200 miles of interesting country for the geologist and mineralogist, according to H. O. Hinshaw, minerals representative and searcher for the county chamber. Hinshaw is confident that within the near future a huge deposit of almost pure iron, now owned jealously by a transcontinental railroad, lying in the desert, will be developed on a major scale to supply the proposed great steel plant of the United States Steel corporation to be located at Long Beach. The same railroad, says Hinshaw, has definite control of the vast supply of lime in the mountains be (Continued on Page 2)

Corona Men Head "Forty and Eight" Session in County

Not only was Abe Lincoln of Corona elected as chief of guerre, which means the leading official, but Corona walked away with most of the other officers in the "Forty and Eight" society of the World War veterans, which was held in Riverside one evening last week. W. J. Plaisance was named as correspondent, and Harry Slaten as guard of the porte.

The annual business session was a very happy affair. It took place in the American Legion club house in Riverside, with John Burke of Riverside, retiring head of the county organization presiding. Members from Blythe, Banning, Hemet, San Jacinto, Corona and Beaumont were present. Supper was served to the "homies" by the auxiliary of the Riverside organization and an orchestra dispensed music during the supper hour.

Fine Officer

If the Corona police department should ever run shy on traffic officers, they should call on O. R. Van Derhorst, well-known business man of this city. Last evening Van and a number of other men were standing at Sixth and Main. A fellow came tearing down Main street and across the intersection without stopping. Van let out a shrill whistle and the fellow stopped in the middle of the next block. Van then completely across the intersection, made the required stop and then went on, none the wiser than he was not heeded by the "arm of the law."

CORONAN ENJOYS COUNTY REUNION

Boys and Girls of Indiana Get Together at Sunday Meeting

At the home of former Supervisor W. E. Hinshaw in Long Beach Sunday, occurred the third annual reunion of the Lynn (Indiana) folks living in Southern California. The spacious grounds of the Hinshaw estate on Signal Hill bore long tables where over one hundred former residents of the little Indiana community, together with their relatives, gathered for the chicken dinner served shortly after one o'clock. Most of those present were attracted to California largely through the careful investigation and preliminary trips made here years ago by Mr. Hinshaw and his good wife, who in the fall of 1904 made their third pilgrimage to Southern California, in company with seven other residents from the town of Lynn. These were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bowen, Harry and daughter Miss Mable; Edward M. Hutchens, now pastor of the East Pasadena church of the Nazarene; George M. Blair and Fred M. Johnson. CHECK MOTORISTS DRIVING PERMITS

Twenty-Five Percent of Drivers In State Violators

An immediate check of the files of the division of motor vehicles to secure the names of motorists who are driving without an operator's license was ordered today by Frank G. Snook, chief of the division.

This followed the discovery by the department that approximately twenty five per cent of the drivers in the state are violating the law by driving without a license. Snook announced that a campaign would be launched to compel such drivers to obey the law.

The division has an easy means of checking the list of violators since the file of names of persons whose cards have been issued may be compared with the files showing registered owners. Both are kept in numerical order.

The new motor vehicle act requires that every applicant for a license, upon first applying, must submit to an examination as to his physical and mental fitness to drive. Snook said no person who has hitherto driven without a license would be prosecuted, but simply be shown a disposition to comply with the law by applying for his card at once. "Persons who are without an operator's license should lose no time in getting one," Snook said.

"No person who can exercise reasonable control over an automobile or who has no serious physical defects has anything to fear from the examination. The examiners are instructed to extend every courtesy to applicants and to make due allowances for stage fright and nervousness. "To drive without an operator's card is to violate the law and lay the driver open to embarrassment and possible arrest."

"Our officers now have orders to ask every motorist for his license when stopping him for any reason. Lack of a license may mean that your trip will be delayed or that you may be compelled to abandon it altogether."

"It is not our intention to harass the motorists but merely to let them know they comply with the law. Do not blame the officer, therefore, when he demands your license. He is merely complying with his orders."

Burch, secretary, for this official knows they are always ready to put their shoulder to the wheel and work to get a better place for their home. Mr. Hellen dropped into the Chamber headquarters this morning for a little visit and to get some facts and figures concerning the Norte development.

He had just put over the following article in an Orange County newspaper and says he is to have another publicity story in the same paper in the near future.

"We recently made a trip to Corona, which beautiful and fast growing city is situated fifteen miles west of Riverside, twenty miles south of Ontario and twenty-four miles east of Orange, and here are some of the things we saw and heard of during our two hours' sojourn there:

"One large stone quarry, which works three shifts of men every day and night during the year; one large pottery, a pressed brick house, two lemon abstract houses, which operate day and night; the only mine in the West, with a conveyor belt of copper and gold ore running thru it. This is said to be one of the richest fruit sections of Southern California, the Chase company alone owning 700 acres of bearing lemon trees and 400 acres of oranges; the Pottill company 500 acres of Eureka summer lemons, which net from $6 to $8 per box. Jameson and company own about 12,000 acres of orange and large fruit concerns are the Cal, Elgin and Kuster & Waterbury companies. The Orange Heights fruit association takes care of about 100 acres of oranges, lemons and lemons. The Boston fruit company has about 150 acres in orchards and the independent buyers also handles several hundred acres of fruit. Last year the next crop will cost an average of $4 per box.

Corona has many more in stores, two banks, natural gas and electric lights, an extensive sewerage system and an abundance of water for domestic and irrigation purposes. In fact, the city has (Continued on Page Two)

Walter Peterson of Riverside, and a friend, R. D. Christie of Oxnard. The men were killed and Witt was injured when his car crashed at 8th street and Campus avenue, Ontario, September 2nd.

Witt filed applications for probation on both counts. When he appeared Saturday for hearing on the probation applications, pleas of his employers in Upland, and of numerous friends went unheeded. SNOWBALLING DANGEROUS

Man May Be Totally Blind From Careless Ones

His right eye lost when he was six years old, Paul F. Mayberry, 25, of 3551 Brandon avenue, Pasadena, with the aid of a number of specialists, was trying to save the sight of the other eye on Monday at Upland. While Mayberry was driving down Mountain avenue from Camp Lundy, where he and his friends had enjoyed an outing, a party of Pomona boys also returning from the mountains had snow barked high on the running board of their automobile. As they swept past the machine which Mayberry was driving Edwin M. Rimmer, 15, of 825 White avenue, Pomona, is alleged to have hurled a snowball at his automobile, which smashed a window and struck Mayberry in the left eye.

Mayberry says the snowball contained several small rocks and pieces of gravel which cut deeply into the eye and required several stitches to close the wound. Mayberry reported the affair to Upland officers.

LIBRARY MATTER IS PROBLEM FOR CORONA COUNCIL

Old Contract With Library Board to Local Architect Brought Out in Letter

According to a communication received by the city council at the regular meeting last evening, there is an old contract somewhere in the archives of the city which states that Leo Kroonen, Corona architect, was given the contract for the building of additional wings to the city library, effective when sufficient funds be available. This letter was referred to the city attorney for a future report on the status of the affair.

Mr. Kroonen in his letter to the council objects to the hiring of any other architect to prepare plans for the proposed addition to the library. He states that he has a contract for that work. This contract, according to the best recollection of the officials, must have been made some time between 1905 and 1916. No funds being available at that time, the contract with Mr. Kroonen was placed on file.

Recently the council virtually decided on Architect Austin of Long Beach to prepare plans and specifications for the strengthening of the walls of the library building and two additional wings. The architect agreed to deal on a contract with the provision that if the proposed bonds covering the cost of such work did not carry, the city would be under no expense for the plans and specifications. The letter from Mr. Kroonen gave another angle to the matter.

The council spent a busy evening, with all members present excepting N. H. Norton, still confined to the Corona hospital. It was decided by Councilman Smith, seconded by Councilman Key, that upon receipt of a letter from the Corona bank, agreeing to reimburse the city to the amount of $15 per month for the remaining nine months of 1928, that the mayor and city clerk sign an agreement with the bank director for $100 per month for one year commencing April 1, 1928. The motion carried.

Resolution permitting the Santa Fe railway to lay an additional track across Pearl and Joy streets was passed, as was a resolution covering an assessment district for the covered ornamental lighting system on Main and other streets.

The city officially accepted a deed from George D. Alapach of Los Angeles for a fifty foot strip of lots 11-12 in block 47, for street widening purposes. This will be an extension of Ford street.

The farm will be stocked with birds from all over the state.

FIRE IN TREES

China Folks Get New Thriller on Tuesday

Many peculiar fires have been fought by the volunteer fire department of China but the strangest of all is written on the books of the department Tuesday. Two tall palm trees in front of the residence of M. Forester in South Fourth street, suddenly burst into flame in the fire "skirt" high above the ground.

Sparks flew higher into the sky and were whirled away to alight on the tops of nearby homes and buildings. The firemen prevented serious damage to property, but they are wondering how the fires started in both trees at such an elevation above the ground.

CORONA VISITORS TELL FOLKS BACK HOME ABOUT "US"

A. E. Jenkins Writes to Home Town Newspaper About His Trip to Corona

Writing back home to R. W. Githner, editor of the Leader at Charlton, Iowa, A. E. Jenkins and wife, who have been following in Corona, have the following to say in a letter written from here on March 24:

"This leaves all O.K. here. I thought maybe you would like to know what I thought of this part of the world by personal observation. I will say I am driven over the most of Los Angeles and its locality by auto and stage. Los Angeles is situated in a core at base of mountains about 16 miles north of Long Beach, and is built on a sandy desert, surrounded by mountains on three sides and fronts south to the ocean. 16 to 20 miles away. The streams coming down from the mountains are dry. The water settles down below the beds of streams, except in times of heavy rains or floods. The Santa Ana river runs through this sandy desert, but from Olive and Orange is dry as a roadway. Orange and Walnut groves cover the Santa Ana valley, the water to irrigate all has to be brought down from the mountains and is very costly. Long Beach is a city of one hundred and sixty thousand, situated on the ocean front. We traveled through Beverly hills, Wilshire and Long Beach, South Beach, Sunset Beach and Huntington Beach, Sea Shore and Newport Beach, stopped an hour went to end of pier, took some pictures and bought eight pounds of fish, came back through Harbortown and Santa Ana, which is a city of forty thousand. There are two large sugar factories located there and raise a lot of beets; not so much fruit; then through Orange and Olive and back to Corona, the circle city, located seven hundred feet above sea level with a population of seven thousand, right in the heart of the citrus fruit belt. I like this city the best of any place I have been in. They don't have the fog and have more sunshine and don't get quite so hot, and have no winter. They have to irrigate here. Wheat and barley is getting ripe. Several car loads of oranges go out of here every day. We have a tin mine here and the factory, rock crushers and gravel works; are surely making splendid wonderful improvements. One man has 482 men working now. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of two million dollars when completed. Quite a few houses and stores are being built. Long selling from four hundred to four thousand dollars. They can raise nearly everything here if they can get the water. They are figuring on putting two dams across the Santa Ana river, one at Corona and one twenty miles farther up the river. They must a City Do to Be Saved."

NAME CORONAN AS PRESIDENT; K. P. BODY MEETS HERE

J. C. Emerson Is to Head Citrus District; W. L. Peeler, Secretary; Fine Gathering

Members of the Knights of Pythias from nearly every lodge in the Citrus belt Pythian association, attended and enjoyed Corona's hospitality last evening when the lodge entertained the regular monthly gathering. A delicious dinner at 7:30 was served to about two hundred Pythians and their friends. Started the evening's affair.

Corona was further honored in the business session which followed when J. C. Emerson of this city was unanimously chosen as president of the association for the coming year and supported. W. L. Peeler of Corona was bestowed upon as W. L. Peeler of this city as secretary of the large body. Ed. Sevier of Highland lodge was elected vice-president and C. E. Browne, re-elected as treasurer for the 10th time, in the organization of the association many years ago.

The recognition of Mr. Emerson and Mr. Peeler to these important offices is merited. Years of service in their role is one of the requisites for ascending into office in the association. Albert Kooner of Pomona, president of the association, presided at the business session which followed the supper. Much business was hurriedly transacted. Roll call of the various lodges showed that nearly all of the temples in the district were represented. The attendance of Riverside won the attendance cup by having the largest number of representatives present last evening.

Chino was chosen for the May meeting of the association, at which time the newly elected officers will be installed into office with fitting ceremonies. This meeting is to take place on May 21st.

Following the business session the meeting was turned over to Lee Matthews, grand potentate of the fraternity, who gave a short but inspiring address on Pythianism previous to introducing a number of the members of Riverside lodge of Los Angeles who were giving the fine program which followed. A stage had been constructed and it was from this vantage point that the large audience which completely filled the temple were kept in raptures.

GIRLS' VERSION OF MURDER FARM SLAYINGS WERE

Jessie Clark Hurdied Across the Border by Riverside Officers in Northcott Case

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mortensen, Jessie Clark, sister of Sanford, and considered the key witness in the amazing murder charges piling up against her uncle, Gordon Stewart Northcott, is speeding toward Riverside county from Vancouver.

Following her thirty-two page statement concerning the incidents at the "murder farm," which was one of the most gruesome documents thus far revealed in the case, Riverside county investigators, Quinn and Kelley, now at Vancouver, lost no time in getting the girl started for the Southland. They expected a night coup and placed the girl across the border in company with the Elks people. Still, she remained at her home until such a time as her testimony may be needed in court. After seeing the girl safely on her way into the states, the officers boarded a train at Vancouver for Calgary.

Their unexpected action in splitting the girl across the international line into the United States and then setting out for Calgary was prompted by sudden developments in the extradition fight.

The second was the announcement from Calgary that Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott, mother of the alleged wholesale butcher and with him accused of the murder of Little Walter Collins, would "probably" come up to court at Calgary for her extradition hearing Saturday.

These developments caused the two California officers, Quinn and Albert Kelley, to act swiftly and secretly late last night and today.

To prevent Miss Clark's appearance as a witness for Northcott at the extradition proceedings, they arranged for her flight across the line at midnight. She hurriedly packed her belongings and shortly thereafter was speeding south.

Just before her sudden flight, Frank Lyons, counsel for Northcott, had moved to main suits for the girl's appearance at the extradition hearing as a witness for her uncle. A little earlier, she had completed a three-page affidavit in which she gave vital testimony against Northcott.

A short time before their sudden departure for Calgary, Quinn and Kelley announced that the extradition papers for Mrs. Northcott are expected to arrive at Calgary tomorrow. Should Mrs. Northcott be remanded to their custody after the hearing Saturday, she will be brought to Vancouver, pending the outcome of the battle for the extradition of her son.

He is scheduled to appear for another technical hearing at Vancouver on Wednesday. At that time, he will be remanded to prison for another eight days to await the arrival of the extradition papers and the formal hearing.

The Clark girl's statement dovetails with the version given to Riverside and Los Angeles officers by Sanford Clark. Little by little as the Clark girl visited with her brother on the "murder farm" she had told of the murders. They were calmly threatened by Northcott in his attempts to cover up his alleged crimes. Later, according to the girl's statement, Northcott openly boasted to her of his slayings.

She indicated that eleven young boys might have been the victims. Parts of her statements were of highly sensational nature.

While the officers of Riverside county are working in the north, much additional evidence is being found at the south. The "murder farm" officers from the sheriff's office are still at guard from hundreds of curious visitors who flock there.

Pumping out waterholes where the Arlington sewer empties into the Santa Ana river is still in progress. This is being done with the thought in mind that Northcott might have used this hole to cover up evidence of his crime. It is not far from the Northcott farm.

Sheriff Sweeters, personally is working on the San Diego angle of the crime, which concerns the disappearance and murder of Nicholas Dapaz, thirteen. The boy vanished from his home May 8. A few days later, his body, horribly hacked was found.

NEW HANDS CODE REPUBLICANS OF STATE WARE

Neumiller Overturned in Heated Election of State Republican Central Committee

From San Francisco comes the report that the ruler of the republican state central committee for the last four years was overthrown Saturday after a troublesome session of the group and consequently, director of Herbert Hoover's campaign in his home state passed into new hands.

Nineteen hours and forty minutes after the meeting had been called to order for the session, the selectivity of officers for the next two years, it was announced that Frank B. Merrill, Long Beach, former speaker of the state legislature, had defeated the incumbent, Charles Neumiller, of Los Angeles.

While many delegates at the meeting expressed belief that the change would probably come up in the campaign in California and might retard it until the new regime could function smoothly the opposition predominated so that the factional scrap will have no direct bearing on the election results in November.

INVESTIGATE FIRE

Revel Enigmas Stock Burns Endangered by Blaze

CHINO, Oct. 9. Investigation was being pushed today by Corona W. J. Tice to learn if a fire which swept thirty acres of agricultural land and threatened the nearby English stock ranch over the weekend was started by a lost smoker.

The blaze was driven toward the foothills away from the stock ranch and grain fields. An army of recruited ranch workers saved the fire after a strenuous battle.

BRUBACHER TAKES LEAD IN CONTEST RACE VERY CLOSE

Independent Carrier, Beas "Bunched" in Exciting Battle for Points

Alvin Brubacher, one of the newest additions to the Independent carrier staff, stepped out in front of the Independent and has reached the half way mark. DINERS HEAR TWO STORIES ON CITY FUTURE OUTLOOK

Twenty-Thirty Club Host to Large Gathering of Interested Business Men

Two pictures were painted Monday evening for the benefit of the members of Corona's Twenty-Thirty club and their guests of business and professional men of the city, over fifty in all, following an enjoyable dinner at the Kinney Grill.

What Corona's future holds was the subject of the two talks. H. H. Burch, secretary of the Corona chamber of commerce, who painted the picture of a most prosperous year ahead and wielded a dextrous brush, lavishing coloring on the beautiful vista. On the other hand, a more conservative picture was drawn by Fred E. Snidecor with the advice to "keep our feet on the ground." These two talks, together with an appeal from W. R. Locke, for a greater co-operation with the Corona business men's association, constituted the "heavy" portion of the program, under the guiding hand of Arthur L. Blakely, president of the business men's association.

Other entertainment features included a piano solo and encore by Melvin, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clark, who showed the club men and their guests, much ability at the piano. Joseph Langdon, violinist accompanied by Mrs. Everet Tilson at the piano, gave two of his delightful and intricate selections, for which he was profusely applauded. Carl Emerson, in charge of the entertainment portion of the program, thanked the youthful musicians very heartily for their generous contributions.

President Webster of the Twenty-Thirty club was kept plenty busy during the course of the dinner for club men are a peppy, enthusiastic aggregation and they were aided and abetted last evening by a score or more otherwise staid and stately business men who forgot themselves for the moment and had a happy time.

President Blakely of the business men's association in opening his portion of the meeting expressed his appreciation for the splendid work being accomplished by the Twenty-Thirty club and the co-operation extended by this organization toward matters progressive and of vital interest in the city. He called upon H. H. Burch as the first speaker of the evening whose address will be found elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Burch stressed the matter of giving serious consideration to the matter of a municipal airport for Corona and expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the service clubs of the city are getting behind the movement. During his talk he spoke of contagion, referring to improvement and cited the example of the new store front of the J. C. Penney company, which was followed during the year by twelve other modern storefronts, at an average cost of $1000 each, marking a vast improvement in the appearance of the city.

Among Coronans attending the Nebraska state picnic held all day Saturday in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swan, both of Olive street, this city.

The Optimistic Outlook

Speaking before a meeting of the Twenty-Thirty service club, Monday evening, H. H. Burch, secretary of the Corona chamber of commerce, painted the following picture of Corona, her achievements and her possibilities. He said:

"Any attempt to forecast developments in and around Corona without first considering contributing factors to Southern California development in general would be futile. No community exists in itself or by itself alone, but depends upon numerous outside movements.

"That California will see in the next two or three years one of the greatest influx movements of labor that has ever been known, is beyond question to those conversant with building plans. San Gabriel dam is now beginning to build. This will be a $30,000,000.00 construction job, just across the valley above Azusa. Pasadena is to build another dam with an approximate cost of $3,000,000.00. There are strong probabilities that Orange county will put through the program for a $7,000,000.00 dam at or a few miles below Prado. These are small jobs compared with that of the Boulder dam which the government will build at a cost of $165,000,000.00 and this calls for the Colorado river aqueduct that will either be built by the Los Angeles metropolitan water district, or through a state-wide bond issue of $150,000,000.00 or more. Then there is the All-American canal to be built in Imperial and Coachella valleys at the cost of $25,000,000.00 more. It will be seen that here is a total of $342,000,000.00 in flood control and conservation alone. With work covering a period of from three to ten years. This work will be advertised to the world for both common and skilled labor and it takes no stretch of the imagination to see the influx of labor. Southern California will absorb permanently a large part of that labor.

"In addition to this, the present road building program as recommended by Governor Young, calls for a four-to-one plan, that is, for miles of highway constructed in Southern California to one in Northern California. This will mean a big road building program that will run concurrent with the other big jobs, this adding to the sum total. The above is all basic to other large development programs that are bound to come as the natural result of the foregoing, and the communities of Southern California that are ready for it and that make themselves and their investment and developmental possibilities known will benefit by it, but those that are asleep at the switch will see this development pass them up. The next ten years is a bad time for cities in California to sleep.

"I am calling attention to all the above to show some of the vital outstanding factors that will contribute to our growth as a city if we connect up. Colton, Ontario, Banning and other towns are directly in line with the aqueduct, but we are near enough so that we too should cash in.

"Now to point out some of our developmental possibilities. Corona is surrounded with a large acreage of virgin and undeveloped land. To the east between Corona and Arlington lies some of the richest and best farm land in California, very sparsely settled and practically unimproved. This is on one of the heaviest traffic highways in this part of the state, within reach of ample water, easily reached by gas main extension and ready for productivity. The time will come when all this section will be built up. Some one will benefit by such development, and some one will have the vision to see its possibility. Then to the west on Sixth street both north and south is an area of some 2,000 acres of splendid land, now used for dry grain farming, no intensive work being done, held in large holdings. Economic determinism will ultimately force this development and all that section of our trade territory will be built up.

"We don't need to worry about Norco and the land north of us, the man who has the vision is already at work on that. Our job is to maintain a friendly relationship with that movement. Northeast of Corona and within a mile and a quarter of the Santa Fe depot, is another fine development by W. J. Hole. A splendid water system is installed, large acreage of sage brush has already been turned into productive farm lands and there will be without doubt many families located on this land. "East and south is the Temescal canyon district. Thousands of acres of fertile land waiting only for the man of vision and capital to develop. There are now some hopeful efforts being made. Weibel Industrial Sands company has planted a considerable acreage of persimmons and citrus and has shown they demonstrate the possibilities of citrus and persimmon culture here we can look for other development. This same territory is rich in non-metallic minerals and only waiting for development. The railroad has built through this area in the past three years, natural gas has been carried through by the Southern California gas company, and we are told there are ample water resources to be developed.

"A large acreage of the finest residential lands in the world lie to the south toward the Santa Ana range, affording unexcelled views, and with people with capital being brought here through the Lake Norcorian club there is little doubt but that the time will come when Corona will be known as a high-class residential city. These developments will take place not this year possibly or the next year, but this year is starting off fine and other years to follow, it takes but little vision to see what it will be.

"One of the direct results of the Boulder dam and other water conservation building plans will be a premium on every pound of cement materials within reasonable distance. Lime-stone deposits will be surveyed, clay deposits that contribute to cement manufacture will be surveyed and the probabilities are that new cement plants will be built to meet the requirements. Corona has two valuable limestone deposits one of which has been thoroughly surveyed by the best engineers in the country. Our clay deposits are well known to us and we are trying to make them known to the trade world. This just now is one line of publicity that should be stressed.

Another one of our resources that should feel the effect of such building is our rock and sand building materials. It is doubtful if Southern California has ever faced such a building period such as the present, and it is the cities that are alive to the situation that will cash in.

"When we consider that in the past three years there have been built in Corona a new high school gymnasium, and four other new school buildings totalling approximately $160,000.00, six miles of ornamental street lights, several miles of street paving, several good business buildings, several hundred new residences, new and improved storm drains, and the public improvements and at the present time the municipal plunge is being equipped with heating apparatus, the principal alleys in the business section are being paved and one of the finest new theatre buildings in the county is being erected on the next block east of where we now are, we can at least take hope for the future based on the activities of the past.

"For the first time Corona now possesses that magic factor known as the 'Tourist Lure'. With the building of the Lake Norcorian at a cost of over $2,000,000.00 travelers and tourists from all over the world are being lured to Corona. What we have to show them, and the effort we put forth to sell them with, will ensure our growth. If we don't show them anything we won't sell them anything. The challenge is up to us.

Forty-and-Eight TO MEET SHORTLY

Riverside, July 25.—Election of delegates to the state convention in Sacramento in August and initiation of new members will be included in the principal matters of business to be considered at the meeting of the Riverside county vintners of the Forty and Eight at the American Legion club house on Lake Evans Saturday night, according to Jim Carlson, chef de gare.

The meeting was originally scheduled to be held last night but was postponed to permit holding of the meeting of the metropolitan water district advancement association at the club house. Forty and Eight members from Corona and communities in all parts of the county are expected to attend the gathering which is one of the most important of the summer gatherings as in addition to selection of delegates to the state convention, the former service men will consider matters certain to be submitted at the Sacramento gathering.

Idyllwild

Frequent horseback trips to the different high points of San Jacinto are being made now, the clearness of the weather affording a marvelous faraway view to those who reach the top. Today eighteen riders left Idyllwild for Jacinto, Marion and Tanguil, accompanied by Lane Sikes, Idyllwild guide. Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Barlow of Sierra Madre, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Patterson of Monrovia are bound for San Jacinto and will make a two-day trip of it.

One day's activities at Idyllwild gives an idea of the delightful way the time is filled by visitors. The morning was started with an Alaskan breakfast given outdoors near Strawberry creek. A croquet game followed and a horseback journey in the shade of a big oak wound up the morning's activities. At two o'clock, an hour of golf was played on the Idyllwild course on the veranda of the inn, a treasure hunt for riders and the informal dance given each week evening, also lunch and dinner sandwiched in between events completed the day. With many variations each day finds a full program to suit the taste.

D. L. MacBeth, supervising engineer, United States bureau of reclamation, was in Idyllwild yesterday. Mr. MacBeth is a resident of San Jacinto over the decades and came here with Reverend Harris for Alaska during the Klondike boom days. The meeting between the two big Sourdoughs brought joy to them and until three a.m., they again built boats on the Yatom dug shafts on Hunter Creek, built log cabins and reminisced on old Alaskan days. A coincidence of the meeting was the presence at Idyllwild of Roy Bradley and Ed Bradley with their wives, Raymond, Mrs. and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Emerson, Lloyd Wright, Mrs. Robert Williams, all residents of San Jacinto three decades ago. If one thinks it is all play on the mountain these days just let him visit the camp of the Southern California Council of Religious Education at Idyllwild Pines. There several hundred young people are coming and going from lectures, class rooms and study hours where they are gaining knowledge of the most important nature. Idyllwild Pines is a summer school of the combined churches of Southern California. To it come the greatest teachers of the church to help combine the vacation period with a splendid educational privilege.

Harper's Latest Offering

Little Accomplished in Yorba Linda Road Gathering

Glen Harper's offering at his Corona theatre for Sunday and Monday will be an English drawing-room comedy, cleverly done in sight and sound in "The Lady of Scandal." Ruth Chatterton, quite a Corona favorite, features the film, which is a story dealing with an actress, through a break of fate, becomes engaged to the son of a British peer. Partisan opposition resolves itself into strategy, and she is asked to remain in the home of the aristocratic father, to accustom herself to society. Instead, society accustoms itself to her, and it upsets society considerably. Then a real love affair develops, but finally she sacrifices her own happiness for that of a woman who needs her lover more than she does.

As the musical comedy star Miss Chatterton has a far different role from that in "Madame X." The hitting, witty lines of Lonsdale, and the underlying vein of brilliant satire make the new production one of pure entertainment, with the dramatic punch coming as a distinct surprise.

Worst Fire For

A fierce fire raged for two days and nights and burned over areas there acted as a firebreak. Custer sighted the fire at eleven o'clock yesterday morning, and at once notified Nelander, who rushed the county fire truck to the scene. Historic ranger Kopyanov in charge of the federal district embracing the San Jacinto mountains, Ranger Lanphun and Senior Ranger Harry Hunt of San Bernardino, responded also, but because the fire was not threatening the federal lands left the supervision of the crews to the state forestry men. The fire originated approximately four miles outside the forest boundary, and the federal men have promised all aid possible when needed.

Conflicting currents of wind swept the hillside of smoke to the east, filling the Coachella valley, and obscuring the lands from above, Custer said. He revealed that an unaccounted had brought the flames upward toward the rim but at the top of the ridge it was met by a strong wind from the sea that swept it eastward into the valley. Very little wind was blowing last night and this factor was aiding the grim fire-fighters in checking the advance of the flames.

While it was believed the burned-over areas of the Poppe Plains section would halt the fire in any event, efforts of a large portion of the fire fighters were being centered on turning back the flames along the upper rim to keep the flames out of the priceless timber in the higher levels of the mountains.

The fire without doubt is the most devastating thus far this year. Several small blazes have been extinguished by the forestry men since the fire season began several weeks ago but the areas burned over have been extremely small.

Came up From Beach
Fred Allen, Corona resident, who is spending much of the summer at Newport Beach, was in Corona several days this week on business matters.

Hay Is Destroyed
Fire broke yesterday morning in the A. E. Kenley ranch at Arlington avenue and Van Duren street, destroyed a barn and its contents, which included eleven tons of hay and valuable farming implements. The loss, around $1,000, was covered by insurance.

Burglar Is Fined
Frank Starr, confessed Riverside burglar, was sentenced there to pay a fine of $250 at the rate of $50 a month.

Deserves Growsome Name
The body of water with a name meaning "place of growth" is Mandab, a state connecting the Indian Ocean and the Red sea. It separates the southern part of Africa from the continent of Africa. Near the African coast are the volcanic islands, Eight Brothers. The strait offers so many dangers to small vessels that it is sometimes meaning gates of sorrow was given to it.

MEETING MOSTLY TALK

Little Accomplished in Yorba Linda Road Gathering

Much conversation and little progress was the result of the meeting of the proposed Imperial highway boosters held at Yorba Linda last night, according to the Corona delegation which sat in on the talkfest and had nothing to say regarding where, how and when the highway should be built. The meeting was attended by over a hundred, a majority of whom were from Yorba Linda and community. El Centro had two delegates present and Florence avenue, Los Angeles, where the proposal seemed to have originated, had but one. There was no set program of the meeting and no one seemed to know what the plans for the highway were where it was to start or where it would end. Every speaker had a different idea to suggest. One booster stated he had covered the route from Phoenix to Los Angeles through the Santa Ana canyon, down Temescal canyon below Murietta and thence across country to somewhere in the Imperial valley. Another proposed that the road be built from Corona to somewhere down by Hemet via the tin-mine road, although he admitted it might be costly to construct. Another trail-blazer had endeavored to cover a route through the San Jacinto mountains only to run up against a solid mountain wall. Earlier proposals that the route should go to the north of Corona, cross the Auburndale bridge and into Riverside through Central avenue were not mentioned. If all of the roads talked about last night were built, the tax-payers would have nothing left for the next century but to pay for the highways. One speaker stated he was certain that the supervisors of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and Imperial counties would gladly ly arrange for funds for the proposed road, when a route was definitely decided upon. The original suggestion of the road was from a point on the ocean near Los Angeles, through Florence avenue, east of Los Angeles to Brea, thence to Riverside and to the Imperial highway near Beaumont. Last night it seems that the boosters had other routes in mind. The meeting adjourned without taking any action except to ask all present to step forward and enroll in the case of the proposed highway and add their dollar for enrolling fees.

A Service As Good As Royalty Could Command

With electricity at her command, the housewife in her cottage is able to command service equal to that of a queen in her palace—better than the queens of olden days, and better even than many a modern queen in the older nations where electric service is not so widespread as in our America.

Rich or poor, the American wife may touch a switch and, instantly, electric servants leap to aid her—more efficient, more dependable, less expensive, less dependable than human servants could possibly be.

Once only the rich could afford electricity. And not so long ago it was used only for light in the average home. But today it helps in a hundred different ways in households where its capable service is available.

Housework is lightened, homes are made happier, workers need no longer pull and haul and lift, because electricity serves so well.

CORONA ROCK AND GRAVEL APPROVED; STATE'S CONTRACT

KUSTER-WATERBURY GET LARGE ORDER FOR BUILDING AT SPADA

These large trucks loaded with Corona rock and gravel moving steadily out of town towards the west these days should mean a great deal to the local booster of Corona industry. They represent a large contract which was recently awarded to Kuster and Waterbury of this city, for the supply of material of the large building job conducted by the state on construction work at the Pacific Colony, located at Spada, a short distance from Pomona.

Not only is the Kuster-Waterbury firm pleased with the fact that their washed and segregated sand and rock has passed by a large margin all of required state tests for mechanical analysis, tensile and compression strength, but segregation and grading as to size and the absence of all organic impurities.

It was only after the most exhaustive tests and which continue as the contract is being fulfilled, that the contract was given to the local firm. Preliminary tests were run on Corona products by the state engineers in Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Francisco. So satisfactory were these tests that the entire contract for all rock and sand to be used in the construction of the large, reinforced concrete buildings, were awarded to the Corona concern.

TRIM CLAREMONT IN LEAGUE GAME HERE ON SUNDAY

CORONA HITTERS GO ON RAMPAGE TO WIN FRACAS BY 16-TO-1 SCORE

Manager Stoltz' aggregation of baseball pastimers in the Orange Belt league, yesterday loosened their war-clubs and cracked out a 16-to-1 victory over the Claremont team of the same league. The victory puts Corona in a tie with Chico for second place in the league. Next Sunday, the Corona team will battle the Pomona "Lightning Delivery" team on the city park grounds here.

Yesterday's game proved to be a hitting-fest at the expense of the two Claremont pitchers. Corona sluggers opened up their biggest guns and cracked the ball high, wide and handsome. Boyd led the hitting, with 1000 per cent average, two of his hits being for circuit drives. Patten (Eddie's brother), worked at first yesterday and collected three hits in as many times at bat, one good for three bases. Tucker also cracked out a three-bagger. Jones, Soper, McPherson and Hughes also collected three hits during the afternoon. Garner and Hughes carried on with the pitching burden for Corona, both showing considerable class and keeping the Claremonts new hand at all stages of the game. Although they were touched for fifteen hits, the Corona chuckers kept them well scattered. The local feature of the game was the article holding of the home team, when Manager Stoltz injected into the game in the final frame. The score:

JUNIOR LIONS OF CORONA PLEASED WITH CONVENTION

LOCAL YOUTH GAIN MUCH INSPIRATION FROM RIVERSIDE CONFERENCE

Junior Lionism in Corona gained during the last week, through the attendance of many of the members of the youthful service club in the district convention held in Riverside. This inspiration will be felt in the work which the service club is planning for their community. Near the entire membership of the Corona club was in attendance some of the functions of the conventions. It is reported that they were pleased with the election of William Burrows of Riverside to the governorship of the California-National-Highway district, shortly before the sessions closed on Saturday night.

Election of Burrows culminated a hotly-contested triangular fight for the position that had featured the three-day session of the convention. He succeeds Carroll Robertson of Covina. Two years ago John Clarke of the Riverside club was given the highest position of the district.

Settling another contest that had waxed warm, the convention named Pasadena as the 1932 convention city. Six years ago the Junior Lions movement was established in Pasadena by Dr. George F. Willis, now dead. The Pasadena delegation based its strongest lure upon the proximity of their city to the Olympic games at Los Angeles. The convention will be held during May. Gardena, Junior Lions were awarded the Dixon trophy for outstanding service to their community. (Continued on Page Two)

PHILIPS QUARRY TO BE REOPENED; ASK SPUR TRACK

LOS ANGELES CONCERN PURCHASES FINE ROCK PROPERTY NEAR CITY

What promises to be a new and real industry for Corona was revealed today when the Santa Fe railway company asked permission from the Riverside county board of supervisors to construct a side track over an unused highway right of way near the city. The road plans to construct a 2000-foot siding into the old Philips quarry to the south and east of town.

According to the information available to obtain this morning, this fine quarry, with its immense store of rock, has been purchased by one of the largest independent concerns of Los Angeles, being interested in the Corona quarry through the medium of the industrial committee of the Corona chamber of commerce. The Philips quarry has been idle for a number of years. The deal has been pending for some time, it is reported. Since the purchase was made the company requested the Santa Fe for a side-track into the property and this has been surveyed. The application to the supervisors today for the right-of-way is the first real information to the public that has been made on the deal. The spur track will connect with the track known as the "strut siding," which connects the main line with the citrus packing plant in the southeastern part of the city.

It is reported, although not verified, that the Los Angeles purchasers of the quarry expect to start action in installing modern machinery in the quarry and that the Santa Fe will begin work on the side-track soon. The Philips quarry has been idle for a number of years. Immense quantities of high quality rock are available there and can be worked with ease.

It is stated that the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, Howard W. Hall, chairman, will have another announcement of importance to the city to make in the near future. They are said to have been working on this project for a long time, and the final details are about ready for public release.

Governor Is Surprised

His excellency, Governor Rolph, was taken by surprise at a recent air circus in Watsonville when Laura Rickards, Gilroy cowgirl, rode into the airport and presented the flying governor with an invitation to attend the Gilroy "Round-up and Gymkhana," which will be held in that city on June 13 and 14. The governor was agreeably surprised and told the young lady that he expected to attend the "Round-up" in Gilroy and officially open the big show for the citizens of that city.

Kilday placed first in the shotput, bringing the honor to his school with a toss of 46 feet, 6 1/2 inches, four inches better than Narbonne, Los Angeles who was looked upon as a sure winner. Nugent, one of the coming athletes of the local school, placed fifth in the pole vault with a leap of ten feet, six inches. Farnham of Compton, winning this event, set a new record of eleven feet, eight and three-quarters inches.

In the other classes, Corona's athletes ran into the fastest competition of any meet ever held, recording after record being broken, including the record made by John Cunniff last year in the 660-yard dash. Coach Thorne, however, was proud of the performance of his entire squad as they performed well in the face of the record-making competition.

RIVERSIDE FAIR MAY CONSOLIDATE WITH LOS ANGELES, IS REPORT

The fate of the Southern California fair, one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the west, rests with the board of directors of the Los Angeles county fair, in their meeting at Pomona tonight. They may decide to accept the offer of the Riverside fair directors to consolidate this fair with theirs, according to a statement issued Saturday by C. B. Afterbaugh, manager of the Pomona exposition.

If the Los Angeles fair board accepts a proposal by the Riverside fair directors to take over the exposition and pay off its indebtedness, it will mean the passing of the Southern California fair, held annually for twenty years in Riverside, and to which the board of supervisors two weeks ago agreed to appropriate $125,000 following a controversy which saw the fair board close its offices until the supervisors voted to support the institution. It is understood that the proposed merger has been approved by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors, which last (Continued on Page Three)

RANCHERS ASKING REDUCED RATE OF TAXES IN COUNTY

SUPERVISORS ARE INFORMED THAT SITUATION IS SERIOUS IN SECTIONS

Of much interest to the people of Corona are slushes in the county is the report of the meeting of the supervisors yesterday at Riverside as told by the Enterprise this morning by the Enterprise as follows: The supervisors met at Riverside to discuss its plans for a reduction of the sixty-cent district county road tax during the 1931-32 fiscal year.

"Supporting the resolution presented by the county clerk a month ago by the delegation, more than forty representatives of farming districts from Palmdale valley on the east to West Riverside on the west, appeared at the meeting. They were urging the district rate be slashed drastically as the board prepares the annual budget this summer.

"The group left the supervisors' room with little or no assurance that the district rate can or will be reduced. Only Chairman T. C. Jamison of Corona admitted his district could get along with a 25-cent levy. This means that the three supervisors, who have road funds, would make no promise of a cut, contending that the road projects in their districts demand a 25-cent levy. The sixty-cent levy will raise.

Wharton accounted for Corona's runs in the eighth and on inning when he drove out a circuit clout to score Hill ahead of him. Hits by Carroll and Pfa in the seventh accounted for another Corona marker. SCOUTS ENJOYING

(Continued From Page One) If Capone is kicked out of the United States as an undesirable citizen, you'll find the government sending a lot of others of his ilk with him. The government forces are swinging into action and those who persist in breaking the laws, he they big or little of the Capone type are going to find themselves in his same boat, going back. Anyhow, Southern California needs a good deal of Capone buying any of our big ranches and settling down for a life of ease. We kinda imagine that the liquor-ling in Los Angeles isn't feeling any too good about the fact that Uncle Sam is landing on Al, fearing that even though they are likely to take the same trip.

Believe it or not, Uncle Sam is doing a lot of checking and double checking, from Al Capone on down the line. We happened to see an official notice received by a Corona Mexican the other day, which read that the government having checked up on his liquor violations, gave him warning that the next offense would mean the official padlocking of his home. And that's just one example of what Uncle Sam is doing, all along the line from Chicago to Corona. He has got his eye on the little fellows as well as the big bimbos.

The coming of the big contracting firm of E. Subeotham and Son, an old-established concern, into the Corona field, reopening the old Phillips rock quarry is something worth being dated over. There's a lot of citizens that would welcome a firm like this and the new families which they bring into Corona. This deal for the Phillips quarry has been on the fire for many months. Newspaper men aware of it, requested the confidence placed in them by the men who were putting it across and said nothing that might interfere with the transaction until it was closed. Which may prove to some surprise whether they believe it or not, that good newspaper men do and do respect confidences.

It might seem a little strange passing that another big deal is in the offing for Corona, which may mean some six months of materialize, and when it does there'll be a couple more features of Corona's future. Information given out at the present time would be premature and possibly spoil the plans.

Riverside Man Is Free on Check Deal

Riverside, June 16.—P. L. Menes, who gave a worthless check to L. M. Fogelman, Riverside business man, for $54 and failed to make it good, was brought in to superior court yesterday on a charge of violation of probation but later dismissed because it developed that Menes had told Fogelman that the check was not good and had written it merely to secure a debt. The defendant admitted giving the worthless check when questioned by Superior Judge G. R. Freeman. He probably saved himself from prison or jail when he interrupted the court to explain the circumstances under which he had written the worthless check. The proceedings were dismissed by the court but Menes was returned to the county jail to be questioned by the county chamber of commerce. Harry P. Amstutz in connection with an alleged fraud in connection with the alleged sale of real estate.

Good Intent Plea Urged by Romola

Los Angeles, June 17.—After a trial lasting since March 3, last, the case of Alexander Hursh, former head of Romola, Inc., real estate concern, and nineteen others accused of use of the mails to defraud is expected to go before the jury tomorrow. Final arguments in the case were presented to the jury yesterday on the part of the defense and it is expected that the prosecution represented by Assistant United States Attorney Redwine and Davis, will complete its arguments today or tomorrow. The case, which has been heard before a jury in United States District Judge Killitt's court, involved the purchase by investors of big lands in Riverside county and grapefruit land in Maricopa county, Arizona, and asserted misrepresentation through the mails regarding the value of the lands and regarding promises of the company to develop the lands. It was asserted by the defense counsel that regarding the lands were made in good faith, but that unforeseen circumstances arose that prevented carrying out the plans of the company.

STATE RAIL BOARD TO CONSIDER DISCONTINUING SERVICE

Riverside, June 17.—Hearing of the state railroad commission on the application of the Pacific Electric railway for permission to abandon its passenger service between Arlington and Corona was held in the county chamber of commerce today. The application covers only the passenger service and does not affect the railway's freight service between Arlington and Corona. Notices of the hearing were sent to the city councils of Riverside and Corona, to the Riverside county board of supervisors and to officials of the Sherman Institute. All are interested directly or indirectly in possible effects of abandonment of the passenger service.

The Riverside city council was represented by Mayor J. S. Long and several of its members. Although the council voiced no opposition to abandonment of the service, Councilman Wells of Arlington urged that if the railroad commission allows the petition, the Pacific Electric be required to run at least hourly service on its Riverside-Arlington cars to the southern city limits. It is understood that neither Corona nor the city of Corona has taken any action to oppose the petition. The hearing was open to receive protests of any persons who use the passenger service and desire continuance.

Comment

Under the editorial title, "New Wario Policy for Riverside," the Riverside Enterprise has the following to say which will be of interest to many Coronians: "Have the parties of the ways arrived for Orange county on the one hand and Riverside and San Bernardino counties on the other in affairs of the Santa Ana river? A statement in a news article regarding Orange county's attitude in this county. 'Orange' says $400,000 of state funds for water conservation and flood work on the upper Santa Ana watershed says:

Engineering opinion holds that this county 'Orange' can obtain no benefits from check dams or other flood-control works that would stop water in San Bernardino county, but on the other hand, would be damaged by extensive checking of water in that region.

Believing that the major part of all fatal accidents may be traced to excessive speed, E. Raymond Cato, superintendent of the California highway patrol has made the suggestion for such signs in a letter to T. H. Dennis, maintenance engineer of the division of highways.

The new maximum speed limit of forty-five miles an hour becomes effective August 14. Cato is determined that this shall be the limit in fact as well as in name and has so instructed his officers.

In going into the matter, Cato has discovered there are plenty of signs all over the state designating the maximum speed limits in business and resident districts but that there are no signs whatever out on the open highway where many of the fatal accidents occur to tell the motorist when he is driving faster than the law permits.

The patrol superintendent suggests in his letter that such signs be displayed at convenient points about the state calling attention to the maximum speed limit that will prevail when the new law goes into effect.

Accidents on the highways seem to be on the increase and our records show that most of them occur because people are traveling too fast," his letter said. "It is our observation that where signs are placed calling attention to curves, intersections, etc., accidents are not occurring. This seems to indicate that warning signs are of value."

SEEK METHOD TO REDUCE NUMBER OF ROAD ACCIDENTS

WARNING SIGNS TO BE POSTED AT GREATER SPEED IS GRANTED

Sacramento, June 13. (Special).

Signs along open stretches of state highway, where the temptation to speed is greatest, warning the motorist that the maximum speed limit must not be exceeded are being considered by the state highway officials as a means of reducing the automobile's toll of death and injured. It was announced here today.

Believing that the major part of all fatal accidents may be traced to excessive speed, E. Raymond Cato, superintendent of the California highway patrol has made the suggestion for such signs in a letter to T. H. Dennis, maintenance engineer of the division of highways.

Conferees are being arranged between Cato, Dennis, Colonel W. E. Garrison, director of public works, and other highway officials to discuss the feasibility of the plan.

The new maximum speed limit of forty-five miles an hour becomes effective August 14. Cato is determined that this shall be the limit in fact as well as in name and has so instructed his officers.

In going into the matter, Cato has discovered there are plenty of signs all over the state designating the maximum speed limits in business and resident districts but that there are no signs whatever out on the open highway where many of the fatal accidents occur to tell the motorist when he is driving faster than the law permits.

The patrol superintendent suggests in his letter that such signs be displayed at convenient points about the state calling attention to the maximum speed limit that will prevail when the new law goes into effect.

Accidents on the highways seem to be on the increase and our records show that most of them occur because people are traveling too fast," his letter said. "It is our observation that where signs are placed calling attention to curves, intersections, etc., accidents are not occurring. This seems to indicate that warning signs are of value."

Got Quick Action

It only required a short time for Walter R. Kingcade of Riverside to get action. He pleaded guilty to being drunk and driving a car and wanted to be sentenced right away. Judge Freeman accommodated him with a fine of $200 or 100 days in jail. He paid the fine and gave the judge a check for license to keep for the next six months.

News and Comment
C.C.J.
There isn't any doubt as to what is the best news of the morning. If you live in Corona and haven't any idea of what it is, then you are the other kind of person. Believe it or not, you scoffers, but the prosperity which has been awaited around the corner has arrived so far as a number of Southern California cities are concerned in general and Corona in particular. The success of the Metropolitan District water bond issue yesterday was the greatest and most beneficial gift that was ever made to the Corona people. Yet there are scores of Corona people who won't admit it. More money than has been done for Corona, and what a building of the good high road water aqueduct means to the city. Like the Hoover dam project, it is so great that they can't begin to comprehend it.

JAMESON STARTS WORK OF ROADS INTO RESERVOIR

Corona took the news of the success of the election calmly. Not a word of excitement was shown. Not a single gesture toward the million dollar construction project showed that it was the clear sky and not a bit of a whimper of precipitation. What kind of a city is this Corona? There was more talk of the bonds around the city this morning than there was of the bonds that had been carried. Some times we wonder if our country is so happy that it even realizes what it has won.

Mebe we're all wet, but it kinda strikes us that when there's an assured prospect of nine or ten millions, dollars being spent in a community, right at our front door, there certainly ought to be a little reason for rejoicing. Especially when every city in the country is in the doldrums and folks are yelling their heads off about the whole country going on a downhill pull to bankruptcy. Mebe we ought to join up with the ranks of the fellows who don't believe that the Metropolitan Water district will ever build the Cajalco reservoir, and put thousands of dollars into the TRADING radius of Corona. Mebe we'll be better off.

Following Old Lady Glom around the corner, Mebe we'll be better off. Old Lady Opportunity. But it kinda strikes us that Old Lady Opportunity arrived at Corona this morning in the news of the success of the bond election, that she dropped a few million dollar gift in Corona's lap. Even now there's a lotta fellows figuring there's a ketch somewhere in the deal and that Corona's being played for a sucker.

Compare this Corona situation this morning with that of Banning. Out there where they raised the roof with whoopee when they found the bonds had carried. Out there in Banning, where the aqueduct construction with Beaumont, the facade and the dam, but yet Banning is so thankful and enthusiastic over the success of the bonds that they are going to open the whole town up on Saturday in a victory celebration. In Corona, there wasn't hardly a peep, yet where Banning will receive one dollar for every dollar benefit, Corona will get a hundred. Can you figure out what kind of a city we've got?

The plans of construction of the Colorado river aqueduct places Corona in the KEY position. If it still is a doubt, but get any of the ten official maps of the big project and see where the greatest dam on the Colorado river is going to be. See where the main aqueduct, figure out how they are going to get the water into Orange county. Take a look at the Cajalco reservoir that extends a few miles from Corona clear over to Val Verde. After you've made this kind of an investigation, just put your finger on Corona's location on the map and see. . . . Or figure it out this way: Las Vegas was a small city, THIRTY miles from the Hoover dam. When that dam was started check up and see what kind of a city Las Vegas has become. Then try and figure out if you can, a dam, costing one-third of the Hoover dam, under construction between four and six years, within half and less than distance from Corona. What kind of an answer do you get from what you remember about your arithmetic?

If Corona is within' for "something to happen"—if this circle city of ours is like the greatest of other cities of the United States, figuring in some day there will be a return of prosperity, then there's going to be a big percentage of our population who will call us seventeen kinds of cock-eyed larks, for we advise that we are going to give to the people of the city, and that straight from the shoulder. We're going to make you as big as bet and you name your odds, that in five years from now if you check back on these statements of ours that you'll find they are right.

SUCCESS OF BOND ELECTION MEANS MUCH TO CORONA
$220,000,000 FOR AQUEDUCT GETS GREAT ENDORSEMENT FROM PEOPLE
Late returns from the election yesterday for the $220,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of a huge water supply tube from the Colorado river to the Los Angeles district, show that the six-eighths of the early returns are being maintained. Not only did Los Angeles give the bonds a great majority, but the twelve other cities as well.

It was known to the workers for the success of the bonds that Long Beach would be one of the principal sources of opposition, but the vote there showed the people favoring water by around four-to-one on their vote. Most of the automobiles to Long Beach yesterday, it is said that even the city of Banning, outside of the district, but enthusiastic over what the construction work would mean to them, sent forty automobiles to Long Beach yesterday to aid in getting voters to the polling places.

While Los Angeles and nearly every city in Southern California, especially those along the course of the aqueduct from the Parker intake to the Cajalco reservoir southeast of Corona were rejoicing over the success of the election, Corona people showed very little interest, only a few of the people apparently realizing what the bonds meant to this city.

Riverside county is the greatest gainer for most of the aqueduct, 265 miles long, power plants, dams and other construction will be done in this county. One of the two greatest construction projects of the route is (Continued on Last Page)

SCOUT TROOP NOW REORGANIZED AND READY FOR ACTION
O. T. CHAPIN, NEW SCOUTMASTER IS PLANNING ACTION FOR SEASON
Getting some of the enthusiasm imparted by their new leader and scoutmaster, O. T. Chapin, members of troop No. 35 of the Boy Scouts of America, in the district are entering on the fall and winter season with much vim. New officers of the troop have been elected and are cooperating with the scoutmaster toward the future success of the troop. These new officers, named at the last meeting, include: J. W. Greer, senior patrol leader; Stewart Beggs, acting assistant patrol leader; G. Morse, secretary; J. W. Greer, hike master and grubmaster; James Carlson, sports chairman; John Binnion, reporter; G. Morse, recorder.

The troop plans for an interesting meeting at the American Legion Memorial hotel on Thursday night, where plans will be made for some week-end over-night hikes. It is planned to spend most of the time next Saturday at the Corona-Mesa district, where work will be done on the interior of the building. The boys have plans for remodeling the interior to make the outing resort more attractive and to finish it up in pioneer style.

AMERICAN LEAGUE NIGHTBALL TEAMS TO ALL REMAIN
ROY HUNT IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NIGHTBALL GROUP
In all probability when the 1932 opening of the American Nightball League is ready, Corona will again have a team in the field ready for the bell. And according to the sentiment of the annual meeting at Riverside last night, all teams in the league will be strengthened through a more equitable distribution of playing talent. The story of the meeting at Riverside is told by Wilbur Fogleman of the Enterprise this morning as follows: A group of American league nightball managers accomplished things in a big way last night at a four-hour session held at the (Continued on Page Two)

GRUNION CALLING Soon Says Skipper

Bottom fishing is also fine with sculpin, bass, halibut and sandbars leading the catches.

RESERVOIR'S DAM NEAR CORONA TO COST NINE MILLION GREATEST LOCAL PROJECT IN HISTORY OF RIVERSIDE TO START
According to a Corona citizen who has been closely in touch with the authorities of the Metropolitan Water district, during the past few years and who has held numerous conferences with the engineers and others in the Los Angeles headquarters, this section of Riverside county promises to profit the greatest from the construction work during the next six years.

While many of the preliminary details were worked out over a period of a year or more, during which time the district spent nearly a million dollars in preliminary surveys, the real work will swing into action this morning in the office of the district at Los Angeles. Field forces are expected to be in Corona and other cities within a very few days.

Already there is considerable activity at the site of the dam, back in the hills from Temescal canyon, where drilling crews are securing a log of the formation of the hills surrounding the dam site. It is estimated that construction work of the dam and the laterals leading out of it, work to be done in the immediate Corona territory will be between nine and ten million dollars and during the four to six years required thousands of men will be given employment. It is said that preference will be given to all labor coming from the cities within the Metropolitan Water district, many of whom will move their families to a location nearest to the construction work.

HUNTER DIES AT HOSPITAL AFTER RESCUE IN HILLS
LOS ANGELES MAN LOST TWO DAYS IN MOUNTAINS PASSES AWAY TUESDAY
Riverside, Sept. 30.—Lorin Fife, thirty-six years old, Los Angeles resident who was rescued from San Jacinto mountains in a critical condition after he wandered lost for nearly two days, died yesterday morning at the county hospital. The death was attributed to cerebral hemorrhage by physicians. Fife was greatly weakened by exposure and exhaustion when he was found by a hunter, Dark Canyon last Sunday night. He was believed then to have suffered a heart attack and wandered away from friends with whom he had come to the mountains for a hunting trip. He was delirious when located and had lost much blood from cuts and scratches suffered when he attempted to penetrate heavy brush.

Community Tickets for Athletic Affairs
Because of a ruling of the tri-conference league officials that students' tickets to athletic events of the conference were good only for bonafide pupils of the schools from which they are issued a change in the policy of handling tickets for football, baseball, basketball and other events in the league circles has been announced by the Corona school authorities. A community ticket for adults which will admit the bearer to all athletic events will be sold for one dollar, good for the entire season. In the past, numerous townspeople used student's tickets to see the games but this year the custom was put under the ban.

Changes His Plea
Riverside.—A. P. Romo, for whom a jury trial was set in superior court Tuesday, changed his plea and the trial was cancelled. Romo pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or spend 100 days in the road camp, by Judge O. K. Morlan. The three counts on failure to stop following an accident, which had previously been filed against him, were thereupon dismissed.

IMMENSE LAKE IN CORONA AREA AS RESULT OF BONDS
CAJALCO RESERVOIR WILL EXTEND FROM CORONA TO NEAR RIVERSIDE
As a result of the bond election in Los Angeles and other cities of the Metropolitan Water district yesterday, Riverside county will gain the largest artificial lake in Southern California in the Cajalco reservoir, which will extend from a point south and east of Corona, to within two miles of the Riverside city limits at Arlington and to a point about three miles from Val Verde, close to the junction of the San Jacinto mountains where the terrain is absolutely secure, where water can be held without any danger of loss.

It will require a little more than five miles of tunnel to reach this basin after the aqueduct has traversed the Peris valley. The largest dam of this great reservoir will be south and east of the old tin mine. This will be an earth-filled dam of concrete lining. From near this dam, one line of the aqueduct will run west and south to Orange county, the exact route not yet fully decided upon. Another outlet from the reservoir will be on the north side and will lead toward Colton and thence along the foothills toward Pasadena and Glendale.

The body of water which the reservoir will create will be the largest in the state. At its deepest point it will probably be 150 feet from the top to bottom. Included in the reservoir are numerous farms and ranches, all of which will be purchased. Among them are the great Holmes ranch plantation where experiments have been carried on for several years in the raising of this tree.

Corona Goats Win at Pomona Classic
Mrs. Mattie Stiles of this city, returned home from the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona last week much elated, for not only was there an increased interest in the display of much goats on exhibition there, but some of Mrs. Stiles' herd were winners in their classes. Mrs. Stiles who was assistant superintendent of the milk goat department at the fair, believes that much of the increased interest in which she was so happily engaged was due to the fact that she had taken to the visit of Gandhi to England, taking along with him his private herd of food providers. Many testimonials of the healthfulness of goat's milk were displayed at the fair. The attendance was large and on Sunday morning in one hour, over 1800 people passed through the goat barnage section at the fair.

NOODLES FAGAN DIES
Funeral services for Noodles Fagan, famous stage and vaudeville star, who died in France while on a vaudeville tour, will be conducted in Long Beach on Wednesday. Corona people will remember "Noodles" who appeared several times on the stage of Glenn Harper's theatre in company with his daughter.

Rev. Johnston Meyers of the Emmanuel Baptist church, Chicago, is giving away 1000 loaves of bread each Sunday evening to the Chicago unemployed. The church is also supervising recreation in the city parks for underprivileged children.

EDUCATOR ADVISES Newspaper Reading
Colton, Sept. 30.—Joseph Waldron, superintendent of city schools, believes that the newspaper of today is a great educational force and of this belief he is furnishing newspapers for the schools so that the children can get their current events from them. Waldron says that in the past magazines which give a weekly review of the news were used. "But we have become convinced that it is better to take the newspapers," he said, "and let each child pick out his own topics."

COUNCIL SESSION MOSTLY TALKFEST ON MANY TOPICS
CITY FATHERS APPROVE PARK IMPROVEMENT WITH SOME CHANGES
All of the members of the city council were in their chairs last night when Mayor Herbert M. Key called for order. Councilman Caplan, absent for the previous two meetings, because of his trip to the northern part of the state, was again on duty. Last night's session was largely a talkfest. Numerous matters of business were discussed but not one official motion, save that to adjourn was recorded on the minutes by City Clerk Hinkley.

The council received letters of invitation to attend the conservation dinner meeting in Riverside and the Colorado river aqueduct jubilee at Banning. They also indulged in a short discussion as to the proper places to locate the new highway speed-limit signs, but have yet placed no order for their installation.

Mayor Herbert M. Key called the council's attention to the approaching time for the annual audit of the city's books, but no action was taken as to the selection of an auditor for the work. Much of the time of the session was spent in going over the city's financial organization, the plans for the landscaping of the two small municipal parks located on the south side of the circle boulevard. It was finally decided to return the plans to the city engineers with certain changes recommended, making a border of a hedge instead of small strips of grass together with other minor changes.

SMUGGLING LAW TO BE DRAWN, LOS ANGELES TO LEAD
COUNTY COUNSEL TO STUDY SUGGESTION FOR PROPOSED ORDINANCE
An official letter of opinion of the ordinance committee and a smoke puff which have been sent to the Los Angeles county counsel, dated Monday, Sept. 27, by the Los Angeles city council, hope that passage of a similar ordinance will be followed by similar ordinances in Riverside, Orange and Ventura counties. The Los Angeles board instructed the county counsel to study the situation with a view of drafting an ordinance to regulate or control orchard equipment. The Riverside county board was also considered in pressed to pass an ordinance to control orchard equipment on Monday. The matter was delayed. Passage of such an ordinance in Los Angeles may be followed by a similar law in this county.

His family will remain in Corona, but Elediesma promised Judge Freeman that Uncle Sam would never see him again, unless he dropped south of the border.

PHIL D. SWING CONGRESSMAN TO BE CORONA QUEST
AMERICAN LEGION WILL HOSTS AT DINNER MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT
Plans are going apace for the first official visit of Congressman Phil D. Swing to Corona on next Monday night, when he is to be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given to the local post of the American Legion. The event promises to be one of the most interesting and important of the year for Corona.

The meeting following the dinner, at which time Congressman Swing is to address the people of this city will be open to the public. Invitations have been issued by the Legion to the dinner to the service clubs and other organizations in the city.

The affair will be held at the American Legion Memorial home, Eleventh and Main streets, the dinner starting around six-thirty o'clock and the speaking program about eight o'clock. Reservations for the event are now being made by the Legion committee in charge of the affair.

Congressman Swing will have an important message for Corona at this time. He is a planning speaker, will versed in important affairs of the country and will give some very excellent first-hand information on matters which Corona people are interested in.

His family will remain in Corona, but Elediesma promised Judge Freeman that Uncle Sam would never see him again, unless he dropped south of the border.

Corona Prosperity Assured By Bond Election Affirmative Vote Tuesday

Cajolco Reservoir Cost May Top Seventeen Million Dollars

Returns from the Los Angeles election for the $220,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of a huge water supply tube from the Colorado river to the Los Angeles district, show that the six-to-one ratio of the early returns are being maintained. Not only did Los Angeles give the bonds a great majority, but the twelve other cities as well.

It was known to the workers for the success of the bond that Long Beach would be one of the principal sources of opposition, but the vote there showed the people favoring water by around four-to-one on their vote. Much election work was done in Long Beach Tuesday. It is said that even the city of Banning, outside of the district, but enthusiastic over what the construction work would mean to them, sent forty automobiles to Long Beach for the day to aid in getting voters to the polling places.

While Los Angeles and nearly every city in Southern California, especially those along the course of the aqueduct from the Parker intake to the Cajolco reservoir southeast of Corona, were rejoicing over the success of the election, Corona people showed very little enthusiasm, only a few of the people apparently realizing what the bonds meant to this city.

Riverside county is the greatest gainer for most of the aqueduct, 266 miles long, power plants, dams and other construction will be done in this county.

One of the two greatest construction projects of the route is near Corona, where the Cajolco reservoir main dam will be erected, at an estimated cost of $9,000,000. This will be located almost south and a trifle east of the old tin mine.

The other Riverside county project is a thirteen-mile bore through the San Jacinto mountains. Because the western portal is close to the city of San Corona, to within two miles of the Riverside city limits at Arlington and to a point about east of Corona, that community was openly rejoicing this morning.

The construction of the Cajolco reservoir and the two lines leading from it, both in the Corona area means an immense amount of work being done in this section during the next six years.

At the present time crews are at work drilling test holes south-east of Corona near the site of the dam. It is said that this will be an earth filled dam, covered with concrete, a most gigantic engineering project. It will require thousands of tons of dirt to be moved into its construction.

Corona will, in all probability, be the main source of entry to this dam, and most of the headquarters for the work will be out of here. Those closely in touch with the trend of affairs believe that hundreds of families of dam workers and officials will reside in Corona while the work is being carried on. They point out that Corona will be one of the busiest cities on the entire route and that much business will be given to this community.

Head Engineer Weymouth stated this morning that it will be some weeks before actual work will start, due to the sale of the bonds and smoothing out legal difficulties.

It is understood that field men will come to Corona immediately to start their operations locally, using this city as headquarters.

Final surveys will be made at once, right of way purchased and many of the preliminary details closed, now that the bonds are an assured fact.

As a result of the bond election in Los Angeles and other cities of the Metropolitan Water district Tuesday, Riverside county will gain the largest artificial lake in Southern California in the Cajolco reservoir, which will extend from a point south and east three miles from Val Verde, close to which the tunnel from the thirteen-mile bore through the San Jacinto mountains will empty waters from the Colorado river.

Nestling among the Gavilan hills at an elevation of 1405 feet the Cajolco reservoir, estimated to cost $17,000,000 will constitute one of the largest lakes in California—a magnificent body of water. From the shores of this lake one would be able to look down on the city and valley of Riverside, and to secure an unobstructed view of the Sierra Nevada mountains, Mt. San Jacinto and the Santa Ana range.

Work is under way continually at the reservoir site, holes being drilled and soundings taken to test the formation. It apparently has been demonstrated that this is the only basin that can be found west of the San Jacinto mountains where the terrain is absolutely secure, where water can be held without any danger of loss.

The largest dam of this great reservoir will be south and east of the old tin mine. This will be an earth-filled dam of concrete covering. From near this dam, one line of the aqueduct will run west and south to Orange county, the exact route not yet fully decided upon. Another outlet from the reservoir will be over the north side and will lead toward Colton and thence along the foothills toward Pasadena and Glendale.

The body of water which the reservoir will create will be the largest in the south. At its deepest point it will probably be 150 feet from the top to bottom. Included in the reservoir are numerous farms and ranches, all of which will be purchased. Among these are the great Holmes carob plantation where experiments have been carried on for several years in the raising of this tree.

Oregon State vs. U. S. C. Saturday

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—University of Southern California's re-amped football eleven, with a pair of seniors replaced by sophomores and with two other regulars playing in new positions, will be striving for their first victory in their last three starts when they meet the Oregon State eleven here Saturday afternoon.

Having lost the last game of the 1930 season and the first contest of the 1931 schedule, the Trojans for the first time in history under Coach Howard Jones have what may be termed a losing streak. The desire to break this streak and to get off in the Pacific Coast conference race with a good start is just one of the incentives that the Southern Californians have to make them put everything into Saturday's game with the Beavers.

According to Coach Jones, the team that he has been using as his first eleven in practice this week will start against the Stars. This does not mean that this team will be his first string from now on, as the "Head Man" is emphatic in his statement that he will reorganize the whole outfit again next week if the present eleven does not come through with the proper punch against the visitors.

Palmer, who is faster than Arbelo, was unable to play last week because of an injured leg, but he is getting back in good condition now. Besides being a good pass receiver and a fast man in the back field, Palmer is a good kicker and can be used in this department when Gus Shaver is out of the game.

Tay Brown, who played half of last week's game at right tackle, will start at left guard in place of Aaron Rosenberg, who has been shifted to left guard, where he met with a severe injury until the latter's injured leg is well. At right guard, Lawrence Stevens has been shifted to the first string line-up to take over the position of Bob Hall, who was injured last week.

The same backfield that played against St. Mary's will start against the Beavers, according to Jones' present plans. Shaver will start at quarterback, with B. C. Pinkert at right half, Tom Mul-lory at left half and Jim Musick at full.

STATE EDUCATOR TALKS TO PARENTS IN COUNTY SOON

Riverside, Sept. 29.—Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, will address a gathering of parents of Riverside county school students in the auditorium of the Riverside junior college on the night of Tuesday, October 6. The official will discuss problems related to education in the state.

Arthur G. Paul, director of the junior college, will welcome Superintendent Kersey to Riverside.

Dr. E. P. Clarke, member of the state board of education, will extend greetings of the board.

A group of Parent-Teachers' association leaders will also be present for the meeting, including Mrs. A. W. Price of San Diego, state president, Mrs. B. B. Clark of Sacramento, third vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Bingham of Palo Alto.

Following the program, an informal reception will be held in the junior college bungalow.

Riverside.—Frank Aguirre, arrested recently for burglary at Indio, was denied the probation which he sought when records revealed he had previously been imprisoned in similar affairs and was sentenced Monday afternoon by Judge O. K. Morton to serve a term in San Quentin.

Thunder and Lightning Play Havoc With Coronans Nerves in Big Storm

Hullabaloo in Electric Storm of Real Back East Variety

Bright sunshine this afternoon after the air had been clarified by the record electrical storm of the Corona community and the ground had been drenched with nearly an inch and one-half of moisture, the day turned out to be a real California fall affair. Starting in at two o'clock this morning and continuing up until noon rain fell in showers to the extent of 1.47 inches, according to the gauge of the downtown office of the water company.

This time last season there was no moisture recorded for the rainof H. G. Daniels, superintendent of streets, were kept busy on the year starting on September 1. The first rain fell last year on October 9, a total of 13 of an inch. In 1929 there was a total of 25 of an inch recorded on September 17.

Never in the history of the oldest inhabitant has there been such a display of lightning as last night and this morning. Vivid flash after flash and peels of thunder which shook the entire community, seemed to be right close to the ground. Part of the damage reported was a tree struck by lightning shortly after eight o'clock this morning in front of the Page residence on Southwest boulevard. The tree was split nearly to the ground, one part of which toppled over. Street crews under the direction storm drain system, which carried off an immense amount of water and functioned perfectly save for the debris which collected at the intakes. No damage and much good was reported from the rain. Closer to the foothills, A. E. Gamahl reported that at his ranch the rain fell in torrents at times, the debris being coming and the lightning was plenty thick and fast. No damage was done to citrus fruit or crops. It proved very beneficial to his growing tomato crop and put the ground in shape to receive several thousand more plants which are being set out this afternoon.

Dam Site to Be Made Accessible By Modern Highway From Corona, Plan

T. C. Jameson Moves With Celerity in Road Project

T. C. Jameson, of this city, chairman of the county board of supervisors, swung into action next morning following the news of the success of the bond issue Tuesday, when he instructed County Surveyor Pulmor and his crew of surveyors to run lines for a possible road leading from the downtown canyon to a point near the silica plant back into the Gavilan hills to the site of the $9,000,000 dam of the Cajolco reservoir.

Previously, Mr. Jameson had been over much of this territory in company with an engineer, and the supervisor believes that it will be possible to run a wide highway up to the dam site from this side, by using the Cajolco creek canyon for the route, although a survey may not prove this to be a feasible route.

Road From There to Here to Be Made Inviting

Another possible entry into the dam site would be from the road leading into the old tin mine from Magnolia avenue, although this would make considerable of a grade for the heavy trucks.

The Temescal canyon road would give an outlet from the dam site directly to the Santa Fe tracks. The tin mine road will lead to the Pacific Electric and the Santa Fe tracks to the north of Magnolia avenue.

Tons of building materials for the huge concrete dam which will impound the water in a canyon of the Cajolco district must be hauled through the hilly section for several miles and a dependable roadway is expected to be a necessity. At present another road into the area extends southward from Arlington through the Holmes carob ranch.

The reservoir project for the Cajolco district will be the main distribution point to the member cities of Southern California.

A mammoth lake is large enough for a railway locomotive and train to pass through, will bring the Colorado river water over what is known as the "Parker route," lying mostly in this county; to the Cajolco reservoir. A mammoth lake is expected to be formed by the impounding of the waters.

From the reservoir two main distribution lines will feed the cities; the upper and lower line, being designated by their route along the foothills and through the Santa Ana canyon district. Cities will receive the water at convenient places and turn the supply into their municipal distribution lines.

SHOCKED

Lightning which struck a bunk house on the A. R. McCarty ranch northwest of Corona this morning, nearly cost the life of "Mother" Ross, a woman employed in the kitchen of the ranch, who was near the building when the bolt came. She was knocked down and was unconscious for some time.

The crash came about eight-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Ross, who had just gone to the woodyard, was returning to the house, and the bolt struck near her as she was passing the bunk house. Other damage on the ranch included the putting out of commission the electrical and telephone service. Considerable electricity is used as power and fuel on the McCarty ranch, and this was rendered useless for some time until Edison men could reach the place and start the engine. No one was in the bunk house nor was the building set on fire, according to the meagre reports of the crash reaching Corona this afternoon.

The news of the near fatality to Mrs. Ross was brought to Corona by Mrs. Harry Johnson, who drove out to the McCarty ranch this morning to have Mrs. Ross accompany her to a meeting this afternoon. When she arrived at the ranch Mrs. Johnson found Mrs. Ross still unconscious from the shock.

A grin is a smile broke loose.

NEW LEADERS

Getting some of the enthusiasm imparted by their new leader and scoutmaster, O. T. Chapin, members of troop No. 55 of the Boy Scouts of the Corona-Norco district are entering on the fall and winter season with much vim. New officers of the troop have been elected and are cooperating with the scoutmaster toward the future success of the troop.

These new officers, named at the last meeting, include: J. W. Greer, senior patrol leader; Stewart Beggs, acting assistant patrol leader; G. Morse, scribe; J. W. Greer, hike-master and grubmaster; James Carlson, sports chairman; John Blinnin, reporter; G. Morse, recorder.

The troop plans for an interesting meeting at the American Legion Memorial home on Thursday night, where plans will be made for some more week-end or over-night hikes. It is planned to spend most of the time next Saturday at the cabin in Hidden canyon, where work will be done on the interior of the building. The boys have plans for remodeling the interior to make the outing resort more attractive and to finish it up in pioneer style.

FINISHED

Riverside, Sept. 29.—Completion of work on the Idyllwild forest highway where repairs and resurfacing of nearly six miles of the route has been in progress for the past several weeks, was reported Monday to the Riverside county board of supervisors by W. H. Berton, resident engineer of the federal department, and R. L. McKenzie, superintendent of the Riverside county road department.

During the work, county equipment was used under lease to the government. The project extends from the ranger station to a point above Strawberry creek. Construction of the present surfacing involved the tearing up of several miles of the old road base before refinishing the surface.

County prison camp crews have finished grading the part of the Pines-to-Palms highway which is being built jointly by the county, federal forest service in the San Jacinto and Santa Rosa mountains.

Removal of the prisoners to the new camp site at Dripping Springs, near Temecula, is under way under direction of E. C. Wicker, superintendent of the camp.

Feather River Is Misnamed; Report

Quincy, Cal. (UP).—After all these years, it seems the Feather River is misnamed. All the histories dealing with the river tell how Captain Louis Arguello, the Spanish explorer, came upon the Rio de Las Plumas, noted on its surface "myriads of feathers of wild fowl" and thereupon named it Rio de Las Plumas, or Feather river. Now, August R. Bidwell, grand-nephew of General John Bidwell, famous pioneer Californian, quotes his granduncle as saying that Arguello probably saw a cedar tree with low pollen inasmuch as no one

The tree was encountered when Sam Marcus, well driller, was sinking a well recently. His drill encountered an unexpected obstacle and other machines were brought into play. For seven feet the drilling continued before the redwood was cleared. The forest giant was encrusted in clay. It is recalled that the California redwoods first were seen in the Pajaro valley, and it is believed this particular tree fell untold centuries ago. The ocean which at one time covered this section, is believed to have left deposits over the giant and the shifting soil did the rest.

The South section of the Methodist Women's council will meet all day tomorrow at the Ed Davis home on Main street. A pot luck lunch will be served, with each one bringing her own table service.

Bluff Worked! — Taxpayers' League, Numbering 1000, Less 999, Sweeps in City Ticket by a Big Vote

From the time the first returns on the municipal election were received Tuesday night till the final result was compiled shortly before midnight, the standards of the successful candidates were never in doubt. Not once during the five-hour period following the close of polls was the report changed that Newman H. Gleason and Frank A. Healy were leading in the field and official announced their victory in the council race and that the incumbent city clerk and city treasurer, A. M. Hinkley and M. H. Bert were again re-elected.

The official final tabulation showed:

Better than 64 per cent of the qualified voters here cast their ballots Tuesday—the total vote accounted for 1413 citizens' participation in the contest. While this is not as high voting strength as has been exhibited here, it is regarded as an indication of the keen interest that swept the city during the closing days of the campaign.

Successful candidates Gleason and Healy will take their seats on the city council next Tuesday night after the present city

R.I.P.—Old, Sick, Homeless, a Pawn of Fate, Corona Resident Enters Upon the Great Adventure

Balked in his attempt to kill himself with a rifle before the eyes of four Corona youths, Clem Brynjolfson, 58, finally hurried himself under the wheels of a passing freight train near Porphyria, about two miles east of Corona, Saturday and met the death he had courted.

Brynjolfson had been a resident of Corona for the past six or seven years, employed much of the time by the Corona Water company where he was regarded as a steady, conscientious workman. He was a native of Iceland, coming to this city from Helena, Montana, where he has relatives.

Federal Agent Says No Work Available in Imperial Valley

Cantaloupes are NOT being shipped early out of the Imperial valley, according to A. J. Norton, special agent of the U. S. Shipments will not get under way to any extent until sometime next month, he said, and in any event, there is more

Mooney Belongs in Coop—Keep Him There, Rolph

SACRAMENTO — California's picturesque governor, "Sunny Jim" Rolph, will again become a figure of nationwide attention within the next few days, when he announces his decision on the fate of Tom Mooney, the state's most famous prisoner. Already the great newspapers and press associations of the country are installing telegraph instruments in the state capital, ready to flash the news to the public whether Mooney is pardoned or must remain in prison.

Governor Rolph was frankly annoyed the other day when one newspaper predicted he would order a future date commutation to prison. The governor issued a prompt and decisive denial that he has arrived at a decision.

Although Republicans still outnumber the Democrats 2 to 1 in California, a record Democratic registration is evidence of the keen interest in this state's present campaign for control of the Democratic delegation to the national convention held in August.

The biggest Democratic gains have been in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties, according to Secretary of State, Frank C. Jordan. But in three counties—Colusa, Kern and Imperial—the Democrats outnumber Republicans.

Delegations for Franklin D. Roosevelt, John N. Garner and Alfred E. Smith are swarming all over the state, and each camp is confident of victory.

Republican drum-beaters, with an untested Hoover delegation are having difficulty stirring up much enthusiasm for the forthcoming primary, it is reported.

Because of the embarrassment the present heavy Democratic registration may cause Republican aspirants at the state primary in August, leaders of that party are preparing to start a drive after May 2, in the hope of inducing Republicans who have strayed to get back under their party banner.

Many sportsmen who have been "keeping their powder dry" in anticipation of the privilege of practicing in a regulation shooting gallery right in Corona are delighted with the announcement that a rifle and revolver practice range is soon to be established in a new building on West Sixth street, just off Washington. The building for the gallery is being erected on one of Joy G. Jameson's business lots.

Since the first of the year there has been an appreciable increase in the number of revolver marksmen and the police target range in the southeast part of the city is being used almost daily. Many local marksmen are also using the old Parkview Country club rifle range, which at one time was one of the best in the country.

It is reported by Corona hardware dealers that the sale of more revolvers in the past few months than in any previous year shows that the sport is on the gain.

Next Tuesday, Coach Thome will take his athletes to the Washington school and on Thursday to the Lincoln school for exhibition.

Word was received by Mrs. Arthur Dickinson of this city Saturday afternoon from her son, Charles, that the Pomona College Men's Glee club was awarded first place in the national inter-collegiate glee club contest at St. Louis, Mo., Friday night. Yale University took second and Penn State third in the great song fest, according to Charles Dickinson, who is a member of the Pomona organization.

Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs. Esther Dickinson, Charles' grandmother, and Mrs. John Walker of this city will go to Claremont tomorrow to greet the Corona student when he and his associates return from their eastern trip. Pomona College students have planned a big rally at the Santa Fe station in honor of the returning national champions.

Little Women! — Jr. College Youngsters of W. I. C. Women Feel Grown Up, Shuffle Cards, Get New Deal

Preceding the program furnished by the Literary action of the Woman's improvement club, the organization held a business session yesterday afternoon which paved the way for the reorganization of the Junior Women's club. Mrs. R. I. Root presented for discussion the question regarding such action. Mrs. Lester Hampton, "mother" of the Junior club, told of a new branch which has grown up as an offshoot from the present Juniors.

This new group, she said, consisted of girls of approximately Junior college age who wish to reorganize under a new set of rules. They petition for sponsorship from the senior clubwomen. The club voted in favor of this sponsorship and a committee will meet with the girls in the near future to discuss plans.

To Appoint Delegates

Announcement was made regarding the state convention of Women's club which is to be held at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, May 4, 5 and 6. It was voted to let Mrs. W. G. Darst, president of the club, appoint the Corona delegates to this convention. Delegates to the county convention which will be held in Riverside, April 22, will also be chosen by the president.

Nominees Are Named

The Literary section will meet again April 18, it was reported. The topic for study and discussion will be "American Drama and American Science."

A report from the Nominating committee in regard to club officers for next year was read. The nominees for the next term are: Mrs. W. G. Darst, president; Mrs. George E. Stanley, first vice-president; Mrs. H. W. Hall, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank S. sweethearts.

Sketches Are Enjoyed

Two readings by Mrs. Washburn of Los Angeles opened the program. Both drew many laughs from the audience. Mrs. Snow, also of Los Angeles, gave a sketch, "A Blue-Grass Window," whose three parts recounted a widow's grief over her husband's death and her plans for her next wedding; second, the bride herself in her "sketch-bar widdie" veil; with her license, self-purchased; and third, showing her broken heart at being deserted at the altar. The skit was hilariously funny.

The third number on the program was another comical sketch by Miss Philana Boussett of Los Angeles who entitled her offering, "Philana's Lovers." In this, she took the part of an old maid recounting her three proposals from widely different types of Declaring that he noted a great improvement in health and poise among Corona high school students since his last examination period here several weeks ago, Dr. H. B. Wells, county health officer in charge of schools, paid a high compliment yesterday to the physical education department at the local institution.

He said that Corona students showed more advancement along health lines than any other school in the county, according to Coach L. G. Thome, who assisted the officer in his tests. On his first visit, Dr. Wells cited 29 boys for corrective exercises here. When he examined them yesterday the evidence indicated that the students took in his suggestions for better physical conditioning was apparent in their improved physical status.

Today Coach Thome was preparing special charts which will state what should be done by each boy to better his physical condition. These charts will be sent to their parents for checking and attention. It is believed that by close attention to home training the health standards of the school can be materially raised, he said.

Clean Sweep! — All Main-St. Holdings of the Nichols Estate Sold — Sale is Augury of Better Conditions

Complete success marked Saturday afternoon's auction sale of the vacant property of the R. L. Nichols' estate conducted in Corona by J. R. Sartain, 2367 West 21st street, Los Angeles, auctioneer and real estate broker. The sale was the first of its kind ever in Corona. Hundreds of bidders were included in the throngs which attended the auction on North Main street.

All lots on Main street were sold at prices ranging from $105 to $260. The five-acre tract was sold for $112 per acre. It was reported that this sale of real estate has had a marked effect on real estate operations in Corona and that it would prove an incentive to further similar action on the part of others who have property they wish to sell.

Sartain, who is a member of the Auctioneer's association, is considered one of its leading successful members. Consulting his reception here he assured the INDEPENDENT that he is going to be a Corona booster. Sartain's dealings made it plain that he knows real estate values as well as the rest has been found. He made many personal friends while here.

The survey will include Elgin, sent to their parents for checking and attention. It is believed that by close attention to home training the health standards of the school can be materially raised, he said.

County Roads Get Fed. Maintenance

75 Miles Gravel Surfaced by CWA Workmen

Nearly 75 miles of Riverside county roadways have been given a gravel surface as CWA projects during the last three months. It has been estimated by R. L. McKenzie, county highway superintendent, who has general supervision over the Federal road work.

Most of the road mileage, improved with the application of gravel lies in the eastern end of the county where the sparse settlements are unable to pay for hard-surfacing. The graveling projects continue to work begun a year ago under the old RPO unemployment relief program.

McKenzie's county-wide organization of district foremen and sub-foremen has been "lent" to the CWA department to maintain a general supervision over the projects, determining what roads should be improved and the order in which the projects shall be started.

Income Tax Warning Issued by Collector as 'Deadline' Nears

John P. Carter, Collector of Internal Revenue issued a warning today calling attention of the taxpayers to the fact that the deadline for filing income tax returns is drawing near, and strongly urges that, in order to avoid the 24 per cent penalty and 1 per cent interest provision for delinquency, that taxpayers file their returns early, also in order to secure the desired assistance from the deputies before the final rush begins. Returns must be filed on or before March 15.

The collector also called attention to the fact that all single persons having a gross income of $5,000 or a net income of $1,000 and all married persons having a gross income of $5,000 or a net income of $2,500 must file a return; single taxpayers who are the head of a family must file a return if their net income exceeds $1,000 even though they are exempt from taxation should exceed their net income.

The tentative plans will soon develop into a permanent program for the day. It will be an interdenominational service, the organ beginning to play at 12 o'clock noon and the closing hymn to be sung at 1:15 o'clock.

Business houses will be requested to close for an hour or two at noon in the past. Rev. Fred E. White, president of the Ministerial Association, will preside and Dr. Thomas F. NEW WORK PLAN MAY START SOON

No Delay Indicated by State Director

"That the new unemployment relief plan by the Federal government may be put into effect even before the demobilization of the CWA forces is completed, was indicated yesterday in dispatches quoting Edward Macaulay, Federal CWA director at San Francisco.

It was stated that a total of 9,525 men will be dropped from the rolls of workers on Friday, as part of the gradual lessening of the CWA forces. This will leave 50,000 men on the California rolls.

There will be 153 dropped from Riverside county rolls on Friday. Los Angeles county will lose 4,808 workers; San Bernardino county, 285; Imperial county, 108; Orange county, 162; and San Diego county, 324.

County List Out Again

Riverside county's CWA employment list will be slashed to a total of 1,515 next Friday by orders received yesterday by LaRoy P. Simms, CWA county head, from Macaulay. The personnel reduction, third in the nation-wide move to taper off the CWA to a conclusion by May 1, will remove 293 workers from the payroll.

Releases of workmen are made on a basis of actual need, those having other sources of support, such as another wage-earner in the family, being let out first, he pointed out. Approximately 9,500 CWA workers are affected by the third reduction throughout the state, it is reported.

ASK APPOINTMENT OF LOCAL BANKER AS LAND TRUSTEE

Fred E. Snedecor was named in a petition for his appointment as trustee for property in La Sierra Heights which has been held in trust by the United States National bank of Los Angeles, now defunct, according to papers filed with the Riverside county superior court by W. J. Hole, prominent La Sierra and Los Angeles landowner.

Property involved includes 12 lots in Chadbourn Heights, La Sierra, and 40 shares of stock in the Twin Buttes Water company. The land involved was acquired by Hole by a quiet title action in the Riverside county court which ruled that J. J. and Stella Strauss were not entitled to ownership. The judgment was entered October 1933. Previously the Strausses had obtained appointment of the Los Angeles bank as trustee, with a provision that the trust could be terminated upon demand of the trustor.

The Strausses are now suing Hole for more than $400,000 damages growing out of their interest in the land, which was wrongfully sworn out by the wealthy landowner.

13 Varieties of Game Fish 'Rescued,' Says Commission Report

The State Fish and Game Commission maintains a fish rescue bureau, and this important unit of the Division was responsible during 1933 for saving for the anglers of California 2,766,342 game fish. Those rescued comprised some 13 varieties.

These fish were taken from lands flooded from irrigation ditches and canals, or from waterways that during the summer months did not carry enough water to sustain fish life. Game wardens assisted greatly in this important work.

AMAZE A MINUTE SCIENTIFACTS BY ARNOLD

The FARMERS CORNER

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

The debt problem, one of the greatest obstacles in the path of agricultural recovery, may be materially lightened for California farmers, at least so far as carrying charges are concerned, as the result of a new movement now underway to reduce debt-overhead. The new development comes as an aftermath of excessive and constantly mounting charges for title certificates, title insurance, etc., incident to making or renewing farm loans and loans on real estate generally.

And strikes at the root of the problem by providing a system for eliminating all future need for title insurance and costly title procedure after a clear title has been established. Although the "Wind toward 'single action' title method is comparatively new, the method itself has been legal and available since 1914, when the people, by a large majority, approved of the Torrens Land Title Law.

Tried and proven during the years since its enactment, and upheld as to its constitutionality in the State Supreme Court, the simplified Torrens title system was largely ignored during the "flush years." But depression years, bringing with them an insistent demand for reduced overhead and the elimination of former extravagances, have brought the old law into new favor, with the prospect that thousands of farmers will avail themselves of the system in the near future.

Briefly, the Torrens law provides a means of clearing title to a piece of property in a single action, eliminating all future demands for title searches, abstracts of title, title insurance and other costly procedure. As explained by Arthur P. Will of Los Angeles, the state's first legislative counsel, who was in office at the time the law was enacted, the procedure requires a survey of property lines and a description, according to metes and bounds, or according to a recorded map. A suit is then instituted in Superior Court by quiet title "against all parties known or unknown" and to settle officially, the description of the property.

Actions under the law are not subject to the ordinary delays of civil procedure, the case taking precedence over other cases on the calendar and thereby speeding determination. In abstracts of fraud, the title so decreed is good against the world, one year following its issuance. The owner, having availed himself of the Torrens Law, has an absolute title and the county clerk is required to keep a complete, up-to-date record of the property in one book. The advantage of the system lies in the fact that the owner of the property, when he makes a loan, renews a loan, or transfers title to his holdings, escapes all title costs and is only required to pay a $4 transfer fee to the county clerk.

In Los Angeles county, where more than 100,000 acres of property already have been registered under the Torrens act, the courts

Would Abolish Two Big State Bureaus

Complete abolition of two major state departments is recommended by State Treasurer Chas. G. Johnson, potential candidate for governor, as the first step in his announced program to tear down what he declares to be the "extravagant and useless bureaucracy in state government."

"In the interest of both economy and efficiency, I would abolish the state department of finance and the state department of institutions as the first steps of my plan to wipe out or consolidate fully half of the 152 boards, bureaus and commissions," he said.

Hints for the Household

FOR MARCH

By Betty Webster

In the spring, although no poet has ever sung a song about it, the housewife's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of housecleaning and she gets busy shining up her house. It used to be that May was a popular month for the semi-annual clean-up but, in most places the weather is too warm then for hard labor and so, the modern mistress has advanced her cleaning time to this month.

Clean-Up Needs

Of course, the most essential things at this time are plenty of cleaning rags, dust cloths, a good scrubbing brush, a mop, a broom, a dust mop, a vacuum cleaner, soap and cleaning powder. Any old underlayer, pieces of shorts, etc., make good cleaning rags and cheesecloth dustcloths are easily procured. The best sort of scrubbing brush is one with a pointed end for reaching into corners. The broom should be firm and the dust-mop pliable so that it can be used in small spaces. There is nothing like a vacuum cleaner for upholstered furniture, rugs and drapes.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. Wax can be removed from cloth by placing the marred fabric between two blotters and pressing with a hot iron.
2. Adhesive tape can be removed from the skin with gasoline.
3. Alcohol will take gum from cloth.
4. A cloth dampened with ammonia can be used to remove color to spotted clothing.
5. A brush with steel bristles is the best thing to use for cleaning stove doors.

Salmon Souffle

Remove skin and bones from the contents of one large can of salmon and separate into flakes; season with one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper, one-half tablespoon of lemon juice and one teaspoon of finely chopped parsley.

Cook one-half cup of bread crumbs in one-half cup of milk, stirring constantly; add salmon and the yolks of three eggs. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold into the salmon mixture.

Turn into well-greased baking dish and set in a pan of hot water; bake in a moderate oven until well puffed and firm or, rather, serve at once with pimento sauce.

Oyster Roast

Since the oyster season is so nearly over, I thought that you might like a new way in which to serve this delicious food because it is so late in the year; so here is an unusual recipe:

1. cup of oyster liquor
- 1 pint of oysters
- 1 cup of milk
- 1 cup of cooked celery
- 2 cups of cracker crumbs
- 1 cup of minced ripe olives
- 1 tablespoon of fat
- Salt and pepper to taste

Mix ingredients and cook until done in a buttered baking dish in a moderate oven.

Missouri farmers are said to have grown a million acres of Korean lespedeza in 1933. Sounds like something we ought in our breakfast food.

SOMETHING ABOUT ASTHMA

By Dr. WM. J. SCHOLLES

Since we are using the protein tests for asthma we are finding that many persons may be asthmatic without having the paradoxical as that may be. What I mean is this: A patient may be asthmatic from one of several causes without having true asthma, namely, spasm of the bronchial tubes.

Causes of Asthmatic Attacks

There are a number of diseases in which the continuous shortness of breath, simulating asthma, and which are mistakenly diagnosed as asthma, is a prominent symptom.

In many cases of heart disease asthmatic attacks can be asthma. In some forms of kidney diseases shortness of breath, asthmatic attacks, are quite common. In "tailor's lung" the lungs are often become congested, the lining of the bronchial tubes is thickened, and their lumen narrowed, giving rise to attacks of shortness of breath, which is often mistaken for true asthma. Hardening of the arteries, leading as it does to high blood pressure, often induces asthmatic attacks. The shortness of breath complained of by asthmatic patients likewise belongs to this class. Many cases of exophthalmic goiter are diagnosed as asthma.

In addition to the total assessment on lands, buildings and personal property, the assessor levied a tax of $1.50 on stocks and bonds and $848.20 on solvent credits held by Riverside county residents.
