A TOWN WHICH HAS SPRUNG UP AS IF BY MAGIC.

Brick Blocks Taking the Place of Sheep Corals, and Old-Time Pastures Converted into Orange Groves and Vineyards—An Unobscured Location for a Town, and the Substantial Resources Which are Building It Up.

Special Correspondent of The Tribune, South Riverside.—Within the past two or three months South Riverside has begun to be heard of among the new towns along the line of the Santa Fe Railroad, now building from Riverside to Los Angeles. Everybody who knew anything about the location of the town and the character of the country which surrounds it expected a rapid growth, but it is doubtful if the most sanguine friends of the enterprise would six months ago have predicted any such remarkable sales of property and substantial improvements as have been made here. The new town is fifteen miles southwest of Riverside, and when the Railroad is completed it will be only forty miles by rail from here to Los Angeles.

The famous Magnolia avenue, the pride of Riverside, with its shaded drives, beautiful orange groves and handsome residences on either side, is the main road between Riverside and South Riverside. The improved part of this avenue, that is the portion of it along which the shade trees have grown to good size, comes to an end within three or four miles of South Riverside. The extension, which has been laid out and will be improved this summer, carries it beyond the town to the foothills, where it will terminate in a 300-acre park. Celebrated as it has been heretofore as a delightful drive, this extension of the avenue will, in the course of a few years, make it still more famous. As now laid out it will be twenty miles long and 132 feet wide all the way, and there will not be a hill to climb, or a piece of any kind of bad road to go over in driving from one end to the other.

The lands upon which the town of South Riverside is located belong, or rather did belong until something like $800,000 worth of it was sold to people who are now either improving or getting ready to improve and cultivate it, to the South Riverside Land & Water Company, a corporation of which Mr. R. B. Taylor is the manager. This company last year purchased 15,000 acres of land lying in the Temescal Valley, and at once set about to supply it with the water necessary for irrigating purposes. At out 10,000 acres of this tract is CHOICE CULTIVABLE LAND.

The soil is practically the same as that of the lands at Riverside, which it has been demonstrated is exactly suited to the production of oranges, lemons, limes, raisin grapes, figs, and all the varieties of semi-tropical fruits. There was no occasion for experimental operations in the establishment of a colony here. The quality of the soil and the character of the climate made it absolutely certain that the only thing necessary to transform the sheep pastures into orange and lemon orchards, and vineyards, was a sufficiency of water. To develop the water, of course, required capital, and when the railway commenced building it was not long until the requisite amount of capital was attracted to this point.

Persons familiar with the geography of this section of the State know that Elsinore Lago is the largest of a series of small lakes which extend down this way. It is from one of these lakes, known as the Lac Lake, that the water has been brought in a 30-inch cement pipe to irrigate the South Riverside tract. It is now being distributed under pressure to each lot laid out on the tract, and this colony will have, perhaps, a greater ABUNDANCE OF WATER than any other colony in this section of the State, with the possible exception of Riverside. The system of selling the water right, with each parcel of land, which seems to be most satisfactory, as it gives purchasers the right to regulate matters to suit themselves, has been adopted here, and the irrigation system will be entirely under the control of the colonists. The water which is to be used for domestic purposes comes from a different source, and there is not a drop in the State which can boast a more perfect system. The water is the purest and best of mountain water taken from springs and stored in two splendid reservoirs, one of which is located about 80 feet and the other about 350 feet higher than the town of South Riverside. The lower reservoir, which gives pressure sufficient for carrying water to the second and third floors of the buildings, furnishes the supply for ordinary domestic uses, and the upper reservoir is designed to supply the most perfect and complete protection against fires. Direct connection can be made with this reservoir, and there would be no difficulty in putting out fires in the sky parlor of a ten-story building at South Riverside.

The lands of the South Riverside Company, adjoining the town site have been laid out in two and one-half, five, ten, and twenty-acre lots, so that it is an easy matter for settlers to obtain just the amount of land they want. I have said that about $800,000 worth of these lands have been sold since they were put on the market four or five months ago. The most important thing about these sales, and the thing which makes it evident that this is to be just such a hive of industry as the Riverside Colony, now sending its products all over the country, is the fact that the lands have been sold almost entirely to small purchasers, who will become actual residents and tillers of the soil. This means that the Temescal Valley or mesa, which ever is the proper name for it, is very soon to become the home of a thousand or more families, representing a population five times as large. They are coming here to engage in a business which has made Riverside, their nearest neighbor, rich and prosperous, and which is just as certain to yield the same handsome returns here. The purchaser of a tract of land knows he can grow the citrus fruits and raisin grapes year after year, and that his annual income from this source cannot fail to be from $100 to $500 per acre. With such results a five-acre or a ten-acre farm enables the owner to live comfortably and put by a good bit for a rainy day. If any one doubts that these results can be realized, he can set his mind at rest by getting the actual figures as to the profits of orange growing at Riverside. Of course, the fruit-growing industry which will be developed here will be the principal thing to build up South Riverside. Still it will have other quite substantial resources. There is a splendid granite quarry in the hills just back of the town, which has been opened and will probably be worked quite extensively. Then there is an immense limestone deposit, where hundreds of barrels of lime are being made now. A superior quality of clays and minerals are found in abundance in these hills and fire brick, crockery and tile-making establishments will undoubtedly be started here. I have seen some fine specimens of crockery made from the clay obtained here and this ought to develop into an important industry. Gypsum and another kind of rock which makes a fine mineral paint, may also be mentioned among the resources of the surrounding country, which is so rich in attractions for tourists and pleasure seekers as it is in natural resources. The Temescal Hot Springs which are pretty well-known, but have not been very well patronized heretofore, on account of their inaccessibility, are only a few miles from here, and the lakes, which are known as a sort of sportsman's paradise, are easily reached. With these and other attractions in the immediate neighborhood, a location which is free from frost and fog, and that peculiarly delightful variety of climate which brings so many people to Riverside to spend their winters. THE TOWN OF SOUTH RIVERSIDE will of course become a popular resort, and this, too, will contribute to its prosperity. The plan upon which the town has been laid out is unique, and I am inclined to think will make it the handsomest of the many handsome towns now building up in Southern California. In the first place, "the lay of the land" is most admirable. It slopes from the foothills to Temescal Creek, a slight but almost perfect grade. There is scarcely an inequality of the surface, and there is not a rough precipitous, or unsightly place on the mass. It is high enough to command a view of a great extent of the surrounding country. Ontario, which is twenty miles away, Pomona, Cucamonga and Riverside, can be plainly seen and the peaks of the San Jacinto, San Bernardino, and Coast Range mountains, loom up in the distance, and make the out-look most picturesque and pleasing. I have already mentioned the extension of Magnolia avenue, which will be one of the prominent features of South Riverside. Another avenue which has been laid out on the same plan is Ontario avenue. It leads toward and in time will extend to Ontario. The town proper is laid out inside of a circular driveway 100 feet wide, called the Boulevard. It is just three miles around this drive, which will be as level and as smooth as a race-track. Pepper trees have been planted around the outside of the Boulevard and trees of every variety grown in Southern California around the inside. Inside the circle the lots which are of the ordinary size, have been laid out so that each lot has a front and back entrance. Up to this time the building has been mainly in the centre of the circle, on the streets which will constitute the business portion of the town, but some very handsome residences are to be put up on the Boulevard this summer. Mr. R. B. Taylor is just getting ready to build a $10,000 residence on this drive, Mr. Geo. L. Joy will build one costing something like the same amount, and other gentlemen who have large interests here will follow their example. It appears, by the way, that South Riverside does not propose to be satisfied with one railroad. The line which is now being built will be a portion of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe trunk line, and as it comes through the edge of South Riverside, and a $6,000 depot is built at the foot of Main street, a less ambitious town might be satisfied with this. They are, however, to have another railroad here. The Pomona, South Riverside & Elsinore Railroad Company filled articles of incorporation, and now has a gang of men surveying a line between those points. South Riverside is on the route of this proposed line of railway, which I am assured by men prominently connected with the enterprise, is to be built at once. The Southern Pacific Company is also surveying a line through here, and its intention undoubtedly is to tap this productive and rapidly growing section of the country with a branch line. The fact is, a boom of magnificent proportions, a boom backed by substantial resources, and one which has come to stay, has just been turned loose over here, and the rapidity with which the country round about, and this town in particular, will fill up, will surprise even those who have most carefully watched the phenomenal growth of other peculiarly favored neighborhoods and localities in this portion of the State.

LOCAL NOTES.

Warm weather this week.
 John VanKirk returned from Bear Valley last week.
 Don't forget the social Tuesday evening.
 Rev. W. G. Cowan and wife drove to San Bernardino Thursday.
 Chas. Schmeiser and Fred Brown returned from Newport on Tuesday.
 Richard Hamner returned from a two or three months visit to Alabama on Tuesday.
 We have received the first number of Plain Talk, a People's Party campaign paper printed in San Bernardino.
 If you have not registered you should do so at once. Call on Jno. L. Merriam and have him put your name on the register.

Crushed porphyry rock for the paving of streets in San Bernardino is being shipped in almost train load lots from South Riverside daily.

Dr. F. M. Price of Colton county Health Officer, was in South Riverside on Tuesday and was shown over the colony by Dr. R. D. Barber.

J. E. Shields of the Riverside Enterprise and Ben C. Jordan of the Press, called at this office on Monday. Gentleman we are sorry that we are not at home. Come again.

Elmer Walters examination was completed on Monday afternoon and Justice Gleason held him in the sum of $5,000 to appear before the Superior Court. Bonds were furnished the next morning and he is now at liberty.

J. M. Kelly, C. C. Wall, Walter Korn, W. Bonfoey, W. G. Wall, and Herb C. Foster left on Wednesday for Little Bear Valley where they go to have a good time for a few days.

The decision of Justice Gleason gives general satisfaction here as the Walters boys are well thought of in South Riverside, Riverside and the Temescal valley and they have many friends who will do all they can to help them.

The old residents of South Riverside were greatly surprised last Saturday morning by the appearance of Sam Augus in their midst. He has returned after an absence of four years and has opened up a barber shop in the Joe Vogel building. Sam will do well as he has many old friends here.

From St. Louis news comes that the syndicate being formed for the purchase of a large tract of land in South Riverside and the planting of the same to citrus trees is progressing finely. The tract of land is that fine body of land between Kellogg and Hudson avenues in Orange Heights. The land is choice the location beautiful and of the syndicate secures it they will have something that it will be hard to equal in Southern California.

M. B. Fassett, of the North Ontario Fruit Company, vouches for the statement that one Southern California fruit rancher sold his crop of Royal apricots this year from three acres for between $1000 and $1100. That is nearly $400 per acre for apricots, and if anybody has a better showing we should like to hear from him. The price received was only a cent a pound, so that there must have been about 20 tons of fruit to the acre.—Record.

At this writing it looks as though the 1892-3 crop of oranges will come in on a fairly hungry market, and if so, good prices will rule. This opinion is largely grounded on the fact that when deciduous fruit (green, dried and preserved) has been too high, for general consumption, that citrus fruit finds better favor with the masses during the winter and early spring months, and therefore any increase in the crop will undoubtedly be cared for before the end of June, 1893.—

Rev. W. G. Cowan and family returned from their outing at Long Beach last week.

D. A. Sovereign and family have returned from their outing at Cold Water canyon.

See the advertisement of the Albany Dental Association in another column.

Earnest Coburn took a trip to Catalina Island on Saturday and returned Wednesday.

San Diego county offers to furnish for the World's Fair a palm 123 years old, 50 feet high.

Dr. R. D. Barber spent Sunday at Long Beach with his daughters, Misses Dora and Flossie Barber.

Wm Corkhill and family and John Siege and family returned from their outing at Cold Water on Wednesday.

Rev. E. B. Tuthill will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday at the usual hour of morning service 10:30 a. m.

Rev. A. Fletcher and wife were at Santa Monica this week in attendance upon the Southern Convocation of the Episcopal Church.

Episcopal service will be held in the school house on Sunday next at 10:30 a. m. Holy Communion service. Rev. A. Fletcher, Pastor.

The total number of assessments in this county is as follows: In the city of San Bernardino there are 2346 different assessments; Riverside 2593, Redlands 1716, Colton 589, Ontario 258. In the county outside the cities 7125, an increase over the city of 1100. Total for the entire county 14,583.—Record.

Don't fail to see "a pair of lunatics" at the opera house Thursday evening, April 21.

James P. Robinson is unfortunate enough to have a very sore foot, the result of a kick from a horse.

Mrs. Schumann-Heink concert at Riverside Wednesday evening was a grand success. A special train brought the Corona attendants home.

W. D. Waltham is installing a large gasoline pumping plant on his property north of the Santa Fe railroad track.

J. F. Mitchell of the Hotel Glen. Ivy has purchased a new Ford automobile, which is a fine looking machine and is first-class in every particular.

A. L. Taber has about completed the addition to his Sixth street building. Mr. Taber now has a fine place for automobile work, repairing, etc.

The opera "The Wishing Well" is by local talent, and will prove a rare treat to all who attend the opera house Thursday evening, April 21st. Tickets 50c and 75c.

The libel suit brought by County Clerk W. W. Phelps vs. Times-Mirror company of Los Angeles will be called in the superior court of this county on Monday April 25.

Workmen are busily engaged on the new electric transmission line from Mt. Lassen to Temescal, and it is hoped to have the same completed at an early date.

The concert and ball to be given by the Riverside Military Band, in the Corona opera house, Tuesday, April 19, 1904, promises to be one of the best treats of the season. Don't fail to attend either or both.

The old gasoline engine belonging to the Temescal Water Company was being hauled to Riverside, where the Riverside Machine Works will repair the same and put them in good working order and sell them.

The school trustees have called another public meeting to take place Saturday evening, the 23rd inst., at the schoolhouse, to consider the advisability of holding another high school bond election for the purpose of buying a school site and erecting a high school building. The bonds would have carried the last election, but the site included a little more ground. The location was all right, but a good many thought there should be more ground for the money.

The last day of auction of Wheeler's stock of jewelry—Saturday (today) afternoon and evening. Every lady purchaser will be presented with a silver thimble on Saturday afternoon. Special bargains in goods at your own price, everything to be sold. Come in and get a line watch, chain, charms, lace, pin, ring, or anything we have at your own price. A CORONA PRODUCT

Granite Which Equals the World Famed Barre UNLIMITED SUPPLY TO THE NORTH

Fairchild, Gilmore Wilton Co. of Los Angeles Control Supply

Few people either in or out of Corona have an adequate conception of the vast natural resources.

There have been mines of gypsum and the various pigments, clays, of every quality for almost every class of work, great pockets of cement sand, and quarries of building rock and fine granite exploited in past. Most of these enterprises have been operated on small capital and have been impossible to know very touch of their real value.

Fairchild, Gilmore Wilton Co. of Los Angeles, one of the largest stone paving contractors in the state, several years ago bought the right to quarry rock from the hills extending over an area of 500 acres from Alford following the range to a point about two and a half miles north-east of Corona. Since then they have employed in the quarries from 15 to 40 men depending on the demand for stone. The monthly output of rough stone is between 500 and 1000 cubic feet and brings about $1.25 a foot.

John Fletcher who has practically been manager of the quarries since May 17, 1903, about 18 months ago took a contract through his company for Lane Brothers of Los Angeles to get out huge blocks of stone known as "New Barre Perceps Granite" for the mausoleum for Thomas Higginz of Los Angeles which is now about completed and represents one of the hand-somest tombs constructed on the western coast. It can be seen in the new Calvary cemetery in Los Angeles.

The tomb itself stands about twenty feet square by about thirty high. Every stone it came from the Corona quarries. The stone from which the two gables were secured weighed about thirty tons in the rough. There are four blind doors which measure dressed 9x4 1/2 feet by six inches thick. Most of the blocks used weighed from two to eight tons. The cost of the granite and labor put down will exceed $30,000.00. The cap stone and one or two small pieces are being quarried this week and it is expected the mausoleum will be completed within a month.

There are twelve pillars supporting the gables which have been brought to a high polish surmounted by a beautiful specimen of hand carving. Above the entrance is a hand carved crucifix, so far as is known the only piece of statuary made from California stone.

Mr. Fletcher, who is a typical Scotchman, is emphatic in his praise of Corona's inexhaustible supply of granite. He is familiar with the celebrated granite of Scotland, Sweden and the world-famed Barre granite of Vermont, and he states that for all purposes Corona's product ranks with Vermont. It has an excellent color, takes a fine polish, is free from mica, and does not split easily which makes it especially valuable for carving purposes, ranking well up with the granite taken from Westerly, Rhode Island, which is celebrated for sculpturing purposes.

The granite force was increased this week by the arrival of James Grant, John Thomas and son, and Joseph Bennett, expert quarry men, all from Barre, Vermont.

VERY SATISFACTORY

Dr. M. B. Hoff and Marshal W. D. Lyman representing the members of the Board of Health made their tour of inspection Saturday morning. A great many places were visited where the owners of the property were notified to clean up at once which was immediately complied with. One place near the depot was notified a second time and it is believed the notification will be promptly heeded. In the main conditions were much better than they had expected to find.

W. C. Donnan of the New England Bakery Loses by Big Fire

W. C. Donnan of the New England Bakery had his household goods destroyed in a $7000 fire which wrecked the McVean Van and Storage Company of Los Angeles early Sunday morning.

Fire, which originated from crossed electric light wires, wrecked the warehouse of the McVean Van and Storage Company, 948 East Second street, at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, entailing a loss of about $7000, of which $2000 was on the building and $5000 on contents. Both losses were fully covered by insurance.

The building was well ablaze when the fire was discovered, but speeded work by the fire department confined the blaze to the second floor, the building being a two story brick structure. The damage on the ground floor was mainly by water. The storehouse was packed to the walls but there will be considerable salvage.

It is the intention of the company to tear down the old building and erect a modern fire-proof structure. Mrs. Donnan left for Los Angeles Monday to get the particulars regarding their property.

MADE IN CORONA

That is What Can be Said of Fred Brown's New Wagon

English & Granson have just completed a most creditable piece of work in the shape of a brand new delivery wagon for Fred Brown.

Not a single part of this wagon was done out of town. The same wagon in Los Angeles would cost $180 but in Corona English & Granson can make them for $125. It is the first complete vehicle they have ever performed out in this city. It is a single horse wagon of substantial build with two by 1 inch tires, the body is finished in cherry enamel stripped with gold, this work was done by R. A. Martin, the lettering by Wm. Gorkhill, both are creditably done.

It is to be hoped this is another industry of Corona that will develop to great proportions.

A NEW DEPARTURE

The Tuesday Musical Club Will hold Meetings but once a Month

The program for the coming year of the Tuesday Musical Club has just been completed and is as follows:

- Year's Program
October 2, Ballad Form—Mrs. G. R. Freeman and Miss Barber.
November 6, Sonatas—Mrs. T. C. Jameson and Mrs. Robt. Wollitz.
December 4, Oratorio—Mrs. Mary French and Mrs. M. Patterson.
January 1, Folk Song—Misses Greta and Marjorie Wyatt.
February 5, Symphony—Mrs. C. E. Hildner and Mrs. H. A. Prizer.
March 5, Ancient Dance Form—Mrs. Earle McDonald and Miss Clayton.
April 2, Opera—Mrs. S. E. French and Mrs. Chas. Wyatt.
May 2, American Composers—Mrs. G. Anderson and Miss Drinkwater.
June 6, Italian Music—Mrs. F. Geith and Mrs. G. Austin.

It is the intention of the club members to meet but once a month this year instead of every two weeks. In this way they will be permitted more time in preparation of the work and it is hoped each meeting will prove a well-rounded musical treat. There is some talk of making the meetings public or at least open to invitation generally given by members of the club with possibly a small admission fee which would be used in defraying the general expenses of the club; this matter, however, has not yet come before a regular meeting and will not be decided until later.

COMPLETE REPORT

CORONA'S SUCCESS NOW ASSURED

Decision of Superior Court Affirmed in Every Particular

Perris valley is a basin of forty or fifty square miles in extent. The surface soil is of inferior character, arid and alkaline. At a depth varying from eight to forty feet below the surface the land consists of unstratified silt, detritus and gravels. The voids in this soil carry water, and the water-bearing soils are from one hundred to four hundred feet in depth. Contiguous to Perris valley is Menefee valley, a somewhat similar though smaller tract of land. The surface soil of the Menefee valley is of better quality than that of Perris valley, and, like the latter, rests on water-bearing gravels. The Temescal Water Company, defendant herein, is a corporation engaged in the collection and distribution of waters for the use of its stockholders and others. It supplies the inhabitants of the town of Corona with water. The town of Corona, with a population of 2700, has grown up dependent upon the water supply of defendant, and property to the value of $4,000,000, is subject to complete destruction should that supply fail. Of that supply all except an insignificant portion is taken by the defendant from Perris valley. In collecting and husbanding this water and delivering it to its consumers the defendant has expended nearly a million dollars, and the value of its water rights is estimated at not less than two million dollars. In January, 1904, the defendant first purchased 160 acres of this water-bearing land in Perris valley, and from wells then existing and from additional wells which it bored, pumped water from said lands into saturated gravels and carried it through its flumes and conduits for about forty miles to the lands of its stockholders at Corona. Subsequently, in March, 1903, the defendant purchased 349 additional acres of like lands. Thereafter it pumped and conveyed from its lands, so acquired, six hundred or more inches during the irrigating season of each year. Upon March 1, 1904, some six land owners in Perris valley, one of whom, the plaintiff Newport, is also a land owner in the Menefee valley, brought this action for an absolute injunction to restrain the defendant from further pumping and carrying off the waters of Perris valley. The essential allegations of their complaint, upon which were founded their demand for an injunction are that the plane of saturation when not illegally interfered with, stands from within eight to twenty feet of the surface of the grounds that upon their lands were growing trees, vines, grasses and shrubbery, sustained by the waters so standing at this level; that by capillarity, percolation and like natural forces these waters were raised to the surface, moistening and nourishing the roots of herbage and vegetation; that the effect of the pumping of defendant was to lower the plane of saturation so as to render it impossible for the water to reach the roots and thus destroy the vegetable growths. It was further charged that each of the plaintiffs used and had used large quantities of the water for crops and for the nourishing of vines and trees; that this lowering of the water plane by defendant made pumping more difficult and expensive and would in time deprive plaintiffs of all water. Finally, it was alleged that Menefee valley, with Perris valley, formed a part of one and the same disjunct result. The defendant answered by denying the alleged acts and the resultant damage. It denied any subterranean connection between the water-bearing gravels of Perris valley and Menefee valley, and alleged that these valleys were disconnected and were in different water sheds. As to the lands in Perris valley, it denied that in a state of nature the saturated gravels in any way contributed to the nourishment of the vegetation, and alleged that the lands were in great part alkaline and unfit for husbandry, and could not produce fair crops either from the sub-surface waters or from the surface irrigation water.

the saturated gravels and which stratification prevented the capillary drawing of the waters to any point so near the surface as to aid vegetation; that the effect of this hardpan was to turn the roots of trees, shrubs and grasses, which could not penetrate through it, giving all vegetation but a shallow and worthless soil in which to endeavor to live; moreover, that when surface irrigation was attempted, the nature of its works, taken as a whole, it had been putting the water, the knowledge and acquiescence of the plaintiffs, and other matters from which it asked the court to decree that plaintiffs' cause of action was barred by their laches and estoppel.

After a protracted trial the court found, the finding concluding that substantially all the disputed matters. The findings of the court are attacked and an answer plaintiff's argument are set forth and argued. Plaintiff's opening brief—309 pages in length—is largely devoted to an analysis and an argument upon the evidence in their endeavor to show that the evidence does not support the findings of the court. The transcript contains about three hundred pages of evidence. To follow and answer plaintiff's argument would amount to no more than a setting forth of the evidence which does sustain the findings and to do this fairly would fill a volume of our reports. It must suffice, therefore, to say that an critical examination satisfies us that the findings, one and all, are amply supported. But briefly to illustrate the difficulty of discussing the findings within the broadest limits of a judicial opinion, the finding concluding that the valley may be instanced. The court found: "That percolating waters in said Menefee tract do not connect with percolating water in Perris valley so that the water level in said Menefee valley is not affected by pumping water from lands in said Perris valley." Upon this question a vast deal of evidence was introduced. Upon the part of the plaintiff, as has been said, it was contended that the subterranean connection between the two valleys was perfect, that the percolation and filtration was free and that the direct effect of the pumping of defendant was to lower the water level in Perris valley and to cause a corresponding lowering of the level in Menefee valley. The part of the defendant it was shown that there was a decided ridge and elevation of ground between the two tracts so that certainly the surface drainage of the two were separate and distinct. Government topographical maps were introduced to show that the drainage of the basin of Perris valley was down the San Jacinto river westerly to Lake Elsinore, while the drainage of the basin of Menefee valley was distinctly separate and trended easterly through Salt Creek. Expert witnesses were likewise called to testify to their belief that there was no subterranean connection between Menefee and Perris valleys and that their subterranean drainage outlets were likewise distinct. Certain of defendant's experts declared their belief in the existence of a more compact earth formation between Menefee and Perris valleys, which would effectually prevent and forbid anything like a free seepage or percolation of waters. Defendant, in support of this, urges the existence of dry wells upon this divide, that is to say, that wells dug upon either side of it in Perris valley, while wells carried to abundant water, while wells upon this divide yielded very little, and for practical purposes none at all. This in turn was disputed by plaintiffs, who showed that they had sunk wells along the intended divide and these wells went into free water-bearing gravels. Defendant again answered this by saying that, conceding this to be so, the wells merely tapped the gravels, that it was possible to argue that Salt Creek, into which Menefee valley drained, with a grade of forty-eight feet and at a distance of three miles, would not lower the water level in plaintiff's Menefee wells, which remained standing forty-eight feet, while lowering the water level in Perris valley ten feet at a distance of six or six miles, would cause the water level in the Menefee tract to lower ten feet.

CRIBS BRING HELP

Mrs. Sherman Claims Husband Mistreated Her

FATHER MAKES WAY WITH BABY

A. H. Cross and M. B. Crabtree First Upon Scene of Trill

Sunday night at a little after seven o'clock agonizing cries from a woman were heard in the vicinity of West Tenth and the Boulevard. At first it was thought the cries were from a child and A. H. Cross and M. B. Crabtree who were sitting on the front porch of Mr. Gross' home listened for a while and then deciding the child had been whipped long enough and started out to see if they could stop the cause. The sound of the cries led them to a small house which had been a cook shanty at the corner of west Ninth and Vincentia streets where they found Mrs. Gue Sherman lying on the floor, her nose bleeding profusely, morning the hair for the morning she admitted that her husband had kicked her on the arm and in the side. The evidences were plain. A search for the husband who made off with the child proved fruitless although the child was found at a next neighbor's house. The case has had the attention of the Humane Society and Mrs. E. P. Newton reports that when she called at the house Wednesday morning she was very much surprised to find it in perfect order, every thing being neat and clean. Sherman has been working at the Pottery, he is an able bodied man of about 30 while his wife is rather slight and only 17. They were married when she was 14. Wednesday to forestall any action she might take Sherman sought advice, but it is understood later with dread action. They left Thursday morning the bus for Los Angeles by train but did not leave. Whether any thing further is done in the matter depends entirely upon the actions of the husband.

TALKS WITH SWINERTON

Famous Examiner Comic Supplement Artist at Calton

Ruel Cooper who is now canvassing Calton for subscriptions for Success Magazine reports excellent success. While making a tour of one of the hotels last week he had the good fortune to meet Mr. Swinerton the famous author of "Jimmy" and "No Wedding Bells for Him" which have been running for some time in the Sunday Examiner comic section. These pictures have without doubt provoked more mirth than anything of the kind ever before published. Ruel, who has shown considerable aptitude for drawing, asked Mr. Swinerton's advice concerning his efforts. He was told that he was on the right track and that if he could find time for more practice some day he would be making pictures because of a demand for his work rather than as a mere pastime. Mr. Swinerton made a free hand cartoon to give him some idea of the speed required for this class of work.

CORONA, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1907

SANATORIUM PROJECT EXPLAINED TO CITIZENS

Dr. W. R. Price of Long Beach the able Spokesman

Directors Promise to Locate Enterprise Here on Terms of $25,000 Cash from City and Subscription of 50,000 Shares of Stock by Individuals—Guarantees Offered—Response Is Not Hearty, but Favorable Action Is Taken at the Mass Meeting.

About thirty citizens gathered this Friday evening at Masonic hall to hear explained the sanatorium project which the Citrus Belt Realty and Building Company, composed of Los Angeles and Long Beach capitalists, wish to see located in Corona.

Dr. W. R. Price was the spokesman for the directors, and it must be said for the doctor that he impressed his auditors as a clean-cut, forceful business man, who was confident of the venture he was promoting, and who cared little whether Corona chose to locate the project possible here or not. Long Beach having already agreed to more than is asked of Corona, and the doctor having his personal interests there, he stated that he personally preferred to have the sanatorium located at Long Beach. The other directors, however, owing to the unsurpassed site here in Corona, the superior climate and the possibilities in horticultural lines, were favorable to the Crown City.

THE PROPOSITION

After thoroughly exploiting the matter, as substantially outlined by this paper on June 21, Doctor Price stated the terms on which the company would consent to build the sanatorium here. They were, namely, that the city would issue $25,000 in bonds, and that 50,000 shares of stock be subscribed by individual citizens.

WHAT CORONA DID.

After answering every question that was put, the matter was put into the hands of the audience as to whether it would have the institution here or not. The status of E. L. Hazard with reference to the proposition, a stumbling block with many, was seemingly satisfactorily settled by the speaker.

Finally, on motion of Thos. C. Park, seconded by Dr. J. C. Gleason, it was unanimously moved that Corona desired the location of such a project within the city.

Later, on motion of L. L. Andrews, seconded by C. F. Larrabee, a committee of seven was appointed by President Pentelov, who presided at the meeting, of which committee he was to be a member. The appointment included Messrs. L. L. Andrews, Dr. J. C. Gleason, A. C. Wood, E. B. Collier, George Brown and L. R. Nichols. These gentlemen will meet Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the directors' room of the Corona National Bank. This committee is to take up the matter with the directors of the Board of Trade at its meeting next Tuesday.

It was stated by Dr. Price that Dr. Geo. H. Richardson would be here for a few days to canvass for subscriptions among citizens. Dr. Richardson and Dr. W. B. Forden were present at the meeting.

GUARANTEES OFFERED.

So confident seemed Dr. Price of the advantages to be reaped by Corona should she decide to take hold of the enterprise with the company, that he stated that he would guarantee the doubling of property values in two years' time, or refund the $25,000 asked for. He was willing to guarantee that water could be secured for the $30 acres it was proposed to develop, at a cost not to exceed $5 per acre annually.

During the course of his remarks he paid his respects to the petty acumen which finds objections to every public-spirited enterprise, the knocker, who "doesn't stand for anything," and who "isn't all public improvements." He won applause from his otherwise very unresponsive audience on this point. The "intelligent knocker," however, was eulogized, and his investigation courted. The meeting closed with the action taken as outlined above in this report.

FIRE THREATENS PACKING HOUSES

Citizens Have Fierce Struggle With Flames That Lick Up the Grass Along the Railroad—Oil Tanks Narrowly Escape.

An alarm of fire was turned in at 12:30 Friday, the district engine being a grass fire along the packing houses at the depot. Heroic efforts on the part of the fire company and citizens prevented what might have been a most destructive fire.

The blaze started from the vicinity of the Sunset packing house, where F. E. Dudley had a man burning up some grass. The wind carried this to dry grass and the fire rapidly traveled to the C. C. U. packing house, crossed the road to the building of the Orange Heights Fruit Association, and on past to the tanks of the Standard Oil Company. It was finally halted at the road west of the Flagler's Fruit Company's building.

Wm. Riddell and George Drinkwater were overcome for a time by the heat and smoke, which made it exceedingly hazardous to fight the fire.

CORONA PRODUCT IN GREAT DEMAND

Porphyry and Decomposed Granite Much Wanted, But Almost Impossible to Get Out of Tanks of Cat Famine—A Rock of Superior Quality.

The stone quarry of the Fairchild, Gilmore & Wilson Company is located one and one-half miles east of Corona, near the Santa Fe railroad. The property consists of sixty-five acres of stony land. The company has opened a quarry 620 feet long and has been shipping stone to Los Angeles for the past three years.

The stone in this quarry consists of porphyry and is said to be the best of its kind in California. It is used for the foundations of buildings, quarried in large or small blocks to suit construction work. The rock used for streets is broken into small pieces suitable for easy handling at the quarry, and it is then loaded on cars and shipped to its destination, where it is to be used.

The rock in this quarry is very hard and heavy and requires specially made drills to penetrate it by reason of certain minerals which it is said to contain.

Just now the company is handicapped for lack of cars, but the steam shovel that is at work close by will soon be moved away and this will leave 150 extra cars, which will greatly relieve the congestion along this part of the line. When this is done the company will increase the number of its employees and will run on full time, which will admit of shipping three cars per day, the present capacity of the plant, and put in a rock crusher of its own and make such other improvements the business will require.

The company has quarries in other parts of California and makes a specialty of getting out and shipping stone, but the Corona quarry is said to be the best one owned by the company. Joe Smith, the superintendent and manager here, has been instructed to remain in Corona and ship all the stone he can get cars to handle. Mr. Smith says that now the Fourth is over, he anticipates getting a larger supply of cars and will work the quarry to its full capacity.

CITIZENS CONSIDER HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

At the "mass meeting" of thirty citizens held at Masonic hall this Friday evening, the matter of the appointment of a highway commissioner from this section of the county was discussed and a method of appointment decided upon. This commission is for the purpose of mapping out a system of county highways and recommending their adoption to the Supervisors.

It was moved that a committee of five be appointed by President Pentelov to select names for the members of the commission to be presented from Corona, the same to be presented to the Board of Trade directors for their further action.

LIST OF STUDENTS WHO PASSED EXAMINATIONS

The following are the names of those from the Corona and Abundale districts who successfully passed the eighth grade eighth examinations recently conducted by the County Board of Education:

TWO HOTELS CHANGE HANDS

Lively Developments Taking Place in the Enterprises That Make It a Business to Cater to the Inner Man in Corona.

Mrs. Minnie Sutherland, until recently manager of the well-known Brewer hotel, located at 412 West Seventh street, Los Angeles, owned by her husband, has purchased the Hotel Del Rey from W. L. Lyman and is busily engaged in renovating the hotel.

Although the house was undergoing the renewing process on the Fourth, the demands on the hotel were well met, nearly sixty people being served at noon and only a few less in the evening. The hotel was taxed to its utmost in the evening, a number of guests having to be provided with cots on the spacious veranda, which was indeed a most comfortable place to spend a warm night. This is the transfer that was hinted at in the Independent two months ago.

COMMERCIAL S.O.D.

G. E. Maxwell, formerly city marshal at Santa Ana, will take possession of the Commercial hotel, having leased the building and purchased the furniture. The dining room will be closed for the present, but lodgers will be accommodated.

OTHER EATING HOUSES.

Cafe Alden, under the management of Killean & Allen, has been serving the public in the old Corona hotel the past two or three weeks.

The French-American restaurant in the I. A. Newton building on Fifth street has been open about the same length of time.

Miller & Glodtely have been doing a good business at the lunch counter recently opened up in the Glodtely pool hall.

The Daniel Lord building on Main street, especially constructed for restaurant purposes, is about ready for occupancy.

ASSESSOR MONTAGUE SUBMITS STATEMENT

W. F. Montague, County Assessor, has prepared a statement of property values as shown by the rolls just completed, a copy of which has been received by the Independent. The showing is an interesting one, and Mr. Montague makes comments as follows:

In submitting the figures for the assessment of 1907, I wish to present to the tax-payers of the county the following facts:

The assessed value of the business and residence property of Riverside and parts of Corona and Hemet were too low, when compared with other portions of the county, as were the better class of orange groves as compared with the older Riverside orchards.

Values have increased materially in the last few years and following the rule of assessing land at about one-third actual value, I related the above classes of property in an endeavor to place them on an equality with other county lands, believing that all classes of property should pay their just share of taxation.

The Supervisors have unanimously sustained my assessment as made and I think a careful perusal of the following percentages of increase, as between different parts of the county, will convince unbiased taxpayers that the assessment as a whole, is just and equitable.

Assessment	Increase over 1905	Per Cent.
* Mile Square	$28,001 40	$5,594 80 25

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN CROWN CITY

Throng of Perhaps Two Thousand Visitors Spend the Day in the Enjoyment of the Events Provided—Some of Southern California's Fastest Horses Enter Races—Clyde L. Bishop of Santa Ana Delivers Eloquent Orator.

Corona took care of the biggest crowd Thursday that was ever before her pleasure and pleasant day. The visitors thronged every incoming train, many coming the night before. Effective advertising had been done, and the executive committee's efforts to get some fine stock to enter the racing events were crowned with success. Perhaps 2000 visitors thronged the streets from morning till night. No accidents occurred to mar any one's pleasure, and the officers of the day succeeded in keeping good order.

THE HILL CLIMB

The committee was disappointed at not receiving many entries for the automobile hill climb, for the winners of which four $500 prizes had been offered. The Main street course, with its gradual five per cent grade, offers an attractive speedway for automobile contests. However, some excellent time was made in the one event that took place. The four cars entering finished in the following order, the distance being three miles.

Ed. D. Silent, Los Angeles, 1. W. Adams, driver, two-cylinder Tourist, 5:01. J. F. Hartsock, Los Angeles, four-cylinder Ford, 6:25. C. H. Dunlap, Riverside, two-cylinder Tourist, 5:46. W. H. Jameson, Corona, four-cylinder Rambler, 6:10. R. M. Waditz, E. M. Baird and O. A. Huxsaw acted as timers at the start, while Lauren Scarew and E. C. Fowler timed at the finish.

SMALL STUNTS

The small sports on Main street drew a large crowd, both sides of the street being jammed with people. The 100-yard dash was won by W. Cota of Prado. The broad jump went to Barney Wells, the distance being 9 feet, 2 inches. The potato race went to Roy Cota of Prado. The sack race was taken by Roy Pine. Three-legged race, Damon brothers. Girls' race, Althea Jones.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

The sports encroached a little on the hour for the exercises at the opera house, and as a consequence it was 11 o'clock before the program began. After an opening selection by the band, Mrs. J. Feldman sang "E. Pharis Unum," in a manner to win the warm applause of the audience.

Attorney G. R. Freeman introduced the orator of the day, Hon. Clyde L. Bishop of Santa Ana. Others occupying seats on the platform were Supervisor J. T. Hamner, City Trustee E. B. Collier, City Treasurer J. L. Merriam and President W. J. Pentelov of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Bishop's address dealt with the salient points of the nation's history from its birth to the present day, urged upon the audience a timely warning regarding the incense to our national existence, and closed with a thrilling appeal to cling to the things that Americans hold most dear.

Mr. Bishop is highly oratorical in his style, and never hesitates an instant for the right word. His eulogy of his flag, his picture of war with the resultant devastation and sorrow, the tribute to Lincoln and the words of appreciation for Lee, were the signals for the applause that frequently interrupted the address.

In reviewing the past century of progress to the utmost round in the ladder of national greatness, during which time the country had played an important part in shaping the map of the world, the speaker attributed it to the indubitable spirit of freedom that characterized the forefathers and enabled them to stand in their posterity to recognize the sons of liberty, today standing as a nation at once the envy and admiration of the earth.

Rome fell because she looked upon the world only in the spirit of conquest. Our republic will be enduring as long as it continues to observe the principles of equity.

The speaker referred eloquently to the spirit existing between the North and the South now fighting side by side in the struggle for national supremacy, for the glory of a never-again-to-be-divided country.

The public school house was referred to as the badge of our lasting greatness, and the Ishman canal as the realization of the dreams of mariners ever since the discovery of the Pacific.

A nation's greatest enemy is not always a foreign power, said the speaker. A warning should be sounded in this

CORONA, THE CROWN OF THE VALLEY

Wonderful Growth Resulting From Varied Resources—Facts and Figures Which Show the Development Made in All Lines of Industry in the Past Few Years—Prosperity in Evidence on All Sides.

The following description of Corona and of the Queen Colony is reproduced from the Riverside Enterprise of Sunday: The term "Riverside" has come to mean not only the incorporated area of the city of that name, but, in fact, the whole valley lying within the range of hills on the east and on the west. In similar way the word Corona has come to stand for the whole great rich section lying along the river to the west of the Temescal mountains; and so, in writing of the resources of Corona it will be necessary to include more than the resources found within the circumscribed area over which its board of trustees preside. The country surrounding Corona is more closely tributary to the city than is much of the district surrounding it. In fact, the word Corona in this means much for the future development of the circle city.

General Location Corona is situated fifty miles due east from Los Angeles and fifteen miles south from Riverside on the Southern California railway. Its cultivated area consists of about 15,000 acres of gently sloping mesa land at the foot of the Temescal mountains. The land is higher than many parts of the Riverside valley and most sections have been proved by experience to be practically fireless.

Schools The schools of Corona are the pride of the people and no expense is spared to maintain a high standard of efficiency. The personnel of the teaching body is high. A kindergarten, a general school and high school with the necessary apparatus and supplies provide all educational opportunities for the children.

The desire for schools was so strong from the very foundation of the colony that in 1889, in 1893, in 1898, that $20,000 was voted for school bonds when the school census showed that in 1899 a large nine-room, two-story brick building was constructed with accommodations for 100 pupils.

Public Library The free public library is supported by a monthly appropriation by the city, which now amounts to $2,000. The present new and very beautiful building, erected in 1905, at a cost of $15,000, is located in the center of a beautiful park near the business center of the city, with improvements, cost an additional $25,000. The exterior is Grecian in character and the interior arrangements have been pronounced by library experts to be ideal and provide the student and reader with every comfort and convenience.

Social Conditions From the beginning Corona has attracted a high class of citizens. This is evidenced in the character of public improvements. The streets are generally well shaded and kept up in the most efficient manner. A man's literary and improvement club which has an active membership and whose influence is felt in everything pertaining to the best interests of the community. There is an active housewives society, farmers' club and nearly every secret society is represented by a local lodge.

The Staple Industry In Corona as in Riverside, the staple industry is orange growing. The orange and lemon can be depended upon to return a good income what ever else happens and it is in recognition of the stability of this industry that such important developments have been made in citrus fruit growing within the past five years. Like Riverside, and indeed, practically every other community in Southern California, Corona has had her difficult problems to solve and in the course of things some mistakes have been made but serious setbacks; but now all of these things have been worked out and the prosperity of Corona is upon as sure a basis as it is possible for anything in this world to be.

The Turn of the Tide The turn of events for the better began in Corona with the addition to its water supply of all the water resources developed by the Chases at Ethnanc, together with the impetus to orange growing which came from the Chases upon the higher lands of the community, which came simultaneously with the solving of the water question. The Chases had summered and wintered the orange growing business and they knew when they began to plant their 750 acres of the Corona mesa lands to oranges and lemons. They made no mistakes. They had bought their experience and they had learned their lesson. The result is that the ranch of the Chase Nursery Company at Corona is declared to be the finest type of orange grove in California and in the world; this from such authority as Prof. W. L. Taylor and G. Harold Powell.

On the Corona ranch of the Chase Nursery Company there are 750 acres under cultivation and 500 acres of which there is at present no water. Of this planted area 100 acres are in lemons, 200 acres in oranges and 450 acres in Navelas. Every drop of water for the irrigation of this property is pumped. The water is taken out to the supply pipe from Ethnanc into a reservoir and lifted to one of two different levels as the case may require. The first level is a lift of 83 feet. The second 133 feet and the third 200 feet. The pump is of 75 horse power and raises 100 inches to the highest level, or 150 inches to the lower level.

This grove was started in August of 1903; at which time 500 acres were planted and the remainder in 1904. The Chases themselves believe this property to be the best which they have. The property lies about one mile with the top of Rubidoux mountain and is really higher than any orange grove in Riverside. A registering thermometer on the place has never shown a temperature lower than 30 degrees.

Prosperity That Stays It is practically the unanimous verdict of careful, practical observers that the orange groves of Corona are something which will be permanent and is not likely to suffer any further reaction. The natural increase in the consumption of oranges and lemons will more than take care of the increase in the supply of the fruit. There is no danger of over-production. The area of land upon which it is practical to raise oranges in a commercial way is very limited and even though the hills about this county and in Southern California be covered with orange groves, we need fear no slump in the business. Take this in connection with the advantage which Corona enjoys in now having her citrus fruit culture in the hands of strong people with wide experience at the business and it can be seen that there is full justification for all of the claims that are made by Corona's boosters regarding the opportunities which exist in that valley.

Opportunities at Corona, however, are not limited to orange growing. The clay deposits there have developed one of the largest manufacturing enterprises of Southern California. The Pacific Clay Manufacturing Company is the oldest and largest of its kind in the state. From a modest beginning it has steadily developed until it has eleven kilns capable of producing ten thousand tons at each setting. Two more kilns and enlarged floor space, now under construction, make this a marvel of its kind. This company owns its own clay beds and has a monthly pay roll of $10,000.

The Corona Pressed Brick and Terra Cotta Company are also very large manufacturing concerns in that city. Two more kilns and enlarged floor space, now under construction, make this a marvel of its kind. This company owns its own clay beds and has a monthly pay roll of $10,000.

Mineral Resources The mineral resources of the section are practically untouched as yet—merely prospected. There is no doubt in the minds of those best fitted to judge that they will ultimately prove a source of great wealth, giving large employment to capital and labor.

In the line of undeveloped resources it is proper to call attention to the discovery of an immense bed of cement rock, which the U. S. Geological Survey reported upon a week since should be convincing as to its character and amount. After testing it fully the officials report it equal to the best known; and declare that the amount is sufficient to make 300,000,000 barrels of cement without admixture with any other material. The thickness is said to be ninety feet in depth, and covers some 250 acres.

Glass sand of a fine variety is also found, and gold, tin and other metals have been mined in the vicinity.

The Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company of Los Angeles is shipping from its quarry near Corona 100 tons of broken stone daily to that city. M. J. Meyer has a large gang of men at work in the foothills quarrying granite blocks for street paving.

The Auburndale Project One of the most important enterprises in the Corona section is that of the Auburndale Development Company of which Priestley Hall of this city is the secretary and manager and the principal stockholder. This project has all been developed since June, 1904. It is a noteworthy fact that the first directors' meeting of the company was held exactly three years ago today on June 29, 1904. In that year Mr. Hall put down the first experimental well in the Temescal well and secured a fine flow of water. This spring another well was sunk and a pumping plant installed so that today the combined capacity of the system is 350 inches of water, which is irrigating 400 acres of alfalfa—as beautiful a sight as one ever feasted his eyes upon.

Not Pleasant in the Beginning In the beginning the land under the Auburndale ditch was about the same character as that out of which most of our thriving communities have been made—a bleak and barren country with no plants growing except sage brush and cactus. All this is now cleared and has been converted into a splendid farm. Mr. Hall has constructed large barns for housing his hay, dwelling houses for his farm hands and provided all useful machinery for operating the ranch.

LET US TRY AGAIN NEXT YEAR

Corona got a lot of advertising out of her Fourth of July celebration. She undoubtedly made good her title to being "the biggest small city in California." It took energy and satisfaction and spirit to raise $1500 in a small community to finance a one-day celebration, and it took a lot more of energy to carry through successfully the details of the undertaking.

But frankly, after all is said and done, are the majority of Corona's citizens satisfied with the results of the celebration we had? There are celebrations and celebrations, but the kind Corona had Thursday was an unusual observance of Independence Day, the day that should be revered for the memories that cluster about it as the birthday of a great nation's freedom.

The old idea of the expression of patriotism by noise and display of fireworks, is not harmful, although there may be better ways of inculcating the principles of freedom and patriotism than this. Neither is the witnessing of contests of any sort on any day—horse racing, if you please—leading. It is natural to admire the ability that wins out in any contest, and to be thrilled by the wavering fortunes of the contestants as they strain for the wire.

A game of cards is a harmless and diverting pastime, but make the game poker with stakes to arouse the players, and a game of cards is a damning thing. The form of celebration adopted by Corona this year was harmless enough of itself, but the board of attachment has left a train of results whose effects will be felt for a long time to come. The fighting, carousing spirit was aroused, and people were made uncomfortable, to say the least, by the evidences of intoxication and by conduct not becoming men. Men, young men, were notified for talking up their vocations the following day, and lost valuable time nursingaching leads with cracked ice, and lost spirit in the contemplation of money gone, worse than wasted.

The only event that had to do with the proper observance of our great natal day was slily attended. The opera house should have been crowded to hear recounting the great events of our nation's history.

Let us try again next year, and see whether we cannot have a celebration that will look as good as some that were held in other portions of the county. ## MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN ORGANIZATION

CORONA COMES UP TO STANDARD BY REPLACING OLD BOARD OF TRADE NAME, BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE—NEW INTEREST IS AWAKENED

The Corona Board of Trade met for the last time Monday evening in Glass block hall. Hereafter a Chamber of Commerce will represent Corona's business and boosting interests.

The name was changed following a discussion by Mr. W. C. Barth, setting forth that inasmuch as Corona has grown to a city's size, and city improvements being the rule here, we should have a city name applied to our civic organization of business interests. The vote on the change following the talk, showed unanimous consent to the change, and the formalities were then gone through with, making the change.

The special committee on membership, exhibited a list containing 553 names. Another paper was still out, however, which was thought to contain at least fifteen signatures not on the other.

A resolution was introduced making the annual meeting come on the first Monday in December, instead of sometime in October as heretofore. The annual meeting this year however, will be held the second Monday in January, at which time officers will be elected to hold office until the next regular annual meeting, as above stated.

H. L. Glass who represents this city in the Tri-County Freight League reported on the meetings he has attended in San Bernardino and stated that the next meeting would be held in Los Angeles Wednesday, December 21, at which meeting it is expected the railroads will accede to the demands made for terminal freight rates to Colton as a central point for Corona, Riverside and the towns in San Bernardino and Imperial counties.

The matter of securing free mail delivery for this city was discussed at some length, but it was found that the service would be impossible to secure, as long as the many side-walks about town are not improved. The members were urged to boost side walk improvement and encourage property owners to petition the city council for street improvement under the Vrooman Act.

A committee composed of W. L. Peeler, Geo. M. Blair and Sanger E. French was appointed to canvass the situation on the annual banquet, the second Monday in January, and report at the next meeting. It is likely one hundred members will participate in the affair this year. Prominent speakers will be guests of the local Chamber of Commerce for the evening, and it is expected much good will result.

The matter of better streets in this city also came in for discussion, it being stated Corona was much in need of more improved thoroughfares about the colony and particularly inside the circle. A resolution was introduced to the effect that the city trustees be urged to buy a rock quarry at their earliest opportunity, to the end that the city will have a base of supply for making better streets. The purchase of a rock crusher was also strongly advocated. C. B. Collier had figures which he had gathered for the fruit exchange, showing that the Riverside rock would cost $1.95 per ton delivered to Lemon street, and by a small investment in a quarry and rock crusher, the city could deliver crushed rock to the same point for 75 cents per ton, and make enough to provide a fund for expenses and interest on the investment.

If the city does not buy one of the few remaining rock quarries now for sale, it will not be long before the taxpayers will have to pay fancy prices for crushed rock for road building purposes.

CORONA HAY GOES JOY RIDING

You have been told in times past of some Corona ranchers selling their hay to jobbers in Los Angeles, and then having to buy it back again later in the season. How a large storage warehouse was needed here, and how the one owning and operating such a warehouse could make a neat sum most every year on the saving of money expended to "joy ride" the hay over the country.

This section is all about in the matter of shipping hay away from the center of production. Almost every locality in the state ships alfalfa to the state of Washington and buys it back in the shape of condensed milk.

This discovery has been made by E. H. Bell, a Washington tourist who is in Los Angeles for the winter. His home is at Mount Vernon, Wash., and he is a retired farmer.

"Since I have been here I have been using a brand of condensed milk," said Mr. Bell, "which is manufactured right where I live."

"There are seven factories owned by the company which puts up this milk, yet the one at Mount Vernon cannot obtain milk enough to supply the demand. It is now paying the farmers $1.85 a hundred pounds for milk and the farmers are constantly increasing their dairy herds."

"And we buy California alfalfa to feed our cows. We raise plenty of timothy hay, but alfalfa is better for milk purposes."

"I have been offered $19 a ton for my timothy but I am holding it for $20, yet we can buy alfalfa for $18.50. It is shipped up by water to Seattle and delivered for that price."

"So it pays us to buy California alfalfa for our dairy cows, and then ship the milk back to California."

HAMNER SHOWS HIS BUSINESS ACUMEN

The repairs on the county bridge across the Santa Ana river near Prado have been completed, under the direction of County Supervisor Hamner, and the bridge is now in excellent condition. Through the efforts of Mr. Hamner, the county saved $465 on this work.

Instead of having the entire repairs done under one contract, bids were received separately for the piling and the bridge is now in excellent condition. Through the efforts of Mr. Hamner, the county saved $465 on this work.

Supervisor Hamner was authorized by the board to complete the work and he had it done by day's labor. The total cost of the repairs was $1,400, which was $465 less than if the work had been done by contract, as at that rate.

MRS. CRUZ BADLY BURNED

Mrs. Jack Cruz, who lives on Joy between Fifth and Sixth streets, was badly burned yesterday morning. With a lighted match in her hand she stepped to the stove to light the fire, when an explosion occurred. With her clothing in flames, the frightened woman ran into the yard screaming. Neighbors ran to her assistance, tearing off the woman's clothing, but not until she was badly burned from her waist to the lower part of her face, were they successful in extinguishing the flames. The flesh was burned from her hands and arms.

It is thought an open gasoline can must have been near the stove when the match was lighted.

Mrs. Cruz is about 23 years old. She is so badly burned that little hope is held out for her recovery.

GOT THE PARTIES CONFUSED

Last week we chronicled in these columns the death of A. E. Andrews, of Lansing, Mich., brother of our local esteemed fellow townsman T. O. Andrews. It will be remembered the latter's brother visited this city last winter, and made many acquaintances here, who will be glad to know that the brother in Michigan is still in the land of the living.

INSTRUCTIVE CLUB MEETING TUESDAY

INTERESTING PAPERS BY MRS. DAN ALDEN AND MRS. L. L. ANDREWS ARE MUCH ENJOYED

The regular meeting of the Women's Improvement Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. P. Newton on Tuesday last.

The program opened with a piano solo by Mrs. H. A. Prizer, which was warmly received and Mrs. Prizer kindly responded to an encore, playing in the first instance a serenade by Smetana, a Polish composer, and for the encore a Lily by McDowell.

Mrs. D. H. Alden then read a very poetical and beautiful paper on "The Spirit of Christmas," telling of the legends, customs and folk lore of several countries.

According to a Bosnian legend, "The Christ child was born in the heavens and the angels sang the praises of the babe."

This beautiful and suggestive legend has truth hidden in its heart, for strange and subtle force, a spirit of goodwill seems to animate all creation when the world pays its tribute to the Christ child.

The customs in "Merrie England" are also told. The festivities which in the olden time lasted twelve days, beginning with Dec. 16th, were prepared.

The festivities in Germany, where the Christmas tree is kept hidden until six p. m., Christmas eve, when the doors are thrown open and the tree is all its glory revealed.

The Russians who celebrate with procession, going from house to house singing their carols.

The Scandinavian custom of placing in a row every pair of shoes in each home, typifying that during the year the family will live together in peace and harmony.

Then came a description of the Christmas eve celebration at Monterey in 1846. "A momentous Christmas eve, too, for the fate of the state hung in the balance."

Mrs. L. L. Andrews then read a paper on "The Sane Observance of our National Holidays," which was equally good, though in a different vein. Mrs. Andrews made a special plea for the sinner and safer observance of Independence day, when the horrible toll of our arms will be eliminated, and the real historical significance of the day brought to the front.

Mrs. C. A. Holloway made a plea for a sinner observance of Halloween, and that the boys and girls be taught to turn their attention to something besides destruction of property—something uplifting.

The minutes of the previous meeting were then read by the secretary, also the minutes of the Board of Directors. Three new members were received, Mrs. H. I. Priestly, Mrs. W. C. McCully and Mrs. Emily C. Warner.

On the recommendation of the Board, the club voted a contribution of five dollars for the Associated Charities of Corona.

A short report of the Ninth meeting of the Southern District California Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in San Bernardino on Nov. 30th, Dec. 1st and 2nd, was made by Miss Lillian J. Lewis, supplemented by Mrs. T. C. Jameson.

Miss Lewis asked the club ladies if they did not wish to aid the Anti-Tuberculosis cause by buying the Christmas seals issued by the Society, and met with a liberal response. The club has aided this cause for two years past and hopes to make the same larger this year.

The next meeting of the club will be on Dec. 27th, when the subject of Civics will claim the attention of the ladies.

MAYOR HOLMES IMPROVING

The many friends of Mayor H. H. Holmes will be glad to learn that he is again at his home in this city and is recovering his strength, after the recent operation he underwent in Riverside. Mr. Holmes while still confined to his bed, nevertheless likes to have his friends call in and talk over conditions in our city.

BUSINESS VERY GOOD IN CORONA

MERCHANTS REPORT GOOD HOLIDAY TRADE—MANY OUTSIDERS BUYING LOCAL PROPERTY AS WELL

Beginning with the first of this month unusual activity is manifested in business circles and the increase in patronage increases as the month advances.

Merchants are out bidding strong for the business this year and real estate trade good. Almost every business house in the city has put up attractive holiday decorations, and when the stores are lighted in the evening, the windows reveal a veritable beehive of industry inside.

While the merchants are carrying on the mercantile business, the real estate interests of the city are not idle to drag, but rather unusual confidence that the large number of deals being closed up here, and the increased number of people interesting themselves here will have a strong tendency to raise the prices of good property.

Harry N. Sweet reports rather unusual activity in the realty market for this time of year. He says that he thinks there are almost four inquiries for Corona property this fall to one in other seasons, and he feels confident that the large number of deals being closed up here, and the increased number of people interesting themselves here will have a strong tendency to raise the prices of good property.

Mr. Sweet has just closed a deal with the W. A. Phillips grocer on Taylor street, who becomes the property of Mrs. C. J. Patton. This is one of the best live acre tracts on the west side, and is in the condition.

Another deal just closed by the same agent is the Loomis place, corner of Fourth and Victoria, which becomes the property of Will A. Rush, a well known grocer and orchard man of this city. This property is improved with a good fruit house, with bath, toilet, etc., and will make Mr. and Mrs. Rush a fine home. They expect to make this the show place of that part of town, with flowers and fruit, lawns and shrubbery.

Mr. Rush turns to Mr. Loomis, a fine acre lot in Belle Vernon, a splendid subdivision near the Long Beach car line, south of Los Angeles.

Other very recent transfers made through the same agency are James L. Davis, to Francisco P. Servano, two lots on West Sixth street, in Jones' subdivision of part of block 60. Consideration $600. A. D. Nichols to Wm. H. Davis, lot 2, block 152. Same to Davis, lot 2, Jones subdivision. Same to Davis, lot 1, block P. Holt's subdivision, from same to same. L. R. Nichols, to Cosme Barbera, lot 10, block 193. $300.

We have it on good authority that the J. E. Winters grove on the corner of Riprap and Ontario avenues has just been sold to a Riverside party. This place is commonly known as the Roy Smith grove, and consists of 6.90 acres of Washington navelis, and sold at just about $8000. This is one of the strongest prices ever paid for a Corona navel grove, but in view of the prices for which groves of no greater producing ability have been selling in other places, the one just sold here is a decided bargain at the price. The crop on the trees amounts to about 3500 boxes.

A very noticeable fact about the sales that are being made at the top prices here, is the fact that nearly all the purchasers are from Riverside, Redlands, Pomona and Whittier where the prices have been pushed so high that there is too small a margin of profit on the investment.

Corona groves are as good as any and are only behind the other places mentioned because we are not so well advertised as those other localities.

We understand H. A. Prizer has just closed a deal for Mr. A. L. Parsons, by which the latter's ten acre grove of navels and valencies at the corner of Kellogg and Magnolia avenues, together with the fine crop on the trees, and the property of Mr. C. D. Patton, will know in Corona as a successful grove man. The ten acres sold at a very low figure, the price paid being $9000.

VAST FORTUNE IS GIVEN SOR WORLD WIDE PEACE

ANDREW CARNEGIE DONATES TEN MILLION DOLLARS TO THE FUND FOR FURTHERING THE ABOLITION OF UNIVERSAL WAR—25 TRUSTEES NAMED

Washington, Dec. 14. Andrew Carnegie today transferred to the trustees $10,000,000 in 5 per cent first mortgage bonds, the revenue of which will be used to hasten the abolition of international war and establish a lasting world peace.

The formal transfer was made at a meeting in the rooms of the Carnegie research foundation. The trustees organized by choosing as president, United States Senator Ethihu Root, its permanent representative of the United States at the Hague Tribunal. President Taft has consented to be honorary president of the foundation.

The trustees of which the income of half a million dollars shall be expended is left by Mr. Carnegie entirely in the hands of the trustees.

The foundation is to be perpetual and when the establishment of universal peace is attained, the donor provides that the revenue shall be devoted to the banishment of the next most degrading evil or evils, the suppressing of which "would most advance the progress, elevation and happiness of men."

The trustees of the fund are: United States Senator Ethihu Root, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, New York, president of Columbia university; Dr. Henry S. Pritchard, president of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching; Joseph H. Choate, ex-ambassador to Great Britain; Albert K. Smiley, Lake Mohonk, educator and humanitarian; Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; James Brew Scott, solicitor of the State Department; John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state; Andrew J. Montague, ex-governor of Virginia; William M. Howard, congressman, Lexington, Ga.; Judge Thomas Burke, Seattle, Wash.; James I. Shelden, congressman, San Antonio, Tex.; Andrew D. White, ex-ambassador to Germany; Robert S. Brookings, lawyer, St. Louis; Samuel Mather, banker, steam manufacturer, Cleveland; J. G. Schindler, railroad man, Cincinnati; Arthur W. Foster, president of University of California, San Francisco; R. A. Franks, banker, Hoboken, N. J.; Charlemagne Tower, ex-ambassador to Germany and Russia; Oscar Straus, ambassador to Turkey; Austin G. Fox, lawyer, New York; John L. Cadwallader, lawyer, New York; John Sharp Williams, senator-elect from Mississippi; C. L. Taylor of Pittsburg, chairman of the Carnegie hero fund commission, and George W. Perkins of New York, financier and philanthropist.

LOCAL LEGISLATOR ELECT AT THE "GET-TOGETHER BANQUET"

Assemblyman-elect Attorney Geo. R. Freeman was a passenger for Los Angeles this morning where he will attend several important social functions.

Mr. Freeman will be a guest at the banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce at 10 o'clock this morning and at noon will grace the table at a banquet given by the California club by the president of the Mutual Life Insurance company. This evening he will be further honored by being a guest at the banquet given by the National Guard, on Friday, December 16. Mr. Freeman has accepted an invitation to attend a banquet given by the Political Equality League at Hotel Alexander.

The purpose of the banquets given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Political Equality League is to become acquainted with the different men who have been elected to the next legislature and to discuss matters liable to come before that body.

TO BE A SPECIAL INSURANCE AGENT OF SO. CALIFORNIA

John P. Key, manager of Queen Colony Fruit exchange, is to be succeeded January 1 by F. A. Harlow, Jr., of Los Angeles. Mr. Key is to act as Southern California's special agent for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company.

TELEPHONE COMPANY ELECT DIRECTORS

The annual meeting of stockholders at the Corona Telephone and Telegraph company held recently, the following named stockholders were elected directors:

W. H. Jameson, Dr. S. S. Willard, C. D. McNeil, V. A. Gleason, D. M. Bousard, A. C. Wood and Joseph Sutherland.

L. Wilson of Imperial visited Corona friends last Tuesday.

At RIVERSIDE

EL SOBRANTE LAND COMPANY owns thousands of acres of the finest citrus lands in California near Riverside; also a splendid water and irrigating system of large capacity. A part of these lands are now being subdivided, planted and sold.

Orange and lemon groves represent big investments; their care and development in the work of experts, and until now to own such groves and to realize the big dividends has been reserved to those who already have much money.

EL SOBRANTE LAND COMPANY has originated a plan whereby the investors of small sums, the savings bank depositors, thrifty savers and coming capitalists may invest in the marvelous citrus fruit industry, and with every safety, every assurance and greatest profit.

The plan provides: absolute ownership of land and water; groves planted by experienced and expert developers; every expense covered to the time of dividends from the fruit, ownership represented by Land Warrants; which are guaranteed as to principal and interest; redeemable, convertible and negotiable.

Land Warrants issued in denominations of $100 and multiples thereof, interest bearing and guaranteed. These warrants should in five years, begin to pay an average of 30 to 40 per cent per annum, and should be worth three times their par value.

If you can use $100 or $1000 in starting a fortune in fruit, adopt this Land Warrant plan.

Send today for details and sample Land Warrant.

SALE OF 43,000 ACRES IN RIVERSIDE COUNTY

More than a Million the Price—A Los Angeles Company the Purchaser. Means Much for Corona

The news of the sale by the London Company of 43,000 acres in Riverside county was announced by the Victoria avenue office of this week, and is of great significance to Corona, as well as to the entire county.

The big ranch sold for $1,200,000, all of the consideration being in cash with the exception of a balance covered by a mortgage of $300,000. The lands will be transferred from S. Herbert Buckley Prad, active trustee of the San Jacinto Land company, Ltd., of London, and Granville Keckewich to George L. Lamy, vice president and chief engineer of the El Sobrante Land company of Los Angeles. The ranch is the last remaining portion of a 180,000-acre tract in Riverside county, obtained by a syndicate of British noblemen 25 years ago. It is the largest single holding now remaining south of the Tehachapi and its sale marks the passing of practically the last of the great Spanish land grant.

This great tract extends from the east side of the Arlington Heights tract—company lands—along the Moulton & Prad addition, on Corona, along the Tomecula wash, extends on to Elsinore, from there to near Perris, and back to the first point named.

Recalls B. B. in Tin
The Los Angeles organization known as the El Sobrante Land company is headed by Edward T. Youmans as president, F. D. Cornell, secretary-treasurer, W. H. Cornell and C. H. Kysop, directors. The formation of the company and its purchase of this piece of land brings to mind a financial dream of the past.

About 25 years ago a syndicate of British noblemen, headed by Sir Herbert Prad, now active trustee of the San Jacinto Land company, Ltd., London, under which title the syndicate operated, heard of the existence in Southern California of a mountain of tin. With the sole object of acquiring this reputed mineral land the British syndicate purchased nearly the entire western end of Riverside county.

The tin mine was leased to a company known as the Cajalco Tin Mine company, with $1,000,000 capital, which brought from England machinery costing more than $100,000. The mine was operated for about five years, during which 125 tons of metallic tin was produced, worth enough to warrant the continuation of operations. The mine caused a sensation in England, and the shares of the company advanced, under a speculative demand, to a fabulous price. Suddenly operations at the mine ceased, the managing director disappeared, leaving a suit of money in the bank, but with no one to sign checks to pay employees. The works, in full operation one day of the manager's disappearance, failed to open the next morning.

There the stent plant has remained for 20 years, and so far as is known, never has been visited by any one interested in the venture.

Great Acreage of Tillable Land

In addition to the tin mine there are a number of gold mines on the property, but the real value of the ranch lies in its thousands of acres of rich soil and water rights, developed or assured, sufficient to irrigate every acre of tillable land, comprising about 25,000 acres. This tract includes about 20,000 acres of plow land and irrigable, 11,000 acres of rougher land, hill lands and mountains, parts of which are very valuable for deciduous fruits and vineyards. The mountainous portion of the rancho is rich in mineral resources and also includes stone quarries of great value and immense gravel deposits.

W. E. Pedley in Charge

The company is completing arrangements to plant a unit of 640 acres of citrus fruit, principally oranges, during the next three or four months. This development will be in the hands of William E. Pedley, the creator of the Victoria avenue groves in Riverside, and known as the most successful and largest planter of citrus fruits in California.

The Eucalyptus Timber corporation the largest and most successful planter of eucalyptus trees in California, has already purchased an area of 4000 acres and will begin the planting of eucalyptus in commercial forest form during February and March of this year.

CITY TRUSTEES PASS ON MERILL STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Yesterday night the trustees decided to accept the proposition of property owners along Merrill street, between Olive and the Boulevard, and instructed City Engineer Gully to set grade stakes necessary for the work. The city will acquire the right of way in putting the street down to grade and filling up the dangerous baranca at the side, while the property owners will fill out to the street line. Work will begin at once. Construction was asked for sidewalk grade stakes from two different property owners. Mrs. Baird desired stakes set in front of lots 4, 5, and 6 in block 112, and also along the Eighth street side of lot six. As property owners along Eighth street are trying to get a petition signed for a change of grade on this thoroughfare, it was thought advisable to hold the request of Mrs. Baird under advisement until it is seen what success will meet the petition for general improvement on Eighth street. The other request for sidewalk grade stakes, came from A. F. Call, for lots 7, 8, and 9 in block 141. The city engineer reported that what success was asked for the Victoria street improvement, and he was instructed to prepare plans and cross sections of the work. The proposition from property owners along the south side of West Sixth street met a like reaction from the board of trustees and the work will be started soon.

The matter of hiring someone to take care of the city's parks, as suggested by Trustee Warren Penelope at the last meeting of the board was laid over to next session.

Through the efforts of City Engineer Gully, the city has now provided with a dumping ground, a short distance north of Quarry street. A sign will likely be placed showing the exact location, so that there will be no excuse for promiscuous dumping of tin cans and other refuse.

The improvement of Kellogg avenue is well under way, and while the street is yet in a soft condition, it was thought best for Street Superintendent Tullih to close the thoroughfare until it is graded and thoroughly rolled down.

The board adjourned until the next regular meeting.

PUCCIO IS BOUND OVER TO THE SUPERIOR COURT

The trial of Carl Puccio, occupied the most of yesterday morning in Justice Claborn's court, and resulted in the betrayal of Rebecca Gonzalez being bound over to the Superior Court in bonds of $1000. It was brought out at the hearing that the girl is not yet sixteen, and this fact, it is thought will militate against the Italian in the trial before the Superior Court judge.

The couple had been living together before their arrest here by Marshal Lyman, for about five days and the young girl seemed to be entirely content with her existence.

Elsie Veach is a business visitor in Riverside today.

ROCK CRUSHING PLANT AT CORONA

THE NEW PURCHASERS OF THE "MITCHELL QUARRY" ARE ON THE GROUND DIRECTING OPERATIONS

T. H. Senter and Arthur Ames, members of the company of Santa Barbara capitalists who recently purchased of A. P. Macnamis the property located three miles from the center of this city known as the "Mitchell Quarry," have arrived on the ground of their valuable property, where they are establishing a large rock crushing plant.

As before mentioned in the Independent, the machinery of the crushing plant of this company was purchased from the Allis-Chalmers company, and the capacity of the plant will be 1500 tons per nine hours run.

Electric motor power will be used in the plant, 400 h. p. being required for operation of the machinery, and will be furnished by the Pacific Light and Power company.

The "Mitchell Quarry" consists of a solid ledge of porphyritic rock especially suitable for heavy traffic building, and an immense demand for the product of the new crushing plant is assured.

Employment will be given to a force of at least one hundred men, with their families, will make an appreciable contribution to the maintenance of our business institutions.

When this new plant is completed and in full operation the combined output of the several rock crushing plants near Corona will be about one hundred carloads daily, and the combined pay roll will be of considerable magnitude.

MILES GROVE SOLD TO LOS ANGELES MAN

The S. R. Miles grove on Patterson street, consisting of sixteen acres of oranges and lemons, was sold this week to Mr. A. R. Jones of Los Angeles. The grove is in good bearing condition and has been well taken care of during the past three years.

Mr. Miles and family will move into town and will occupy the house formerly occupied by Prof. Doron on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Slack, who were interested in the grove with Mr. Miles, will move to Sunnyslope, where they will erect a modern and commodious residence on grove property there.

MIDWINTER HOP A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

The annual dance of the Corona Tenants Club last Monday night was a decided social success for the local organization. About twenty-five couples were present all of whom enjoyed the evening greatly.

During intermission refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. A moonlight dance and two "Paul Jones" numbers thoroughly mixed the dancers.

REUNION OF IOWANS

The Iowa association of Southern California announced its great annual picnic for 1911. It will be held at East Lake park, Los Angeles, on February 27. All Iowans in Southern California are cordially invited to attend and will receive a hearty welcome at this delightful reunion of resident and visiting Iowans.

A Los Angeles paper remarks that a man can start out any day and inside of an hour and thirty minutes he can engage a woman to work for him for life at nothing a week, while it will take two weeks of solid search to get one to work at fair wages and under normal conditions have certainly found the latter part of this to be true, it being almost impossible at the present time to secure good reliable help.

An exchange has discovered that a poor girl has to be awfully good looking to be pretty, and a rich girl has to be awfully homely to be ugly. It might have added that a poor man has to be awfully smart to be intelligent, and a rich man almost a blockhead to be ignorant.

SENATOR FLINT AGAINST NEW PLAN TARIFF REVISION

SAYS REVISION BY SEPARATE SCHEDULE WOULD DOUBTFULY BENEFIT PRIMARILY TO THE FARMERS AND FRUIT MEN OF CALIFORNIA

Washington, Jan. 24.—Senator Flint opposed Senator Cummins' "tariff revision plan" on the ground that under it not just and uniform tariff law could be framed and whether the policy might call for revision for protection or tariff for revenue.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "the effect of its adoption would be that the manufacturing states would be enabled to frame a tariff solely in their interest and against the interests of the agricultural states."

"What was proposed is not a general revision of the tariff based upon information sufficiently comprehensive to embrace all the industries in all parts of the country, but that there shall be a piecemeal revision based on information relating only to that particular schedule and consideration at the moment and giving no heed to its relation to schedules covering other industries."

Flint pointed out that there was now pending in the house a motion to bring up for passage a bill placing cattle, swine and sheep as well as all meat produced upon the free list.

He says the purpose was to follow up on the free list to put on the free list asphaltum, salt, fish, seeds, hops, eggs, hay, straw, flax, beans, peas, onions, peas, potatoes, butter, cheese, milk, barley, milk, cornmeal, macaroni, vermicelli, oatmeal, wheat, barley, buckwheat, cornmeal, oats, rice, rye, wheat and lumber.

He declared that under a provision of this kind the senate would be called upon to pass bills placing these articles on the free list, one at a time, with no power to change or amend any schedule.

Senator Flint said the passage of a tariff bill that will give protection to all the industries of the country is a prime necessity.

"We are constantly reminded in framing a tariff bill, it must be remembered that a single foreign country frames a tariff bill as we would for New England alone. In those countries there is not the diversification that there is in the United States. If an attempt should be made to frame a tariff bill that would spread its benefits all over Europe, then some idea might be obtained of a purely local tariff, that confronts us as tariff matters."

Tariff Not a Real Issue

Continuing Senator Flint said: "There are some people in my state who have been deluded by the talk of a purely local tariff. They have been told that the duty of citrus fruits, olives, olive oil, walnuts and hundreds of other things that are raised in my state would be disturbed, but that the rubber harvest of the tariff are in the manufacturing states, and that it is on the product of the factories of New England and the east that the revisions are to be made in the proposed tariff. It has never occurred to them that in other parts of the country local protectionists are saying the same thing to the people of their sections."

"I take it that the people in the State of Montana who favored tariff revision did not contend that wool or lead should be placed in the free list. And this is true of the local protectionists in every other state."

"All through the east in the last campaign, the local protectionists and those favoring a tariff for revenue only were saying to the people: 'We are going to give you modern protection on what you produce, but we will have free food products from the west and free raw material.'"

"They say they tell the people of the eastern manufacturing centers that free food products and free raw materials would carry with them cheaper wages for factory operators and a double measure of protection for the manufacturers."

"The local protectionists have been discussing this matter in the several sections of the country, one contending for revision in one particular place and another for revision in another particular place, each one laboring under the impression that he was fooling the rest of the country and only very certainly fooling himself.

Plea for the Farmer

"It may be that temporarily the manufacturing interests will be able to avail themselves of the fruits of their victory; they seem to have won and will be able to place on the free list products of the labor of the farmers of the west. But the inevitable result of the adoption of this plan is that the farmer's income cut down, will seek to buy the manufactures that he uses in the cheapest market in the world. And while the fact will remain that the cheap laborers from Asia will be excluded from this country as a result of tariff policy of free products and free raw material and free food products with moderate protection for manufactured articles, it will follow that the agriculturists will demand that the products of cheap labor in the form of manufactured goods shall be brought in free of duty."

"Already they have awakened in the west, or at least they are beginning to awaken from the fact that they are outnumbered in the east and that their theory of local protection is not the one that is to be adopted by the schedule revisionists, who follow the idea that a tariff should be revised after the program laid down by a tariff board. It is the local protection idea of New England and the eastern states that has been adopted."

Senator Flint declared he would favor a tariff board providing it was made up with the understanding that the work of the board will be taken up in the order in which schedules were set forth in the present tariff act and that no report is to be made until the board shall have completed work on the entire schedule. Otherwise, he declared, he was unalterably opposed to the tariff board.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOCIAL

The Ladies Guild of Saint John's Episcopal church gave a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schoneman on West Sixth street on Tuesday evening that proved a most enjoyable affair.

Despite the inclement weather, a number of people were present and the evening hours were delightfully passed with progressive whist and music.

The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. R. D. Lamson, and Sumner B. Billings tally card proved that he was entitled to recognition as the best player among the gentlemen present.

The awarding of the consolation prize was found no easy matter owing to the fact that four gentlemen had a tie score. The matter was decided by the four playing the same hand and he declared the winner. J. Beach won the much coveted article, a small mirror. Refreshments of coffee, cake, pickles, cheese and sandwiches were served by Mrs. Schoneman at the conclusion of the whist game.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At 10:45 a. m. Rev. Ferris will preach upon "The Loneliness of the Sinner and the Society of the Good." At 7:30 p. m. the fourth sermon in the series in Genesis will be given. Topic: "The Garden of Eden, or How Our Troubles Began." Bible school at 9:30 a. m. Intermediates at 5:30 p. m. Young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m. All are heartily invited to these services.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday, January 29, sermon subjects: At 11:00 a. m., "The Temple and the Eternal"; 7:30 p. m., "The Source of Power." Special music at each service. Bible school at 9:45 a. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:30 p. m., Mr. D. C. Crouse leader. The public is most cordially invited to these services.

The interior of St. John's Roman Catholic church on West Sixth street is to be plastered and tinted and otherwise improved. A seven foot cement sidewalk has been laid to the church entrance and one five feet in width to the parsonage.

CORONA BOOSTERS PREPARE PROGRAM FOR THE BANQUET

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOLDS MEETING AND RECEIVES REPORT OF BANQUET COMMITTEE. GOOD SPEAKERS FROM OUTSIDE AND AT HOME

The Chamber of Commerce held its last regular meeting before the election of officers for the ensuing year last Saturday evening, although it is probable a called meeting may be held by the old organization to close up some unfinished business.

Sanger E. French, for the banquet committee, made a report in which he showed that the committee has made complete preparations for the festive event at the Hotel Del Rey on the evening of Feb. 6.

Arrangements have been made for 150 plates at the banquet at a price of one dollar each, and the whole of this number have been spoken for.

The speakers of the evening will be: Mayor S. P. Evans of Riverside, who will talk on "Street Improvements and Parks"; A. L. Drew of San Bernardino will speak of "The Benefits of Good Roads";

Chas. Finch, for twelve years street superintendent of Riverside, will have something practical to say on the subject of "Financing Street Improvements";

Then will follow addresses by Chas. Haas of Barfield, Cal.; Prof. Priestly, W. C. McCully, D. C. McConnell, Dr. Page, Will J. Kudisist, and Cyrus Baldwin, the subject selected for the last named being "Benefits of a Chamber of Commerce";

Secretary Garvey was authorized to send a printed list of members together with a ballot for the next annual election to occur on the 6th prox. to each duly qualified elector, the ballot being sent to be accompanied by an address and stamped envelope with instructions to return with ballot not later than Feb. 4th. At this election the members will be called upon to elect five directors to take the place of five retiring members of the board, and the newly organized board will then elect a president and secretary to serve for the next year.

"The retiring directors are: Wm. Corbitt, S. B. Hampton, T. C. Jameson, Geo. E. Salsador, and E. J. Genereux.

Those who hold over for one year longer, W. C. Barth, Walter S. Clayson, W. C. Somerville, W. L. Brown and Geo. L. Ferguson.

The holdovers for two years, C. L. Sutherland, W. J. Pantelov, H. L. Glass, W. A. Hively and A. P. Call.

Secretary Garvey informs the Independent that eighty members have thus far signed up as members of the new organization, and that the membership will doubtless reach one hundred at an early date. It is particularly desirous of securing the names on the membership roll of every enterprising citizen of Corona, and the Independent would suggest in order to facilitate the speedy accomplishment of a big and enthusiastic membership that those of our citizens who have not been solicited to become members, will wait for the personal invitation, but call at the secretary's office and enroll their names.

BENJAMIN CHAPIN TONIGHT

Benjamin Chapin, who will give a portrayal of the traits of character and personality of Abraham Lincoln at the Congregational Church this evening under the auspices of the Congregational Brotherhood, will doubtless be a rare treat to the large audience assured by the advance sale of seats.

Mr. Chapin has received the highest encomiums from the press throughout the country on his ability as an impersonator, and there can be no doubt that those who go to see him tonight will wait for their enthusiastic endorsement to his merits as an entertainer.

"The parasite is a tiny beetle, the very kind of the scutellaria family. It is quite a new thing for this parasite to work on the red spider and we hope for good things from it."

CORONA'S PROGRESS
 With Ben White, the veteran real estate dealer of Los Angeles, drilling for oil south of this city, the Corona Chamber, freight traffic manager of large 250 horse power pumping plant inside the Boulevard, and planting 400 acres to lemons on ground at the foot of Lemon street, three rock-crushing plants at the eastern limits of the city getting ready for a season of rock crushing and shipping, and the Citrus Belt Land company selling small tracts of land to orange and lemon growers who almost immediately erect modern homes thereon, and El Sobrante Land company equally as active in the sale of land, the outlook for a busy and prosperous fall and winter is in evidence.

The building activity within the Boulevard continues at a steady pace notwithstanding there are many people away at the beaches or mountain resorts. On the advent of cooler weather it is thought business conditions will far outshine those of last year, which represented the banner year. Generally speaking the summer business in all lines has been much better than any previous year.

ultimate investigation of the effect the Panama Canal will have upon the roads, following the opening of the Panama Canal, was evidenced yesterday in an interview with Edward Chambers, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe.

Mr. Chambers, accompanied by his four children, Miss Helen, H. E. R. L. and Walter Chambers, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday on an automobile tour of the South. Mr. Chambers has been summoned to appear as a witness before the State Railroad Commission, which meets here tomorrow to investigate fairness of the rates from San Pedro to Los Angeles, and from San Diego to Los Angeles. At present these rates are the same as that which it was simply a fair system whereby freight from either harbor was landed in Los Angeles, the metropolis of the South, and that by making the rate the same gave both shipping points an equal chance for existence.

"The railroads will still be in existence after the opening of the Panama Canal," said Mr. Chambers yesterday. "Some people have had the idea that the instant the Panama Canal is opened the freight departments of the railroads will immediately go out of existence because of the low rates at which these steamers can carry freight from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast."

"That is all right as a point of conversation, but it doesn't cover the situation at all. The chief feature of the present-day system of commerce is speed. People want things and they want them in a hurry. We will grant railroads have already made an impression for instance that the steamers will their full share of the freight business but it will be in the form of low-grade freight.

"For instance the steamers could carry iron ore and numerous other articles of low grade. The steamers might also handle a good amount of machinery, if the people were in no great hurry for it. But that would mean an great loss to the railroads. We will both get our share, California freight will have to be handled almost entirely by railroad."

"The bulk of the freight of Southern California in particular, is perishable. If the public knew of the precautions that are necessary to transport oranges, raisins, lemons, walnuts and almost all the products of the south to their destination points in good condition, they would marvel."

"This sort of freight cannot be handled by steamer. The California roads have the finest system of refrigerator cars in the world. This is not a boast. It is an undisputed fact. No steamer traffic can ever hope to take the place of the railroads in this particular."

SANITARY CAMPAIGN
 Corona is in the midst of a comprehensive campaign for a more sanitary condition in the downtown business section and the attractive residence section. Health officer Dr. Chapman is making a systematic canvass of the city, and where accumulations of garbage, manure or unashingly tin cans are in evidence, notice is given to property owners, to have same removed at once.

The city is also coming in for considerable attention, and business men on all streets have purchased large tin wraps. Some rivalry has been stimulated as to the business house that can catch the most of the pests in a given time.

Foot-hill Lemon Company Will Install Two Reservoirs on Their Ranch

The Foot-hill Lemon company has commenced work on its 820-acre tract, south of town. There are to be two cement reservoirs on the ranch, each 100x150 feet and 12-feet deep. Excavations for the one at Taylor street, the highest point on the tract, has already been made. The second reservoir will be 100 feet lower. A large home and barn are to be built for the company's farm, at the company's wells on the northwest Boulevard, a 38x72 ft brick power house is to be built on the 250 horsepower pump. The three and one-half in pipe line between the wells and the reservoirs will require 30 carloads of 15-inch pipe. Two cars have already been received from the La Grange Manufacturing company and are being unloaded. The work of excavating for the pipe line will be commenced at once. Tuesday evening the City Council granted this company permission to construct the pipe line.

OUR CRUSHED ROCK INDUSTRY

The Industry of Supplying Good Roads Material is Growing to Extensive Proportions at This Place

The time is not far distant when one may tour all of Southern California as comfortably and almost as speedily by automobile as by rail-road train. The Good Roads campaign is on in earnest in every county south of the Tehachapi and during the past two years there have been hundreds of miles of enduring roads built in this portion of the state.

The county of Los Angeles, which is setting the pace for other Southern California counties, has voted bonds to the amount of $3,500,000 for the building of a good roads system, and for which amount it is planned to construct 300 miles of roads, radiating from the city of Los Angeles in every direction.

Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties are also animated by the determination to have roads second to no other county, and are building highway systems to join up with each other and with the Los Angeles system, and so the work continues to grow and the Good Roads propaganda continues to spread.

The old style dirt and oil roadways is no longer satisfactory, and the general demand now is for macadam—and there is no other portion of the world so naturally well equipped for building roads of this character as Southern California. The crude oil is here in unlimited quantities and so is the rock, and the demand for both of these materials for macadamized road building is very great and is increasing at an enormous rate.

The supplying of crushed rock for such purpose is becoming a big industry at Corona, and the industry is but in the beginning here.

THE RHYOLITE CRUSHED ROCK COMPANY

is the newest company to engage in the industry at this place, and its modern machinery and capacity will have one of the largest plants of the kind in the state.

This company, composed of T. H. Senteil, W. E. Harris, and E. L. Peery, all of Santa Barbara, about the first of January last purchased what has been locally known as the "Mitchell Quarry," about three miles east of the center of the city, consisting of a solid ledge of rhyolite porphyry rock, and covering about thirty acres in extent.

The rock from this quarry has been proven to be exceptionally adapted for heavy traffic road building. The new company immediately began operations in arranging for the installation of their plant and up to this time have made much progress, and as a large force of workmen is employed it will not be many weeks until the plant will begin turning out its flinty grit at the rate of over a thousand tons every nine hour run.

A railroad spur from the Santa Fe track to the plant is now being built, a large force of men being employed thereon, and at the quarry Mr. Senteil is superintending the work of building big rock bins, machinery buildings and the placing of the machinery, which include among other things, one No. 10 and two No. 5 gyratory crushers. The machinery will be run by five electric motors which combined will furnish 400 h. p., the power for the same being furnished by the Pacific Light and Power company.

The most improved methods are being used in the construction of this plant, with the view of simplifying the work of getting the rock from the quarry to the crushers and the conveying of the crushed rock to the cars, and when the plant is completed it will have few equals in the state in economical operation and in extent of output, and will represent an investment of close to $100,000.

Mr. Senteil, the superintendent in charge, and one of the owners, is a master of every detail of the rock crushing business and is a man of remarkable executive ability. He is also a man of exceptional enterprise and public spirit, and although a newcomer has entered into the popular movement for pushing along the general interests of the city and tributary country with enthusiasm.

PHILLIPS CONSTRUCTION CO.

The Plant of this Company is Producing Crushed Rock at the Rate of 100 Tons a Day

The first company to engage in the rock crushing business in Corona on a large scale, was the Phillips Construction company, a corporation composed of San Bernardino people, who for several years prior to locating here operated a plant of the same kind at the latter place.

The quarries and main works of this company are located at the entrance to Hoag's canyon, southeast of town. The machinery embraces four huge crushers with a capacity of 1,000 to 1,200 tons per ten hours run. Big electric motors of several hundred horse power run all the machinery, the "juice" being supplied by the Pacific Light and Power company. To connect up with the latter company's lines a private electric line three miles in length was built.

A trolley line was constructed from the crushers to a spur of the Santa Fe railroad, a distance of about a third of a mile, on which is conveyed in cars the crushed product to the loading bins alongside the Santa Fe tracks.

Every facility is provided for handling the rock from the time it is taken from the quarries until it is loaded on the cars, but notwithstanding that electricity does almost everything about the works, that the most improved machinery and methods are used, and that economy of hand labor marks every operation, a force of about fifty men is employed.

Besides the main plant structure, there are several buildings on the company's grounds, including power house, boarding and bunk houses, etc.

The plant was established last fall and is now in full operation with orders crowding in from all parts of the state.

Demand for Corona crushed rock is very great and is every day growing greater. Southern California in particular has the road fever. Every county in this part of the state has been bitten by the same bug, and not until the highways and byways in all these counties are macadamized will there be an abatement in the demand for crushed rock.

There is no branch or detail of the rock business with which the members of the Phillips Construction company are not thoroughly familiar. They selected Corona as the place for the establishment of the large industry because of the superiority of the rock to be obtained here, and the opportunity offered here for purchasing ground and developing quarries of inexhaustible quantities of granite.

Kirk R. Phillips is president and general manager of the company. Grant K. Phillips has charge of the works and is assisted by Jack Hall, superintendent of the plant.

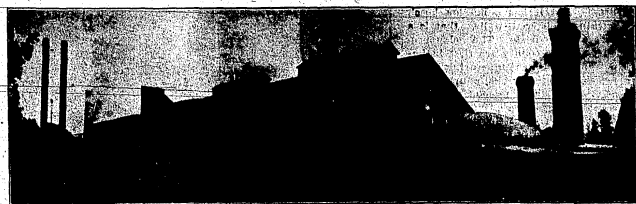

These gentlemen have all become citizens of Corona and they are the kind of people the city particularly needs and welcomes.

PACIFIC SEWER PIPE COMPANY

The Pacific Sewer Pipe company is operating at Corona the largest vitrified pipe manufacturing plant in Southern California, its kilns having a capacity of 1,500 tons at a setting.

This company owns extensive clay beds near Corona and at Temescal from which is manufactured sewer and irrigation pipe, fire brick, electric conduit, terra cotta, fire-proof building blocks, etc. The quantity of vitrified pipe manufactured here is enormous, five to 20 miles of sewer and irrigation pipes being the size of frequent single orders. This company has recently "absorbed" the Pacific Clay Manufacturing company and the Corona Pressed Brick and Terra Cotta company, both large manufacturers of vitrified pipe and the latter the largest manufacturers of fancy pressed brick in the state. Hereafter both of the big plants will be under the same management with a combined payroll of near $10,000 per month.

MILLION DOLLAR CLAY CO.

The Temescal Clay Products Company will Establish Large Plant Here at Once

The Temescal Clay Products company of Los Angeles recently purchased valuable deposits of clay in Temescal canyon near this city, and have arranged to commence work immediately on the establishment of a plant on their property. A pressed brick building 170x300 feet, three stories in height will be built, and the machinery, which is now on the way from the eastern manufacturers, will be installed as soon as it arrives. A large force of workmen will be employed with the view of taking care of large orders which have already been secured. One of these orders is for $75,000 worth of sewer pipe from the city of Phoenix, Ariz., for next summer delivery.

This company is capitalized for $1,000,000 and owns 140 acres of clay products, and the class of clay products which will be manufactured will include sewer pipe, fire brick, hollow tiling, terra-cotta and porcelain wares.

Mr. H. D. Lore, president of the company, accompanied by an engineer, was on the ground a few days ago making a selection of a location for the plant, and other preliminary observations, the whole here was interviewed by an independent representative.

He had with him blue prints of the architect's drawings of the building, showing the arrangement of the plant, the location of which being estimated at $120,000.

Mr. Lore stated that it was the intention of the company, at a later date to build a spur track to join up with the Santa Fe spur now being constructed by the Rhyolite Crushed Rock company southeast of the city, but that for immediate use a fine roadway will be built down the canyon to the railroad track near the Rhyolite company's plant.

The establishment of this new big manufacturing plant near Corona is of great significance to this place inasmuch as it will add an $8,000 per month payroll to our already handsome monthly total money disbursement from industrial sources.

GRANITE QUARRIES

Big Demand From All Parts of State for Corona Granite for Various Purposes

Mr. John Walker, the progressive and successful quarryman, is the head of an industry that has already grown to large proportions but which is as yet but a prophecy of what it is to be.

Mr. Walker is operating three granite quarries, two of them being leased and the other being owned by himself. The leased properties lie about three miles east of the city.

Each quarry produces rock of peculiar value for a specific purpose. From the Alford quarry is secured a granite from which is made paving blocks exclusively. Lane Bros. quarry produces a fine blue granite from which is made blocks for monumental and ornamental work, and the rock from the Fairchild quarry is made into building and paving blocks.

From fourteen to twenty men are working in the different quarries and they are all expert in their several lines of work, which is practically all hand work, the only machinery which it is practicable to use being the power drills, and considering the extent of the finished product turned out—and shipped weekly is remarkable. To give some idea of the magnitude of the work Mr. Walker it may be said that he is shipping stone to all parts of the state for street building and monumental work, and that the demand has been especially great of late for a "cut nose" block. The demand for these blocks comes principally from the Pacific Electric people who use them in street railway construction—their use resting on the "cut nose."

A recent ordinance in Los Angeles makes it compulsory on the part of the Pacific Electric to use granite blocks instead of brick which have been used heretofore for this purpose. Twenty thousand of these blocks are being supplied from the Walker quarries each month and in addition to this being an assurance of paving blocks are being made for use in Los Angeles, San Diego and other places. It is impossible to speak advisedly in this article of the approximate shipments of paving, building and other kinds of blocks made here, but they are large and the demand is becoming greater every day.

Mr. Walker was born in Aardeen, Scotland, and has been in the quarry business since he was a mere lad. He arrived in the United States nine years ago, worked at quarry business in the east and in Canada, and came to Corona four years ago. He at first entered the employ of John Fletcher, who was doing quite a large quarry business, and afterwards succeeded that gentleman in the ownership of the business. There is no other man in the country who understands the quarrying and shipping of rock better than he, and together with this fact he is a business man with such qualifications it is not surprising that he is winning large success.

A sample of Mr. Walker's building stone may be seen in the new Congregational church building in this city. This handsome structure is a magnificent advertisement of the quality of Corona granite as well as of the expert craftsmanship of the latter quarries.

CROWN GARAGE AND MACHINE WORKS

One of the Leaders in Its Line

Established October 1, 1910, this business has enjoyed a growth that is a tribute to the phenomenal. The prime reason for this is that the owners, Messrs. W. L. Peeler and F. M. E. Flanders, are an intimate personal knowledge of all the details, are "hustlers" in every sense of the word and have adhered to their original policy of handling only such goods and turning out such work as will gain and retain for them the goodwill of their customers. Their business of over $5000 in a single month recently, shows how their customers appreciate the service they offer.

An important feature is the machine shop, which is completely equipped and has built up a big patronage among the packing houses, rock crushers and ranchers for miles about it. The shop is equipped for automobile repairing, the making and repairing of packing house machinery, rock crushers, gas engines, pumping plants, etc., is done here. This department has had to run night and day the past two months to keep up with the demand. Larger machinery is being added to the equipment constantly, a large lathe weighing over a ton having recently been installed. The firm have a agency for the Buick, E. M. E. and Flanders cars, the latter two being pushed especially, as they believe the E. M. E. at $1000, and Flanders 20 at $700 f. o. b. Detroit, offer the greatest value in service, reliability and general efficiency to be had, and can conscientiously recommend them. A long score of victories are to their credit, not the least which is the world's record made by the Little Flanders in the endurance race in Los Angeles last December, running 10,872 5-10 miles without stopping the engine. The Buick is known as the fastest car in its class and has speed records galore, having won many races over cars of greater cost and higher power.

The Crown Garage maintains an auto livery service at reasonable rates. The celebrated Goodyear tires acknowledged to be unexcelled for durability are handled here.

Though this is a new firm to its members are not strangers to Corona and her people. Mr. F. M. Baird, secretary and treasurer of the company, has lived here 18 years, has been successful in his various business ventures, and is now a heavy owner of realty in this section. Mr. W. L. Peeler, the president and manager, came from Illinois a little over two years ago, has already made substantial investments in Corona realty, including one of the handsomest homes on Main street, and will plant the proceeds of his Illinois interests here as rapidly as possible.

The financial responsibility, personal and business probity of these gentlemen, together with their reputation for doing a first class job, are assurance that information given by them regarding the cars they handle can be implicitly relied upon and that all work turned out of their shop will meet the requirements of the most exacting customer.

CORONA LADIES EXEMPLIFY OUR HOSPITALITY

MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S IMPROVEMENT CLUB PROVIDE DELIGHTFUL AFTERNOON FOR OUT OF TOWN GUESTS—LUNCH AND PROGRAM PLEASE ALL

The fates and the weather certainly smiled last Tuesday on the plans of the Woman's Improvement Club for an out-of-door meeting in Lamonia Grove and "Hospitality Day" was made an all fresco affair.

Mrs. S. M. Byler, chairman of the transportation committee, laid her plans well, for no less than ten autos were in use to take members and their guests to the festive scene. Mr. R. D. Lamson with his machine gave the entire day to the service of the club, and in his auto the chairman and Miss Lillian J. Lewis went to meet the 8:45 train. On this and on the 10:15 train came Mrs. S. S. Sauer and Mrs. S. S. Samuels of the Wednesday Morning club of Riverside; Mrs. W. E. Leonard, Mrs. O. D. Buzzell, and Mrs. Geo. T. Brooks of the San Bernardino Woman's club; Mrs. S. B. Gates and Mrs. G. W. Marshall of the Ferris Woman's club. All these ladies were taken to the home of Mrs. W. J. Pentlove, who remembering their early start, served tea and wafers while they waited their ride to the picnic grounds.

Mr. Joy Jameson took a party of six from the Pentlove home up Kellogg avenue to Lemon street, then west and south to the upper drive in the six hundred acre Chase ranch, from which the mountains and valley views are unsurpassed for extent and variety. The other gentlemen who drove their autos back and forth for the pleasure of the club were Messrs. S. B. Hampton, E. J. Genevex, Stanley Garvey, Geo. M. Blair, E. L. Sparr, R. L. Willets and Dr. W. H. Champlin.

The "Hospitality" committee had evidently been up and doing, as on the arrival of the ladies, the chairs were there, and tables also. The beautiful grounds, the rare trees and flowers created great enthusiasm, and the perfect condition of this garden spot so ideally located, appealed to every one. The tall trees, some of them entwined with roses, the rare palms, the balmy air, the scene was enchanting. Among the shrubbery were seen groups of congenial spirits given up to the pleasure of the hour. The reception committee's duties were light, as all formality had been cast aside.

The tables were set in the tennis court, where now is a velvety lawn, and on the high wire fence is growing smilax and beautiful climbing roses. In the center of the table were smilax and roses in profusion; while each place card had a tiny rose bud fastened through it.

Mrs. Chas. A. Holloway, president of the club, welcomed the guests in a few well chosen words of greeting, as they gathered about the festive board, and then the happy, hungry party sat down, sixty in number. The printed menu gives little idea of the perfection of each dish. Chicken salad, rolls, saratoga chips, olives, sliced ham, coffee, ice cream, strawberries and cake. Each delicacy proved that the labors of the hospitality committee had been crowned with success.

When Justice had been done to the lunch, a circle was formed at the end of the course and digestion aided by many a hearty laugh at the funny stories which one after another seemed to recall at the physiological moment. The guests also brought greetings from their respective clubs, and congratulated themselves on their presence at the meeting.

Later Miss Lewis read a dialect story "Mrs. Harrigan at the Telephone" which was so cordially received that she responded to it by reciting in German dialect "Dot Lamb What May Have Got." Then the ladies' quartette of the Tuesday Musical club, consisting of Mesdames A. W. Bates, Chas. Hindrich, Mason Terpening, and Miss Marian Kimmel, sang charmingly "The Shogitee Shoo" and being enthusiastically recalled, sang just as charmingly "Fool Little Lamb." When the automobiles began to gather, for the return to town, several of the gentlemen sampled the ice cream, strawberries and cake and almost wished themselves members of the club, if this was a true sample of the menu.

Mrs. G. F. Dean, chairman of the Hospitality day committee, was ably assisted by Mesdames R. D. Lamson, W. J. Rudess, T. C. Jameson, L. J. Hindrich, S. B. Hampton and Chas. Hindrich.

Among the house guests of the club members, who accepted the hospitality of the club were Mrs. A. F. Dean of Evanston, Ill., Mrs. H. G. Noel of St. Louis, Mo., guests of Mrs. W. J. Rudess; Mrs. Proctor, formerly a club member, now living in Corona, guest of Mrs. Byler; Mrs. Griffin, guest of Mrs. Geo. Brown; Miss Nellie Voegtle, of Indianapolis, guest of Mrs. F. J. Mueller; Mrs. F. E. Rife, formerly Miss Rose Bates, guest of her mother, Mrs. A. W. Bates; Mrs. Waterbury, guest of Mrs. G. W. Waterbury; Mrs. Sias and Mrs. Stump of Hemet.

By a unanimous rising vote, the secretary was instructed to send a letter of greeting and thanks to Mrs. W. H. Jameson for the use of this ideally beautiful spot for this occasion, and also expressing the wish that she might have been there.

WEDDING BELLS RING IN CORONA

WEEK'S NEWS INCLUDES TWO MARRIAGES IN THIS CITY—ONE SATURDAY NIGHT AND THE OTHER ONE MONDAY

Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Enos, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Anna L. to John Alms, a business son of Mr. Peter Provincial of this city. The groom is 19 years of age and is employed in the Corona Home Laundry, of which his father is proprietor.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enos and has a host of friends who wish her happiness in life. Mr. Enos is one of the firm of Enos & Bruckman, one of our prominent cement and brick contracting concerns, who by good work and fair dealing have built up a good business.

The happy couple left for Los Angeles and beach resorts soon after the ceremony there to enjoy their blissful honeymoon.

Married Under May Basket

Miss Olive R. Brockman and Arthur M. Patton were married at 8 p. m. Monday by Mr. W. K. Beang, who performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brockman in the presence of 25 guests.

The couple stood under a canopy of flowers and ferns in the center of which was suspended a May basket. The bride entered on the arm of her father, while Miss Blanche Davy played the wedding march. A supper followed the ceremony, followed by hearty congratulations and representation of many gifts from friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton will live in apartments on Washburn street, known as the Kelley home.

REPORT HAS ONE OR TWO DEAD

A rumor was circulated on the street the first of the week to the effect that C. L. Lowrey, erstwhile a contractor in this city, had passed from this mundane spheroid, due to his recent sickness and a severe hemorrhage. Mr. Lowrey moved his family to Los Angeles last week, and on Friday the house in this city which he owned, was sold at sheriff's sale to pay a lumber bill. It is understood.

Knowing all this the report seemed to have the required amount of truth, and it quickly passed from lip to lip. Fred Connell, however, received a post card Tuesday which allowed him to disprove the statement of Mr. Lowrey's death, and as Mr. Connell says, "Anyone reading the card would think him very much alive."

A second one reported to have been beyond was Mr. J. B. Good, but this rumor, like the one above, has been found untrue.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP IN EVIDENCE AT FREEMAN BANQUET

FRUIT EXCHANGE MANAGEMENT APPRECIATES WORK DONE IN LEGISLATURE BY REPRESENTATIVE AND TENDER BANQUET TO HIM

There have been men elected to office, who, before taking their official positions, have been banqueted by their constituents and sent off to their new duties with much cheering and general hurrahing. Some of those treated in this manner have received like recognition on their return home, others have been dismissed from the minds of constituents soon after the first dip into official waters.

Unlike either of the above, is the case of our assemblyman, Hon. Geo. R. Freeman, who was elected last fall to represent this district in the state legislature. About the first of the year he quietly departed for Sacramento to serve the people to the best of his ability.

The banquet at Hotel Del Rey Saturday night, given in honor of Mr. Freeman by the Queen Colony Fruit exchange, was in direct recognition of his efficient work in the session of the legislature just past, and to assure him of continued support from his home people.

About nine o'clock Manager Long threw open the doors of the Del-Rey dining room and the guests seated themselves at the artistically decorated table to partake of the following:

- |                   |                    |                 |
|-------------------|--------------------|-----------------|
| Consomme          | Olives             | Radishes        |
| Salted Almonds    | Roast Turkey       | Oyster Dressing |
| Bolled Ham        | Cranberry Jelly    | Fresh Peas      |
| Mashed Potatoes   | Parker House Rolls | Windsor Sauce   |
| Vanilla Ice Cream | Strawberries       | Macarons        |
| Lady Fingers      | Assorted Mints     | Coffee          |

In calling the honored guest to the floor, Mr. C. B. McConnell said: "There are periods in a man's life which are mile stones of either sorrow, regret or pleasure. This banquet, I am sure, will be remembered by Mr. Freeman as a milestone of pleasure."

Mr. Freeman said it was impossible for him to express the feeling of gratitude and pleasure welling up in his heart for the honor in being tendered the banquet; but what he could not frame in words of appreciation at the particular time he hoped to exemplify with justice and well doing at all.

Mr. Freeman stated that during the last session of the legislature there were many bills introduced injurious to the fruit men of the state and particularly to those of the northern part. Among these the "Net Weight and Measure Bill," "Inter Insurance Bill" and "The Larkin Bill," all particularly affected our own city and the fruit growing industry. The last legislature required a great deal of extra work because of the new amendments. Many of the laws which now seem to work a hardship, such as amendment No. 1, voted upon last year, will be more to the advantage of the whole state after some modification and changes in the wording.

The speaker called attention to the credit due Southern California fruit growers; their accomplishment in making the dry and arid land blossom with orange and lemon trees, and overcoming the many difficulties connected with the work. Any bill in the legislature which in any way affected the fruit men received the closest scrutiny, so much so that Mr. Freeman was soon known as "the fruit man."

In introducing Atty. H. L. Carnahan of Riverside, Mr. McConnell related the story of the Irishman who read the inscription on a lawyer's tombstone—"Here lies a lawyer and an honest man"—and thought there must be two buried "in the same grave. Mr. Carnahan came to his story and said he had his hearers laughing heartily. Regarding Mr. Freeman's work in the recent sesson of the legislature he said he had kept in close touch with Sacramento and was of the opinion that it would be hard to find a better man for the place.

"Had the net weight and measure bill been passed," Mr. Carnahan continued, "it would have added an additional expense on the fruit industry of at least $100,000 per year. The inter insurance bill would prohibit packing houses from insuring natural plants in a syndicate company as at present, but would have forced them to organize regular company and pay certain percent to the state." As conducted now, when a loss is sustained each packing house is hampered by the fruit handled, or the amount that house may have in a pool at the time.

The Larkin Bill would have wiped the fruit exchange off the map of California and would have made it a crime for any body of growers to pool their fruit for better prices. They would have thus been forced to sell to any independent buyer who would make an offer, but the buyer could then hold for a higher price, thereby restricting the profit which should go to the grower. This measure Mr. Freeman succeeded in having amended so as to relieve the growers, and later the measure was killed in the Senate.

Those present were Mr. L. Willets, C. B. McConnell, Blair, F. J. Mueller, G. R. Freeman, W. C. Barth, W. D. Somerville, E. B. Collier, F. H. Roberts, W. L. Brown, F. H. Scoville, L. A. Fink, I. H. Moore, H. E. Case, F. P. Thompson, R. D. Lamson, Wm. Livingston, Geo. M. Blair, F. J. Mueller, Theo. H. Sias, Joy Jameson, F. A. Harlow, S. W. Garvey, H. E. McCrea, D. K. Wilson and W. A. Hively; H. L. Carnahan, Francis Cattle, Riverside; F. B. Hutchings of the Corona Fruit-Growers Supply Co., Los Angeles.

Those who had the banquet in charge were E. B. Collier, S. B. Hampton, R. L. Willets and F. A. Harlow, Jr.

CORONA HAS FIRE TUESDAY NIGHT

The Corona fire department quickly responded to the alarm of fire Tuesday evening and soon had a stream of water playing on the burning home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fuller on Eight street between Third and Fourth streets.

The fire had gained considerable headway from an exploded lamp before the alarm was turned in and the entire roof of the building was burned away before the fire was under control.

The loss on the building, which is owned by Mr. Elliot Craig of Los Angeles, will be covered by the $500 insurance, but Mr. and Mrs. Fuller sustained a total loss of their household furnishings.

They have taken up their residence in the Sanger E. French house on Howard street between Seventh and Eighth.

BASE BALL AT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The grammar school pupils have had a number of exciting games so far this season between the different classes. Monday the eighth grade played the sixth a 21 to 13 game in favor of the former, and last evening the same victors trimmed the seventh grade to the tune of 12 to 10.

A picked team from the different grammar school teams will play the high school team tomorrow afternoon.

RED MEN HAVE BIG DANCE

Narragansett Tribe No. 159, Improved Order of Red Men, held their annual dance in their "Old" Fellowship hall last evening, and followed the enjoyable time with a supper in the banquet hall. A large number of local Red Men with their wives and relatives were in attendance, as well as several from neighboring tribes. All report a most excellent time.

Lemons growers note with some amusement the effort of the importers to create sentiment in favor of their produce by pasting on boxes of imported fruit: "If lemons were free, this box would cost you $1.25 less."

WORK RESUMED ON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Work on the new Congregational church building, which was delayed a short time on account of misdeeds of the contractor, C. L. Lowrey, has been resumed. Mr. Fred Connell, who was Lowrey's foreman on the job taken charge, and Mr. E. E. Savery continues as superintendent of the work for the church building committee.

Nearly all the shingling is now completed and some of the outside plaster is on. The structure is one of which the entire community will be proud.

SPUR TRACK TO THE RHYOLITE CRUSHED ROCK PLANT

Saturday the Santa Fe will commence the spur track to the Rhyolite Crushed Rock company's quarry. This spur will cost the owners of the quarry $35,000 and it is understood the track is to be continued to the Santa Fe quarry in Hoag's canyon via the large citrus holdings of the National Orange company.

The Rhyolite Crushed Rock company's plant will be ready for work by July 1. E. L. Peery of Santa Barbara, secretary and treasurer of the company, is to make his home here.

STEPS TAKEN FOR GARBAGE REMOVAL

IMPORTANT MATTER REGARDING HEALTH OF CITY SEEMS LIKELY OF BEING CARRIED OUT

At the meeting of the city Trustees Tuesday night Trustee Gillet offered a resolution calling for an ordinance to be drafted which will provide for the removal of garbage within the city, calling for the placing in covered metal cans of such refuse, and also providing for collection at least once a week, and perhaps twice.

This and the ordinances prohibiting the erection and maintenance of barbed wire fences and prohibiting the sale and display of fireworks within the city, were perhaps the most important happenings of the evening.

G. H. Force of the California Corrugated Culvert company was present at the meeting on the board regarding culverts at our cross streets.

Want Better Sewer Pipe

W. C. Barth was present to urge the enforcement of the ordinance calling for No. 1 sewer pipe in the construction of the city sewers, and if no ordinance is in effect governing this point, Mr. Barth stated that one should be passed covering this point.

Too Late With Request

Mrs. J. Lewis asked permission to construct a new sidewalk and gutter in front of lot 2, block 59, but as this is along that portion of West Sixth street which is being improved under the Vrooman act, it was stated that the time had passed for the council to grant the request and keep within the law. The petition was laid on the table.

Water From the Storm Drain

W. D. Brockman presented plans and cross sections in accordance with the ordinance governing taking water from the storm drains and asked for permission to do so. The request was granted.

New Street to Alhalfa Mill

The board was of the opinion that the street opened up to the alfalfa mill will be erected near the depot, would greatly benefit the city and they will no doubt have the street cut through.

Reports of Officers

Reports were read from all the cities covering the month of April. The most important of which was that made by the building inspector, B. E. Savery, who reported six permits issued during the month totaling $19,625. City Recorder O. P. Hill had eight cases before him in April and turned over $40 in fines. City Marshal Lyman also presented a good report showing over $500 in licenses and taxes collected.

Chambers are offering $7.50 per ton for potatoes at Anaheim. This is 50 cents in advance of last year.

Auto means to go alone, therefore a fellow that prowls in the dark is an autocrat.

TWO AGED CITIZENS PASS BEYOND ON SAME EVENING

MONDAY NIGHT CLOSES EARTHLY EXISTENCE OF N. S. JOSEPH AND G. W. FINK—BOTH WERE WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY, AND VETERANS OF WAR

Noah S. J. Joseph for a number of years a familiar personage about this city and well known to our citizens as the skipper of the famous Joseph's spring water, died at his home southeast of this city Monday evening at the age of 73 years, being born July 23, 1838, near Athens, Ohio.

Mr. Joseph seemed to be in fairly good health although he had never fully recovered from an attack of a gripe last winter. The evening meal had been enjoyed by himself and good wife and the latter was busily clearing the table while Mr. Joseph was reading. After addressing him and receiving no reply, Mr. Joseph went to his chair and was just in time to see her beloved husband pass away.

Dead in bed from heart disease, which is thought to have followed an attack of a gripe. He was 73 years old, a veteran of the Civil war, a native of Ohio, and lived in Wisconsin and Iowa before moving to Corona.

The family surviving includes the widow, Mrs. W. S. Ritchie and Mrs. Frank Fisher, of Corona; Frank Joseph of Corona; Albert Joseph of Los Angeles, and Thomas Joseph of Loma Linda.

Elder F. W. Paap of Riverside conducted the services yesterday from the home, at 2:30 p. m. The interment was under a large tree in the canyon not far from his home.

Perhaps one of the best known citizens for the length of time he had resided in this city, was Mr. G. W. Fink, who passed from this life Monday night at the age of 75 years. Mr. Fink was but recently taken to Los Angeles, where he expected to have an operation performed for catarrh, but Sunday suffered a stroke of paralysis and remained unconscious until his death the following day.

Mr. Fink was a native of Palmyra, Ill., lived in Missouri and South Dakota before moving to Corona about three years ago.

The funeral will be held at the Methodist church at 2:30 Friday. Rev. W. K. Beans, pastor of the Methodist church will officiate. Members of Carlton post, G. A. R. and Circle lodge O. O. F. will have charge of the services at the cemetery.

Mr. Fink is survived by a widow and the following children: L. A. Fink, Misses Nellie and Mianie Fink, all of this city, and Mrs. L. C. Whitcomb of South Bend, Ind., and Willis J. Fink of Elk Point, S. D., who arrived today to attend the funeral services.

COUNTRY CLUB TO BE OPENED SOON

The members of the Corona Tennis club met Tuesday evening and authorized the officers of the club to install two concrete and two clay courts in the new grounds which as previously reported in this paper.

The dues of men members were set at $18.00 a year and for women members at $10 a year except that the wives and unmarried daughters of the men members are to have dues of $6 a year.

It is expected that the grounds will be ready for use within two weeks and it is planned to hold the finals of the tournament which is now in progress, on the new courts on Decoration day. A formal opening and reception is to be held in the new quarters as soon as the work on the building and the grounds is completed.

The water conservation association which has been diverting over 20,000 gallons of water from the Santa Ana river to gravel beds, from which it will later percolate into the stream and be used for irrigation purposes, has turned their water back into the river and ended the campaign for this season.

The blowing of whistles announced the advent of the train and as it pulled into the depot a cheer of moderate heartiness went up from the throng.

The train was stopped across Seventh street and the president stood patiently until the cheers subsided. He received the flowers presented by the children and then said:

"Thank you, girls. Are you school girls? I am very glad to see you, seniors of the girls' high school. Are you going to vote? Yes, you must exercise your power.

"I am very much obliged to you for this beautiful reception. I am surprised to see such oceans of people here.

citrus fruits. There is a board that is interested in your products and will protect you, and I expect to refer this question to the tariff board. It is a question which must be determined on the facts. It is a cardinal principle of the Republican party that the American producer shall be entitled to a protection equivalent to the difference in cost of production here and abroad. I am glad to give my support to that principle as applied to the citrus fruit industry.

"It is an inspiration to me to see how much has been done by you under the hand of the scientific tiller—brought out of a land where Nature seemed to frown upon you. Not only have you the cream of production, but you have as well the cream of the population from the east.

"These young high school girls are not imported; they are indigentious. I have been telling them that they must now be preparing for the duties of citizenship. They must not say 'We will not go to the polls and mingle with the bad men there,' we want them to go and help make the bad conditions better."

"You are trying some experiments here in California; well, go ahead with them. We of the more conservative east will watch the results carefully and profit by your successes and take warning by your mistakes—if you make any.

"Good-bye."

THE FOURTH BIG ROCK PLANT TO OPERATE SOON

INFORMATION GIVEN INDEPENDENT THAT ROCK CRUSHING PLANT LARGER THAN EITHER OF THREE NOW OPERATED HERE, IS TO BE BUILT SOON

Complying with a written request to Mr. Chaas S. Gilbert of Los Angeles, for information regarding a proposed rock quarry to be located in Hoag's canyon, that gentleman gives The Independent the following information:

"Myself and associates in this company, own in fee simple 266 acres including 257 acres of rock land and 8.61 acres of switching ground and right of way next to the Santa Fe railroad. Our freight rate via Santa Fe railroad to Los Angeles will be the same as from every other quarry in Southern California, and cheaper than many under the Coast Highway Commission special freight rate. Our plant will be the largest in Southern California, having a capacity of 200 tons of crushed rock per hour, or 3000 tons per 10 hour day. You will notice that in the report on our rock from the office of public roads at Washington, D. C. as shown by the enclosed copy, the percentage of wear is only 2.2 per cent which shows that under traffic use it should last about 18 years to wear out a road properly constructed with this rock if no repairs were put on the work.

"The surveys for the spur-track have all been made and contractors are now figuring on the construction of it which will probably be begun within the next ten days or so soon as the contractors can get their outfit on the ground. The length of our property is about a mile along the northeast wall of the canyon and the rock is all of one kind, rhyolite. According to the U. S. Geological survey the thickness of the canyon is 750 feet above sea level and the top of the mountain is 1710 feet above sea level (both locations on our property) giving us a total height of 1000 feet above the floor of the canyon where the railroad spur track will be located.

"The mountain spurs to be the center of the great volcanic uplift of rhyolite (raised as a great molten mass) which is a sure guarantee that the same character of rock extended to the center of the earth, at least at the time of the uplift.

"The Romano, about 200 years before Christ, built the Apian Way from Rome, of a material of volcanic nature very similar to this, but slightly harder and a portion of that rock is still good and in use. Should we of Southern California use the same plan of construction of our roads with this rock for the material (or metal as technically termed) and if this metal (rhyolite) is but 1-200 as good, then our roads would be world-famous and our successors would call us blessed and drink to our health with the money they would be saved in taxes."

The exact location is forty-five miles southeast of Los Angeles, and four miles southeast of the Santa Fe railroad station at this city. The east wall of the Temescal canyon for seven-eighths of a mile, is composed of a dark colored rhyolite porphyry, and a mountain peak of it rises a thousand feet above the floor of the canyon. This mountain of good rock, is quite uniform in quality and so vast in quantity that its exhaustion by lavish use or even waste, need not be considered. Above the quarry floor, to be located two hundred feet above the railroad track in the bottom of the canyon, the rock available could supply a million tons a year for two hundred years.

On the north side of the highest mountain a gulch has been cut into the steep slope of the canyon wall, and comes down to the bottom of it by successive leaps. At the foot of one of these falls is to be located the initial crusher, nearly two hundred feet above the railroad tracks below, and above it the sides of the quch and slopes of the mountain form a great funnel to bring the rock supply to it. This initial crusher is to be a giant of its kind, with the ability to receive and crush rocks up to two tons in weight at the rate of three hundred tons an hour. The steady supply of so large a quantity to get the full capacity of the plant is usually impossible of achievement except at excessive cost, but the great funnel solves that problem simply and cheaply. The big crusher will reduce the blocks of rock to six inch pieces and these are to be passed on down to a battery of smaller crushers, which will still further reduce them to commercial sizes that go on down to the screens, which separate those sizes, and then continue down to the storage piles, between the railroad tracks and the main wall of the canyon is a sloping bench or table through which the gulch has cut a wide ditch, and this forms a hopper bottom for the storage piles that will hold a hundred thousand tons and enable the plant to work through the winter when the demand for rock is smaller.

In the tunnel under the storage piles is to be a wide belt conveyor that will load any desired size into railroad cars both rapidly and cheaply.

A thousand feet north of the crushing plant, a broad V shaped gulch has been cut down through the wall of rock quite to the level of the flood plain where it enters the canyon. For five hundred feet the bottom of this gulch makes excellent storage for rocks blasted from its sides. From this immense storage pile they will be taken up by a double catwalkway capable of lifting single pieces ten tons in weight and at the rate of 150 tons an hour they will be carried down by gravity and loaded on railroad cars.

This work and that of the crushing plant may be carried on simultaneously, with the slightest interference one with the other.

In the bottom of the canyon is Culeto creek, a beautiful stream of clear water flowing the year round here, but soon lost in the sand and gravel of the Temescal wash further down the canyon, and from it an abundant supply of pure water is assured for all purposes.

The canyon is filled with Sycamore, cottonwood and live oak trees and in places the wild grapes and rose bushes are a riot of tangled masses, all making a most agreeable contrast to the rocky mountain sides sparsely covered with sage.

An incidental advantage is the location, isolated as it is from cultivable areas so that there is little danger of annoyance to the operating company from dust litigation or to the agriculturists from dust.

It would be difficult to imagine a location combining so many advantages that may be coined into money by the enthusiasm of the citrus and fruit growers by promise of support for the lemon tariff. He said:

"Your senator, Senator Works, wrote me and asked me if I would have an investigation made as to the comparative cost of production in the raising of lemons here and the raising of lemons abroad, and I said I would do so. Just as soon as I could I wrote to the tariff board, and they told me they were overwhelmed with the work of getting up the cotton and woolen schedules and the metal schedules; that they could not at once attend to it, but that they would give attention to it, and I can promise that until they do, until we know the facts, the law will remain as it is.

"I do that only because I am following out the principle that I understand I was pledged to when I ran on the Republican ticket and to the principle that 28 states in Republican state conventions approved, among which was California."

PRESIDENT TAFT IS FOR LEMON TARIFF

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—In his address at the auditorium in this city President Taft stirred the enthusiasm of the citrus and fruit growers by promise of support for the lemon tariff. He said: "Your senator, Senator Works, wrote me and asked me if I would have an investigation made as to the comparative cost of production in the raising of lemons here and the raising of lemons abroad, and I said I would do so. Just as soon as I could I wrote to the tariff board, and they told me they were overwhelmed with the work of getting up the cotton and woolen schedules and the metal schedules; that they could not at once attend to it, but that they would give attention to it, and I can promise that until they do, until we know the facts, the law will remain as it is. "I do that only because I am following out the principle that I understand I was pledged to when I ran on the Republican ticket and to the principle that 28 states in Republican state conventions approved, among which was California."

WILSON HUNTS NEW ADVISOR

side finally any legislative question." Hay intimated that the continental army plan Garrison had fostered is definitely and finally shelved. Replying to the secretary's statement that federalization of the militia is a sham and a mockery, Hay observed: "General Wood said the continental plan is a 'sham and a stop gap.'" Hay did not know that the dispute over the continental plan had reached such a serious stage as to cause the secretary's resignation, but he expressed the view that the move would not injure the general preparedness program.

"The committee," he said, "will bring out a bill satisfactory to the administration and congress, and with real progress for preparedness. We continued hearings on the army and militia bill, and I hope to have it out within a fortnight."

Talking of Lane
The successor to Garrison will be a Democrat and his name will be announced within a day, it is learned at the White House today.

A "dark horse" appears likely to be the president's choice. Those closest to the president said that the persons most prominently mentioned thus far would not get the appointment. President Wilson has decided that necessity, both political and legislative, requires prominent filling of the post.

Among those conjectured as possibilities are: Secretary of the Interior Lane; Henry M. Pindell of Peoria, Ill., once named as ambassador to Russia, but not appointed; Chairman Sherley of the house fortifications committee; ex-Governor Walsh of Massachusetts; ex-Governor Harmon of Ohio; ex-Governor Alva Adams of Colorado.

One report said that Lane would get the war portfolio, and Adams or Joseph Teal, Portland attorney, would succeed Lane. A White House authority, however, indicated that Lane will not be picked and at the same time it was learned authoritatively that Major General Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, would not be chosen. Moreover, Pindell is unlikely to get the place, as there is some question as to his "regularity" in view of the fact that he twice bolted Bryan when the latter was a presidential candidate.

"Dark Horse" Is Likely
The White House made it known today that Garrison's successor will be a man of great ability. This man will be appointed within a day; he is likely to be a "dark horse," the White House indicated, though a crop of "possibilities" were mentioned in official quarters. Meantime it is even more certain that congress will pass the militia plan in its preparedness program—the idea that caused Garrison's resignation. Chairman Hay of the house military committee said so, and Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee indicated the same thing.

Pro-militia Forces Win
Complete victory for the pro-militia forces in congress was indicated today by the declaration of Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee that the state troops must form the nucleus of the general defense program. He favors, however, a modification of the present militia system. "I believe we can practically federalize the various bodies of national guards," he said, "and I believe we can bring them to a single standard of efficiency, minimize the effect of local politics and gradually increase the effectiveness of the militia."

"Now that Secretary Garrison has resigned, I will say that I never favored the continental plan. I could not favor his idea of abandoning the work that many young men in the various states have conducted voluntarily for years. My idea is that we should improve and not supplant that plan."

CITY ATTORNEY IRVING RESIGNS FROM OFFICE

Press of Private Business Makes It Necessary for Popular City Official to Withdraw from Official Family—Mayor Ford Not Yet Ready to Name Successor

The resignation of City Attorney W. G. Irving, placed in the hands of the mayor today, will come as a distinct loss to Riverside's official family. Mr. Irving has filled this office most capably for the past six years. He has seen the city through some serious legal tangles, and every official, from the mayor all the way down through the officiate, has come to lean upon him and to trust implicitly in his judgment. That Mr. Irving, as well as W. A. Purington, who has taken over the presidency of the First National bank, will remain in charge of the Riverside interests in the water litigation, will be a matter of gratification to all. The loss of either one at this stage of the proceedings would be a most serious one.

No New Appointment Yet
Although there is more or less conjecture as to who will succeed Mr. Irving on March 1st, Mayor Ford is not yet ready to make an announcement in the matter. "I hate like everything to lose Mr. Irving," he says, "but I suppose if his private business is such that he cannot afford to retain the position, the city should not expect him to make the sacrifice. I want to take time to carefully consider the matter of the new appointment."

Letter of Resignation
Mr. Irving's letter of resignation reads as follows: "To the Honorable Oscar Ford, Mayor of the City of Riverside. Dear Sir: I regret to inform you that circumstances have arisen which compel me to tender my resignation to you, as city attorney."

"It is needless to say that I take this action with much regret. My association with you, in an official capacity, will always be remembered by me as one of the pleasant experiences of my professional life. Six years ago I received my appointment to this office from you, and to you I hereby resign as city attorney, my resignation to take effect the first day of March, 1916."

"I hope you will call upon me at any time, when I can be of service to you, or to the city. The firm of McFarland & Irving will still represent the city's interests in conjunction with that of the Riverside Water company, in the water suit now pending in San Bernardino."

"With kind personal regards, I beg to remain, (Signed) 'WM. G. IRVING, City Attorney.'"

Mr. Irving received his appointment June 29, 1909, from Oscar Ford, mayor pro tempore during the absence of Mayor Evans.

FIGHTING IS VERY GENERAL

Renewal of Activity Is Reported Along Front in Western and Eastern Fields

BOTH SIDES MAKE CLAIMS

General Conclusion Is Situation Remains Unchanged—Artillery Is Thundering

(By United Press Leased Wire) LONDON, Feb. 11.—Despite the drawbacks of winter, the war is flaring out anew on both the eastern and western fronts.

Fighting that began with local attacks in the Artois and south of Arras is spreading on the western line. At the same time the Russians have dispelled the quiet of the last few weeks and are strongly attacking northwest of Czeronowitz and on the entire front from Bessarabia to Volhynia.

The Berlin official statement today claimed that, though the French countered bravely northwest of Vimy and south of the Somme, they had not recaptured any more territory. The Paris communique did not claim any further gains last night, though previously it had been indicated the French won considerable of the ground they had lost.

The French, after several hours of artillery firing, tried four times to regain their losses, but failed, said Berlin.

Though both the Germans and French attacked strongly, it was evident from the official statements today that no important results followed.

Paris reported no important changes as a result of the night's struggle.

TURKS WIPE OUT FAMILY OF LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Turkish troops have wiped out the family of S. H. Sanjayan, Los Angeles photographer, according to messages received by him today. His people lived in Armenia. He is informed his father, mother, sister and two brothers, the latter American-born, were killed, his two sisters-in-law and their babies taken to harems and his house in Marash, Turkey, destroyed.

Ground was broken on December 14 for a 200,000-h. p. steam power plant to be built on the river front in the town of Tonawanda, N. Y., for the Buffalo General Electric company. The plant will cost $1,500,000.

Greece Has Business Reasons For Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—First among the reasons offered in explanation of the tenacious neutrality of Greece is that of the widely scattered Hellenic population and business interests in the Ottoman empire. An important part of the wealth of Greece is earned by the enterprisers of her people without her borders, and her sons, as captains of Near Eastern industry and commerce, have taken a leading and lucrative part in the exploitation of Turkish lands. In illustration of this phase of the problem confronting the statesmen at Athens, a study prepared by the National Geographic society on the Greek interests in the Levant is timely. It reads:

"From Damascus to Adrianople, and from Smyrna to Trebizond, Greek capacity for buying and selling, and for banking, has quickened commercial life in spite of the heavy odds of the outward forms of Turkish administration. Throughout this vast territory, where western capital and leaders are not to the fore, Big Business is in the hands of the Greeks, to such an extent that plutocracy in the Levant has almost become a matter of nationality. Equipped with the best training that the commercial schools of France and Germany can give, with practical experience in the big firms of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna, and with a native business acumen equal to that of the Jew, the modern Greek has been able to carry everything before him in those lands neighboring his country where business methods have been at a standstill ever since the days of Joseph."

"Beirut, Smyrna, Alexandria, Constantinople and Trebizond, all great ports of the Levant and Middle East, number among their most fortunate citizens the wealthy Greek merchants, bankers, and shippers. Navigation on the eastern Mediterranean and on the Aegean sea is largely in the hands of the Greeks, and, on the Black sea, they successfully divide this business with the Russians. Even the interior trade of Turkey-in-Europe and of Asia Minor is largely upheld by the vigor of Greek enterprise."

"Greek colonists have followed in the wake of Greek business, and the larger commercial cities of the ports have acquired a considerable number of Hellenic residents since the days of Greek independence. Moreover, there have always been large native populations and settlements of Greeks in the realm of the Sultan, outside of the Grecian peninsula. The whole coast country of Asia Minor, from the Dardanelles to the Gulf of Adalia, is dotted with innumerable Greek villages, many of the inhabitants of which are the descendants of the proud Greek cities that first felt the wrath of the Persians in classic times. The Greek language is preserved in these settlements, and they, in their importance and the number of their people, have made Greek one of the important languages of western Asia Minor, ranking with, or higher than, the other four idioms of the land, Turkish, Armenian, Kurdish, and Srvic."

"The Turk is the least businesslike of all the elements in his empire. His role, from his appearance in history down to the present day, has been that of the conqueror, of the overlord superior to commerce and industry, though often, where pressed by necessity, working as a tiller of the soil. The careers open to him have been the army, administrative offices, the professions, or the indolent ease of landlordism. As a seller of merchandise, the Turk is the least enterprising and the least importunate and annoying of all the peoples of the east; for he sits by his wares and awaits phlegmatically the pleasure of Allah."

"Thus, business in the Ottoman empire is completely in the hands of the Greeks, the Armenians, the Arabs, the Jews, and great western firms with branches in the middle east. To the Greek has fallen the lion's share of the business. He has always managed to get on with the Turk, whereas the Jew and the Armenian have often failed signally to maintain the favor of their overlords. Especially, has the Armenian succeeded in bringing down upon his luckless head the relentless disapproval of the Moslem, Turk and Kurd."

"Shrewd in business and in politics, adaptable, quick to make the skill and methods of the west his own, pliant and persevering, the Greek has enjoyed what might be termed the inside path in the commerce of the Levant. Turk and Kurd, for the most part, have looked tolerantly upon his successful enterprise; and, thus favored above his competitors, he has developed a thousand and one lucrative sources of income in Turkish lands, and these mean much to the welfare of the people in the motherland as they mean to him and to the future of all his fellow colonists in the Sultan's realm."

Better Food For Wards of State

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9.—Another big advance in the handling of California state institutions has been marked within the last six months during which the work being accomplished has been unknown except to those officially connected with the management of the state's business affairs and the state's institutions.

The retaining of Doctor M. E. Jaffa, professor of chemistry, of the University of California, by the state board of control as consulting nutrition expert, has not only served to solve the always vexatious question of diet in big institutions, but has put California's state institutions further in advance of those of the rest of the country.

One of the great problems connected with public institutions has always been the question of diet and feeding the patients, prisoners and other inmates.

The great problem is first to insure the purchase of first quality food; secondly to see that product purchased is delivered and next to see that the food reaches the patients or inmates in palatable form so that it is not wasted.

Four and a half years ago the board of control took up the problem of diet in the California institutions, wiping out the old system under which three qualities of food were purchased and purchasing only one quality; this being the best quality of food that money could buy.

The next step was the elimination of the fraud which under old conditions had resulted in the delivery of unfit food to the institutions. This was accomplished.

The next step was the hiring of competent cooks and dietitians and seeing that the food was properly served.

Finally, it was found that the only intelligent way to meet the whole question of diet was to have some centralized authority on food, food values and the preparation of food. This resulted in the retaining of Doctor Jaffa, who is, unquestionably the leading authority on foods in the western United States.

The work of varying the diet of California's institutions and improving its palatability has been going on under Doctor Jaffa's direction for a period of six months.

Doctor Jaffa is the supreme authority in the state government on all questions on quantity and quality and in preparation of food in state institutions. His work is carried on in conjunction with that of Doctor F. W. Haich, general superintendent of hospitals, and in co-operation with the executive heads of the different state institutions. The plan has already resulted in not only introducing a variety of the diet, but has increased the palatability and has conclusively demonstrated that this sort of supervision results in economy. The food being made attractive and being consumed by the inmates with a much less loss due to waste.

Hartford Woman Tells how She Regained Strength
Hartford, Conn. "I was run-down, nervous, no appetite, could not sleep, and had no strength, an old lady told me how much Vinol had helped her when in a like condition. I tried it and noticed an improvement within a week. It soon built up my strength, my nervousness disappeared and I can sleep well. I have never found any remedy equal to Vinol to create strength." Mrs. Clara Burr.

It's the tonic iron, the medicinal extractives of fresh cods' liver without oil, and beef peptone contained in Vinol, that makes it so successful in enriching the blood and creating strength for run-down, nervous, over-worked women.

We have seen such wonderful results right here in Riverside from the use of Vinol, that we will return the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction. The Keystone Drug Co., Riverside, Calif.—Advertisement.

Out of Slavery Into Freedom

The Story of Sam as Told by Himself

CHAPTER IV.

The war of the rebellion having been inaugurated and now in full blast, the purpose of which I believed to be for more securely fastening the fetters on the slave, and which I further believed if the north should successfully prosecute would doom the institution in this country, all of which made me feel that I should take part in the great event. In August I gave up my position in Toronto and went to Buffalo to seek some place where I might serve my country. At this time no colored man was being enlisted as a soldier. By good fortune I learned that General Sherman was in want of a body servant in which position I was recommended, was fortunate in securing it, and joined him at once. I continued with him till the end of the war. I was by his side at the battle of Shiloh, where he was wounded and had three horses shot from under him. After this, he told me my place was to look after his horses, and personal belongings. He was a stern disciplinarian. It was not easy for him to overlook shortcomings and delinquencies. He was patient and lenient toward those whom he had reason to believe had been faithful and had done their honest best. He was a very kind, tender man, and the great suffering and misery the war entailed naturally caused him to make the expression "War is Hell." In this he was keenly alive to its fullest import. It was my study to be scrupulously watchful, and do all possible to fill my position up to fullest requirements.

In this way so far as in me, there could be no cause for censure and no man could have been more appreciative for such service than the general. Through all the long anxious perilous desperate years I never received from him an impatient, unkind word. This fully demonstrated my philosophy that honest, faithful service never goes unrewarded.

My position gave me the opportunity to visit Atlanta, where I was reared and spent my first 24 years in slavery, and where so far as I knew, never having heard a word in the five years, from wife and boys, more than I would from the tomb, and where I was anxiously hoping under the proclamation to find them free. No one in their wildest flights of imagination can ever know the feeling that possessed me. At times filled with hope, then with doubt, then again with ecstasy, and joy that filled my whole being, so near was I and so soon might I embrace my loved ones and claim them for my own.

I had told the general all and he was in full sympathy, sending with me an escort to visit the old plantation. So leaving early in the morning with an escort of ten cavalrymen, in a little more than an hour, we were at the place of my boyhood. There was much in the surroundings that brought back through memory childhood days. Now all around was ruin and squalor. Many buildings gone, the fine old brick mansion in ruins, the fine old trees around the house had disappeared. All was disorder and unkept. Master Quin was in the army, my old master had died, many of the old hands had gone, others lingered, overjoyed at my coming. I was not long finding my sweetest and best world's treasures, wife and boys, all well and filled with unbounded joy at my coming, and that they were to go with me.

I called on my old mistress, who seemed in no way glad of my visit, and when told of my object to take my wife and boys away, she flew into a passion, exhibiting all the fury of a tigress. She cursed and raved and rent the air with her wailings. Then on her knees with fast flowing tears she prayed and weald with fervor and pathos that I would spare her this one great bow, all of which caused within me both sadness and mirth. My visit was brief, and taking wife and boys, I my wife, and two cavalrymen, each a boy behind, I turned my back the last time with mind mingled with reflections of present and past. Arriving at camp I was quick to report to General Sherman and asked what was best to be done. He making quick answer that a nurse was to leave tomorrow for Buffalo and I will go that transportation is furnished your wife and boys. From Buffalo they can go to Toronto to be with your friends. This seemed nothing less than providential, and all was soon arranged. I sent a dispatch to my old employer, asking him to meet them in Buffalo, giving him power of attorney to draw on my funds in the bank, take them to Toronto and see that they were well provided for. In due time I heard from Mr. Jones they had arrived, were all well and would be properly looked after. To know this thrilled me with unspeakable joy.

After King Atlanta, the general in triumph as all know fought his way to the sea through the Carolinas on to Washington, where the great historical parade was enacted, it being my pleasure to ride at the side of the general. The war, the terrible war, so fittingly described in the general's own words, had now ended, and I hastened to join my family. The great sacrifices the war had caused in men and means in its never to be forgotten horrors both to the south and north, were not all in vain.

It broke from off the limbs more than three million of my people the shackles of slavery giving to them freedom in thought and action to work along the great highway of life through the Red sea into the promised land. It did more, it eradicated from the body politic the deadly cancer that had so long been gnawing at the very vitals of the nation and making one united country as could otherwise have never been.

Parting with General Sherman, he thanked me with appreciative heart-felt words for my faithful services and gave me a valuable keepsake expressive of the same. A great general, a loyal, faithful, honest man to country, friends and principles. Great in attainment of intellectual genius, with a mind broader, more comprehensive, more richly stored than most other generals with rank above and below.

Once again in Toronto, finding wife and boys well and happy, with little delay again went to work for my old employer, who had become engaged in the manufacture of furniture. With him I continued five years more, when he, having gained a competency, desiring to retire, importuned me to buy the business, naming terms I could not decline. My boys worked with me in the factory when out of school, both early becoming proficient workmen, and when through school, they joined me with ardor and enthusiasm, and when of age, both became partners in the business. Strict faithful attention, giving honest, reliable goods for honest dollars, brought to us a splendid trade, and now at 76, myself and wife in the enjoyment of health, with ample competency for our remaining years. I turn the business over to my two trusted faithful sons, who enjoy the esteem and confidence of a large clientele, each having a fine home, well married, with families such as many a millionaire might feel most fortunate in claiming.

Now looking back over an eventful life, prosperity in a reasonable degree having been mine, still in the enjoyment of much and hopeful of more to come, I calmly await, yet am in no wise anxious, the coming day which comes to all the living.

WHY CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says skin pores are closed and uric acid remains in blood

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

BOND ISSUE IS FAVORED FOR BRIDGES AND HIGHWAYS

Meeting of Commercial Bodies of the County Adopts Strong Resolutions—Plan Endorsed by the County Chamber of Commerce—Action Was Unanimous

At a meeting of representatives of the commercial bodies of Riverside county, held at Corona yesterday afternoon, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted and later were approved un-animously by the county chamber of commerce.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors and Highway Commissioners of Riverside county:

Whereas, Riverside county has suffered great damages to its roads and bridges on account of recent floods, and

Whereas, it has been found impossible to complete the system of highways as planned under the bond issue of 1914, on account of insufficient funds, and

Whereas, these things constitute an emergency condition; now therefore

Be it resolved—that we, a joint committee of citizens and taxpayers from the different communities of Riverside county recommend as follows:

That you provide for a bond issue sufficient to defray the cost of rebuilding all destroyed portions of our highway system, to replace all bridges and to complete the unfinished portions of highways as originally planned in the bond issue of 1914; namely, from Corona to Elsinore, and from Mecca to the Imperial county line; also that the missing sections of the highway system which may be found through the limits of the incorporated towns of Corona, Elsinore, Perris, Hemet, San Jacinto, Beaumont and Banning be provided for and constructed from the funds to be derived from said proposed bond issue.

The meeting was the outgrowth of the recent conference held in this city between representatives of the Riverside and Corona Chambers of Commerce. The following localities were represented: Riverside, Corona, Arlington, Elsinore, San Jacinto, Banning, Indio and Thermal. E. P. Clarke of Riverside was made chairman of the meeting, and W. W. Van Pelt of Arlington, secretary. After an informal discussion on the Corona and Elsinore road, the Mecca to Brawley road, and the damage from floods, a committee was named to draw up resolutions voicing the strong sentiment which developed in favor of bonds. The following gentlemen were named on this committee: J. Win Wilson of Indio, Geo. L. Wing of Banning, F. M. Salee of San Jacinto, W. C. Barth of Corona and C. C. Arnold of Riverside.

The sentiment in both of the meetings was very strong for a bond issue of such an amount as will meet the emergency adequately. It was recognized that this plan would involve an increase in the assessed value of the county, but several speakers strongly favored such an increase as decidedly preferable to a heavy increase in direct taxation.

The matter will be presented to the supervisors at their meeting next Wednesday, by the committee which drew the resolutions.

SANTA FE CONSIDERING TEMECULA CANYON ROAD

Prospects of Abandonment of Washed-out Link Between Perris and Elsinore in Favor of Line Direct to Corona Is Being Watched with Interest

That the Santa Fe railroad company has under serious consideration the abandonment of their line from Elsinore to Perris, badly washed out by the San Jacinto river floods, and the construction in its stead of the line down through Temescal canyon to Corona, is generally recognized in the communities affected.

The Elsinore people have been asked by the railroad representatives to withhold any demands for a rebuilding of the line to Perris until the possibilities of the Temescal canyon line have been thoroughly studied.

The rights of way through the canyon have been practically all secured, it is understood, and the building of that line would not only tap directly the rich clay deposits in the Alhambra section at the head of the canyon, but would eliminate the heavy up-hill haul over the Box Springs grade to Perris.

The development of the project is being watched with keen interest both in Corona and Elsinore.

PHOTOPLAY A BENEFIT FOR ELSINORE BRIDGE

Citizens Join in Meeting Expense for New Bridge—Storm Ditch Is Discussed—New Auto Service Established—Lake Overflows—Other News Items

[Daily Press Special News Service] ELSINORE, Feb. 11.—The citizens are putting in a temporary bridge over the San Jacinto river and it is expected that the bridge can be used in a day or two. The general public has donated toward the bridge. Thos. Carmody of the Star theater has donated his theater for this evening, and a six reel picture, "The Lion and the Mouse," will be given. An entrance fee of $1 is to be charged and the proceeds will be turned over to the city to help pay for the construction of the bridge.

W. G. Irving Speaks
 At the request of Mayor Keck, City Attorney Irving of Riverside came out Monday evening and addressed a mass meeting of Elsinore citizens on the subject of a storm water ditch. It was his opinion that a ditch could be built legally from the San Jacinto river through the city of Elsinore.

Welcome Auto Service
 Graham & Wiley have established an efficient auto service between Elsinore and Riverside and meet all trains at Perris. Auto buses leave the garage at 7:15 a. m., 10 a. m., 2:30 and 4:30 p. m.

Lake Overflows
 Lake Elsinore is now overflowing, and about 2000 inches of water is going down Temescal canyon.

Mail Comes from Corona
 All mail is brought from Corona by way of Riverside and Perris by auto, as the Corona postman cannot come as the road is so badly washed out.

Personals
 Miss Ethel Kirkpatrick has gone to Riverside, where she expects to remain some time.

Evan Miller has returned to Elsinore after an absence of several months.

Miss Elizabeth M. Pell of Chicago came out Monday afternoon from Riverside to visit Mrs. James H. Gyger.

Mrs. Norman L. Dickson was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Woodruff, in Riverside, the first of the week.

Forest Ranger Parkinson met with a serious accident Saturday, when he was struck in the eyeball by a stick while cutting brush on a mountain trail.

Editor Peter Milliken of the Perris Progress was in town Wednesday.

PRETTY BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mesdames Webber and Winder Hostesses to Branch Members

Mrs. H. J. Webber and Mrs. A. H. Winder were hostesses at a daintily appointed bridge luncheon this afternoon at the Webber home on Walnut street, the guests being the members of the charity branch of which Mrs. Miguel Estudillo is leader. Other guests were Mrs. H. L. Carnahan and Mrs. Hugh Craig.

The Japanese motif was developed in the luncheon appointments and in the decorations of the spacious rooms of the Webber home. The delicate almond blossoms furnished the floral note, and in every possible way the Japanese scheme was carried out.

In the afternoon auction bridge was the diversion, attractive awards being given the lucky players at the close of the play.

Thinks Dams Inefficient
At the meeting of the associated chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley, held at Claremont on Monday, J. L. Matthews, editor of the Covina Argus, stated that he had visited Haines canyon, where an experiment system of check dams has been constructed and found that great damage had been done there. As soon as the check dams are filled with the first rush of flood waters the entire run-off finds its way into the valley. "A mill dam does not check the flood of water once the reservoir is full and running over. While such dams are of great value during moderate rains and during the spring and summer months from a conservation standpoint, the problem of flood control must be solved another way. A number of photographs were shown of havoc which has been wrought this year by the Haines canyon flood. A report of the observer in Haines canyon was read which bore out the claim that the check dams are inefficient from the control standpoint.

This is to be done by printing the name on the orange, Franz Ahlburg of Los Angeles having invented a machine for this purpose. Mr. Ahlburg is now at the packing house perfecting the machine, which if successful will be adopted. This is to take the place of the paper stamp which it is said comes off with any amount of handling. The name of the brand such as "Sunny Heights" is printed on the fruit with steel dies and ink in an electrically operated machine which at the moment of contact electrifies the dies and dries the ink.

Music, Speeches and a Perfect Dinner Fitting Ending for Interesting Day—Splendid Address on Conservation by Geo. H. Maxwell of Los Angeles

The annual banquet of the Corona Chamber of Commerce, given complimentary to the chamber of commerce of Riverside county...

The dinner, which in every respect would have done credit to the finest hostelry in the world, was given in the Woman's Club house...

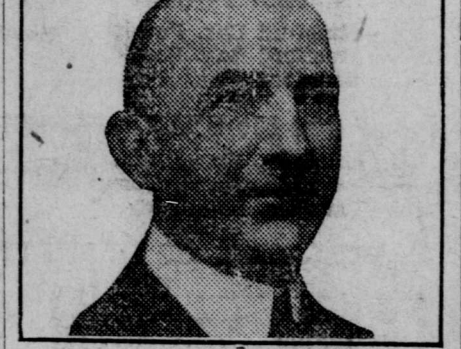

W. J. Pentelow, president of the Corona chamber, presided at toastmaster and extended a hearty welcome to the visitors...

Comprehensive Reclamation Plan George H. Maxwell of Los Angeles, known nation wide for his work and writings on the subjects of reclamation and preparedness...

The whole problem of flood and of water shortage can be solved," he said, "if the people will only get into action. Every drop of water which falls on our water sheds can be preserved to beneficial use...

"Check dams," he said, "will absolutely prevent the velocity and the ripping power of the mountain streams. These dams will quickly fill up behind with gravel and boulders, and each one will form a saturated cone, or reservoir, for the storage of water..."

"Next, with the water coming clear and pure from the check dams, you can build surface reservoirs which will not fill with sediment, and thus give the people a square deal."

CLOSER UNITY URGED IN BOOSTER MEETING Frank A. Miller Inspires Neighbors of San Bernardino by Talk on Civic Problems and Material Benefits at Meeting of Boosters

San Bernardino Sun The slogan of a closer unity between Riverside, San Bernardino and other neighboring towns with a view to mutual material benefits and civic beauty was enthusiastically sounded last evening at the weekly dinner of the business men held at the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. J. N. Baylis, a pioneer in the work of making San Bernardino a pleasanter place to live in, presided at the dinner and in introducing Mr. Miller spoke in a happy vein of the aims of the two cities.

"Beauty is a real business asset," Dr. Baylis said, and he proceeded to prove it by a number of apt examples. It is the most beautiful things of life that survive the longest...

Dwelling upon the value of beautiful entrances to a city, he cited the millions that are spent by the great stores and exclusive shops for plate glass windows and attractive entrances...

MAYOR FORD MAKES CLEAR STEPS TAKEN IN PURCHASE OF SEWER FARM

History of the Proceedings, Which Are Being Misrepresented by Certain Persons, Is Set Forth in Statement Showing Why and How the Purchase Was Made

Editor Press: As information has come to me that there has been a good deal of discussion regarding the proposed purchase of a sewer farm and as some of the reports show that there is considerable misinformation out, perhaps a statement from me at this time might be of value to the community.

In the first place I will say that we have been running our sewage through an improvised septic tank, which tank cost practically nothing, and through which the septic action is only partial, onto the lands of the Riverside Land & Irrigating company. However, a cheap improvised septic tank would be sufficient for use in connection with a sewer farm. This arrangement at the time it was made was considered only temporary, and it was understood that, whenever the city was in a condition to do so, permanent disposal grounds would be secured.

A year ago last summer the mosquito nuisance was very bad and was traceable in some degree to the imperfect disposal of our sewage.

As early as the first of June, 1915, the matter of acquiring disposal grounds was discussed by the council, and on June 25 several members of the council, the mayor and Messrs. Campbell and Darling, went over the grounds which are now under consideration. Since that time several trips have been made by the mayor and different members of the council, and others for the purpose of studying the situation.

City Engineer Campbell was requested by the council to bring in a map of the lands which he considered necessary for this purpose, together with recommendations for the sewage disposal. The map which he brought in showed approximately 500 acres of land. A difference of opinion developed in the council as to the quantity of land necessary, some members feeling that 500 acres was none too much, while others held to the belief that a less quantity would answer.

Advice of State Engineer

I felt at that time that the advice of an engineer who is making a study of sanitary matters would be valuable to the council in settling this question. I wrote to the state board of health October 18, 1915, asking that they send an engineer here to advise us. The board wrote that Mr. Gillespie could not come to Riverside at that time. A little later, however, a Mr. Foster of the U. of C. came here at the suggestion of the state board of health and he went over Mr. Campbell's plans with him. It seems that Mr. Foster's recommendations to the state board favored these plans. However, the state board decided not to pass on them until such time as their own engineer could go over the ground, himself.

January 12-13, 1916, C. C. Gillespie, chief engineer and director of sanitary engineering, state board of health, came here, and in company with several members of the council and of the city planning commission, and Mr. Campbell, went over the proposed sewer farm. On the afternoon of the 13th an informal meeting of the council was held and Mr. Gillespie then advised the purchase of the who amount of land embraced on Mr. Campbell's map, that is, about 500 acres. His recommendations, however, did not convince all the members of the council that this quantity was necessary, and, while the council agreed as to the necessity of the purchase of land for sewage disposal, they still disagreed as to the quantity required.

Council Actions

The actions of the council on this matter at different times are of public record and have always been re-

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out the poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

ported in the newspapers. However, I will call attention to the official action of the council, as follows:

On December 22, 1915, S. C. Evans was present at the council meeting and discussed the purchase of the land desired.

December 28, 1915: "It was moved—that it be the sense of the council that land shown on map of the city engineer . . . should be acquired by the city of Riverside, and that the mayor be requested to procure from the owners price at which said land may be purchased.

"The motion carried by the following vote:

"Ayes: Councilmen Strickler, Hackney, Rohrer and Stalder.
"Noes: Councilmen Brown and Zimmerman." Also

"It was moved . . . that the mayor be requested to procure price covering portion of land above referred to lying westerly of the old Santa Ana river channel.

"The motion carried by the following vote:

"Ayes: Councilmen Strickler, Brown, Hackney, Rohrer, Zimmerman and Stalder."

The passing of these two motions put it up to the mayor to get for the consideration of the council a price on two different sized pieces of land. When I went to Mr. Evans, he declined to give me a price in this way, but stated that, whenever the council got together on the quantity and location of land desired, he would be very glad to make the price, but he declined to give me a price on two tracts. On January 18, 1916: "It was moved . . . that it be the sense of the council that the city should acquire 160 acres of land shown on map of the city engineer . . . said land lying westerly of old Santa Ana river channel, as shown on said map."

This motion being lost, "It was moved . . . that it be the sense of the council that the city should acquire 400 acres of land, more or less, lying westerly of the present Santa Ana river channel, as shown on map of the city engineer . . ."

"The motion carried by the following vote:

"Ayes: Councilmen Strickler, Hackney, Rohrer and Jarvis.
"Noes: Councilmen Brown and Zimmerman."

Mr. Evans' Offer

Upon the passage of this motion for the purchase of 400 acres of land, S. C. Evans, being present, offered the land for $52,000, this being an average of $130 per acre, the understanding being that, if the survey of this tract should show that there is a little more or a little less than 400 acres, the price would be varied according to the quantity of land actually purchased. Upon receipt of this price from Mr. Evans, "It was moved . . . that the proposal of S. C. Evans, above referred to, be accepted, and that the mayor be authorized to have the necessary papers drawn up for the purchase of said land, and to have required survey of said land made by the city engineer."

"The motion carried by the following vote:

"Ayes: Councilmen Strickler, Brown, Hackney, Rohrer and Jarvis.
"Noes: Councilman Zimmerman."

Since this last action of the council the river has been so high that it is impossible to get a surveying crew on the ground. It is possible that the river has changed its course and the changed conditions will have to be taken into consideration when the final contract is made.

You will note that no contract has as yet been submitted to the council, but that the council has passed a resolution to the effect that it will accept the offer made by S. C. Evans.

Septic Tank Too Costly

In the consideration of this matter, the following facts must be kept in mind:

First, the city has reached a point where some action must be taken for the disposal of its sewage.

Second, that there seems to be only two methods available, that of a septic tank and that of a sewer farm.

My information is that a septic tank will cost more than the price made for this land by Mr. Evans and that it will require an expenditure of cash which is not available. Furthermore, as it is a patented article, a constant royalty would have to be paid for its use, and its operation and upkeep would always cost a considerable amount of money.

If we take the alternative of a sewer farm, we are confronted with the necessity of acquiring sufficient land, so that our operations can be carried on without constituting a nuisance to the neighboring lands. The question as to whether we shall acquire all the land necessary now, or get a small tract with the idea of buying more in the future, is a serious one, for the reason that, whenever the public gets to a point where it is necessary to have a certain piece of land, that land always becomes extremely valuable, the only recourse being condemnation, which would probably be necessary in case the land is subdivided and sold. In this case it is very doubtful if the city has the legal right to take land for a sewer farm through condemnation. If such is the case, the buying of a small tract of land for this purpose, would simply put the city in a position to be harassed by litigation in the very near future.

The city is under some obligation to the Evans brothers for allowing its sewage to run without cost, on their lands for a period of years. The land which is under consideration is the only land that I know of that is in every way suitable for our purpose, it being isolated and of a character which will readily take up the sewage. I believe that the price mentioned is reasonable, particularly as the tract embraces some of the very best farming land in the river bottom.

CANTADORES CLUB TO SING AT ORANGE SHOW

One of the Big Attractions of the Big Show Next Week Will Be Singers from Riverside—To Sing "Lucia"—Noted Dancer to Present "Dance of Orange Blossoms"

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 11.—A feature of the orange show that will be one of the notable musical events of the year in San Bernardino has been arranged by S. W. McNabb, chairman of the entertainment committee of the show, with the Cantadores club of Riverside. This will be the singing of the famous opera "Lucia" by the club with its chorus of 60 voices and some notable singers in the solo parts.

It was announced yesterday that the opera will be sung on February 22, "Riverside day." Mrs. LaRoy P. Simms, soprano, will sing the title role of Lucia, and Miss Julia Cornwell, contralto, will sing the part of Alice. E. H. Densmore will sing first tenor; G. E. Dole, second tenor; P. S. Castleman, baritone, and Prof. E. G. Eardley, the director, basso. Mrs. Estelle S. Minkler will be at the piano.

Another high-class entertainment attraction was signed up yesterday by Mr. McNabb, in two of the best dancers who have ever appeared on the coast. They are Miss Louise Green and her dancing partner, Collins Butler. Miss Green was a former pupil of Ruth St. Denis, the noted dancer, who is famous throughout the world. Miss Green also was at one time queen of the carnival at Venice.

"Orange Blossom Dance"

For the orange show she will feature an exquisite composition, the Orange Blossom dance. This is a barefoot dance in Grecian costume. Miss Green and Mr. Butler gave a private rehearsal at the Elks club yesterday afternoon and scored such a hit that they were at once engaged for the full week of the show. They will appear in the entertainment section and also in the dancing tent. A particularly striking number is their Apache dance from Paris.

The tent for the industrial section of the show was raised yesterday and the dancing tent will be in the air by tonight. Work will be started at once on the dancing floor, which promises to be one of the leading attractions at the exposition.

Decorations in the big tent were begun yesterday. "The finest ever" was the verdict of those who have watched the building of the orange shows during the last six years.

T. Strain, Jr., of Redlands was on the grounds during the day personally supervising the construction of the feature exhibit of the Mutual Orange Distributors' association. This will be a giant ferris wheel, covered with fruit and brilliantly illuminated, which will be kept revolving while the show is open.

Another big exhibit which is progressing rapidly is that of the Santa Fe railroad. A part of this exhibit will be the "painted desert" which attracted much attention at the San Francisco fair. The orange show opens one week from tonight.

Move Said to Be Backed by El Sobrante Land Co. to Open Up Famous Mines Near Corona—Howard Glass of Corona Gives Interesting History of Old Project

That there is a possibility of reopening the once famous Temescal tin mines, and reviving the old boom days in the Corona section, was divulged last evening at the big banquet given by the Corona Chamber of Commerce.

The history of the old mine, as outlined by Mr. Glass last night, is most interesting. It was discovered by the first white men in 1857, and was in litigation until 1888, when it was taken over by an English syndicate and active operations started in 1890.

"A city was laid out at the mines, streets made, trees planted, houses and administration buildings erected, and immense sums of money spent—much more on top of the ground than was ever put into the mines.

FARM BUREAU PLAN IS ABLY PRESENTED

County Chamber of Commerce Hears Plea from Mrs. H. E. De Nyse, Representing County Federation of Womens Clubs—Committee Is Named to Investigate

At the monthly meeting of the County Chamber of Commerce, held in the city hall at Corona yesterday afternoon, the matter of a county farm bureau and farm advisor was ably presented by Mrs. H. E. De Nyse, representing the county federation of womens clubs.

Mrs. De Nyse called attention to the fact that the federation represents 13 clubs with a total membership of a thousand women. She urged the importance of the farm bureau and farm advisor as a means of improving country life, and said these two agencies are needed to supplement the work of the federal and state governments in establishing agricultural colleges and experiment stations, and in issuing farm bulletins.

The circular gives as general preventive measures which should be tried before vaccination is resorted to: 1. Isolation of all diseased fowls from the flock, and burning of all dead fowls.

Cleanliness Essential Walter G. Krum, in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, thus emphasizes the importance of cleanliness in the care of market eggs:

All eggs should be produced under sanitary conditions. The buildings should be properly ventilated so as to admit plenty of fresh air, which is a most potent factor in maintaining the health of the fowls.

The germ in a fertile egg may start to develop into a chick in a temperature as low as 72 degrees Fahrenheit. It is therefore advisable to keep males in the flocks only during the breeding season, thereby producing infertile eggs, especially during the warm summer months.

Double Mating The mating of barred Plymouth rocks in order to produce the beautiful color of females and the fine markings of males is at once a puzzle and a despair to the amateur.

CLASS LEADER IS CHOSEN

Art Class Elects Mrs. C. P. Hayt as Department Chairman

The art department of the Woman's Club held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon...

The subject for the afternoon was "Portrait and Figure Painters," the artists described being Wm. Chase, Kenyon Cox and Elihu Vedder.

A carefully prepared paper on Wm. Chase was read by Mrs. Meharg in which she recalled to the memories of all who visited the Panama-Pacific exposition the Wm. Chase room with its deep blue walls, canopy and floor.

Mrs. H. O. Reed sketched the life of Elihu Vedder, who she said, loved landscape painting and so was constantly putting figures in his landscapes.

Prominent among the pictures which she described was the well known Mosaic Minerva in the congressional library, in Washington.

He and Kenyon Cox worked much together and Cox, too, painted some splendid pictures for the congressional library, which were described by Mrs. J. F. Brown in her clever talk on that artist.

At the close of the program Mrs. C. P. Hayt was elected leader of the art class for next year.

SOCIAL AFTERNOON OF LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The Mesdames J. Van Kirk and J. F. Reimer were hostesses yesterday afternoon to the Ladies Aid of the English Lutheran church at the home of the latter on West Fourteenth street.

The pretty decorations of the living and dining room were in pink carnations and violets.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Stroup and prayer was offered by Rev. H. J. Weaver.

During the program hour various suggestions for the advance of the work of the society and church were given.

Music and fancy work occupied the attention of the members after the business meeting, piano solos being given by Mrs. Reimer and her daughter, Miss Lois.

Assisting the hostesses in serving the refreshments, in which the valentine theme was carried out, was Miss Olive Steidel.

On March 9 the society will be entertained by Mrs. Wallace Weaver.

RIVERSIDERS GIVE PROGRAM IN COLTON

Z. E. Meeker, head of the department of voice of the Riverside School of Music, and Miss Tacie May Hanna, instructor in elocution at the same school, presented a very delightful program last evening before the Eastern Star lodge in Colton.

Mrs. LaRoy Simms acted as accompanist for Mr. Meeker.

Miss Hanna, who is a reader of discrimination and power, gave that clever little play by Anatole France, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," a satire on modern society which is most refreshing and amusing.

Two groups of songs were given by Mr. Meeker, his singing rousing a fine enthusiasm in the audience.

His offerings included "Denny's Daughter" (Bruno Huhn); "Mother o' Mine" (Tours); "Wearin' Awa" (Footie); "The Pipes of Pan" (Elgar); "Danny Deever" (Damosch); and "Rolling Down to Rio" (Edw. German).

IOWA CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS AT GROVE HOME

Thirty members of the Iowa club were present at the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Groves, at 1190 West Eighth street.

The most important question discussed during the business meeting was the oyster supper which will be held the last of this month at the home of Mrs. William Copley, 1324 Lime street.

The affair will be for the members of the club and their husbands.

On the first Thursday in March the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Wagner, 441 East Eighth street.

OF PATIENCE, DIES TODAY PHENOMENON AND EXAMPLE MOLLIE FANCHER, PSYCHIC

Mollie Fancher

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Mollie Fancher, bedridden for 50 years, is dead. She met death as she had faced life—with a smile.

She recently observed the 50th "anniversary" of her helplessness, and sought to have the president attend; he was engaged in a speaking tour, however.

SKETCH OF UNIQUE LIFE

The following interesting little story which tells something of the life of Miss Mollie Fancher, was written for the Press by a relative who is living in Riverside:

In the Tuesday issue of this week's Press, appears a picture of Miss Mollie Fancher, a woman who has spent 50 years in bed.

So reads the explanation of the picture. But back of this lies the story of her life that reads like a fairy tale.

About the year of 1864 she fell and sustained a spinal injury. After months of suffering she recovered, only to later fall from the steps of a horsecar.

Her skirt caught on the step and she was dragged for some distance. This accident left her partially paralyzed, one arm drawn above her head and completely blind.

Her past was a blank and she took on a new personality. Among other changes was that of her writing. From a plain, ordinary hand she changed to a beautiful back hand, so perfect that it was as easy to read as type.

She was very sensitive to heat, and ate virtually no solid food, using fruit juices and nourishment of a like nature.

Her peculiar case attracted the attention of many prominent physicians of Brooklyn and New York.

Tests were made to learn if some trickery were not being practiced as to the food she took. Emetics and cathartics were administered to Miss Fancher and a close watch was kept of her day and night, but to no avail.

Those interested in psychic matters, spiritualists and church people, studied her, but she is just as much of a mystery today as she was years ago.

When her door bell rang she could always tell who was there, and her likes and dislikes for persons were very marked. Many called through curiosity, but few of these ever obtained admittance to her home.

For years she did very fine fancy work, the sale of which went to help support her. Her sense of touch was very keen and she could blend the shaded silks in her embroidery in an astonishing way.

An amusing story is told of the first visit that Tom Thumb paid to Mollie. Like most people he was doubtful as to her ability to do work, so he asked her to make him some little piece of her handiwork.

She quickly fashioned a wax flower and as he took it he said: "If anyone dares to tell me that Mollie Fancher did not make this flower, I'll knock him down."

Miss Fancher has faced many hard problems in her peculiar life, and has shown herself capable and willing to overcome all difficulties. Though bedridden and blind, she has worked, making a large variety of fancy articles which have sold at good prices.

This with the book that has been written—a story of her interesting life, has brought her sufficient means to live on and she has never asked for help from anyone.

Poor Mollie has outlived all her near relations and most of her friends. No matter what bodily suffering or mental anguish she has had to endure, she has always had a cheery word and a smile for those about her.

Patience has been her watch word through all the weary years, and it would be hard to find a sweeter, or more beautiful character than that of Miss Fancher. And after 50 years of what most persons would consider a living death, she still smiles and patiently waits for the blessed release that she so longs for.

TUSKEGEE QUARTET TO SING AT ANNUAL PICNIC

The celebrated Tuskegee quartet from the Booker T. Washington institute will furnish the music for the annual picnic of the Wisconsin Association of Southern California, which will be held at Sycamore Grove tomorrow, the 12th, Lincoln's birthday.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the picnic. Officers of the association are J. D. Radford, president, and Alvin B. Carpenter, secretary.

Dr. Margaret Schallenberger McNaught will speak this evening at the public library at 8 o'clock on "Censorship and Its Substitutes." Dr. McNaught spoke before a large audience at the girls high school this afternoon.

A. A. VALENTINE FOOD MARKET TOMORROW

The parish house of the All Saints Episcopal church, on West Tenth street, has been attired in a pretty dress of bamboo and English ivy for the valentine food market, which the local branch of the Allies Ambulance Aid will hold tomorrow.

Flags of the nations furnish an attractive color note in the decorations.

Beginning at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon all manner of home cooked foods will be placed on sale, including pastries, cakes, candies and doughnuts. During the afternoon tea and cakes will be served.

The W. R. C. will meet in regular session on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the Fraternal Brotherhood hall.

ROBERT BURNS PROGRAM SUBJECT

West Side Friendship Circle Enjoys Pleasant Session at Sheldon Home

The West Side Friendship Circle met in regular session at the pleasant home of Mrs. C. N. Sheldon, on Thirteenth street, West Riverside, yesterday afternoon.

Violets intermingled with smilax formed a pretty decoration for the occasion.

Mrs. W. H. Fraser presided over the business session, at which time it was decided by a unanimous vote to hold a leap year box social at the home of Mrs. N. W. Davis.

The social and work committees were appointed to take charge. They will announce the date later.

Mrs. Davis acted as treasurer for the afternoon in the absence of Mrs. Gobreuge. The secretary then read letters of thanks for flowers received by members and their families when ill.

Mrs. J. S. Toland, chairman of the work committee, then took charge of the afternoon's program, the first number being a reading on the life of Robert Burns, by Mrs. James Kidder.

Mrs. Charles Flickinger then favored the ladies with an instrumental selection, "Missouri Waltz," and kindly responded with "Dainty Daffodils."

Mrs. H. A. McMullen gave a very interesting reading, "An Ode to Robert Burns," which proved very interesting.

A pleasant diversion for the afternoon was a clever guessing game, which was mirth-provoking as well as interesting.

Those assisting Mrs. Sheldon in serving refreshments were Mrs. H. A. McMullen and Mrs. F. S. Kniss.

The following visitors were present: Mesdames Edmonston, Bridson, Bramer, Jr., Prather, Street, Bramer Fousby, and the Misses Bridson, Clough and Carroll.

The place and date of the next meeting will be announced later.

MASONS WILL INSTALL OFFICERS THIS EVENING

Evergreen lodge, F. and A. M., will install officers for 1916 at the Masonic temple this evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, and every Mason is expected to be present.

An invitation has been extended to the Eastern Star members to be present, and all Masons are urged to attend, bringing their wives and friends.

The program of the evening includes music, and the serving of light refreshments by the new French chef. The installing officer of the evening will be Mr. Tanner, past master of the San Jacinto lodge.

The officers to be installed are: W. M.—A. H. Winder. S. W.—C. O. Reid. J. W.—C. H. Daum. Sec.—H. D. French. Treas.—C. B. Bayley. S. D.—E. Brouse. J. D.—J. R. Jahn. Chaplain—J. H. Ellis. Marshal—J. T. Jarvis. Tyler—P. A. Gunsolus. Steward—L. H. Angell.

COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE MEET HERE TOMORROW

The Riverside members of the Southern California branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae will entertain the San Bernardino, Colton and Redlands members of the branch at the home of Mrs. T. T. Porteous, 1195 Walnut street, tomorrow.

Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock after which a program will be presented, "Patriotism and Citizenship" as the subject for discussion. Prof. F. L. Pochin will tell of the work being done among the Mexicans at Casa Blanca, and of the Armenian classes at the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. F. D. Lewis will tell of the patriotic work being done by the D. A. R. and the work of the same character being carried on by the U. D. C. will also be described. Mrs. Arthur L. Brown will be the soloist of the afternoon.

The Electric Contractors' association of Liverpool, Eng., has decided to train a number of women in electrical work in order to release men for military duty.

STUDENTS GIVE SPANISH PROGRAM

Proving in an indisputable manner the worth and purpose of their high school work in Spanish, was the program given yesterday afternoon by the students in sophomore Spanish before an audience which included the other classes in the course, and a number of invited friends.

"Life in California at the Time of the Missions" was the general subject of the program, and every number was given in Spanish. The girls had made all arrangements for the program, working up the material for their talks by themselves, receiving only a little help now and then from their teacher, Miss Kate N. O'Neill.

The meeting was called to order in the library, and after the reading of minutes of the last meeting, Miss Ruth Gates told of the life of Junipero Serra. This talk, as were all the talks given during the afternoon, was given in the Spanish language without reference to any notes.

After a piano solo by Miss Ruby Hill, the stories of the missions were told by Misses Mildred Hiller, Grace Haymond and Zeila McCune. Music was then given by Misses Margarita Wright, Lois Wood and Eva Willoughby.

Stereopticon views of the different missions were then given, little talks of explanation being given by the Misses Alice MacLeod, Edna Scott, Lulu Winslip, Mary Church and Lorna Densmore. The life at the missions and among the Indians was described by Miss Winslip. Attired in the pretty costume of the early days, the Misses Ruby Hill and Edna Haymond gave one of the Spanish dances, "Paloma" was played by Miss Lily White.

At the close of the program the guests were bidden to the domestic science room, where a delicious luncheon of Spanish dishes was served, Miss Haymond saying the guests might find it easier to translate the food than the talks with which they had been entertained.

A pleasant spirit of rivalry exists between the different classes in the presentation of these noteworthy programs, each striving to arrange something different and more unusual than the program which has gone before.

PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM THEME

Prof. A. N. Wheelock Speaks Before Aurantia Chapter of the D. A. R.

Mrs. W. A. Purington of Orange street was hostess on Wednesday afternoon to the members and friends of the Aurantia chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 18 being present.

After the usual routine of business, Professor A. N. Wheelock was introduced and spoke to the company upon "Preparedness." The entire talk was most thoughtful and of great interest. It presented in part these thoughts: to cultivate friendliness for all nations, but to prepare for storms that may come; so long as wars are to be the country that is prepared will be the country the least hurt; to have our nation armed, but to defend not only ourselves, "the home of democracy" but to defend a world peace as well.

The afternoon closed with the serving of refreshments. The Aurantia chapter is well represented at the sessions of the annual state convention of the D. A. R., which is being held at Hotel Green, Pasadena, the delegates from the chapter being Mrs. Homer Plimpton, Mrs. Flora Shearman, Mrs. W. B. Payton, and Mrs. Helen Plimpton Rice of Los Angeles, formerly of this city.

ZONA GALE VISITOR IN PASADENA THIS WINTER

Zona Gale, well known writer, is a guest at the Hotel Maryland, in Pasadena, where she is planning to spend the next few months. Last winter Miss Gale delivered a series of lectures in Southern California, appearing in San Bernardino and Redlands.

Of late Miss Gale has devoted her time to the interests of peace and preparedness and plans to continue her work along these lines while out here.

REUNION OF OLD-TIME FRIENDS IS ENJOYED

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Milner of 365 Fourteenth street entertained at dinner last evening, complimenting their house guest, Mrs. J. W. Milner, of Ashland, Ore. The invited guests included a few old home friends, and the opportunity of meeting and talking over the old times was one which brought pleasure to all.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McMahan and Mrs. E. E. McMahan. Mrs. Milner left this morning for her northern home.

TALKS ON LIQUOR LAWS AT EAST SIDE W. C. T. U.

Dr. Louise Harvey Clarke addressed the members of the East Side W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon on the subject of state laws concerning liquor and drugs, showing how the physicians are governed by the state rulings.

The talk was most instructive and appreciated by the Union. The afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. Alice Chapman, vice president.

ANGEL HOLDOUTS GET BIG OFFER

Arizona Outlaw Club Wants Harper, Muesel and Ryan—$250 Per Month and Job Paying $150 Year Round Is Tempting Bait

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Just when owners of local Coast league clubs were beginning to tell their ball players "to take or leave it," when they refused to sign contracts along came Charlie Arbogast today with tempting offers for Jack Ryan, Emil Muesel and Harry Harper to join his Hayden, Ariz., outlaw club.

Arbogast is managing the Hayden club and he came here with the "string off the bank roll," ready to lure away the best players he can get in the Coast league.

The Hayden manager offered salaries of $250 a month to Harper, Muesel and Ryan, with contracts calling for employment in the mines there at $150 a month during the off season. Such a contract would mean more money on the season than the players can hope to get in the Coast league.

CARLTON BURKE'S POLO FOUR BEATS HUGH DRURY'S TEAM

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Hugh Drury's polo team was defeated by three-quarters of a point at Midwick Country club yesterday afternoon. The team captained by Carlton Burke won the contest by a score of 9 3/4 to 9. The game was filled with thrills and numerous goals. The play ran mostly to the attack with both sides scoring many pretty shots.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Pasadena and Los Angeles teams will play the deciding match in the Inter-City Polo contests.

MALCOLM STEVENSON SCORES EIGHT GOALS IN POLO GAME

CORONADO, Feb. 11.—By scoring eight out of twelve goals Malcolm Stevenson, international match substitute, led the Greens to victory here yesterday in their polo game with the Whites. The final score of the contest was 12 to 7. Some splendid bits of horsemanship were offered by certain members of the two teams.

GIRLS BASKET BALL GAME CALLED OFF TOMORROW

The basket-ball game scheduled for tomorrow between the Riverside girls high school team and the girls team of Corona has been postponed until a later date. Corona informed Riverside that it will be impossible for the team to come up for the game tomorrow.

CHAS. SCHWAB PUTS BASEBALL LEAGUE IN FIELD FOR WORKMEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Charles M. Schwab has commissioned Walter F. O'Keefe of the Bethlehem Steel company to organize a baseball league of six teams in order that the munitions makers may enjoy the national game this year at the $35,000 baseball park Schwab has furnished at South Bethlehem, Pa. O'Keefe came here today in an effort to persuade Washington to withdraw from the Lackawanna league and enter the proposed Munition league. His offer is so attractive that Washington will join the Schwab league. The other teams will be Phillipsburg, N. J.; Easton, Pa.; Allentown, Pa.; Bethlehem and South Bethlehem teams.

TENNIS STARS PROFESSIONALS

American Association Takes Action Against Maurice McLoughlin and Bundy—Coast Stars Declare They Are Not Worrying

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Maurice E. McLoughlin and Thomas Bundy, two of the foremost tennis players in the country, will be declared professionals by the executive committee of the American Lawn Tennis association. James Prior Allen, a gentleman of interesting connections with the officials of the government tennis body, made this statement.

Are Not Worrying

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Thomas C. Bundy of the new firm of "McLoughlin & Bundy," said: "Maury and I are not worrying at all about what the committee may do. I think there is little chance of so drastic action being taken. The majority of the members of the committee are friends of both Maury and myself and unless some new rule is adopted we cannot see how we can be affected."

JESS WILLARD IS EX ROUTE TO NEW YORK TO TRAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Heavyweight Champion Jess Willard will reach here tomorrow prepared to push to completion his training for his coming ten round battle with Frank Moran at the Madison Square Garden March 8. HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up. Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

OREGON AGGIES TO PLAY U. S. C. ELEVEN

Final Arrangements Completed for Big Game in Los Angeles Next Thanksgiving Day—Oregon Is to Play Michigan

PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—Final arrangements for a football game between the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Southern California to take place next Thanksgiving day at Los Angeles, were completed yesterday. Word has been received by Coach Stewart that the Syracuse university has scheduled a game with Pittsburg for that day, and it would be impossible to make other plans to accommodate the Oregon team at Syracuse next fall. Negotiations are under way to have the Oregon Aggies make the trip to East Lansing, Mich., to play the Michigan Aggies in October.

BARRING OF YALE STARS IS A SURPRISE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 11.—The executive committee of the Yale Athletic association has ruled that the five prominent athletes who withdrew from intercollegiate competition last fall for violating the summer baseball rule cannot represent Yale in sports during the present college year. The action bars Captain Milburn of the baseball team, Harry Legone, the football and baseball star, and William Easton, Spencer Pumpelly and Robert Rhett, members of the varsity nine.

Played Summer Ball

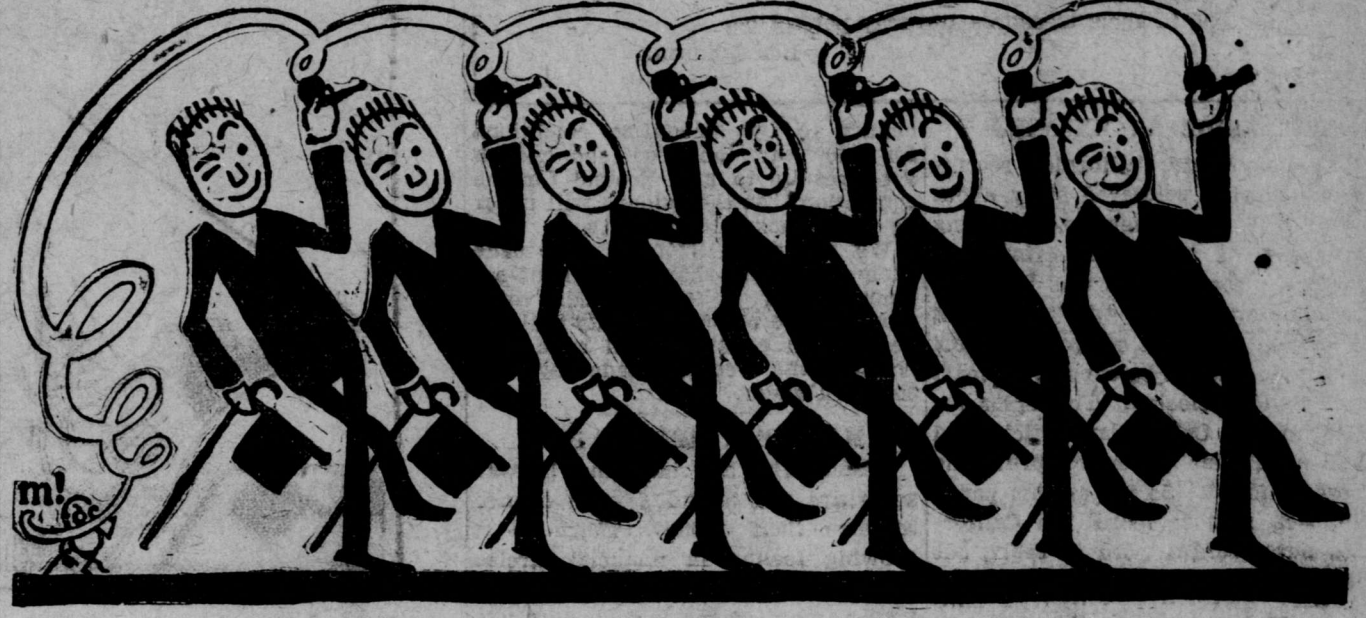

The five athletes played baseball at Quoque, N. Y., last summer and received free board for a short time. When they discovered that this was in violation of the Yale rules, they paid their board for the remainder of the summer and received no pecuniary reward.

GRANT SIX SOME MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Car Sold by Davenport-Wheeler-Al-len Company in This City Con- quers Hardest Climbs in Southern California in One Day

Through snow and sand, over boulevard and mountain road, a Grant Six made one of the most remarkable motor achievements of the season last week.

The car was called upon to visit Knight's Camp in Big Bear Valley, Camp Baldy and the summit of Mt. Wilson in one day.

The return trip was made by the same route. The car penetrated San Antonio canyon to Camp Baldy and climbed to the summit of Mt. Wilson, registering at all three places before returning to Los Angeles.

The entire trip covered a distance of 248 miles, and the total altitude climbed was 18,616 feet. The car was a stock model and one which has been given severe usage already.

Her Husband's Friends

Do you ever praise your husband's friends? You, in this case, means wives, of course, but as all women are potential if not actual wives, I hope no woman will lay this article aside merely because she isn't at present of the matrimonial estate.

As for the men—well, I know all husbands will prick up their ears when they read that question, and bachelors don't matter.

The great complaisance which the average American husband shows in permitting his wife to select the friends with whom they shall spend most of their leisure time and in entertaining and associating with her family rather than his, is something I have remarked upon before.

It is a strange and unworthy kind of jealousy, this resentment of theirs. I do not like it. And they could give so much pleasure by a little decency and graciousness, a little tolerance.

One Woman Had Her Eyes Opened A young married friend of mine told me the other day of an experience of hers which gave rise to my first question.

LIGHTNING WAS CAUSE OF BLAZE

Large Barn on the Holcomb Ranch in the Temescal Valley Was Destroyed, Together with Most of the Contents; No Insurance

Shortly after seven o'clock last evening the large barn on the Holcomb ranch, which is located just above Coldwater canyon, was struck by lightning and in a very few minutes the entire building was ablaze.

Mrs. Oak, wife of Warren Oak, who is farmer of the ranch, was the first to detect the odor of smoke, and Mr. Oak and another one of the men employed on the place started an investigation, and upon climbing to the loft found that a large bale had already been burned in the hay, and the flames rapidly consuming the dry timber.

After a great effort the ten mules were driven to a place of safety, and then an attempt was made to get what they could out of the burning structure, but about the only things saved were an automobile and a few things of lesser value.

The barn was practically new, having been built a short time ago, and was one of the finest buildings on the ranch. It was stored with a year's supply of hay for ten mules, which would be almost thirty tons, two automobiles, all the harness, tools, etc. were totally destroyed, but the other buildings on the ranch were saved.

Mr. Holcomb is in the east just now and Mrs. Holcomb is not certain whether there was any insurance or not.

The cause of the fire is attributed to lightning. The barn will be rebuilt at once.

WHEN CANNING FACTORIES CANNOT CAN YOU CAN

I do not care what stocks are worth, nor what the price of ships. I have no time to spare for speculative tips. My only job is working hard to earn the needed cash to keep the folks supplied with fat pork and beans and hash. And yet, I've never read the Wall Street ticker's news but plug away to buy the bread and keep my brood in shoes, there's one thing in the market that caught my eye today and that is the price of beans. The papers say the war has made all working forces scant and men who run the canning trade would like to can, but can't. The wages in cannery shops are high, and all the hand till canners can not use the crops of things that should be canned. The item made me think awhile. The meaning's very plain. If I'm to live within my pile when winter comes again it's up to me to take the tip and get ahead and try to stop the threatened slip-twixt me and daisy bread. Two million fertile garden plots throughout the fruitful land are growing things in wholesale lots that must be dried or canned. If canners cannot get the men to put the stuff away, it means a jump in prices when we face the winter day. It means that I must fix myself to brave the coming cold by filling up my pantry shelf with all that it will hold. For now's the cheapest time to buy the things on which we feed. It's up to me to can or dry the foodstuffs I will need. The man who will not look ahead and use his present chance will have good cause to view with dread the winter's sharp advance; while I, with my abundant store upon my pantry shelf may calmly watch when prices soar and not be sore myself.

MOTHER SUES SALOON MAN

On the charge that he sold liquor to her minor son, Clifford Church, 18 years old, without her written consent, Mrs. Eva Middleton brought suit in the circuit court of Kansas City, for $2,000 damages against D. M. Carey, saloonkeeper and his bonding company. Mrs. Middleton charges that between January and April this year her son was sold liquor forty different times at Carey's saloon, and she asks $50.00 for each time.

HOW MANY MILES

The Corona Hardware company has a Hood tire in their north window which shows considerable wear. They are offering a five dollar gold piece to the person who guesses nearest to the total number of miles this particular Hood tire has run.

If you know something about tires or nothing at all you have an opportunity to guess. All the hardware folks ask of you is that you call at the store and write your name in a book and write down the number of miles this tire has run.

SPECIAL MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT

Corona Rifle Club Members will Meet in City Hall to Arrange for "Membership Match" Date; Buttons Here

There will be an important meeting of the Corona Rifle Club, at the City Hall, Monday night at eight o'clock, at which time some very important matters will be taken up, the most important of which will be the naming of a date for the membership match for the club to which is issued each year. This match is open to members of this club only, and any member may contest for the trophy, and every one will have an equal chance of winning this medal. It is important that all members be on hand to help name the date for this shoot.

Fred Baird is wearing his expert rifleman button which was recently received from Washington. Mr. Baird is the only member who has qualified as an expert rifleman. The decorations for the marksmen and sharpshooters will be issued at the end of the year.

The club has received a number of membership buttons, which will probably be distributed at this meeting, to be on hand to get yours.

SALTING AS MEANS OF SAVING FOOD

Assistant Professor of Zymology in the University of California Instructs in Work; May Save Many Vegetables

Certain vegetables are readily preserved in a palatable condition by the addition of salt. String beans, cabbage, cauliflower, asparagus and artichokes may be satisfactorily preserved in the following way, as recommended by the University of California College of Agriculture.

String Beans. Spring beans and break into suitable lengths for cooking. Weigh the beans accurately and for every three pounds of beans weigh out one pound of salt. Mix the beans and salt in alternate layers in a crock or wooden bucket or barrel. Do not use metal containers. Place a wooden weight on a stone or brick on top of the salted vegetables and set away in a cool place. The salt and the weight will force out the juice from the beans. The juice will combine with the salt to give a heavy brine which preserves the vegetables.

Artichokes, Asparagus, Cauliflower. Prepare a saturated brine solution consisting of 3 1/2 to 4 pounds of salt to the gallon of water. Place this in a wooden or earthenware container. Store the vegetables in this saturated brine, using a wooden weight to keep the vegetables immersed. If the vegetables show signs of fermentation at any time more of the salt should be added to the solution and stirred in until dissolved.

Corn. Corn may be put down in the same way as described for string beans. Corn so preserved has all the flavor of the fresh corn and is superior to canned corn.

Turnips, Carrots, Parsnips. These vegetables may be cut in thin slices and stored in one pound of salt to three pounds of vegetables

DEAL FOR TEMESCAL TIN MINE AND OTHER PROPERTY CLOSED

E. J. Genereux and Associates Have Already Placed a Force of Men at Work to Clean Out the Mine; Purchase Price Under $500,000

Readers of The Independent will remember that some time ago mention was made in these columns of the possibility that the Temescal Tin Mines, which are famous through the United States, would soon again be the scene of considerable activity. At that time papers were in assay and an expert mining engineer was going over the grounds with a view of making a report to the parties directly interested.

As a result of his finding and through the efforts of E. J. Genereux, who is heavily interested in the undertaking, Corona will once more enjoy the activity that was experienced years ago, when the mine was operated under different management.

This promises to be one of the biggest mining developments of the year in California in this county. Announcement was made yesterday of the purchase by E. J. Genereux of Corona, Elmer E. Cole of Los Angeles, and Frank Simmonds of Los Angeles, of the 25,000 acres, being all of the unsold portion of the famous El Sobrante Rancho, lying between Corona and Temescal, and including the once famous Temescal tin mine. It means the re-opening of the old mine, which has already begun, and in the development of large deposits of copper, silver and tin ore, with other minerals in minor quantities. The purchase is made from Fred E. Kerkovich, of London, England, who disposes of all the portions of the old ranch owned by them.

Large Company Proposed. E. J. Genereux, who is the leading spirit in the proposed development, and who secured options on the land, states that the first work to be done will be the pumping of the water from the old tin mine shaft, and the sinking of a shaft to a depth of 500 feet, following which it is expected that there will be formed a $5,000,000 corporation to develop this and the remaining ore deposits on the property. The work of clearing the old mine and putting it in shape to work has already been started, and a crew of men has been working on it for a week or more. It is estimated that it will cost more than $10,000 to put the old mine in shape for further development, says the Riverside Enterprise.

Mine Has Proved Rich. There have been numerous stories published of the old Temescal mine, which was operated on English capital for a year and a half, beginning in 1890. It is stated that the management of the company was most lavish, having spent $300,000 in the mine and $1,000,000 above the ground. Despite that fact, however, a shaft was sunk to the depth of 238 feet and tin was taken from it to the amount of $165,000. But tin then was worth only seven cents a pound. It is now worth 64 cents and the same product that was secured in the year and a half of operation would be worth $1,500,000.

As described for string beans. Peas. Peas become rancid in flavor if stored in salt and the process is therefore not recommended for them. Salted vegetables must be thoroughly soaked in water before preparing them for the table, or they must be parboiled in several changes of water before cooking them. If this is done the salted vegetables have practically all the flavor of the fresh vegetables.

Imperial Valley farmers have contracted their "corn" crop at $40 per ton. Offers for fall delivery are $35, however.

WHAT CAN BE DONE ON CITY LOT IN CORONA. H. D. Hutson placed on display at the Local chamber of commerce today, two black-eye bean stocks, grown on a lot at 1112 Garrison avenue. Mr. Hutson counted over one hundred pods on the larger of the vines, approximating twelve hundred beans. The runners are 4 to 5 feet, six inches long and are of good color.

The state will spend $750,000 in highway improvement in the Imperial Valley during the next year.

BAN ON SOCIALIST PAPER

The American Socialist, official weekly publication of the National Socialist party, has received word from Washington that its second class mailing privilege has been revoked. That the last three issues of the publication in June were held unmailable under the espionage law.

Archie Tilson has come to California where he has accepted a position in a bank. Burns Kirby, brother of Mrs. Tilson, was drafted in the army and the vacancy has been filled by Mr. Tilson. Mrs. Tilson will leave in a few days for California to make her home in the valley.

GREAT DELICACY WAS NECESSARY

Famous French Director Albert Capellani, Score Decided Hit in Translating and Adapting "The Eastest Way" to Screen

To motion picture patrons the name of Director Albert Capellani has become identified with that of their idol, Clara Kimball Young. Through his mastery skill as a producer, exemplified in such of Miss Young's most famous pictures as "Camille" and "The Common Law," Director Capellani has carried a permanent title for himself in the screen's hall of fame.

The famous Frenchman's followers will be glad to learn that he has scored another, and probably his greatest triumph, in the production of Miss Young's forthcoming Selznick-Pictures production of Eugene Walter's tremendous drama, "The Eastest Way." Without detracting in the least from the beautiful star's vital and impressive performance and the power of the story itself, there is no question that Director Capellani is responsible in a great measure for the production's effectiveness.

The story unfolded in "The Eastest Way" is a story of the life of a man who has developed the greater power of financial endurance. The Administration at Washington realizes that on the basis of reasonable profits is the most important in the prosecution of the war. The United States and its Allies must be protected against imposition and drain, that their resources may be conserved for the final trial of strength with the enemy. It has been commonly accepted theory, from the outbreak of the conflict, that victory would eventually lie with the side which developed the greater power of financial endurance.

CITRUS BELT GAS GO. RATES LOW?

Railroad Commission to Take the Matter Up With Corona Consumers Saturday, Sept. 1st; Complaints to Be Heard

Some time ago the Citrus Belt Gas company applied for permission to raise its rates from $ 5.00 per foot and feet to $1.45 per thousand feet, according to the Railroad commission of the state.

Today the consumers of gas in the city of Corona received announcement of the hearing to be held in the city hall, Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock, at which time all interested parties may appear and be heard.

If there are any of our people who feel that they are paying too much for the gas they are using, or who desire to register a kick against the intention to increase the rate now in force, this will be their opportunity. Good arguments will be presented on both sides, no doubt.

It is understood that the City of Corona, the chamber of commerce and other organizations will attend the hearing and enter a strong protest against the request of the gas company to increase the rate.

HOW A KENTUCKY PAPER TALKS TO EM

There was a man in our town, And he was wondrous wise. He swore by all the dogs that he would not advertise. At last one day he advertised, And thereby hangs a tale! The ad. was set in nonpareil. And headed "Sheriff's Sale." —Midway Clipper.

Yucaipa's Southern California Apple Show is to be bigger and grander than any preceding year. The valley will have an output this year of 125,000 boxes.

NOT IN WAR FOR PROFIT OF FEW

Fact Recognized by the President and His Advisors; Reasonable Profits of Utmost Importance in Prosecution of War

The United States is not in the war in order that a certain small percentage of its people shall be enabled to build up enormous fortunes from excessive profits on supply contracts, nor will it permit its own people, or the people of the Entente nations to be victimized by extortioners, so far as they may be found within its jurisdiction. This, briefly, is the attitude and policy of the Washington Government. There must be sound dealing on all sides under the private contract system, or the industries upon whose production the future of democracy and the happiness of humanity are in a large measure dependent will be taken over by the Government, and conducted according to a view to the public welfare at home and abroad. The United States has no vital interest or concern in the conduct or outcome of the war, separate from those of its associates in the struggle. It cannot be served by any course that runs counter to the interest or concern of the nations with which it has cast its lot. It will not allow its associates to be bled, so far as it can prevent it.

The fact is recognized, by the President and his advisors, that the question of determining prices on the basis of reasonable profits is of the utmost importance in the prosecution of the war. The United States and its Allies must be protected against imposition and drain, that their resources may be conserved for the final trial of strength with the enemy. It has been commonly accepted theory, from the outbreak of the conflict, that victory would eventually lie with the side which developed the greater power of financial endurance. The Administration at Washington realizes that on the basis of reasonable profits is the most important in the prosecution of the war. The United States and its Allies must be protected against imposition and drain, that their resources may be conserved for the final trial of strength with the enemy. It has been commonly accepted theory, from the outbreak of the conflict, that victory would eventually lie with the side which developed the greater power of financial endurance.

It is being made plain to private interests, therefore, that no discrimination against the Allies will be permitted. They must be dealt with as squarely and as liberally as the United States itself. In fact, the

THE UNITED STATES IS ON THE SIDE OF THE RIGHTeous

No one would accuse a Christian Scientist of favoring or of promoting war. Their lives and creed lead in the opposite direction, that of peace and good will. They practice thinking good, and not evil. If the great nations followed the teachings of Christian Science, there would be no war.

We should also have hope of the great nations follow the teachings of the New Testament there would be no war between them. When, therefore, the editor of the Christian Science Monitor argues the righteousness of the United States entering the last world war, we think no one should oppose, but that every one should heartily support the national government and President Wilson.

"Blessed are they that hunger after righteousness, for they shall be filled," the Good Book also says. Righteousness and peace have kissed each other. Doing right will stop war and bring about enduring peace. We hope peace will come thru righteousness.

All the great nations should be busy in aiding, protecting and supporting each other. Peace and righteousness is a good combination. They should kiss each other and send the present war.—Farris Progress.

LOCAL NOTES

Be sure to read the list of names of Corona boys in the service of Uncle Sam, published elsewhere in this issue. If you know of some one not mentioned therein, but who should be included, telephone such information to Roy Rice at Perkins' store, or Mrs. J. P. Rice at 642. A service flag for the city of Corona is in preparation, and it is desired to have a star thereon indicative of each man from Corona who is serving the government.

C. A. Harding, salvage agent for the local Red Cross, states that the people of the city are responding in splendid style, particularly was this noticed yesterday following the publication in Saturday's paper, of the list of things which the salvage department particularly desires at this time. "Keep it up," said Mr. Harding today, in admonishing the Independent to again call attention of Corona people to the salvage department of the Red Cross.

The coronation of the city of Corona, which will be held at the Corona Hotel, on the 26th of this month, is being prepared for by the coronation committee. The coronation will be held at 8 o'clock, and the coronation dinner will be held at 10 o'clock. The coronation will be held at the Corona Hotel, on the 26th of this month.

There will be a social dance at the Masonic Hall, Saturday night, March 2. Admission 50c a couple. Under management of Geo. Gould, Joe Clapp and Amy Provensal.

Remember, folks, the Salvage Department of the local Red Cross can handle your discarded articles more advantageously as to realization of money for the local chapter, than you yourself can. Get your bunch of articles ready for the chapter, then telephone Salvage Headquarters, 972 and a truck or auto will be sent for same.

E. J. Genereux made a business trip to the Angel City this afternoon. He states satisfactory progress is being made on the tin mine negotiations and that news of more definite character will be given The Independent within a few days.

H. D. Sharp of the Pacific Electric railway company, was in the city today conferring with Agent Bonner. Mr. Sharp's headquarters are in San Bernardino, having taken the position made vacant by the promotion of R. E. Kelley to the Los Angeles division.

R. N. Ross has traded that "old morning Ford" in on a new 1918 Kissel Kar. "It's the 100 point variety," said Mr. Ross today when displaying the new car to friends.

Joe Contreras is not only rejoicing over the fine rains we are having these days but he is also rejoicing over the arrival of a fine nine-pound daughter who arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Contreras this afternoon. This makes three girls in their family.

Mrs. Florence Ragdale, who is a cousin of Mrs. Mick, died at the Arlington hospital yesterday. Mrs. Ragdale has been a resident of this city but a few months and most of that time has been in poor health. The funeral will be held from the Christian church Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The rain of yesterday and last night amounted to .44 of an inch. The grain fields are coming along in fine shape and scores of people, if they haven't already, are planting gardens. There is good prospect of having plenty of rain this year and the best of crops.

Some merchants buy all or most of their stationery from printing firms outside of the city in which they live and then have the nerve and even expect, the home paper to boost their business by mentioning anything and everything which might bring their name before the public and in this manner receive much free advertising. If there is any other business in existence which is given the short end of every deal of this kind will some one please come forward and enlighten us. The home paper does more for every business firm—if it is the right kind of a paper—than any other institution you can mention. If it does not do so directly, it does indirectly. The town in which you live is boosted all the time—by the Daily Independent at least—and the inevitable good results are to be shared by the man who patronizes other printing houses. Think this over, and see how it would feel to trade places with a newspaper man.

This afternoon Carrier Number One—James H. Hays, of the district from Victoria Street East, was sent home by the school nurse and will have to remain inside for the required time.

Here's hoping that Carrier Number four at least gets thru today. —No, we're not telling you "numbers four" is, as we're not sure that his substitute knows all of the route.

Really, the present epidemic seems to be spreading—worse than did the mumps last spring when the schools were so decimated, and it is to be hoped that the spread of the contagion will soon be checked.

Take the English Navy away for a few weeks and see! Germany has announced her dream of world power. If America isn't in the world, where is it? These are a few of the Type A lies.

Of the other types are the following: Germany is unbeatable; so why go against her? We will never get troops to Europe in time. We can't equip our soldiers. We can't feed our soldiers. Germany never intends to attack us here; so let's keep our troops at home to defend us when she does. If we must choose a machine gun for our Army, let us pick one that isn't invented yet. ### Geraldine Farrar in "The Woman God Forgot" at the Majestic Tonight

GERALDINE FARRAR
"THE WOMAN THAT GOD FORGOT"
AN ARTIST'S REPRODUCTION

The scenes of "The Woman God Forgot" are laid during the Spanish conquests of the Aztecs and the Aztec High Priest of Teotihuacan had erected an exact reproduction of the famous pyramid of Teotihuacan, surrounded by an entire Aztec city. This one set covers an area of two square miles and the pyramid is nearly 200 feet in height and of the most substantial construction, owing to the fact that over a thousand men battle up the stairways and incline to the temple at the top. The interior of the pyramid is also complete in the most minute detail; the huge sacrificial room being reproduced in the exact site of the room in which the High Priest of Aztec sacrificed his human victims to their Aztec gods.

In the photodrama "The Fighting Spaniards and Aztec warriors are seen grappling with each other, and rolling down the steep slopes of the pyramids, on being hurled from the top to the ground below, suspended in order to build the pyramids and the city, at once of three hundred captives and of two weeks' work, the night and day.

TIN MINE NOT TO BE WORKED AT PRESENT

There will be no development work done on the much talked of Temescal Tin Mine...

It was learned this week that E. J. Genereux and his associates had definitely given up their hope of disposing of the property to eastern capitalists...

It is understood that the contract for the new cannery was signed today. Mr. McCann of Ontario will install and manage same.

At the urgent request of a number of his staunch friends, Fred E. Dinsmore has decided to toss his sombrero into the political ring of Riverside county...

In every walk of life he has essayed Mr. Dinsmore has made good. He has been connected in some capacity with the abstracting business in the county ever since he finished a Valley school...

Maybe potatoes could be raised on the old hill and thus the ground would not be a total loss. The title is pretty fairly clear now so that the tubers could be raised with a degree of safety.

SUFFERS A SHOCK. Mrs. F. T. Pearson, wife of the proprietor of the Corona Steam Laundry about a week ago suffered a stroke of apoplexy and is not fully recovered consciousness since.

G. P. MC CORKLE FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION

G. P. MC CORKLE FILES PETITION GIVING LARGE LIABILITIES; LOOKS LIKE THE END OF THE LIANO DEL RIO COMPANY; LOCAL MEN MENTIONED IN LOS ANGELES STORY.

The following is taken from the Los Angeles Times: G. P. McCorkle, an accountant, and manager of the Liano Investment Company, an auxiliary of the Liano Del Rio Company, the Socialist enterprise backed by J. H. Harman and others, who has offices at 922 Higgins Building, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the U. S. District Court yesterday.

He gives his liabilities as $105,967.15, of which $55,167.15 is unsecured, and $29,900 secured. The security consists of 1200 shares of the capital stock of the Liano Del Rio Company, one share of the Liano Investment Company and thirty shares of the Corona Orchard Heater Company. His largest individual creditor is the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, a note for $25,000.00 contracted at Corona, with Charles F. Hildreth, H. L. Glass and other parties not stated as security. His assets are scheduled at $4,540.12. McCorkle lives at No. 225 South Kingsley Drive.

If G. P. McCorkle's chances are in the state that would appear from reading the above account we have a shock for him: the $25,000 note he apertions no longer exists. The same having been paid more than a year ago. This will be cited now for his creditors as it would appear there would be at least that much more to divide up. Just why Mr. McCorkle included the above note is not clearly understood, surely he did not mean to deceive any one by its use.

This Afternoon's Late War News

(By United Press)

LONDON, March 25.—The London war office today announces that the British forces have been "pushed back" at several points south of Arras and that heavy losses of supplies resulted.

South of Peronne the pressure extended to places slightly west of the Somme, says the statement.

Further south, the enemy captured Neuilly and Guisancourt. The losses of materials included a number of tanks.

The German losses are estimated at 100,000 today, while the total losses in dead and wounded and missing will reach a half million.

Neuilly is seventeen miles west of the original lines and is the farthest point of advance in the present offensive.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The British embassy said this afternoon that Haig's forces comprised a scant twenty-seven divisions, while those of Hindenburg were known to contain in the neighborhood of ninety-seven divisions.

Field Marshal Haig in an early dispatch said there had been no "material change" in the situation on the battle front last night, so that the "gigantic gains of territory now claimed by the Germans and practically admitted by the British, in part, must have been made in the most sanguinary fighting of the drive later today."

A Havas agency correspondent telegraphs from the front today that the Germans are employing ninety-seven divisions of troops (approximately 1,164,000 men) in this "waterloo of the world." He adds: "The British retired in good order, covering ground, foot by foot, to strong positions several months ago."

Advice from the front says the British unctious with the French is thereby intact and the British main line itself from west of La Fere northward to Arras is unbroken. It has been held back, however, on a front of some twenty-eight miles.

ART EXPERT COMES HERE

TUESDAY TO ADDRESS CLUB

Mrs. H. R. Kapp, a graduate of the Chicago Art Institute will speak at the Woman's Club House on Tuesday afternoon, March 26 at three o'clock. Her subject will be "Decorative Art," and she brings many beautiful fabrics to illustrate her talk.

Mrs. Kapp comes to Corona under the auspices of the Art section of the club. She has appeared before many clubs in Southern California and made a very favorable impression as she is an interesting speaker and knows her subject thoroly.

This will be an open meeting and every one is cordially invited to come and hear Mrs. Kapp.

The War Savings Stamps Committee No. 2 of the club will meet immediately after the meeting tomorrow afternoon. All members of the committee are urged to be present.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 25.—No American reinforcements have had a part with the British in meeting the German offensive it was announced today by General Pershing.

The American soldiers on the Toul front were indignant when American operators picked up the German official wireless to Berlin, wherein it was stated that regular in the Franco-American forces had been defeated.

Increased activity is noted behind the lines opposite the American troops. German airplanes have made repeated attempts to cross the American patrol, and gas bombs have been dropped freely.

Message Gets 'Across'

An American patrol last night crossed two lines of the enemy trenches and in one found the body of a dead German, who had read the German wireless message of last January as it was delivered. The portions which the German newspapers had deleted from the message, had been underscored by the German.

Lunenburg is being shelled today for the first time in two years. This activity is probably due to the fact that American artillery is located in this region.

Half of West Front Forces

In speaking of the ninety-seven divisions the Germans have employed, it is learned that the German command concentrated against the British front half of the forces at this disposal on the whole western front.

Peronne, in the center of the district where the German advances have been the greatest, is about 11 miles back of the line the British held before the present drive began.

The British are now on previously prepared lines from five to seven miles back of the third line of trenches on the front, they held before the German drive started. It is stated that the British retreat is being carried out in perfect order when ever such retirement seems necessary.

Hindenburg's Points

Every renewed German onslaught and the whole course of Hindenburg's procedure seem to confirm the following points:

1. To separate the French from the British armies.
  2. To roll up the British right towards the sea.
  3. To throw the German center and left against Paris.
- Only by keeping these objects constantly in mind can a true measure be taken of German success or failure in this gigantic campaign. So far the Germans have succeeded only in intensifying the menace involved in aims Nos. 1 and 2. Toward the fulfillment of No. 3 they have not yet taken any actual steps. All three objects and the operations launched toward their attainment are closely interdependent.

The Venice Celebration

Booni! Bang! Crash! will come the fun events on Saturday evening, March 30th, when Venice will celebrate her annual "All Pools Carnival." This is one of the four great events of the year and ranks with Hallowe'en and New Year's eve as a merrily gaud attraction. It is a combination of funny features which are so popular with the pleasure loving public.

THREE MORE CORONA BOYS LEAVE HERE NEXT FRIDAY

James L. Davis, clerk of Exemption Board No. 1, states that next Friday the following young men will be sent from Corona to American Lake, their names having been drawn today: Norman A. Beegs, Walter W. English and Joe Masabato.

According to directions which have just been received from Washington all men who married since the 18th day of May, 1917 have been referred to the District Board at Bakersfield for final classification. Out of 61 such men referred from Local Board No. 1 the following registrants, who are known locally, have been placed in Class 1: Robt. C. Yeach, Murry Rycraft, Irwin E. Farrar, Ora Tilson, George Ohls and Sam Muratore.

There may be few changes in some cases, because of industrial expansion.

WIN THE WAR FOR PERMANENT PEACE

Why America at War Needs a National Convention: Outline of May Convention of League to Enforce Peace.

A Statement by William H. Short, National Secretary League to Enforce Peace:

In a peculiar sense the creation of a League of Nations, the banding of the free peoples of the world together to guarantee by their joint forces the peace and progress of the world, is the outstanding thing for which America is fighting—our fundamental war aim.

To hold up that purpose and make it alluring may well be one of the best ways to rouse America to a crusading spirit that shall insure the throwing of our total energies into this Holy War against Autocracy and Militarism. To know and to fight compellingly that we are fighting for nothing less than the permanent peace of the future will put behind our every Policy a Passion that will not rest until the power of each individual, and each community behind our Shipping program, our Food program, behind every feature of the nation's job, organizing for victory.

We are calling this convention in this critical time of the war not primarily to discuss plans for a League of Nations, but to burn in the national mind that this League or any other like scheme will be not a passing thought unless we win this war. The League of Nations may be the Temple of International Law and Order for the future, but our immediate job is to clear the ground and find a safe place to lay its foundations.

This convention will be one of the greatest events of the year. The nation's leaders in business, labor, agriculture, and education will be there. The program that is in process of completion will provide discussions by leaders in thought and action of the things at stake in the war and the things that must come out of it or our sacrifice and the sacrifice of all the nations is to be justified.

This convention will represent no jingo attempt to organize America into a nation of haters. But it will attempt to dramatize the fact that America is fighting for a peace that will last so that every soldier will go to the front with the crusader's spirit and every man and woman who stays behind will be consecrated to the task of seeing that this entire nation shall, when the war ends, demand with one voice that the men who settle this war shall create such effective guarantees that so far as humanly possible such a war shall not be gone thru with again and that the work of the future may be built upon foundations of justice, freedom and democracy.

Here are some of things that will be discussed by some of the nation's most forward-looking leaders.

First Day—May 15

Morning session. A great key-note will be given.

Afternoon session. Two or three sessions will discuss What We are doing to win the war.

JR. HIGH SCHOOL IS GROWING FAST

New Members Coming in From Week to Week. Lincoln School Children Buy Thrift Stamps; Other News Notes.

Miss Lybath Smith who has been in the Arlington Hospital for some time and was able to be up has had a relapse and is now confined to her bed. The Junior High School Glee club will take part in the program given at the Library Thursday night.

The Junior High School was entertained in assembly this morning by some of the pupils of the second grade of the Lincoln School. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dockery and son Robert of Rockford, Michigan, also Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Paine of Pomona were guests of Arthur E. Paine and family Sunday. Mr. Dockery is a lumber and fuel merchant in his home city and his family spends each alternate winter in Long Beach. Mr. Dockery is seriously considering making an investment in the citrus industry.

Supt. Drake spoke to the pupils of the Junior High School at the assembly period last Wednesday on the general subject "Success in Business." This is the first of a series of talks which Mr. Drake expects to deliver.

The enrollment of the Junior High has greatly increased in the last few weeks. A new member was added this morning when Theodore Smith entered the Seventh Grade.

Last week the Lincoln School children bought twenty dollars worth of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

Personal Notes

Mrs. W. Z. Thomas of Los Angeles who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Kewen of this city, left for Rio Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ster of the Citrus Belt entertained a number of their friends at a card party Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald and son, Malcolm motored from their home in South Pasadena to spend the week end with Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Root.

Mrs. Luther Patton is confined to her home by an attack of the German measles.

AMERICAN MAN AND WIFE CAPTURED BY GERMANS

A telegram from the American minister at Stockholm reports the arrival there of Mrs. Henry C. Emery, an American who came from Finland. She is the wife of her husband, who represented the Guaranty Trust Co. in Russia, and was later attached to the American military mission in Russia. He died in Finland on the 9th of March for the Allied children. There were 23 in the party, most of whom were English.

Seized by Germans
On Sunday the party encountered the German troops occupying islands. They were taken to Ekeroon, Aland Islands, where at first the Germans decided to put the whole party on a transport and send them to Danzig. It was stated that women and children were to be sent to Holland. The Swedish officials of the Aland Islands vigorously protested against the action, and due to this the Germans consented to allow the women and children of the party and the men over 50 to proceed to Sweden by boat. Mr. Emery and 16 fishermen were detained and were to be sent to Germany by transport.

LIBERTY BELL WILL BE SENT ON JOURNEY

A resolution authorizing the removal of Liberty Bell from Independence Hall to make a tour of the country in the interests of the Third Liberty Loan which will be launched April 1st, was introduced in the City Council of Philadelphia last week. It was unanimously adopted by the council and referred to Finance Committee to make arrangements for the grand tour of the Liberty Bell. The Liberty Bell will be placed in the Liberty Loan Building, Philadelphia, and to be exhibited even if it is not possible to visit every large

TWELVE PERFECT LIMONS GROW IN A SINGLE CLUSTER

A few days ago T. C. Jameson found a bunch of nine perfect lemons on one of the trees in his lemon orchard in La Sierra Heights and took them to the chamber of commerce rooms where they have been admired by all who have seen them. But they will have to take a seat in the rear. This morning, Mayor Davis, who has been taking care of Mrs. H. H. Holmes ranch for the past five years, took a bunch of twelve perfect lemons to the chamber of commerce rooms where they are now on display. Mrs. Holmes' grove is one of the best in the colony and has been a money maker during the past few years.

KIPLING'S LINES DON'T JIBE NOW

The Income Tax in Its Several Forms Is Running North of 53%. Patriotism Knows No Geographical Bounds Say Collectors.

Washington, March 25.—When Kipling said "There's never a law of God nor man runs north of 53," he wasn't figuring on an income tax levied by the Congress of the United States for the support of a war against German autocracy.

Patriotism, as shown by the returns reaching the Treasury Department, knows no geographical bounds. The income tax in its several forms, applies to the forty-eight States, the District of Columbia, the Territory of Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. Returns are coming from as far north as Arctic coast of Alaska—sixty-nine degrees north of the Equator—as far south as the outermost islet of the Reefs of Florida, as far west as the remotest island of the Hawaiian group and as far east as the farthest coast of Maine.

Within this territory, which comprises 3,624,000 square miles, there were in 1916, according to the census for that year, 102,298,000 persons. Of these it is estimated that between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 will be required to file income tax returns, the law applying to every unmarried person whose net income for 1917 was $1,000 or more and to every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more.

SAYS TIN MINE PROPOSITION NEVER LOOKED BRIGHTER

The Corona Courier, in its last issue which appears this morning, gives an account of what might be considered as statement of facts regarding the Tennessee Tin Mines and their disposition. The readers are lead to believe that the project has proved a failure and that those interested were "unable" to "unload" the mine onto other parties.

When seen this afternoon, E. J. Genereux, who has been one of the most active parties in the sale of the property, stated that he did not know where Mr. Hildreth obtained this information and neither did he care. "As a matter of fact," said Mr. Genereux, "things never have looked brighter than at present and when the proper times comes those interested in our efforts to sell the property to parties in a position to operate same, will be informed of our progress thru the columns of The Daily Independent. The Courier article is entirely unauthorized."

UNITED STATES IS INTERESTED IN TIN

Working of Old Properties in Virginia Gives Rise to Expectancy of Government Investigation of Temescal Tin Mine Property

The following item taken from this morning's Los Angeles Times, brings out the fact that Uncle Sam and his War Industries Board are on the alert for tin.

Corona believes she has the tin property in the Temescal Tin mine. Thru the activities of E. J. Generex and associates this property is being brought before the proper persons, and it is reasonable to expect that the local properties will be thoroughly investigated, with the resultant of the mines. The article above referred to follows:

The necessities of war naturally turn American effort in the direction of the full development of the country's resources. It was a sure thing that America could raise "the tin," and this is understood now thru the government's opening and working of the tin deposits in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. The existence of these mining possibilities was known, but for lack of capital or interest the deposits had never been developed. It seemed easier to bring the stuff from Wales, the Straits Settlements and Malaya, but now when Americans must conquer America the tin mines of old Virginia are being fully exploited. And it is well. Why should the Americans monkey with the pauper tin of an old world but our own? The so-called tin can of commerce, the summer boarder and the hobo carries but the merest ghost of tin. It is made of sheet iron which has had a "saint plunge in a bath of liquid tin," but this bath is of prodigious amount to a great and powerful California industry. The tin can consumption of this State is something tremendous.

Coronans feel sure that if big capital makes an extensive investigation and development of the local mines, rich returns will be forthcoming from mother earth in the way of tin and copper.

LETTER TO BE SENT TO ALL NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS

- July 5, 1918.
- On account of the shortage of materials the question of the supply of paper is becoming acute and the use of paper must be economized to the greatest possible extent.
- It is requested that all newspapers which publish a daily and weekly edition put the following preliminary economies into effect July 15, 1918.
- Discontinue the acceptance of the return of unsold copies.
- Discontinue the use of all samples or free promotion copies.
- Discontinue giving copies to anybody except for office work.
- Discontinue the use of all copies or where required by statute law in the case of official advertising.
- Discontinue giving free copies to advertisers, except not more than one copy each for checking purposes.
- Discontinue the arbitrary forcing of copies on news dealers (i. e., compelling them to buy more copies than they can legitimately sell in order to hold certain territory).
- Discontinue the buying back of papers at either wholesale or retail selling price from dealers or agents, in order to secure preferential representation.
- Discontinue the payment of salaries or commission to agents, dealers, or newsboys for the purpose of securing the equivalent of return privileges.

FRANCE, JULY FOURTEENTH FRENCH INDEPENDENCE DAY

Governor William D. Stephens has issued a proclamation marking the flying of the French flag in California on July 14, France's Independence day. The proclamation follows:

"On the 14th of July the republic of France will celebrate the 129th anniversary of the fall of the Bastille and the birth of her freedom. It is fitting that on that day we should do honor to our heroic ally by displaying the colors of the United States and of France. In such manner we can in some measure acknowledge our ancient debt to France and symbolize our union with her in the cause of human freedom."

FOOD DEPARTMENT READY FOR YOU

Special Opportunities for Choice Buying Will Be Available at the Red Cross Shop Tomorrow; Lunch at Noon With Business Friends

The Food Department of the Red Cross Shop will make a specialty of carrying in stock tomorrow such foods as will serve for over Sunday, so that the Corona housewives will be freed from the work of standing over a hot stove on Sunday, and can enjoy the day of rest. Also those who are out of town until Saturday, and have not had time to prepare for Sunday guests, will find an emergency stock at the Red Cross Shop where they may purchase foods already cooked and ready to serve after warming.

Those who are donating the food to the department this week are asked to have same at the Shop not later than noon on Saturday, although they may bring things in any time between ten o'clock and noon, as the Shop will be open for donations at ten. It will open at eleven as usual for sales.

All those who have taken dishes home with foods bought from the Shop, are asked to return the dishes immediately to the shop, and be distributed to the owners. Also those who have brought foods in dishes and have not received their dishes, are asked to call for them, and if they are not called for in two weeks, they will be considered property of the Shop and jewelry and old silver dishes department. This ruling is made necessary because the Shop has been troubled by people asking to buy the dishes, and they were not in a position to sell them, thus causing the clerks extra work.

Lunch at the Shop
The Shop will be open tomorrow from eleven o'clock until after eight in the evening. Luncheon will be served during the noon hour as usual. Those in charge wish to thank the people of Corona for their patronage, and to solicit their further trade in order to benefit the Red Cross.

TREASURE AND TRINKET FUND GROWING LARGE

The raising of funds thru gifts of discarded jewelry and old silver which has been carried on for some months by the Treasure and Trinket Committee of the National Special Aid Society, of New York, for the purpose of furnishing aviators with special equipment not included in government issues has been adopted by an organization of women in Italy. The recently organized League of Italian Mothers of Soldiers Killed in the War has started a movement to procure gold medals to be presented to regiments that have been in action. The medals are planned to be regimental flags as tokens of valor. The league is appealing to the whole country for donations of treasured articles that can be sold to provide funds for the medals.

The Treasure and Trinket Fund of the National Special Aid Society, at 25 Fifth Avenue, New York City, has raised more than $50,000 in a similar way for the purchase of special equipment for the aviators and the success of its work promises equal success for the movement in Italy.

One Y.M.C.A. hut overseas has already served more than a million soldiers and sailors.

FOOD QUESTIONS ANSWERED

HOOVER ADMINISTRATION IN CALIFORNIA REPLIES TO INQUIRIES OF MR. AND MRS. AND MISS CITIZEN

CONSERVATION

Q: What does conservation mean?
A: The preservation of our natural resources for economical use, so as to secure the greatest good to the greatest number.

Q: How can we conserve food?
A: By reducing consumption; by cutting out waste; by using some other foods in place of the foods we are asked to save; by using local products and thus saving transportation.

Q: Is it true that many people eat too much?
A: Probably 30 per cent of Americans people either eat or let into their kitchens much more food than is necessary.

Q: Does the Food Administration object to teas and refreshments at parties?
A: Not if conservation rules are observed; but as a general principle of thrift it does not encourage the habit of eating between meals.

Q: How can those people who neither waste nor eat too much help the Food Administration?
A: By substituting foods that are plentiful for the wheat, meat, fats, and sugar that are needed for shipping overseas.

Q: How can I find out about these problems?
A: By writing to the California Food Administrator for the free publications of the United States Food Administration, stating what you want to know.

Q: Is food conservation really necessary?
A: So necessary that we may lose the war unless we conserve.

Q: Why is food conservation necessary?
A: Because men have been withdrawn from farm and field in Europe to fight; because bad weather has made bad crops; because great food supplies have been sunk by submarines; because there is a vast increase in demand for food for soldiers, and people working in war supplies.

PROPHECY OF PICTUREQUE ITALIAN REVOLUTIONIST

Following the death in Paris recently of Amilcare Cipriani, picturesque Italian revolutionist who had taken part in a hundred or more uprisings both in Italy and France, Gustave Hervé published in his "Victoire" a statement of the revolutionist a few days before his death.

"My dear friend," said Cipriani "on the day of allied victory, you must come to my tomb, wherever it may be, and tell me that Trento and Trieste are liberated along with Metz and Strasbourg, the whole of Poland and Armenia. You shall come to tell me that all these young lives have been no longer sacrificed in vain and that there is no longer an oppressed people on the whole earth. You will also tell me that there are no longer emperors in Vienna and Berlin and that the world is finally marching toward peace and international justice."

Rev. John Clifford, a Y. M. C. A. war work secretary from California, carried a wounded American colonel of Marine across a shell-swept field to safety.

P. O. MISSION COMMITTEE HELPS MEN FIND ONE ANOTHER

The Post Office Mission Committee of the Alliance of Industrial and Commercial Christian Workers has organized the churches to notify every man in Government service of the name of the chaplain of the camp where he was stationed. The churches were asked to send a list of the men in camp to the camp chaplains and men.

The churches are assisting the men to locate their friends. Many of them have sent copies of their honor roll, with addresses of the men, to military and naval commanders. This has enabled many old friends to find one another.

FAME OF KITCHEN SPREADING FAR

Lady in Blythe Places Order for Canned Goods $120 Worth of Canned Goods Sold Yesterday; Now Have Nest Egg

Corona's Gaining Fame is certainly coming up to the front in a hurry. It has now been in operation but a few days and continuing in operation with it is proving highly satisfactory.

Mrs. Woodworth, County demonstrator, has been here and gave the kitchen a start and at the time she left Corona for other parts she was thoroughly satisfied that the ladies of Corona who have interested themselves in the kitchen, would make a success of it.

This morning, Miss Coffin received word from Mrs. Woodworth who had just received a letter from a lady living in Blythe. The woman from Blythe had heard of Corona's kitchen and the fine work our ladies were doing and to certify this she enclosed an order for one dozen jars of tomatoes, six jars each of peaches, apricots, and other smaller fruits, as well as one dozen jars of corn and six jars of string beans.

The order will be filled as soon as possible and sent to the customer in Blythe.

Miss Coffin states that the ladies sold $120 worth of canned goods yesterday and they are as proud of this money as the it is the last ever to be coined. Now that they have a nest egg they will take considerable interest in watching it grow.

NO KID IN BRITAIN'S STRICT RULES ON SUGAR

Official Food Bulletin: On April 24 a Coventry resident became the happy father of a bouncing baby boy. Realizing his responsibilities, proud he set about procuring ration cards for young hopeful, carefully explaining on the application form that the juvenile's age was one week. And now please, consider this communication from Mr. P. E. Dawes, the executive officer, food control office, Coventry: "In reply to yours of the 15th instant, I beg to inform you that I have not the power to issue a ration card from this office. Your son should have brought his sugar card from his previous residence."

POWERFUL PUNCH IN "THE KAISER"

Offering at Majestic Tomorrow Entitled "The Kaiser, The Beast of Berlin" Will Give Coronans Page After Page of History

"The Kaiser, The Beast of Berlin," the latest and most timely of super-photoplays dealing with the present world war, comes to Corona after thrilling New York, Chicago, Boston and Denver audiences for weeks during their respective indefinite runs. The showing will be made at the Majestic tomorrow.

"The Kaiser, The Beast of Berlin," has been produced by Rupert Julian from the script developed by the director and Elliott J. Clawson. The photoplay delivers a powerful patriotic message and gives the public an "inside" story of the life of the man who, by his despotic and barbarous ideas, has set the entire world aflame. It gives us a more forceful, clearer understanding of why the United States has entered the war—to stamp out kaiserism. It shows how the Kaiser planned the sinking of the Lusitania and awarded a special medal to the captain of the Estonia that launched the fatal torpedo. It also shows how the visions of drowning women and children haunted Captain Von Neiger, who received the Kaiser's honors, and finally drove him to insanity.

The film graphically pictures the tearing up of the famous "scrap of paper" and to certify this she enclosed an order for one dozen jars of tomatoes, six jars each of peaches, apricots, and other smaller fruits, as well as one dozen jars of corn and six jars of string beans.

The order will be filled as soon as possible and sent to the customer in Blythe.

Miss Coffin states that the ladies sold $120 worth of canned goods yesterday and they are as proud of this money as the it is the last ever to be coined. Now that they have a nest egg they will take considerable interest in watching it grow.

KNOCKING CORONA

A few days ago a post estate agent of Los Angeles sent a man from that city to look over some green property in Corona. The grove appeared to the man and he was on the point of closing the deal when he fell in with some of the "know-nothing" Corona who are responsible for a very great extent for the condition of the city. This man returned to Los Angeles and looked up the agent who had sent him to Corona, to buy a grove. "The rancher told me that he was pleased with the property, but had no desire to do so as it was down where there are knackers."

We are told that the man had taken on to Ontario where he is estimated several thousand dollars in a grove and plans on spending several months more. If some of the "know-nothing" city were taken to the city limit, they would be much better off. It is not always the street loafer who does all the knocking, there are others. It is either lack of common sense, good judgement, or because of selfishness, the some people insist on "knocking" the town in which they live. They are in the same class as the German sympathizer and should be given the same consideration. Corona doesn't want them here.

COMPLETE FIGURES COUNTY CENSUS AS COMPILED BY CENSUS DEPARTMENT

Altho various figures have been made public from time to time regarding population of different cities and towns in the county, the following may be considered authentic from the census department at Washington.

Table with columns for Minor Civil Division, 1920, 1910, 1900. Rows include Riverside County, Beaumont township, Banning city, etc.

SOCIETY

Miss Thrasher the Bride of Dr. Ashmore

The first home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thrasher at 110 East Olive street was the scene of a quiet home wedding at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Ethel Thrasher, became the bride of Dr. Frank Ashmore of Buena Park. The ceremony was read by Rev. S. Sampson, of Orange, former pastor of the Corona M. E. church, the single ring ceremony being used.

Corona Girl to Wed Northern Man

Miss Ruby Jackman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jackman of this city, goes to Los Angeles tomorrow to visit for a few days with relatives and where she will be married on September 17th to Mr. Norman Binkley LeFever.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hoxworth are moving today to the ranch of Mrs. Frank Watrous at Winville. Meaning moving their household goods to the Hoxworth home at Seventh and Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mayfield, former residents of Corona, who have no visiting relatives here, have decided to make Long Beach their future home. They departed the first of the week for that city, accompanied by their daughter, Lorna, and by S. W. Grow, a brother of Mrs. Mayfield, who makes his home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rows, who recently sold their grocery store in this city, arrived home from Carlsbad near Oceanside, in San Diego county Thursday. They have purchased five acres of land at that place and have spent their time between Corona and Carlsbad.

Mr. Harry Whitcomb returned from Huntington Beach Monday evening, accompanied by his wife and children, who have been spending the past month at the beach city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Schall and daughter, Dorothea, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McAllister and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McAllister of Long Beach, relatives of the Schalls, spent Labor Day in Orange County Park.

P. J. Whitten arrived in the city Tuesday, a. m. from Las Vegas, Nev. Mex., where he has been in a Sanatorium. After attending to matters of business here, he expects to return and resume his treatment there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brockman and children enjoyed an outing at Laguna Beach over Saturday and Sunday. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Jackman and daughter Ruby. On the return trip they visited Orange County Park.

FORMER CORONAN SUFFERS HEAVY FINANCIAL LOSS J. M. McDowell of El Monte, a former Corona resident, was greeting acquaintances in town Thursday. Mr. McDowell owns a forty-acre ranch in the El Monte region. A large part of the acreage he had set to lettuce. When the recent rail-road strike came along he had $20,000 worth of lettuce ready to harvest, but could not move it. It was practically a total loss and he was compelled to plow it under.

Modern cantaloupe packing houses to be constructed for next year's crop.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE TEMESCAL WATER COMPANY. LOCATION OF PRINCIPAL PLACE OF BUSINESS, CORONA RIVERSIDE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Temescal Water Company, was assembled and held on Tuesday, the 7th day of September, 1920. Assessment No. 113 of three dollars per share was levied upon the subscribed capital stock of this corporation, payable immediately in lawful money of the United States, to the Secretary of said Company at its office at 707 Main street, in Corona, Riverside County, California. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid upon Tuesday, the 12th day of October, 1920, will be delinquent on that day and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before will be sold on SATURDAY, the 30th day of October, 1920, at ten o'clock a. m. of said day to pay the delinquent assessment together with the cost of advertising and expenses of sale. By order of the Board of Directors, C. M. SCOVILLE, Secretary. 707 Main St., Corona, California. Dated Sept. 7, 1920. S10-6t

SHOPLIFTER LEAVES BAIL MONEY AND FORD SEDAN

When the preliminary hearing of Charles L. Roberts, of San Diego, caught in the act of stealing merchandise from the J. M. Estern store the first of the week, was called in Judge Clayton's court at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, Mr. Roberts did not show up.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of the man, told the court that she received a telegram Thursday from her husband asking that she send him $500 at once. She complied cheerfully with the little formality of finding out what the money was to be put to. After sending the money she left for Corona to join her husband. Upon her arrival here Roberts could not be found and has not since been seen.

At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon Roberts furnished bail in Judge Clayton's court in the sum of $500 and was released. It is believed he took the next car on the Pacific Electric and left the city.

When the hearing was held today District Attorney Loyd C. Kelley represented the state and Attorney Geo. R. Freeman, Mrs. Robert, where Roberts failed to put in an appearance at 2:30 Judge Clayton ordered the bail forfeited to the county. If Mr. Roberts appears within twenty days and can give a reasonably good excuse for not appearing, the court may, at its discretion, modify the order forfeiting the bail money.

When questioned about the store in San Diego operated by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts a peculiar coincidence was seen in the fact that in the store is kept a humbled-up stock of goods such as notions, thermos bottles, jewelry, hardware, etc.

The authorities are investigating Roberts' habit of making little excursions about the country in his sedan, stocking up his car with goods.

QUARRY SALE WAS BIG TRANSACTION

Commenting on the purchase by the Blue Diamond Plaster Company, of Los Angeles, of the Temescal Rock company's plant and quarry in Temescal canyon four miles out of Corona, mention of which was made in this paper several days ago, the Southwest Builder and Contractor says that the transfer of the property comprising 350 acres, involved a consideration of more than $1,000,000.

Assurance is given by W. H. Hay, vice president and general manager of the Blue Diamond company that the company is planning to develop the property far beyond the hopes and aims of previous owners, the Atlas estate of Santa Barbara.

Few people realize the immensity of the Temescal quarry and crushing plant even when informed that it has a capacity to produce 50 tons of crushed rock daily.

Temescal rock is the only porphyry or basaltic rock quarried for building purposes. The deposit is regarded as a volcanic freak, being hemmed in on both sides with granite. Unusual lightness and toughness are its chief advantages. All the impurities have been burned out and it is claimed to be practically weather and heat proof. The quarry extends into the mountain side a distance of half a mile and the supply is estimated to be equal to the demand for a hundred years.

Electric power is used for all operation at the quarry and the control is so centralized and gravity used to such advantage that only 30 men are required to keep it going to full capacity. Rock is blasted in the quarry, loaded by power shovels into electrically controlled cars and carried to the initial crusher which has a 7-foot opening. From this the rock passes thru a series of crushers, always conveyed by gravity and coming out over the bunkers where it is screened and distributed for size. There are 5 grades. No. 1 is 3-in. rock, used chiefly for railroad ballast; No. 2 is 1 1/2-in. and No. 3, 1-in., used in building construction and No. 4 and No. 5 are used for road topping, being as fine as 3/4-in.

A total of 1300 h. p. is required to operate the crushers. Over 4 miles of track have been laid, all on a 1 per cent grade. A feature of the machinery is that all heavy machinery, including giant traveling cranes, is designed for the quick removal and replacing of parts. It is the intention of the new owners to install more machinery and provide quicker handling to bring the daily output up to a parity with present demands. Temescal was the only crushed rock to withstand the rigid rating test by the Los Angeles city building department, losing less than 10 per cent.

RIVERSIDE WOMAN WILL GO TO MARION OHIO TO SEE SENATOR W. G. HARDING

Mrs. Ada D. DeNyse, president of the Riverside Woman's club, and a member of the Republican county committee, has been honored with an invitation to be a member of the California delegation that is to pay a visit to the Republican nominee, Senator Warren G. Harding at his home in Marion, Ohio, on September 14 and leave San Francisco on September 17. Mrs. DeNyse was selected for the distinction by Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, member of the Republican national committee, and has arranged to make the trip.

Mrs. DeNyse is a real leader among the women of Riverside county club work and in other respects, and her good work in behalf of the Republican party has been greatly appreciated by the leaders in the state. It is likely that Mrs. DeNyse will carry a banner to Marion from the Republican women of Riverside county. It is understood that she is one of four women in the state selected to make this trip.

CORONANS CATCH DEEP-SEA FISH WHILE AT THE BEACH

Before returning home from their vacation at Huntington Beach, a number of Coronans tried their luck at deep-sea fishing. In the party were: Rev. E. B. Cole, pastor of the local Methodist church, his son, Leonard; O. D. VanDyke and sons, Will and Stanley; and Maurice. They went out from Redondo Beach, getting ten miles out to sea. They report the experience as a fascinating one and as well as having an enjoyable time they caught real deep-sea fish.

Mrs. C. E. Harris Hostess to Ladies Aid

Mrs. C. E. Harris entertained fourteen women of Circle Number Three of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church at her home on East Olive Street yesterday afternoon. The feature of the business meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. The meeting proved to be very enthusiastic and the outlook is for a good year during the coming year. Following the business meeting, light refreshments were served.

Leaguers Have Jolly Picnic

Party members and friends of the Women's League were entertained on a jolly picnic on the banks of the Santa Ana river. They gathered at the Methodist Church at seven o'clock, and from there, under the leadership of a load of the watermelons, were taken about three miles down the canyon. A bonfire was built, and with the aid of the machines, made the picnic activities as light as day. Following a rousing game of duplicate and last-come-out, a business meeting was held around the camp fire. The program was concluded with plenty of watermelon, both inside and out.

FARM WOMEN HAVE RIGHT TO KICK ABOUT INJUSTICE

Much indignation has been aroused among rural women because census officials have placed farm women with other home makers in a class with those having "no occupation." The testimony of 10,000 women who participated in a recently completed farm home survey, conducted by the U. S. department of agriculture, would indicate that the farm woman might better be described as having a casual occupation. The average working day for farm women, summer and winter, is 11.3 hours and 87 per cent of the women report no vacation during the year. Only 13 per cent, those in western states enjoy a vacation of 16.4 days; in the eastern states, 12.4 days and in the central states, 10.8 days.

"Cold in the Head"

An acute attack of Nasal Catarrh, resulting in the head, will find that the use of BLOOD PURIFYING MEDICINE will build up the system, cleanse the blood, and drive out the toxins. It is a reliable remedy for any case of catarrh that has not responded to other treatments. P. F. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

INCOME TAX FACTS ALL SHOULD KNOW

How Income Tax Will Effect Married and Single Persons During 1921 Tell in Bulletin Sent out by Bureau Internal Revenue

Thousands of letters, passed in correspondence last year between the Bureau of Internal Revenue and persons claiming an exemption of $2,000 as head of a family. Circumstances surrounding each individual case determine largely whether a person is entitled to such exemption. The fixing of his status decides, in many instances, whether his income is taxable or nontaxable. In either event, if his net income for 1920 was $1,000 or more if single, and $2,000 or more if married, he must file a return.

A head of a family is defined by treasury regulations as "a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, or relationship by marriage or by adoption or whose right to lycerise family control and provide for these dependents is based upon some moral or legal obligation." A married person living with his wife or wife-in-law in addition to the $2,000 exemption allowed such persons, can not claim a $2,000 exemption as the head of a family, irrespective of the question of the support of others of the household.

Single Persons
 A single person—the term including widows, widowers, and persons not living with wife or husband—is the head of a family if he is the sole support of one or more relatives living in the same house with him, and if he exercises control of household affairs. The dependent continuously and continuously live in the same house with dependent relatives is entitled to the $2,000 exemption depends upon the character of the separation. If a parent is absent on business part of the year, or a child or other dependent away at school or on a visit, the common home being maintained, the exemption applies. If a parent is compelled to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, the exemption may still apply. If, however, the dependent continuously and without necessity makes his home elsewhere than with his benefactor, the latter is not the head of family, irrespective of the question of support.

A taxpayer may not be the head of a family and still be allowed an exemption of $200 for each person dependent upon him for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The words "physically defective" refer not only to cripples, but to persons defective because of old age or ill health. Neither residence, relationship, nor legal dependency are factors in determining the right of the taxpayer to such exemption. To establish his claim, the taxpayer must have contributed during the year more than one-half of the sum needed to support the dependents.

Allowable Exemptions
 The following are concrete examples of circumstances which head of the family and for dependents:
 A son who has left home sends his mother more than half the sum required for her support. He is allowed an exemption of $200, unless the mother is able to support herself in which case the contribution is regarded as a gift.
 A son living at home supports an invalid mother in the same household. He is allowed a deduction of $2,000 as the head of a family, plus an additional $200 for his dependent who is physically incapacitated. (It should be noted that the $200 additional exemption for dependents does not apply to husband or wife, even though either one has become a total burden upon the other.)
 A single man lives with and supports a mother 50 years of age and two sisters 19 and 21 years of age all in good health. His exemption is $2,000 as the head of family. Since his mother and sisters are neither over 18 years of age nor mentally or physically incapacitated, he can not claim an additional exemption for dependents.
 A widower is the entire support of a child under 18 years of age, but otherwise neglects it. His exemption is $1,200. He is not the head of a family, and is entitled only to the $200 for a dependent.

CONTRACT FOR HIVE OF HONEY BEE HANDS

BY ROBERT FULLER.
 (Written specially for The Corona Daily Independent)

A plan has been worked out by the bee-keepers of America to make extensive shipments of honey-bees from one state to another for the purpose of harvesting the crop of nectar from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf which otherwise would be lost.

Under existing conditions bees only manage to harvest the nectar within a radius of one or two miles from their hives.
 There may be scant forage in one section where bees are kept at certain seasons of the year while in another section the forage is ideal but the bees are scarce.
 Last year leading western beekeepers found it highly profitable to ship bees in one and three-pound packages, without combs, as far as they could reach the forage in which they made contracts to deliver so many bees to farms in California or Michigan, placing the bees in light cases, with wooden bottom, top and ends but with screen sides.
 The packages are 6x16x16 inches. There is a screen inside to which the bees cluster in transit.

Feed Bees Before Start
 First, a can of sugar syrup is placed in each package, after which it is taken to the apiary and filled with bees by shaking each tray removed from its can and causing the bees to fall through a funnel into the cage. They gorge themselves on the syrup and soon are contented to sit quietly on the screen, ready for their journey.

The tied packages are hauled in an automobile equipped with a specially constructed rack. After this the cases are crated six together with a wire handle at each end, labelled and placed in the express car. It has been found safest to select thru trains for speedy delivery. A queen bee is usually shipped in a small package alone.
 On arrival each cage is placed in a hive and soon the bees go forth to harvest the honey crop, which without them would have been a total loss.
 The bees also might have been a loss in case the nectar crop at home was scant.

SANTA FE TO LAY HEAVY STEEL SOON

Announcement was made today that on Monday morning the Santa Fe Railway will begin the distribution of materials preparatory to the replacing of the present 85-pound rails used between San Bernardino and Atwood (Richfield), with 95-pound rails.
 The work is to be in charge of J. S. Mea, head of the Holmes Supply Co., the contractors for the Santa Fe road. Mr. Mea was in the city yesterday in connection with this work and remained in the city over night.

and the community. This year, unless the tariff bars are put up and freight rates lowered, these plants will get tons of lemons that are not culls, at the price of culls, and they will have to run 14-hour shifts to reduce them to acid.

The chief thing at Corona in the production of crushed rock and granite blocks, The Elbe Diamond Graniter Co. has a three-quarter million-dollar plant and turns out daily 1500 tons of the finest crushed rock to be found. It is used for road building and for curbing. Max B. Fitch has started another rock company at the old Phillips quarry and will take out rocks of a size to tax the capacity of the largest fletcher. I am going to get one to hold me down on my last article.

Lemon Ranches Cover Vast Domain
 Some of the citrus ranches here are whoopas. One, the Foot-Hill Lemon Company, consists of 850 acres of bearing lemon trees. It is the largest I have heard of. An interesting thing about this ranch is that the irrigating water comes from a couple of wells and is pumped a distance of three and a half miles to an elevation of 750 feet to give the trees a drink. R. L. Hampton is the manager.
 There is another ranch of 720 acres of oranges and lemons which was owned by Mr. Chas. W. Riverside, but now is the property of the American Fruit Growers Company of New York. This company has orchards of all varieties of fruits in different parts of the country and it always selects the best places for each particular variety. That is why it picked Corona for lemons and oranges.
 Joy G. Jameson, who represents the estate of the late W. H. Jameson, has 400 acres in his charge; E. T. Brink is manager of the large Flager property; R. L. Willis runs the Corona Lemon Company's ranch of 125 acres. He is a mighty busy man but took enough time the other day to be present at the birth of a dear little son in Los Angeles, and A. J. Davis looks after the Charter-Davis Company property. Altogether there are nearly 4000 acres of lemons and more than 2000 acres of oranges in this district and they require some looking after. Deciduous fruits and vegetables are in abundance.

200 Tons Honey Annually
 The sweetest thing about Corona, excepting the ladies and little children, is the 200 tons of honey produced each year. The bee reeve in this climate and says his work is such a pleasure that he is not demanding an eight-hour day. The honey is the highest quality and brings a big price.
 The nuttiest thing is the peanut. In this region, extending into the Fontana district, there are thousands of acres of the lowly, but useful and valuable peanut. Next to cotton and the nut, it is the most important crop in many Southern States is the peanut and there are thousands of acres hereabouts that may be devoted to its culture.
 F. T. Pearson, this year planted 150 acres, about eight miles north of town, and he says that a bountiful crop without adding a drop of water to the vines. Three factors prevented him from making a profit of $10,000; he planted in June instead of April, he had difficulty in getting labor for his harvest; it rained copiously when his nuts were exposed. Notwithstanding these obstacles, he more than made expenses and will try it again next year on a large scale.

Water for Bathing, Drinking, Irrigating
 The irrigating water comes from Perris and the domestic supply from Cold Water Canyon. Out at the latter place is a most attractive resort known as Glen Ivy, owned by Frank Johnson. There are hot springs which furnish water for a big plunge bath. This place possesses particular attractions for me. I was there in the panick days following 1893 and was offered the whole shooting match for about $6000. It is worth $100,000 today.
 But that is not all. I had stopped the night before with my friend Elvyn Barlow of Temecula. He was there and left me gave me two fine young pigs. They escaped from their box at Glen Ivy and I had to go off without them. The pigs on Frank Johnson's ranch today can trace their ancestry back to my escaped prisoners and it is no more than right that Frank should give me a couple of pigs to replace them. Barnett has quit raising pigs and now is running a bank at Temecula and I never stop anything out of a banker.
 The Harding family seems to have a corner of presidencies. Not only is he running for the U. S., but C. V. Harding is president of the First National Bank of Corona, also of the Chamber of Commerce. However, there are a couple of other presidents, Fred Richardson of the Corona National and T. C. Jameson of the Citizens.

Seven Drills Seek Oil in Vicinity
 There is considerable excitement over oil here. Seven different wells are being bored and one is down over 2600 feet with good indications. The search was begun after the water from a well a hundred feet deep on the Lillibridge place was found to be so rich in oil that it killed the alfalfa. If oil is found, as seems likely, Mr. Lillibridge can stand the loss of his little feed. Stock in some of the companies is offered at one buck a share and I took two shares, just to get identified with Corona.

Here are some of the outstanding features of Corona. A very attractive city hall building which also houses the Chamber of Commerce, its exhibit and its efficient secretary Mr. W. J. Pentelov; one of the best local newspapers I have encountered. It is The Daily Independent and covers the field thoroughly and reliably. The Congregational Church building is one of most beautiful I have seen; the Odd Fellows hall is the best business building in town; the banks are well housed; the Masons and Knights of Pythias have a good hall; the residences facing the Circle on the South are stately and attractive, especially those of Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Hess, four bankers and many others.

Woman's Improvement Club a Civic Leader
 One of the institutions of the city is the Woman's Improvement Club. It was founded 21 years ago and is active in all civic affairs. Corona raised $1700 for Hoover's fund and was the first town in the State to come thru and report. It did the same with every fund during the war.

There is a fine free auto park here and no time limit put on visitors. The schools, under Superintendent Wight, are among the best in the State and almost 1600 pupils are enrolled, which is large for a population of 4129. This population, by the way, is augmented by some 2000 Mexicans and Italians during the fruit season.
 All roads lead to Corona, including the Santa Fe, the Pacific Electric and the paved highways of the south. My advice to the person who wants to see something in Southern California that really is worth while is to take a train or auto and invade Corona. You will be welcomed and pleased.

STOCKHOLDERS OF CITIZENS BANK GET 3 PER CENT DIVIDEND

The Citizens Savings Bank elected directors at their annual meeting held Wednesday as follows: T. C. Jameson, L. L. Andrews, R. L. Willis, George E. Snidcor, and T. O. Andrews.
 Following the annual meeting the directors met and organized by electing T. C. Jameson, president; T. O. Andrews, vice-president; George E. Snidcor, secretary; and Miss Ethelyn Hampton, assistant cashier.
 The Citizens Bank has just declared a three per cent semi-annual dividend, and shows a most excellent condition for the past year's business; the increase in deposits being the greatest of any year in its history.

REDMEN OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY LODGE FROM COUNTY SEAT

Narragansett Tribe of Redmen held an open meeting and installation at their lodge-room Wednesday evening, the installation ceremonies being carried out by the Riverside Redmen's lodge.
 Officers were installed as follows: Myron Page, P.; Dave Ritey, S. J. A. Marks, S. A. G.; Alozo Brown, J. S.; Clarence Stewart, C. W.; Marion Page, K. of R.; Verne Adams, S.
 The installation was followed by a dance and refreshments. Music was furnished by the Redmen's 5-piece orchestra. A good attendance was present.

F. W. Reynolds, former pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, arrived in the south Tuesday from Oregon on a business trip. He is now at the home of his daughter Mrs. S. R. Linn on La Sierra Heights. Mr. Reynolds of this city before returning north. Mr. Reynolds is engaged in doing religious work among the lumber workers of the Coos Bay section of southern Oregon.

WHY DO BANKS ASK THEIR BORROWERS FOR A FINANCIAL STATEMENT?
 Banks like individuals must rediscout or borrow frequently to serve the vast agricultural, livestock and business interests of their districts.
 Before we can rediscout your note or John D. Rockefeller's note at the Federal Reserve Bank, the law requires that we must have a statement of the maker in our files.
 You should consider it a credit and an honor that we can take your note to the Federal Reserve Bank and get the money for it.

LUMBER FOR FIRST RUGBY OIL WELL DUE IN CORONA SOON

Geologist Young of Los Angeles Picks Out Site of First Temescal Canyon Well—Other Nearby Oil Activities of Week
 Of unusual interest in the past week's local oil developments is the announcement by the Rugby Oil Company that the lumber for their derrick will arrive in Corona in a very few days when work will start on their first well.
 Geologist Young who was in the city from Los Angeles early in the week has picked out the site for the first well. It will be located on the south part of the old Herkhalrth homestead, in Temescal canyon.
 Chino-Corona United Co.
 So confident are the officers of the Chino-Corona-United Oil Company of getting oil in paying quantities that permanent improvements are being made on the lease. A permanent tool house has just been completed, a site for second derrick selected and bids are being asked for the erection of this derrick.
 The drill has now reached a depth of almost 2600 feet and formation taken from the bit is being submitted to the office of Ralph Arnold, geologist, for examination.
 Every indication shows that this company will strike oil within the next few hundred feet as the drill has passed thru virtually the same formations as were encountered in the nearby Kraemer lease, which has produced several gushers.
 Several leasing companies have been recently formed which have been busy leasing up all available land in vicinity of the Chino-Corona and Mahala Companies, both of which are past the purely experimental stage.

Mahala Cements Off
 The well of the Mahala Oil & Gas Co. is creating a lot of interest these days. The hole, 100 per cent perfect, has been cemented off at 181 feet. The crew is taking a two week's layoff while the cement properly sets. Down to its present depth of 1611 feet, 12 1/2 inch casing has been used. When drilling resumed, 10-inch casing will be used, and the Mahala company has on hand 3200 feet of this casing. When drilling stopped temporarily the drill was in a promising blue and brown shale.
 President Arthur Westfall of the Mahala company announces that his company has sold $160,000 worth of stock, much of which has been placed in Corona. He is much elated over the financial condition of his company and believes that it is a matter of but a short time when it will be impossible to buy any Mahala stock. Mr. Westfall states he is sure they will get oil at Mahala as he is sure of another day will dawn tomorrow.
 Estelle Lindsey, of the staff of the Los Angeles Express, and financially interested in the well, visited the lease a few days ago and was greatly enthused by the fine oil indications. She already has several hundred dollars invested in the propo-

G. BROMLEY OXNAM TO COME SUNDAY

Well Known Social and Industrial Worker and Pastor of Church of All Nations in Los Angeles to be at Local M. E. Church
 Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, pastor of the Church of All Nations of Los Angeles has been secured to speak at the First Methodist church next Sunday morning during the regular preaching hour. He will also address the Sunday school at the close of that session.
 Dr. Oxnam is well known as a social and industrial worker. He recently completed a trip around the world in the company of Sherwood Eddy, one of the best known educators of the country. Dr. Oxnam is said to be a most brilliant speaker. The Methodist church extends an invitation to the people of Corona to come out and hear him.
 Tickets are being printed at this office for the Country club play, "Fog of Heat" which was given recently in Riverside to a crowded house by members of the Poly High School. The same cast will be seen here in the play, which is to be given on Saturday night, January 22nd, in the Women's Club house, at Eleventh and Main.

DEBS IN CALIFORNIA

The advent of Eugene V. Debs into California arouses every phase of local sentiment in protest.

The impelling force of loyal devotion to the high principles of our government has brought forth acts of service from many patriotic organizations. We give below some examples worthy to be followed and as a warning to the disloyal that they shall not be recognized by those who believe in this republic or be granted full sway without opposition.

Resolution adopted by disabled veterans world war, Friday, August 24th:

"WHEREAS, Eugene V. Debs was imprisoned because of actions subversive to our U. S. government, and

"WHEREAS, Because of his age and ill health the president extended him pardon, and

"WHEREAS, He is now touring the United States stirring radical feelings and inciting animosity to patriotic feelings and detrimental to loyalty to our Constitution and to law and order, and

"WHEREAS, It is believed that said Debs will speak in Los Angeles, and will attempt to do so from some noted auditorium, thereby gaining a cloak of respectability and responsibility for his un-American plans;

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, veterans disabled as a result of duty and service in the World War, resent the actions of such men and that we believe such men should not be allowed unlimited freedom for the exploitation of their policies, and we hereby condemn the motives and purposes of said Debs, and

"FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED that we oppose and condemn anyone rendering a hall of good report to said Debs, either with or without compensation, and

"FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED that all ex-service men be called upon to join to prevent this added insult to the great cause for which we fought and sacrificed, and that copies of this resolution be presented to newspapers, auditoriums, public officials, and a copy be printed in the D. V. W. W. official bulletin, 'Buddy'.

"L. A. Post No. 1, D. V. W. W., LONG BEACH.—The city council unanimously denied the use of the Civic Auditorium or any city property for meeting. Major Dubbins, representing the American Legion, in his appeal branded Debs 'a convicted traitor to his country' and declared that 1500 members were behind the protest.

"HUNTINGTON BEACH.—City trustees unanimously refused to permit Debs to speak in the municipal auditorium. L. W. Blodgett, city attorney, said: 'We don't want a man of his type stirring up trouble in this community.'

"ORANGE COUNTY.—Major E. J. Marks of Fullerton, president of Orange County American Legion Council, declared 'if an effort is made to have Debs speak in Orange county, I will call a meeting of the council and expect a resolution asking the city councils to refuse permission for such speech.'

"SAN FRANCISCO.—Public Spirit club and American Legion have filed protests with the board or supervisors in opposition to the use of Exposition Auditorium or any other publicly-owned property for Debs meeting.

M. J. Riley, of Denver, Will Have Men at Work Monday

Mining Engineer Has Been at Work Making Survey of District the Past Two Months and is Well Pleased With Showing

The Temescal Tin mine, four miles southeast of Corona, one of the largest tin districts of the United States, is about to be opened again and put on an operative basis, according to M. J. Riley, mining engineer of Denver, Colorado, who has put in the past two months looking over the grounds. One a trip to the mine Thursday Mr. Riley made an extensive survey and stated that he would have a force of men at work cleaning out the old shaft next week.

Long Been Idle The mine has not been extensively worked since the early 90's when an English syndicate ceased operations. Some valuable tin has been taken from the mine, a sample of which is in the office of the Chamber of Commerce. One of pictures of the city to which old timers point with pride is that of the visit of President Benjamin Harrison in 1891 who was photographed standing beside a large pyramid of Temescal tin at the depot. The quality of the ore is pronounced the very best and the percentage comparatively high, a conservative estimate of 15 per cent being made by mining engineers.

Extensive Lodes Formations are indicative of one of the biggest tin districts in the United States, possibly the world, says Mr. Riley. He has traced out 35 miles of lodes and states that only five or six hundred feet have been worked. He places the importance of this development of the district second only to that of the movie industry of California.

"It will be possible to get out 100 tons of tin ore a day at the mine," says Mr. Riley. "From every one of us we can get a ton of tin, which," according to present quotations—as tin was quoted at a little over 42 cents on the market yesterday, will be worth $900 per ton. We may be able to get out five tons per day.

"This district is one of the best I have seen since I have been in the mining game and I have been at it for over 40 years. It's really too big to make a fairly accurate estimate and the time will come soon when you will wonder why on earth you have let this district be idle so long."

Lease Obtained When Mr. Riley invaded the district Thursday he carried in his pocket a lease on over 700 acres including the present mine and the immediate surroundings. The lease was obtained by J. O. Stewart of Los Angeles from the F. D. Cornell company, its planer to form a profit sharing syndicate. Last week Mr. Riley had C. Billick, a mining engineer formerly with Guggenheim, inspect the district and he stated it was the best he had ever seen. Next week Mr. Billick in company with Frank L. Stack will return to make more extensive observations and plan to install a concentrator so that the tin ore may be smelted at the mine. These two gentlemen are also planning to install a smelter at San Pedro harbor.

Legend of the Mine The story of the Temescal mine and its discovery is a legend in the minds like a fairy tale. In one of the histories of Riverside county the tin is said to have been discovered in the early 50's. In still another history, in an article contributed by Wm. Corbitt, one of Corona's pioneers, there is an interesting legend stating the tin was located by an Indian while in a trance.

The district lies in an old Spanish grant known as the El Sobrante Rancho, which includes several thousand acres. An English syndicate styled the San Jacinto Land company, after considerable litigation began to plan developments of the mine in 1888. The first tin commercial quantities was taken out in 1891, under the supervision of Colonel Robinson of England.

Mining De Luxe Operations were carried on in a lavish style by the English syndicate according to old timers here. It was a sort of "eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we may mine," proposition. No detail as to system, comfort and convenience was overlooked. Buildings with stone walls two feet thick were put up, landscape architecture with olive groves, palm drives, massive stone terraces, figured prominently in the tramway scheme. Champagne, as they say, also figured. It was all according to Hoyle and Johnny Bull. If a problem of mining was encountered it was referred to page 30 and so in the annals of mining.

The equipment was the best that could be obtained and was installed with a view of permanency. A large reservoir of stone and concrete was constructed on the top of the hill above the mine, an enterprise which present day mining engineers are at a loss to explain.

Dairy Superintendent Fired And then to complete the system there was a dairy; two cows to furnish milk for the company. An Irishman was engaged as dairyman to indulge in the prosaic art of feeding and milking the cows. And a gentleman was engaged as superintendent of the dairy. Legend relates that one day the dairyman became absent-minded and forgot all about his dairying responsibilities. In other words when found he had found the champagne cellar first. Milking cows was farthest from his thoughts at that time. In fact he had but few thoughts left. So the superintendent of the dairy in a rash moment "piled up his sleeves" and proceeded to indulge in the lowly art of milking the two cows. When thru proper channels the information reached the head of the company that the dairy superintendent had degraded his dignity by milking; there was an awfully warm time, doncher know. Really there was nothing to do but discharge the blooming bouncer of a dairy superintendent. Doncher know, legend fails to relate if the head boss stared through his monocle at the departing superintendent as he wound his solitary way over the hills and away from the mine, but it's probable if the power that was, could have found his monocle he would have given the ex-superintendent a couple of stares.

The mine operations finally petered out. Under the according to Hoyle system, the tin taker out failed to offset the sterling put in, and the machinery was auctioned off. So ended one of Corona's most promising industries. Since then, engineers have made surveys and have handed in favorable reports. Mr. Riley believes that the best lodes are untouched as yet. He is going to find out.

Engineers Report The vast possibilities of the district are shown in the report of E. N. Robinson, M. E., San Francisco, from which the following excerpts are taken:

"I shall confine my report to a brief history of the property, the mineral conditions of the Tin district which lies within the four corners of the 'San Jacinto Estate,' as I have encountered them in a practical manner covering a period of over 20 years.

"The Tin district covers an area of about 33 square miles, being more than eleven miles in length by two miles in width, encompassing over 60 known parallel tin lodes.

"At the time of the ceding of California to the United States by Mexico, the Estate (within which the Tin district lies) was owned by Mexican citizens (it being a grant to them from the Mexican government, issued in 1884) from which, in 1887, it was purchased by the San Jacinto Tin company for the purpose of developing the tin deposits.

"By reason of litigation, work has been suspended for over twenty yrs. and the vast tin and other valuable mineral deposits of the Estate have been lying dormant during that time. I was appointed mining engineer in 1887 to develop the tin deposits of this district. Finding the outcroppings of 29 known tin lodes (assaying 3 per cent and upwards in black (in per ton) extended in a marked form over a large area, I selected a central point near the 'Cajalco Hill' and commenced work of development by sinking on one of the lodes two inclined shafts, 272 feet apart following down the dip of the vein, at the same time driving a tunnel in on a course of the lode, intersecting such shafts at 45 feet and 100 feet from surface respectively.

"I sent 12 tons of ore (fair samples from the mine) to Joseph Mehlmer, Smelter and metallurgist of San Francisco, and had such crushed and concentrated, and reduced to pig tin—which yielded about 20 per cent of pure metal, in 50 bars of about 100 pounds each. One and one-half tons sent to Taylor and company, smelters of San Francisco, yielded over 30 per cent of pure metal. One ton of ore, taken from the dump pile, was sent to London and yielded over 16 per cent of metal. 700 pounds of ore, taken from the different parts of the lode by Capt. Craze, M. E., of Redruth, Cornwall, England, in May 1888, was shipped to Cornwall and reduced by W. J. Trythall of Blissee, which yielded over 17 per cent of pig tin.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the various tests I have made of the 'Cajalco' ores and the results from same being over 20 per cent pig tin, in my estimate of what the practical working yield of this mine may be, I have assumed only 15 per cent of black tin in ore; estimating, the latter to return 65.5 per cent pig tin from furnace workings. I have manufactured a quantity of tin plate, using the tin of this district to coat American iron and it proved equal to best imported English plate.

"I have been engaged in the mining and smelting for over 30 years and have twice examined the most important tin mines of Cornwall (under advantageous circumstances), and have never met in any mine of any kind, more indubitable evidence of a reliable and continuous lode, both horizontally and vertically than is shown in the workings of the 'Cajalco mine.' In my extended experience I have never met with such vast and concentrated metalliferous deposit as exists in this district, in conjunction with every requirement for successful working.

"The output of the 'Cajalco' mine could, within six months, be increased to 200 tons per day by extending the underground workings at a small additional expense.

CORONA OUTFITTING COMPANY SOLD TO MR. KELLER

W. G. Keller of Washington buys Furniture Store; Takes Possession Monday

W. G. Keller of Lowell, Washington, has purchased the Corona Outfitting Company, 114 East Sixth St., from Wm. Becker, and will assume the proprietorship next Monday. The consideration is in the neighborhood of $20,000 it is stated.

Mr. Keller will become a permanent resident of Corona and is now residing in the Willard Tudor house. He is a Mason, a good business man and has already made many friends in Circle City.

The Corona Outfitting Company conducts a large truiture business. Mr. Becker has not been associated with E. P. Astline in the transfer business but has disposed of his interests to the latter, he announces.

Mr. Becker, popularly known to all as "Bill," is undecided as yet just what he will do, but plans a ninety-day vacation during which time he and his family will enjoy a motor trip to New York.

Bill came here nine years ago, set up a business and made good. He likes Corona so well and has such a host of friends here that he intends to remain in Circle City.

The Corona Daily Independent wishes Mr. Keller the best of success in business and wishes Mr. Becker a pleasant vacation.

The deal for the Corona Outfitting company was made by L. L. Patterson, 111 East Sixth street.

NEW FORD CAR ON DISPLAY

The first of the new type Ford cars which recently arrived in this city are now on display at the showroom of The Coplen Motor Co., local Ford agency.

The higher radiator now standard in all Ford types has brot a general improvement through the entire line and the new radiator apron blending with similar apron effects on the fenders gives the front of the cars a highly finished appearance.

The Touring Car shows a decided improvement having a more stream line effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one man top.

The Ford Runabout is likewise much improved and looks more sturdy. The Coupe is entirely new in body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangements and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A larger compartment in the rear gives increased room for luggage and the new type rear fender is more secure. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality appearance in tin mining and tin ores and the claims I have set forth have never been disputed.

"7. The richest tin mines of Cornwall pay large profits on ore that return practically an average of 12 per cent of pure metal.

"8. The Temescal tin ore being of much higher per cent in metal and entirely free from base metal, can be produced at less cost per ton of metal reduced than the Cornwall ores, as the cost of producing pig tin is reduced in proportion to the increase in the richness and purity of the ore.

"I believe the day is coming when the population within this district will equal that surrounding the mines of Cornwall which now give direct employment to over 12,000 people and supports as many more, and that the output of these mines is no more than this district can be made to yield within five years.

"If I have always maintained and still believe that the Temescal tin district will soon be to the United States what Cornwall has been, and is to Great Britain.

"E. N. ROBINSON, M. E.

"P. S. In addition to the tin deposits, this estate contains extensive and valuable deposits of gold, silver and copper. About one mile from the Temescal River, and 3,000 feet N. Westward of the Cajalco mine there is an important outcrop of a silver-copper lode."

THE FARMERS OPPORTUNITY

Corona farmers: You have an excellent chance to take advantage of double advertising at the Southern California Fair, Riverside, October 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. There is no Corona exhibit of farm products in the Fair, but the Farm Bureau Sales Tent, both propositions which should receive your whole support and cooperation.

If you have a product of any variety on your farm which you think would look well on display in the Corona section of the exhibit tent, then get in touch with the Farm Center or Chamber of Commerce committee, or telephone Secretary Bill Harmonth at the office of the chamber.

If you have some products which you would like to sell, and incidentally realize a little more than disposing of them on the wholesale market, you should consider the opportunity to bring such products to the Farm Bureau Sales Tent where there will be a special committee of workmen to sell your produce for you.

Look of cooperation on the part of the farmer has always been the great drawback. The Farm Bureau sales tent plan is one of the real big things which has great possibilities. It may lead to the establishment of a special marketing system for farmers in Riverside and the other cities, including Southern California. It deserves the loyal support and effort of every farmer of the county.

Then there is the advertising feature to which will give prominence to every ranch that produces an article sold in the sales tent. Every article will bear the owners name and address. The purchaser will know who produces the article and where to go when he wants more.

So here's the two big things for the Corona ranchers to take into consideration at the Southern California Fair this fall. Help Corona to have a creditable exhibit by bringing in whatever products you may have; and help yourself by cooperating with the sales tent proposition.

Miss Sylvia Overson of Mitchell, South Dakota arrived here last week and remained for several days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Krick at their home on Ramona avenue. After a pleasant visit here, Miss Overson went to Santa Barbara where she is visiting her sister at that place, going with them on Sunday to Catalina Island. A stay will be made in Los Angeles with friends before returning to South Dakota.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church friends of Dr. I. A. Engle and sons Royce and Kenneth are invited to be present at a farewell reception being tendered them by the Woman's Council of that church.

Dog skins from China are used for rugs and Holland house-cat skins for coat lining.

Cushions are divided making it easy for filling the gasoline tank which is under the seat. A small recess shelf at the rear of the seat is handy for small parcels. The door windows are equipped with revolving type window regulators permitting any desired ventilation. Doors are provided with locks.

The higher radiator has greatly enhanced the beauty of the Ford Four Door Sedan. This car, highly popular since its introduction a year ago because of its low, graceful lines, now presents a more sturdy appearance.

Another feature coming as the result of the changes made in the front of the car including the larger cowl, radiator and hood, is that occupants of the front seat are afforded more space, thus insuring added riding comfort.

ELECTRICAL COMMUNICATIONS

In a recent address on "Electrical Communications" before the Eleventh Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, John J. Carly, vice-president, American Telephone & Telegraph company, said:

"Commerce is becoming more and more dependent upon the rapid and trustworthy interchange of information.

"The natural characteristics of radio and wire transmission are fundamentally different. Each, due to its unique capabilities, is performing a service for which the other is unsuited and each is supplementing the other to the end that there may be provided all the facilities necessary to extend throughout the whole world a comprehensive system of electrical communication.

"There never was a period when organizations responsible for electrical communications were more enterprising and more able and more intelligent and more successful in extending communications throughout the world.

"The progress of this country has been so rapid that, within the last few years, America has taken the foremost position in the art and practice of administration of electrical communication."

What a record for private initiative and perseverance as contrasted with electrical communication for the benefit of the average citizen in other parts of the world where the development of these resources is handicapped by the stagnation policies of the governments which control them and where their service is limited largely to the official or wealthy classes.

ADEQUATE FIRE PROTECTION

Adequate fire-stopping in dwelling construction is almost as rare as a well spent dollar. There are many more dwellings which contain no evidence of the installation of fire-stopping details than there are persons willing to assume responsibility for the omission of those details.

Many architects, engineers and contractors, after they have satisfied themselves on matters relating to style, plan, and cost, devote their energies to insuring the structural adequacy of the buildings they erect. The stability of the foundation, the rigidity of the walls and roof, and the load-carrying capacity of the floors are essential considerations. But they are not all. At least one other essential requirement of sound construction has received but scant notice in the building of small houses.

The average carpenter and builder does not realize the extent of our national fire losses or else he considers the possibility of fire as quite remote. Usually the home owner does not have the experience to know what is required. The designer, the superintendent, and the contractor, jointly should assume the responsibility of securing careful construction which greatly reduces the fire hazard.

Construction expedients which would reduce the excessive toll of the fire loss to the country should be peculiarly worthy of study. The lumber industry is anxious to assist in some degree in reducing this waste, not only of material and labor, but also of the lives caused by fire in the United States. It is co-operating with the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the Underwriters' Laboratories to awaken the public to the advisability and necessity of guarding against fire.

"Why I Put Up With Rats for Years," Writes N. Windsor, Farmer "Years ago I bought some rat poison, which nearly killed our fire watch dog. It so scared us that I suffered a long time with rats until my neighbor told me about RAT-SNAP. That's the sure rat killer and a safe one." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. GOOD HUNTING AT LAKE ELSINORE Hunting superintendent, "Billy" Frank of the Southern California Athletic and Country Club's properties at Lake Elsinore advises there is great abundance of doves and quail on the great preserve, but that large flocks of ducks to the lake at the beginning of the season which opens Oct. 1 is doubtful, because the feeding grounds have just been renewed this season, and the ducks are most likely to stop at the old-established feeding grounds first. However after the first few days of shooting elsewhere the ducks will seek shelter and food at Lake Elsinore.

For this reason, duck shooting on the club's properties will begin Saturday the 13th, and shooting is permitted every Saturday thereafter during the season. By the time the large ducks fly south shooting at the lake should be first-class. New, modern floating blinds have been provided, also shooting spots for 50 guns. Frank will also supply 200 live decoys.

The lake is to be patrolled to prevent poaching. Members must make reservations with Mr. Frank for places in blinds and shooting spaces. Members desiring to take advantage of accommodations at Lake Shore Lodge, which is the property of the club and on the site of the big club house to be erected, should make, mail, or phone reservations with Frank, as the building is in his charge after-October 1.

L. A. Mine Officials Confer With Corona Business Men

Stewart Brothers and Engineer M. J. Riley Outline Plan to Form Syndicate; Mine Has Great Possibilities

The Temescal Tin Mine, four miles southwest of Corona is going to be developed whether Coronans put a dollar into the proposition or not, according to a statement of J. O. Stewart at a meeting held at Hotel Kinney Wednesday night. Mr. Stewart holds the option on the property and fully outlined the plans of development to several representative business men of Corona at the meeting. A brother, Wm. B. Stewart presided at the meeting and M. J. Riley, mining engineer of Denver, Colorado, who has put in ten weeks making a mineral survey of the property gave an interesting talk concerning mining history, the history of Temescal Tin Mine, its present status and its great possibilities.

Propose to Form Syndicate

The plan is to form a syndicate, preferably with a few local men as a matter of business policy. It was stated. The proposition is not a promotion scheme, stated J. O. Stewart. It is proposed to "un-water" the mine, clean out the shaft and invite engineers representing Guggenheim to come and look over the property. The price of $225,000,000 has been made to Guggenheim it was stated. However if the syndicate should decide it would be more profitable, after the mine is put in working shape, to go ahead and mine the ore, a corporation will be formed, a smelting plant put in and developments proceed along that line.

Engineer Riley Speaks

Engineer M. J. Riley of Denver was first introduced and gave a brief outline of the tin mine developments in the United States. Mr. Riley told of his first interest in the local mine, when he heard of it while engaged as a mining engineer in Colorado many years ago. Last year while attending a mining engineers school in Denver a paper was read stating that the Temescal Tin Mine was the richest in the United States, if not in the world, its possibilities being far ahead of those of the famous Cornwall mines of England stated Mr. Riley.

"I have gone over the ground quite thoroughly with A. M. Hincley, and I am not exaggerating it here, and I am not exaggerating it when I say the possibilities of the Temescal mine are the greatest of any in the world. The ore is there, all it needs is development. I have inspected the shafts and know just what to do to get the mine placed on an operative basis. "The mine will have to be unwatered, a few new timbers put in and a few improvements made. I have been in the mining game for 42 years and will state to you frankly that I have never seen a better prospect than the Temescal property. The only reason it has never been developed more fully is because the land is a grant and the prospector is barred from a grant. "I am confident that with proper development at the mine thousands of people can be brought to this community, and I believe you would resist. We are going ahead and develop the mine whether Coronans come into the deal or not, but we are giving you first chance. Finance the proposition will be an easy matter, but as a business proposition we prefer to have a few Coronans in this syndicate which we are forming and which Mr. Stewart will tell you about."

Syndicate Plans Outlined

J. O. Stewart, option holder, then outlined the plans for development. A syndicate of 25 members, with $1,000 apiece is to be formed. With this money the mine is to be pumped out and placed in a working condition. Then engineers representing Guggenheim are ready to come and inspect the property. Should the syndicate think it would be more profitable to form a corporation and proceed with mining the tin in commercial quantities, such will be the procedure, stated Mr. Stewart.

"But no matter, if there is not a Corona dollar put into the syndicate, the mine will be developed just the same. It is good business policy to have a few representative business men of Corona in and for the reason the meeting is being held tonight."

At the conclusion of the talks a round table discussion was held, during which questions were asked by H. L. Glass, Wm. Riddell, who transported supplies for the mine when operated by an English syndicate, and others present. A. M. Hincley, geologist, was present and answered a few questions. Mr. Hincley has been over the property and is favorably impressed with the prospects.

Besides the Stewart brothers who spoke at the meeting Wednesday evening, another brother, N. R. Stewart, and T. P. Richardson of Los Angeles, are with the party today getting lined up for business.

Why Mine Was Not Worked. The question naturally arises, if the property has such excellent prospects why has it not been developed more? In answering this question Mr. Stewart replies as follows: The mine was worked in 1896 by W. G. Leonard who took out a large quantity of tin. In 1905 M. D. Huff, then of Corona, now a resident of Long Beach, did some development work at the mine and had an engineer representing Schwab here to look at the property. The engineering party arrived in Corona on a special Marquette car, but the San Francisco earthquake occurred, mining developments throughout the whole United States received a set back and the officials did not get out to the mine.

In 1917 E. J. Genevex started work and partially unwatered the mine and a government mineralogist was here to inspect the property. He stated it was the greatest tin prospect he had ever seen. At that time it would have taken much money to put the mine in shape for mining. The going on, the government would not permit the expenditure. The idea then was to win the war and win it as quickly as possible.

E. C. Overholzer of Los Angeles is today arrive from Los Angeles and will look the property over. Mr. Stewart holds option on 7,000 acres including the present mine and immediate territory. Besides tin ore, valuable copper ore and traces of gold and silver have been found on the property it was stated at the meeting. Mention of these other ores is also made in the mining engineer's report made in 1888.

ALL PRODUCTS IN SATURDAY FOR DISPLAY

Exhibits Will Be Taken To Riverside Monday Morning; Good Display This Year

All ranch products for exhibit at the Southern California Fair, Riverside, Oct. 3-13, must be in at the office of the Corona Chamber of Commerce by tomorrow, announces Secretary Bill Barnhart. A truck load will be taken to Riverside early Monday morning.

Due to the efforts of the Corona Fair Center and the Corona Chamber of Commerce committees who have held regular weekly meetings and have devoted much time to the cause, this community will have its usual creditable exhibit at the fair this year. The committees consist of the following representation from the Chamber of Commerce: F. F. Thompson, chairman; L. A. Andrews, E. F. Damon, Bert Gully, H. M. May, C. R. McCarty, H. L. Moody, Elmer Page, Howard Vard, F. W. Kuster and W. V. Swoverland; and the following from the Corona Fair Center: W. P. Eldridge, chairman; A. J. Davis, Ralph D. Faerbergen, N. C. Kelley, L. M. Persons, B. H. H. Ott.

At a meeting held at the office of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening a check-up was made on the exhibit list and it was found that the quantity and quality will be up to the standard set by Corona at the fair.

Frank Getts has cooperated by the loan of his cellar for keeping the products in storage.

PEG LEG MINE REPORTED FOUND

Famous Old Lost Mine Again Breaks Into Print; Riversiders Locate On Claim

Peg Leg mine, the famous gold deposit supposed to be hidden somewhere in Southern California, near Riverside and sought by hundreds from every part of the United States, has been found, according to the Riverside Enterprise, which quotes as follows:

To complete final arrangements for opening up the long-lost Peg Leg mine, a party of Riversiders last night on a 5-day trip to the Mexican border.

With their departure, it became known that Mayor S. C. Evans and Harry Hinde visited the mine several weeks ago, filed on the property, and placed guards around it. The gold ore, it is asserted, runs as high as $2,200 to the ton.

Members of the party which left Riverside Wednesday evening are F. T. Evans, Harry Hinde, W. C. Evans and C. L. Small. They motored to Warner's ranch, where they are to have breakfast. There they will be joined by Jose Andrews, a famous Indian guide. He will conduct them over the grapevine trail and into the desert; thence to the Peg Leg mine. This famed property is said to be almost on the Mexican line.

How Mine Was Discovered

The discovery of the mine, for which prospectors searched unsuccessfully for more than a quarter of a century and which many persons have asserted existed, came about dramatically and with surprising ease. Before Peg Leg died he handed his map, showing the location of the mine, to the physician who attended him in his last illness. The doctor placed the map in a safe deposit vault in cotton and there it remained through the years. The map came into the possession of the Riversiders. It was so clearly drawn and so definite in its markings that they had no difficulty in reaching the mine. When they actually arrived at the site of the long deserted treasure trove they were amazed at the richness of the property. It was all that Peg Leg had said of it and more. They filed on the mine, stationed guards around it, and came back to Riverside. Soon they will start working the property, taking out the gold which Peg Leg hoped would bring him a fortune, but which he never lived to enjoy.

Was Character Long Familiar

Peg Leg was a familiar character in desert towns 35 years ago. For years he came and went, always seeking for gold, but never finding it. He was a well known character in San Bernardino boasting that he had at last made a strike. He had located gold ledges of richness almost unbelievable.

Peg Leg to the sugar planters in San Bernardino saloons that he had mapped out the location of the mine, which he said, was in the desert far to the south of the Gate City.

But Peg Leg died. His mysterious disappearance, and although hundreds—thousands—of men have hunted the desert over for his mine, it remained for the Riversiders to discover it.

Former Indians are to hold an all day picnic at Fairmount Park, Riverside on Saturday, October sixth. Informal talks etc., will be featured in the program in the afternoon. A basket dinner will be in order at room with coffee served free by the association.

CORONANS ENJOY MOVIE STAR SHOW

A party of Coronans enjoyed the time of their lives on Wednesday at the American Legion benefit entertainment put on by Will Rogers and Hal Rosch at Elstoro.

In the group were Miss Emily Hatch, Miss Hattie Green, Miss Kathryn Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. H. Art, Frank Jones and Mr. Zuella. For the first time in their experience, the Coronans gained a close-up of a bunch of real red in the wool movie folks. For one gladsome hour they entered the realm of Bohemia and saw the rods of filmom with their bells on. One of the young ladies admits that she was kept so busy watching Will Rogers chew gum and listening to his running fire of witticisms that she missed most of what was really going on.

The Corona guests at the affair came away with minds indelibly impressed with the fact that anything put on by the Will Rogers string of movie folks will be clean, Rogers himself, they represent as a typical cowboy, out for a good time and—cowboy fashion, trying to give everyone else a good time as well.

They were first impressed with the wonderful scenery which is woven into the Rogers production, "The Uncovered Wagon." Later, they were privileged to see a preview of the new picture, "The Uncovered Wagon," is thrown on the screen of the California Theatre.

BOWEN EMPLOYS ARMY OF MEN

The New Home Bakery made the biggest birthday cake in history for the anniversary of the Alpha Beta store, which took place Wednesday. This was a wonderful cake. Morg hands have been employed on its making. The men were over used in creating a section of the one end of the earth to the other have been laboring for years to make the cake a masterpiece. The talents of men of genius have applied and millions of dollars expended in its preparation.

It is this Corona Community Cake may be made the greatest cake of history. The Alexander conquered worlds, he never laid tooth on such delicacy.

The construction of this modern venture began years ago. First miners ripped the bones of Mother Earth sunder that iron might be found, crushed and smelted to manufacture the machinery, with which to till the soil, into which was sown the seed that was later harvested, shipped, milled and re-milled into the circle fine flour. Ages went into the perfection of the animal and vegetable oils which make up the shortening. Laboratories have spent years in research work that the cake may be made to "bite." Murder stalked barefaced through the African jungles and a foreign race was hounded into slavery and degradation that the sugar cane might be cultivated through the Savannahs of the south—so that a bite of a greating Corona cake, India has been ravaged by her viruses, chemistry has wandered through a maze of mystery down the aisles of forgotten time that the Home Bakery may create a masterpiece for the Alpha Beta anniversary Wednesday.

Mrs. B. A. Crew has issued invitations for an afternoon at cards, to honor her mother—who is visiting here from San Luis Obispo. The party is to be held at the residence on Palm avenue on Friday afternoon.

LICENSE TAKEN FROM CAR DRIVER

Frank Marabell, Corona, was fined $25 and had his driver's license taken away for a period of 30 days, when he appeared in Police Judge C. R. Miller's court Wednesday night and pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving. Mr. Marabell was arrested Sunday on a main boulevard by Traffic Officer L. E. Geddie.

RUMORED DEVELOPMENT
 Regularly on our rounds we hear of development and rumors of development in Temescal canyon. Rumor has it that the Santa Fe has completed its survey preparatory to extending its line from Corona to Alhambra; that oil men from San Francisco and Long Beach are purchasing extensive leases and making ready to prospect in Temescal canyon; that plans are being made to develop the good beds and the stone quarries; and that the tin mine is going to be opened by eastern capitalists.

The development of any one of these resources is not an idle dream.
 There are good geological indications for oil, says experts; there are vast deposits of the best pottery clay to be found in California. The Tropic potteries of Glendale annually use a great quantity of this clay when it could just as well be worked by a local company. The building and ornamental stone found in the canyon is of excellent quality and its development would furnish work for a large number of men. The Santa Fe should connect its Corona line with Alhambra and do away with the gap in the road, making a direct haul from the Alhambra hills to Los Angeles. And that there is a great deposit of tin in the old mine up the canyon, is the verdict of every mineralogist who has made a survey of the field.

The time will soon come, let us hope when there will be considerably more than rumors in connection with the development. Corona has vast resources of mineral and clay deposits right at her door. Some day the popular demand will force the development of these resources.
 Why not NOW?

"THE EARTH" BOOSTS
 "The Earth" a magazine put out by the Santa Fe railroad every month to feature its development in industrial and other developments along the railway lines, is a booster for California. The front cover page carries a story entitled, "Why People Are Moving to California," which reads as follows:
 "California has more newcomers than any other state, and there are reasons which appeal strongly to homeseekers.

"The Santa Fe railway, which serves the cities of San Diego, Orange,
 Los Angeles, San Bernardino,
 Riverside, Kings, Kern, Tulare, Fresno, Madera, Stanislaus, Merced, San Joaquin and Contra Costa, in heart of the state," obtained from 200 settlers who have lived in the rural districts less than three years, statements of why they moved to California.

"Climate was the first answer given by 186. Opportunity to make a living under favorable conditions was the substance of the first or second reason given by 142. Some were health seekers, others pleasure seekers, while others offered various reasons for being there; but the most of them declared that they moved to California because they could engage profitably in the business of tilling the soil for the production of fruit, vegetables, livestock or grain under conditions as nearly ideal as it is possible to have them, and with the comforts of the country combined with the conveniences of the city."

COMMUNITY SPIRIT
 Corona is catching the proper community spirit. The petition presented at the city council meeting Tuesday evening contained signatures of over sixty per cent of the property owners on West Sixth St., asking that a system of ornamental street lights be installed; provision is made for a series of winter band concerts next summer; building activity is increasing; a portion of the Corona-Elsinore highway is being paved; a second to none high school is finished and more improvements being planned; the Chamber of Commerce is preparing a great program of work this coming year.

There is no time for pessimism, no time for knocking. We had better forget all about that word "knocking" just eliminate it from our vocabularies and get on out of our minds and for it substitute two words, "Straight Ahead."

SUPERVISORS ORDER WORK TO START AT ONCE

Total of 13.92 Miles of Riverside County Roads Will Undergo Improvements

TO USE OIL BOUND MACADAM
 Road Superintendent W. S. Connors Prepares Exhaustive Surveys of Highways

Over six miles of paved highways leading through Corona will be resurfaced soon, according to action taken by the board of supervisors at the meeting Monday, states Supervisor T. C. Jameson. In all 13.92 miles will be repaired and of this total, Corona's grout will be 6.92 miles.

Starting at May Station on Magnolia avenue northeast of Corona, the road will be re-surfaced to the city limits of Riverside, a stretch of 2.52 miles. Approximately 2 miles near Prado will be improved and the 3.5 mile stretch of the Corona-Elsinore road will be repaired. The latter road however, will not be improved until all rock is hauled for 2.52 miles. Approximately 2 miles which is now putting in three miles of pavement.

All re-surfacing work is to be oil bound macadam, two inches thick and running 24 pounds to the square foot. All work will be done by the county under Superintendent
 Connors' direction.

GOOD PROGRAM OF ENTERTAINMENT

Resides the debate between Corona and Colton in the high school auditorium Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be other features on the program, including orchestral and vocal numbers it is announced. A large audience is expected to attend the "Resolves" that the United States should enter the World Court as it now stands, is a vital one and Coronans have an opportunity to hear both sides of the question discussed by those who have made an intensive study of the subject.

Miss Elsie Hensen and Miss Frances Kane are on the affirmative team and will meet the negative team from Colton at the new school, Pearl Boyer and Margaret Swoverland who won a 2 to 0 decision in a practice debate with Santa Ana Monday afternoon, will go to Colton to meet the affirmative team of that place Friday evening.

AN IMPERISHABLE GIFT

When you make a Christmas gift of a year's subscription to The Youths Companion you think of course of the first thrill that comes when those first holiday issues are opened and read. But you are giving more than that. You are giving to assurance of fifty-two more thrills before the recipient of the gift is exhausted. You can't do that with any gift that is made for immediate consumption, like candy or fruit. Today it is here; to borrow it is but a memory. But The Companion is imperishable. Its test to a year from now will be as appetizing as the first on this coming Christmas day. You cannot put your money to better use or advantage in Christmas giving than in a subscription to The Youths Companion.

The 52 issues of 1924 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

Corona's Opportunity

Today noon two young men from Hollywood called at the office of The Corona Daily Independent and later at the office of the Chamber of Commerce. They are both young, able bodied, have high school education, one a college training—and both have families of two children apiece. They came from Iowa last summer and settled in Hollywood. They are not financially embarrassed and have enough to go for several months as yet. But this is the manner in which one outlined their situation:

"We are living in Hollywood. I am making good wages in office work, but I find that living costs me about $40 more each month than I am receiving in wages. More than that—I have to travel nine miles on the street car and am often lucky if I get a chance to ride on the fender.

"But the greatest problem of all is our kiddies. Los Angeles and Hollywood schools are inadequate to take care of the demands; apartments don't want kiddies and the time has come when we would rather work at most anything if we could get a place where we could get fresh air and sunshine and a little home of our own—and to us Corona looks pretty good. If you can imagine 5000 people landed in Corona over night and the trouble they would have finding housing facilities and schools to take care of the children then you can get an idea of how it is in Los Angeles."

Corona can go a long way toward helping solve such problems for Los Angeles. With lots selling for as low as $180, the best of climate, excellent schools and good working conditions there is no reason why the population of Circle City should not double within three years.

 BE THE RESULT

A test case will probably result from a ruling made in Police Judge
 Chas. R. Miller's court Wednesday when Dominick Corseili, 212 Merrill street, was assessed a fine of $300 for having in his possession intoxicating liquor manufactured at 212 Merrill street, according to the charges of the complaint.

Mr. Corseili will appeal the case in the superior court, it is understood. The decision was made by Judge Miller after considerable argument presented by Attorneys Fol-son and Robert O'Connor of Los Angeles, representing the defendant and Attorney Walter S. Clayton, representing the city.

The case is the outgrowth of a raid conducted by Chief of Police
 W. D. Lyman and Traffic Officer L.
 E. Goddie early in November, 1923.
 Chief Lyman secured a search warrant and on November 11 together with Mr. Goddie staged a raid on Mr. Corseili's residence, 212 Merrill street. Four barrels and a five gallon jug filled with wine, were confiscated and trucked to the police station, where the same now remains in repos awaiting the result of an appeal to see whether it is or isn't.

In the meantime the $300 fine money is being kept as bail. The appeal will probably be made in Judge Ellis' court, Riverside.

Mrs. C. W. Field motored to San Bernardino this morning for a social hours stay, returning home this afternoon.

MOVIES DEPICT GLORY OF SOUTHLAND TO THE WORLD!

In her ambitions for development, Southern California is reaping the phenomenal harvest of innumerable advertising assets, and the value of the motion picture industry, for one, can hardly be overestimated.

What an appeal to come to Southern California—all our rich settings of rugged mountains, lovely lakes and seashore, cities of surpassing life and beauty—broadcasted to every theater in the Nation!

When they come, as they do in droves and thousands, of course the big attraction is motoring.
 Then what about gasoline? Forty different kinds to choose from — ONE that Pacific Coast motorists have known for its quality for years.

You don't have to "take a chance"—with the Stand-

HEAVY EARLY VOTE BOOSTS COOLIDGE VICTORY

ANNOUNCE ELECTION RESULTS HERE TONIGHT

Returns and Late Bulletins to Be Posted in Salesroom of the Copen Garage

Election returns will be received at the Copen Motor company tonight starting at 7 o'clock. Voters are invited to hear the reports of the election from the various parts of the country, which will be received by an Alwater-Kent radio, telephone and telegraphic service.

Arrangements have been made by The Independent and Copen Motor company for the receiving of election returns tonight. The salesroom of the garage will be opened to the general public at 7 o'clock tonight and reports from all parts of the country will be announced.

The Copen garage has been wired with special aera so that reports can be received from the East as well as from the local broadcasting stations. Because of the fact that the eastern balloting will be completed three hours in advance of the Pacific coast, news of the different districts will be available from 7 o'clock on.

Broadcasting stations over the country are arranging for a special service tonight and the Independent and Copen Motor are making plans to carry this service to the people of Corona.

Local returns will be received by The Independent by telephone and telegraph and will be announced and posted in the salesroom of the garage.

Everyone will be welcomed.

TEMESCAL RANCH LAND SOLD TO BIG COMPANY

Several thousand acres of the Rancho El Sobrante de San Jacinto, have been transferred from H. F. Wells to the San Jacinto Land Company, Ltd., according to a deed filed in Riverside by the Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Co., Sale price, indicated by stamps, was $154,000.

The old ranch covered the territory extending from the vicinity of Mockingbird canyon dam to the Temescal canyon on the Southwest. Products of the Temescal tin mine, located on the property, were displayed at the Corona depot when President Benj. Harrison visited here in the early 90's.

FREE VERBENAS

Flower lovers will be pleased to learn that Mrs. H. F. Morrison has sent another package of verbenas slips to the Chamber of Commerce offices for free distribution to any one who wants the variety. Several weeks ago, Mrs. Morrison sent 250 slips to the C. of C. for distribution.

NORCO POULTRY GROWERS MEET

An address from Mr. Hadley, better known through his articles signed by "Old Iron Spoon," will feature the meeting of poultry raisers to be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Norco Grill room. The meeting is sponsored by the Norco Poultry Association. All poultry men and women in general, and Corona growers in particular, are invited to attend the meeting.

MOURN LOSS OF STANFORD GAME

Sporting fans are expressing their regrets today over the fact that Stanford and U. S. C. have severed athletic relations. The game to be played next Saturday between the football teams of the two institutions was called off yesterday following the action of the faculty and student body of the southern institution.

Ticket refunds will be made to all those holding tickets for Saturday's battle, which promised to be one of the greatest football contests ever held on the coast. The "break" grew out of the fact that California and Stanford refuse to meet the University of Southern California this year as long as they use "professional players" in the lineup. The northern universities also indicated that they would have nothing further to do with U. S. C. on the athletic field after this season.

Retaliation It is believed that the smart from this blow was the reason for the cancelling of the premier game. Both schools will lose approximately $125,000 which would have come from the gate receipts.

Stanford and California are the only two Conference teams on the coast with an undefeated record for the season, and should California beat Washington in the "Big Game" at Berkeley on November 23, between the Cardinal and Golden Bear will determine the coast championship.

RIVERSIDE: Work on state Mecca-Blythe highway to begin at once.

OPEN BIDS ON NEW HAMNER AVENUE PAVEMENT

Pave Mile and a Half of Road To Norco With 16-foot Width Of Macadam

Work of paving Hamner avenue from the north limits of Corona to Norco, is to be pushed by the county board of supervisors.

Proceeding with the road improvement program, the county board yesterday decided to advertise for bids on the Hamner avenue paving job for opening December 1.

A 5-inch macadam 16 feet wide, will be placed on this avenue, and the pavement will extend for one mile and a half.

The paving will prove a boon to Norco and will encourage additional travel thru this section to the Wjnevile district.

Plans for the Hamner avenue paving have been heartily endorsed by both Corona and Norco interests since the road is becoming an important highway in this section.

It was also decided yesterday to advertise for bids on the Alberhill bridge, on the Corona-Elsinore road to be opened December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hollinsworth have moved into their new home at 1125 West 11th and the Boulevard. Their new residence was recently completed by the Riverside Construction company. It is a beautiful place and is admirably located to afford the owners an excellent home.

MANY GUESTS HERE FOR ALPHA BETA BANQUET

Employees of 12 Alpha Beta stores Enjoy Annual Banquet in South Tavern Here

The annual banquet of the Alpha Beta system of 12 stores was given last night at the South Tavern with splendid attendance. Twelve of the fifteen stores being represented at the banquet when about one hundred guests assembled.

The tables were beautiful with decorations of pink and white roses with paper nut baskets to match. This portion of the success of the evening was in charge of Mrs. C. W. Edwards, local Alpha Beta manager and his staff were in charge of arrangements for the affair last evening, the committees being as follows: Music, Mr. Orville Brower; reception, A. W. Edwards; finance, E. W. Pierce; program, Mrs. A. W. Edwards, Mrs. Claud Edwards and Mrs. C. Oscar McElldoon; while Mr. C. Edwards was general chairman and toast master.

Among the speeches enjoyed following the banquet was that of Mr. Hugh Gerrard of Santa Ana, a male quartet of Pomona Alpha Beta men were then keenly enjoyed and called forth an encore.

Mr. A. C. Gerrard of Pomona then made a talk on the "Application of Christianity to Business." The speaker brought out two outstanding policies of the Alpha Beta system, viz: the pleasure of the customer by selling honest goods at a fair profit and the application of the golden rule at all times, stating that the policy of the Alpha Beta system is founded on Christian principles.

Mr. Lemen next made a talk on chess, he being a representative of the Kraft Chess company. An interesting feature of this talk was the motion picture shown of the process of chess manufacture.

The male quartet then favored the guests with another number after which Marvo Newmark of the Newmark wholesale grocery house of Los Angeles, spoke briefly. The Newmark business was started in

COMPLETE PLANS FOR FLOWER SHOW

The garden section of the Woman's Improvement club is to meet Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Nellie Lewis, at nine o'clock. Members are urged to be prompt as the speaker will arrive at 9:30 and final arrangements are to be made prior to 11 o'clock for the Christmas show to be given at the club house Saturday afternoon in the afternoon.

The high school orchestra will play during the evening hours, an added attraction.

Every one in Corona is cordially invited to exhibit any fall flowers in bloom at this time. While chrysanthemums are to be featured, other flowers are also wanted. All exhibits must be at the club house by 9 a. m. thereby giving the committee time to arrange the exhibits and for the judges to make their awards of ribbons before the opening of the show.

Every exhibitor must mark exhibit and container and call for same when the show is concluded. The garden section is sponsoring this show, but every flower lover and grower in Corona is not only eligible, but urged to exhibit. No admission charge will be made and every one is invited to attend. Any desired information may be obtained by phoning the chairman of the show arrangements, Mrs. A. C. Barnes.

Opponent of Evolution Says Man Is Unchanged After 6,000 Years

"Man is essentially the same today as he was six thousand years ago." So says George L. Thorpe, of this city, who is leading a state-wide movement to force the board of education to ban the evolutionary theory from the public school curriculum.

In his lectures against the theory, Thorpe maintains that man has not evolved upwardly, but some may have degenerated downwardly, and some modern evolutionists say that man did not descend from apes or monkeys, but the monkey or ape descended from man, who descended into the animals.

"The Bible teaches that man fell from his high estate, that he was brought to a low estate, and that he will fall when he came from polytheism and idolatry."

Thorpe declares that the difference between a man and a monkey is so small that they cannot be seen, so small that they cannot be seen with the naked eye, yet it had a whole planet to produce just a few of them so one could evolve into a man, another into a hyena and another into a bird of Paradise.

Laws Inviolable "Strange that the same Platypus sometimes grew into a kangaroo or a man, or a fish, or a rattlesnake, or a bird with wings to fly. True, the primary cells of life are very much alike, yet are different. One will produce an oak, another will produce some form of animal and so on, ever after after its birth."

The AP-View editor has been told that his view of nature is not correct. It is a man in the city, who has been told that he is not a man, but a monkey, and that he will fall when he came from polytheism and idolatry.
