CORONA, CALIFORNIA

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1949.

Morrell, Installed, Asks Every Idea Be Given to C of C

Elvin Downs Officers at Annual Meeting of Directors

Reservations should be made immediately for the annual Corona Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night so that the committee can plan on how many to serve. The limit is 176. Prompt action is requested.

Frank Morrell was installed today as 1949 president of the Corona Chamber of Commerce with Elvin I. Downs as installing official.

"With the fine record that Mr. Morrell has made in 20-30 club work and in community and civic work, I feel we could not have made a better selection," Mr. Downs said.

Harold Donike, who has not missed more than one any meetings of directors in two years in his first vice president and Gobby Robinson, who has a fine record as retail division chairman in the past, is second vice president.

Fred Snedecor is treasurer and Fred Gundlach, Joe Tenney and Lyle Swaney are new directors this year.

Mr. Morrell paid fine tribute to the services of A. M. Root, Jr., as president for the past year.

A special meeting of directors was called for 12 p.m. Monday, Jan. 31, at the Chamber of Commerce office to make plans for the coming year, to outline the work program and to assist President Morrell in naming committee.

KRUC was admitted as a new member of the Chamber of Commerce member on motion of Mr. Gundlach, as reported by Mr. Donike.

The exhibition committee was praised for the work it is doing in preparing the Corona Circle city track exhibit for the Fair and State Exposition to be held in San Francisco later this year.

B. A. Chandler was authorized to attend the state convention of chamber of commerce managers at Sacramento, Feb. 9, 10, 11 and 12.

A delivered petition program was submitted to the governing committee with power to act. Other directors attending included Avery Briggs, George Padgett, Rudy Gundlach, Mr. Root, Jr., and newspaper representative J. C. Hammond.

Mr. Morrell complimented Mr. Root for his fine record as president and for insisting only one directors' meeting. He said the results of the meetings of the past year have been the best ever held.

He emphasized that the board is anxious to have any possible proposal any member has brought before the board for action and discussion so that no ideas would be passed up.

Serving of avocados at the annual banquet was recommended as a permanent institution.

Chandler said that the banquet speaker, Dr. Max Mason, former president of the University of California and also of the Rockefeller foundation, was one of the finest if not the best speaker he had ever heard.

WORLD NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

The Los Angeles city council has ordered that all milk or cream sold in Los Angeles be pasteurized. Some 500 other cities in the nation have similar ordinances. Nearly 98 per cent of milk and cream brought to Los Angeles is already treated. The ordinance will cover about 11,250 gallons of the raw dairy products sold in the city each day.

The roving ambassador for the Marshall Plan, W. Averell Harriman, has returned home, reporting that there is a bright outlook for European recovery. Harriman said in New York today that congress probably will be asked for almost $10 billion dollars for the Marshall Plan next year.

It may be "Princess" Rita Hayworth one of these days.

Rita and her wealthy Indian friend, Al Kahn—have announced they will marry as soon as he is legally free to do so. He added that it could be performed under the Mohammedan religion. All children of the marriage would have to embrace that faith.

Ally said his father, the fabulously rich Aga Kahn, has approved the match. An Indian-Hollywood-Rita's father, Dancing Master Edoardo Cansino, approved.

Clouds of Smudge Here Due Largely to Lack of Wind

Crews Out at 8:30 P.M. and Some Remained After 6:30 A.M.

Smudge crews were called out early at 8:30 p.m. in some locations last night as temperatures dropped to 29 degrees. However, little or no smudge was reported. Growers reported temperatures rose rapidly after 2 a.m. in most districts. Due to lack of wind and over-hanging clouds the smudge pall hung over Corona well into the morning hours.

Ranchers in the Tenessee area can area were still straggling at 8:30 a.m. although within the city most of the crews had put out the fires at that time.

Farmers throughout California, meanwhile, resorted to their smudge pots again last night to save crops as mercury dipped to 22 above. The freeze swept in on the heels of a terrific windstorm that uprooted 200 trees and broke windows in Glendale and damaged scores of electric transformers in the Los Angeles area.

A heavy fall of black smoke was over Los Angeles this morning as growers continued the battle to save their crops. Smudge pot fires were generally held above the predicted minimum of 22 by smudging operations. But the cost to ranchers is mounting so high that even a good market may not prevent a heavy loss this year.

Below normal temperatures are predicted for the rest of the week with showers after Thursday and snow in the mountains.

Mountain regions are under a heavy snow, with Big Bear Lake reporting up to six feet, and Arrowhead five feet of snow. Los Angeles is reported to have a one-half inch of snow.

Stockmen in Utah and Colorado reported that livestock were suffering from the worst winter blizzard of 1885-86 when 85 per cent of the cattle died. All available snow plows and snow clearing roads to feed into the mountain meadows. The Utah legislature appointed committees to investigate the situation and make recommendations.

Low-down Stuff—Leo Sunny, well-known bass fiddler in Michigan night clubs, pulls this stunt every night for an entire number. Sunny's heads-down playing sounds just as sweetly. He merely goes down on his cranium for laughs—and the proper monetary remuneration.

Fred E. Snedecor Has Headed First National 15 Years

This week Fred E. Snedecor, prominent local banker, is celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of his election as president of the First National Bank of Corona. January also marks the 37th anniversary of his association with this pioneer independent bank, having become assistant cashier of the affiliated bank, the Citizens Bank for Savings.

Established in 1905, the First National Bank has shown an outstanding growth under Mr. Snedecor's guidance. When he assumed the presidency, deposits amounted to $200,000, with total resources standing at $949,000. Today, the bank has deposits of over $3,600,000 and total resources of more than 4 million dollars. Combined resources of the First National Bank and the Citizens Bank for Savings, as of December 31, 1948, amounted to $6,175,588.

Recognized as one of the leading independent bankers of California, Mr. Snedecor has been honored with numerous positions important in the banking field. He is a former director of the Los Angeles Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank and has served on various important committees of the American Bankers Association, the California Bankers Association and the Independent Bankers Association of Southern California.

In addition to his banking responsibilities, he has found time to devote himself to local, civic affairs, having served as president of the Corona Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's Association, Community Chest and other organizations.

Tom Borden Is Honored by Citrus Club Traffic Club

The Citrus Belt Traffic Club of Southern California held its annual dinner dance and installation of incoming officers at the Elks Temple in Anaheim Saturday night at which time Tom Borden of Corona retired as president of this new and growing organization.

Archie LaCom, president of the Los Angeles Transportation Club and general agent of the New York Central Railroad for Southern California, was master of ceremonies. After installing the new officers, he presented Mr. Borden on behalf of the club a very handsome tool leather briefcase as a token of the club's esteem for his hard work and fine guidance during the past year.

The Citrus Belt Traffic Club, now in its third year, is quite an important organization from the standpoint of traffic and transportation in this area. Its membership is composed of traffic men from the many railroads having branch offices in Southern California as well as traffic representatives and shippers and trucking concerns in this area. The club meets for dinner the third Monday of each month for purposes of further understanding the problems and needs of the organization.

Selznick Denies He Plans to Sell Out

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Movie Producer David O. Selznick today denied a Warner Brothers studio report that he is selling out.

The 47-year-old fiance of actress Jennifer Jones said his studio has several deals to lend stars to Warners and other studios, but pointed out he has been doing this for years.

The Warner announcement said Selznick, who heads production at RKO and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer before organizing his own studio, "has made us an offer of all his properties." This would include such stars as Miss Jones, Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotton, Shirley Temple, Valli, Louis Jordan and Roosevelt Mitchell, all under contract to Selznick.

New Brick Plant Is Being Started South of Corona

L. P. Liston Planning to Make Common Kind of Caljaco Cutoff

A brick manufacturing plant is being constructed just east of Corona on Highway 71 at the Caljaco Road cut-off to Lake Mathews. The plant, being established here by L. P. Liston, who for ten years operated a brick plant in Torrance.

Liston plans to make common red brick at present, possibly adding other brick products later. They will be handled to the plant for processing. Bunkers have been built and machinery moved in. However, the kilns have not yet been constructed.

Prior to coming to Corona in October, Mr. and Mrs. Liston resided at Redondo Beach while Liston operated his brick plant in Torrance. They now live with their three children, Linda, 11; Keith, 7; Cheryl, 4, at 935 East Sixth street.

National Guard Helps Snowbound Tourists in N. M.

A New Mexico National Guard unit set up field kitchen today to feed 2,600 travelers caught in a snow near the Mexican border.

A new blizzard with gale winds and drifting snow is bearing down on the blizzard-stricken states.

Western Nebraska and Iowa are bracing for the new blizzard which is expected to reach zero on the coast.

Meanwhile, a heavy sleet storm has struck Oklahoma and moved on clearing roads to the west as far as Wisconsin.

While sections of the West were hit by a blizzard, a blizzard whistled into the Dakotas from Canada, parts of Southern California was ravaged by a crop-killing freeze and freezing rain fell in the middle Mississippi valley.

Acting Gov. Joseph Montoya mobilized the Loringburg, N. M. unit of the National Guard last night to feed motorists trapped in the city and on roads where more than a foot of snow surprised the resort area.

The church was opened and the pews shoved aside to make room for coats to care for travelers. About 1,000 persons were housed in the church and in two or three large halls. Another thousand were lodged in six other houses and churches.

The National Guard sent squads searching along roadways for others and the Red Cross organized a city center for persons trying to locate relatives.

A Southern Pacific rescue train ploughed through drifts to reach about 200 motorists stranded along the route in their cars yesterday. The night before, two other rescue trains saved 300 stranded along U. S. Highway 70.

Snow and High Weather
 The fourth blizzard in three weeks plunged temperatures far below zero in the Dakotas. Fresh snow about 12 inches engulfed large sections of Wyoming. All roads out of Rawlins, Wyo., were blocked.

A motorist telephoned authorities to tell them he broke into a filling station to keep his family from freezing when his car stalled during a blizzard near New Dana, Wyo.

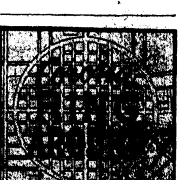

The storm that struck New Mexico stretched eastward as far as Memphis, Tenn., where precipitation fell in the form of a freezing drizzle. Snow fell at Wichita Falls, Midland and Fort Worth in Texas.

Snow was reported at San Antonio and highway crews sand movements rendered "extremely dangerous" by freezing rain north and west of Austin.

A warning of slick highways in southeastern Missouri was issued by the Kansas City weather bureau.

The storm in the southwest and the bad weather in the Dakotas were moving in directions which indicated that they might converge somewhere east of the Mississippi. Forecasters warned of heavy weather trouble, "if that happened."

Senate Overwhelmingly Confirms Dean Acheson as New Secretary of State

Tomorrow's Headlines Today

By UNITED PRESS

The Senate has overwhelmingly confirmed Dean Acheson as Secretary of State—but only after Republicans said they were not "underwriting" President Truman's foreign policy.

Acheson will replace Ailing General George Marshall as Mr. Truman's number one cabinet officer Thursday—Inauguration Day.

Republican Leader Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska and five other Republicans voted against confirmation. There were 83 votes in favor of confirming the Acheson nomination.

Vandenberg said Republican votes for Acheson would not mean the GOP was ready—in his words—"to underwrite the results in terms of foreign policy." But he said cabinet appointments are largely the personal choices of the President and should be confirmed unless there is good evidence against the nominee.

Wherry of Nebraska and five other Republicans voted against confirmation. There were 83 votes in favor of confirming the Acheson nomination.

REAPPORTIONMENT BILL OK'D

Congressional District Move Feared in S.G.

Despite a tenacious filibuster the state assembly passed the first big reapportionment bill late Tuesday that has a direct bearing on the assembly and congressional district in which South Gate is located.

The assembly districts were passed upon as recommended, according to Associated Press dispatches. The congressional districts will be taken up today.

BULLETIN

The state assembly repudiated the North today in a bitter fight to take away one of California's seven new Congressional seats from Southern California.

The vote was 40 to 29 against a demand to carve out a new district in the heart of the Sacramento Valley.

Local Democrats were feverishly contesting the action of the Legislature Tuesday in as much as Nathan Benson, president of the South Gate Democratic Club, was fearful that South Gate would find itself dissected into three assembly districts. He said Wednesday night that it was the plan to put Hollywood in one of the new created assembly areas and then divide the rest of the city into two districts with one being attached to the one including Watts and Huntington Park and the other including that area of Bell and adjacent county territory.

This division has not been publicly announced, yet, although Benson was emphatic in his contention that this was being planned.

BREVITIES

ATHENS, Greece, March 28.—(AP)—A top American nuclear physicist expressed strong doubts today about Argentina's claim that her scientists discovered important new atomic secrets.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—President Truman declared today that things like "demagogical quarrels" ought to be forgotten "in this time of crisis."

The president spoke to a group of editors representing the Associated Church Press who gathered in the Rose Garden at the White House in a light springing rain.

MIAMI, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—Two coast guard planes and the cutter Ariadne, searched the gulf area around dry Tortugas today for the 43-foot schooner Tropicair and its all-gilt crew. The sailing craft last was sighted Monday afternoon about 15 miles due north of Rebecca Shoals.

BENSON, Ariz., March 28.—(AP)—Wind driven dust which brought poor visibility has stalled the search for a four-place airplane believed to have crashed in the Dragon mountain area of Southeastern Arizona.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—President Truman will hold a news conference at 4 p.m. EST, tomorrow.

Vishinsky Said Ill

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, March 28.—(AP)—The newspaper Nieuwe Rotterdamse reported today that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky is seriously ill of pneumonia.

SHIP CAPTAINS HELD AT FAULT

Ship Captains Held at Fault

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(AP)—Captains of both hospital ship Benevolence and the freighter Mary Luckenbach were "considered at fault" for the collision of the two vessels off the Golden Gate last August 25, in coast guard findings released today.

Twenty-three persons lost their lives in the disaster which occurred in a dense fog. The Benevolence sank in shallow water. The findings said both captain Smith and Capt. Barton D. Bacon Jr., of the navy hospital ship, were at fault for allowing their ships to proceed at excessive speed in the thick fog. The coast guard is without jurisdiction to take any action against Captain Bacon.

Safety Checks Planned

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—(AP)—A series of one-day traffic safety clinics is planned throughout California in an attempt to halt the current upswing in accidents. State safety experts will work with local organizations in conducting the clinics.

Fonstana, first sighted the body. He is Robert W. Guinn, 23, of Arlington, formerly employed by the Metropolitan Water District, which laid lines through the area.

"I got to thinking about it last night," he told a reporter. "I thought over all the places where a body might be hidden, off the old Cajon road. Then I remembered this old rock quarry. If the murderer was in a hurry, and if he used the Cajon road, the quarry was the only place to hide the body in a hurry."

FOUND BODY

"Early this morning I decided to look for myself. It was only a few minutes after I started searching that I saw her body lying there. I didn't stay to look any more. I ran out on the road and flagged down the first car I saw."
Walker was in the party Guinn led to the body. Deputies had taken him from jail earlier to look over the territory where Mrs. Cook had vanished.

CURTAILED

GM Ends Extra Tire Policy with New Cars

It was officially announced Wednesday morning through General Motors channels that on and after April 1 all new cars will be delivered without the extra tire.
Jack Taylor, Otisville dealer, said he had received such notification. Other car manufacturers are expected to follow the General Motors policy.
The curtailment, it is believed, is in keeping with the government's recent announcement that a further 2 per cent reduction in passenger car tires would be made.

Judges Sought

South Gate is the eighth largest city in Los Angeles county, and the board of supervisors has seen fit to recommend two and three judges for other courts surrounding South Gate, they pointed out.
The council has urgently appealed to civic club leaders and all interested citizens to intercede with the state legislators against the injustice that has been accorded the city in lieu of the board of supervisors' suggestion.

Letters from the council have been mailed to Jack R. Tenney, Charles Chapel, Joseph Hollins, Hugh Charles V. Porter, Ernest R. Gibbs and Herbert R. Kloofke, all protesting the one-judge recommendation.
The attention of the four state officials was called to the fact that South Gate is the largest city in the Southeast District and is free from any bonded indebtedness. Likewise attention was directed to the court and other civic accommodations that South Gate has that are comparable to those afforded by other California cities of comparable size.

The city officials urgently request that all people who are interested in this paramount issue to write to the above state legislators and demand that they bring about a change to give the city another court judge. Time is the essence in this request and citizens and civic leaders are asked not to delay in getting their letters or telegrams to the six officials.

Lywood Youth, Boy Held for Petty Theft

An 18-year-old Lywood boy and his juvenile partner, 14, were in custody of the South Gate police today on a petty theft charge after they allegedly swiped a hub cap from a car here last night.
Edward Matthews of 11308 Virginia avenue and his companion were arrested after the theft at Southern Place and Atlantic, police said.
Oscar Parada, 2010 South Main street, Los Angeles, reported the theft.

SGJHS TO SEE SHOW

MONTIE MONTANA, leading American trick rider and roper, and well-known rodeo rider who got his start right here in South Gate, stars with his educated horse, Rex, in a miniature western show at 11:15 a.m. Thursday at the South Gate Junior High school, 8926 San Vicente avenue. The western show is sponsored by a bakery corporation and plays without charge before 200,000 school children.

KNIGHT TO HOLD REINS AS WARREN VIEWS CORONATION

"Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight is slated to take over the reins of state governor for two weeks on May 24," comments the San Francisco Call Bulletin.

"It will be nothing new to Knight to be stepping into Warren's shoes. He has done it 55 times before during his six years as No. 2 man in California government."

"But the job this time will be a little different. With one exception, previous tours of acting governor have been strictly routine."

"The difference this time lies in the fact the Legislature is scheduled to wait up its current session about June 10."

"In 1948, Warren was touring the nation as Republican candidate for Vice President. During one of his campaign jaunts, serious violence broke out in a strike of CIO oil workers in Contra Costa County."

Crown Chapter Honors Deputy Grand Matron at Reception Monday

Mrs. Esther Runhua of Riverside, deputy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, made her official visit to Crown Chapter of Corona at the Monday evening meeting in the Masonic Temple.

"Harmony," the theme of the meeting, was carried out in gold and green colors and musical symbols.

Worthy Matron Grace Bynum and Clarence Koch, who served as escort, in the absence of Roscoe Sowell, conducted the meeting and presented the paraphernalia for chapter use, which was unveiled from a floral jar in the east.

Officers wore Easter boutonnies of gold and green, which formed the guests' initials for the presentation of a gift to Mrs. Runhua. During the presentation, Susie Hinkins sang an original composition with Amelia Stevens accompanying on the piano.

A profusion of jonquils, snapdragons and pansies were used to decorate the banquet room for the reception after the meeting. Place cards were large musical notes inscribed with the names of the guests. In charge of arrangements for the meeting were Bertha Baer, Alma Meierding, Lucille Rosseter and Anne Stephenson.

CORONA DOCTOR AND FAMILY BASK IN SUN

OFF-DUTY—Dr. and Mrs. William B. Wenner, 1214 Lemon Ave., Corona, with Julie and Billy, relax on the lawn in front of the entrance to Camelback Inn in Phoenix. They are making their spring vacation at the famous resort a family affair and enjoying the many social activities together. Dr. Wenner enjoys golf at the new Paradise Valley Country Club and the family meets after his morning games on the adjacent course for luncheon together from the poolside buffet.

HEALTHFUL LIVING IS TOPIC OF TALK HEARD BY N. B. P. W.

Frank Gibson, consultant on health, physical education and recreation in the Riverside County Schools, spoke at the N.B.P.W. club meeting last evening on "Health is Wealth." He told of the need today for training for recreation and gave his listeners practical suggestions which would improve their living. He showed two films—"Shy Guy" and "Taro, the Indian."

La. Donna Gomer, the girl of the Month, told of the many interesting activities in the Senior High school during the past week.

Bessie Hough and Norma Hall were elected as delegates to the Southern District annual meeting at Coronado May 1 and 2. Many others are planning to attend.

Norma Crane, Inez Plate and Zella Anderson, members of the health and safety committee, were in charge of this enjoyable meeting.

LOCALS

JAMES LINDSLEY of Corona underwent minor surgery at the Community hospital in Riverside yesterday. This operation revealed that further and more extensive surgery is required and Mr. Lindsley will be operated upon again tomorrow morning.

SIXTY YEARS AGO Mayor Charles R. Miller pedaled his bicycle to Arlington to attend the laying of the cornerstone of Sherman Institute. This afternoon, he was a guest at a special ceremony, "Sherman Day," which marked the 60th anniversary of the event.

A. K. WHIDDEN joined 42 other members of the Sierra club Sunday for a trip to Old mountain, a part of the San Bernardino range. The group hiked to the top of Luna Peak, which is 5,080 feet high.

MR. AND MRS. HUBERT BYNUM and daughter, Barbara, are spending their Easter vacation this week in Palm Springs.

THE YOUTH ADULTS of the First Methodist church will sing at 7:30 o'clock in the parsonage for a "coke" party, reports Miss Elaine King, who, with Curtis Sherman, is in charge of the event. Rev. and Mrs. Roy Tucker are hosts.

MISS MARY JOAN STORM and Miss Annette Orland, students at Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles, will spend their Easter vacation visiting their parents in Corona. Miss Storm is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storm, 212 East Olive street. Miss Orland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Orland, 928 West Seventh street in Norco.

MISS ROBERTA ROY, who is majoring in music at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, is here to spend Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Roy, 1042 West Fifth street.

LINDA EASTWOOD, 7 of 677 Via Bernardo, Corona, and Judy Henderson, 7, of Norco Route 1, underwent minor surgery at the Corona hospital this morning.

CHP OFFICER TALKS ON SAFE DRIVING AT OPTIMIST CLUB MEET

"Five per cent of the persons who drive automobiles are definitely misfits and are out to cause trouble." This statement was made by Jim Lanthorn of the California Highway Patrol, who spoke at last night's meeting of the Optimist club in the Chandler hotel.

The speaker stated that the "officer centers" actually belong in and are a part of the criminal driver class. This small number of drivers is not actually involved in accidents themselves, the speaker said. However, their driving habits are largely responsible for many accidents which result from unsafe driving.

Mr. Lanthorn showed a movie prepared by the CHP, which shows how various types of drivers operate their cars. The film titled "A Day in Court," showed many accidents which resulted from unsafe driving.

President Harold Hall conducted the meeting and Ward Smith was in charge of the program.

Jack Burns, president-elect, met with the board of governors after the meeting and more extensive surgery is required and Mr. Lindsley will be operated upon again tomorrow morning.

MISS PAT OLSON IS CHAIRMAN OF EASTER SERVICE IN DENVER

Miss Pat Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Olson, 312 Lincoln street, is chairman for the Easter Sunrise service sponsored by the University of Denver where she is a junior majoring in chemistry.

Miss Olson takes a prominent part in activities on the campus of Denver University. She is the president of Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary scholastic society and recently was initiated into the Iota Sigma Pi, national honorary chemistry fraternity.

Besides her many school activities, Pat works part time as a chemist for the Denver Research Institute and is an assistant to Dr. Cohen in the engineering department of the university. Pat also worked at the Corona Naval Ordnance laboratories during her vacation last summer.

Pat has just returned to Denver.

PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP PLANS DINNER FRIDAY

At a meeting last Sunday evening, the Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational church decided to hold a dinner Friday evening at the Victoria avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Chandler.

Certain jobs were delegated to each member with Dick Veboen in charge. The supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. and each member may bring a guest.

The Rev. Stanley Graf asked the group to present at the Maundy Service as there will be many new members joining. Over 500 people are expected to meet at the Congregational church so they will be ready to go at 5 a.m. to go to the Coronado Hospital for the Easter sunrise service. The youth group of various churches are invited to return to the church for breakfast. The fathers will serve the breakfast.

After the breakfast, Beverly and the discussion which was titled, "Oh Come Let Us Worship," Webster Chandler, vice president, closed the meeting as the president, Dick Downs, is out of town.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral offerings were especially appreciated.

A Serious Matter Everyone Should Consider

By Dr. T. R. Mahaffey, D. C.

There is a place for each legally recognized healing science. Each should be a part of your health program. This point must be emphasized as every day one reads of deaths that may have been prevented had Chiropactic been used. Chiropactic has grown steadily the past 50 years, because, primarily, Chiropactic methods obtain satisfactory results where other methods failed.

Also the cases that came to the Chiropactor were the most difficult and considered Chiropactic only as a last resort.

A few years ago Health Freedom News came out with a motto that should be considered seriously. It is: "It is not true to say, 'We did everything possible for you' unless Chiropactic was included."

Thoughtful people by the millions are turning to Chiropactic on the recommendations of friends who have discovered quick, lasting relief. Many of the people had never heard of this healing science; most thought that Chiropactors specialized only in correcting painful back injuries, whereas every type of disease is treated but through new, different methods.

Marjorie Bright Sharpe Featured at Woman's Club Reciprocity Tea

Reciprocity Day, an exciting program and the report of the nominating committee combined to make an unusually fine meeting for the Woman's Improvement club yesterday afternoon. Added to these was the announcement of the forthcoming supper dance that will be the last social event of the club year.

Club members from the surrounding area who were represented among the visitors were Alvord Woman's club, Norco Woman's Progressive club, Glen Avon Woman's club and Glen Avon Junior Woman's club. Mrs. Alexander Rowell, the president of Riverside County Federation, also presided. The visiting and a large group of members heard Marjorie Bright Sharpe give a capsule description of seven books which she said were a must for every woman to read, and a 30-minute review of the best seller, "Not As A Stranger," by Morton Thompson.

Mrs. Sharpe, who is woman's editor and commentator for radio station KTKO, carried her audience with her through the 300-page novel, which has been called the most brilliant novel ever written on an American medicine. Mrs. Sharpe, who showed an astounding command of the English language, spoke with an easy flow of words which brought the story to life for her audience. The seven books which she urged the club women to read were: "Bless This House," "Sayonara," "The Death of Kings," "The Lady of Arlington," "The Rainbow on the Road" and "The Conquest of Everest."

Mrs. John C. Brown, president, presided over the program and presented Mrs. E. F. Clark, who gave an inspirational thought, a description of the Church of the Transfiguration in Jackson Hole, relating the setting it is in, in the Valley looking up to the majestic Grand Tetons, to the admonition to "stop, think and pray."

Mrs. Ernest Knauer read the report of the nominating committee which gave the following as nominees for club officers for 1954-55: For president, Mrs. Robert N. Annis; first vice-president, Mrs. Glenn J. Griswold; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank Morrell; recording secretary, Mrs. Glenn Christensen; corresponding secretary, Miss Bertha E. Foster; treasurer, Mrs. Ray T. Williams; parliamentarian, Mrs. Flora Mueller; directors, Mrs. Walter Clayson and Mrs. E. L. Tison; and County Federation director, Mrs. Edwin F. Bryant. Nominations remain open until the next regular club meeting when officers will be elected. Serving with Mrs. Knauer on the committee were Mrs. Mmes. Robert M. Hendrickson, Quinn Jones, Glenn C. Dudley and Frank Ranney.

Mrs. R. N. Annis, County Federation director, reported on a meeting of Riverside County Federation which was held recently in Norco and also announced dates for the annual county meeting to be held in Norco April 23, 24 and 25. Club members who wish to attend either of these meetings were asked to notify Mrs. Annis. Another date announced was for Reciprocity Day at the Alvord Woman's club, May 7, and Mrs. H. L. Rogers, corresponding secretary.

V.F.W. AUXILIARY ASSISTS IN LOCAL EASTER SEAL DRIVE

Mrs. Helen Francis, president, conducted the Monday evening meeting of Corona-Norco Auxiliary 2080, Veterans' of Foreign Wars, in the VFW hall at First and Hammer streets.

Mrs. Agnes Reese and Mrs. Francis reported that they had placed 100 Easter Seal coin containers in business establishments throughout the city of Corona. The project of placing the coin containers was adopted by the ladies auxiliary units of the VFW Department of California.

Plans were completed for a joint installation meeting with Post 2080, which will be held Monday, April 26. This is an open meeting and the public is invited to attend.

COUNTY APPROVES QUARRY AT NORCO
The county supervisors said today they have approved a zoning ordinance establishing a quarry at Norco.

The applicant for the permit was Kingston Rock and Gravel Co. of Long Beach. The quarry will be southeast of the main part of Norco. It will be about half a mile east of the east end of Third street.

The County Planning Commission held a public hearing on the application and advised the supervisors to grant the permit.

No Dump Ground In Temescal, Says Council

Request Refused, Copy of Resolution To Be Sent

Thumbs were turned down—officially—last night by the City Council in answer to the request for a private dumping ground in Temescal Canyon. The request was made for a refuse to be dumped on a road, on the property of Lois-Mar Harlow. The dump would have served metropolitan cities on the coast, with Long Beach one of the cities being named at a hearing of the County Planning Commission June 28.

One of the objections to the dump previously aired was that hazardous trucks would pass through Corona, making traffic conditions garabaz and detracting from the town's natural beauty.

A. K. Whitten moved that the City Council be "absolutely opposed" to the measure, on the authority of Herbert Garon, the Council further agreed to use the City's own Corona dumping ground east of Corona. The County Board of Supervisors yesterday agreed to pay $200 per month for use of the dump for residents in the unincorporated area, instead of the $100 formerly paid. The fiscal year ends July 1, 1956.

Former 50-Foot Lots for Building

In other council action, members unanimously agreed to adopt a recommendation from the Planning Commission making lots with 50-foot frontages eligible for building permits providing the lots were subdivided before the present zoning ordinance became effective. The question was on the lots on the east end of "E" St. Karl Erickson moved to accept the recommendation on the lots on "E" St. Erickson said he intended to serve the prospective residents.

The public hearing to test reaction to changing the present zoning ordinance will be set at a later date. Fifty-foot lots, if divided before the present zoning ordinance went into effect, would then be legal size to qualify for building permits.

The Council gave the nod to a request, also made by Mr. Piffner, to increase salaries of Plunge workers to make them equal with those salaries paid by the school board in morning Plunge operation.

This will make a 15-cent-an-hour increase for six employees, not including Hollis Westfall or Steve Spangh.

The hundred dollars per month was approved for William Albee, operator of the Corona dump. The monthly fee will be paid to the county by Riverside County to the City of Corona for use of the dump.

Records of survey as approved by the planning commission and requests of Aaron Banks, and Alfred Murga were approved by the Council.

CORONA FINISHES BASIC TRAINING

John Ragsdale

Pvt. John E. Ragsdale has finished his basic training at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas. "Skeets," as he is known here, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ragsdale, 927 West Seventh.

Letters from friends would be welcome. Skeets address is—Pvt. John E. Ragsdale, U. S. 56280643, "Bluff," B' 542nd A.F.A.B.N., Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

Mr. Emerson said the rise could be attributed to the general increase in business and activity in Corona and the neighborhood area. Seven new subdivisions are being built in the Corona area at present.

DECISION EXPECTED SOON IN ZIDBECK CASE HERE TODAY

The jury was expected to return a verdict shortly after noon today in two complaints of battery filed by Mrs. Lily E. Zidbeck, 917 Quarry street.

The first complaint is filed against David Edward Aguayo, 909 Quarry street. The complaints were filed June 13. The alleged action was supposed to have occurred June 11.

Other complaints which arise out of the same altercation were filed by David Aguayo against Lily E. Zidbeck for disturbing the peace, and against Amos Worsham for assault. Jack Campbell was arrested for intoxication on a county order. All pleaded guilty. Mrs. Zidbeck and Worsham were each fined $50. Campbell was fined $25. Deputy District Attorney Le Moyne Badger is attorney for the prosecution. Aguayo is pleading his own case.

Mrs. Zidbeck and Worsham were arraigned June 15 and Campbell June 13.

Physicians Advise Phone Numbers Where They May Be Reached

Once again the physicians of Riverside County are advertising telephone numbers, area by area, where a medical doctor may be reached in an emergency at any hour of the day or night.

In a county as large as Riverside it was not an easy task to organize this service. Consequently, our local men of medicine deserve praise for their cooperation.

The local emergency telephone number is 1717.

But, as our own personal physician has pointed out, it is much wiser to have your own doctor before an emergency arises.

FATAL TEENAGE CRACKUP

SAN FERNANDO (AP)—A car loaded with teenagers traveling at a high rate of speed crashed into a palm tree in San Fernando killing one 13-year-old and injuring five others.

All-Day Parking on City Lots OK'd by Council

Charge of 25 Cents a Day on Metered Basis Approved

On a recommendation from the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council last night unanimously to use three off-street parking lots for all-day parking. The cost of parking all day would be 25 cents. The lots identified best lots were at the corner of Washburn Ave. and Seventh St., at the corner of Fifth St. and Washburn Ave., and at the corner of Seventh St. and Ramona Ave. This action was taken on a motion by Councilman Herbert Garon.

New parking meters will be installed. Discussion of removing the cost of parking all day would be 25 cents. The lots identified best lots were at the corner of Washburn Ave. and Seventh St., at the corner of Fifth St. and Washburn Ave., and at the corner of Seventh St. and Ramona Ave. This action was taken on a motion by Councilman Herbert Garon.

Long Beach Man Killed in Crash West of City

A spectacular crash in the Santa Ana Canyon this morning took the life of one driver and completely demolished his car.

The CHP in Orange county this afternoon said that the victim has been identified as Otis Stanley Johnson, 38, of 5825 Gossamer, Long Beach.

The vehicle, a 1955 Chevrolet Bel Air, was registered to the driver.

The dead man was pinned in the auto which had crossed the center dividing line of the freeway, plunged off the highway on the east side and into the side of a mountain, according to witnesses.

Details of the accident were told by Daniel Johnson, 918 East Grand Blvd., Corona, who shortly before 8 o'clock was on his way to work in Los Angeles. Johnson said he was driving a 1955 Chevrolet when he passed one car and ran into the rear of his auto then veered to the right and passed other cars before lunging across the highway and over the bank.

The car was damaged by the impact but could still be driven. The accident occurred just west of the Riverside-Orange County line.

Officer Jim Bergman of the Orange County California Highway Patrol investigated. Assistant at the scene was Officer Killingsworth of Riverside County, son of a veteran highway patrolman. The crash investigation marked young Killingsworth's first anniversary with the CHP.

Former Houseboy, 34, Admits Stabbing Rich Socialite in Bel Air

By UNITED PRESS

John R. Crooker, 34, has confessed to police a broken romance with 33-year-old socialite Norma McCauley prompted him to stab her five times and then strangle her with a pearl-encrusted stiletto.

Detectives report the former house boy of the socially prominent Bel Air resident broke down under a marathon questioning early today and admitted the crime.

Meanwhile, across the country in Bucksport, Maine, Crooker's mother refused to believe her son confessed slaying the wealthy Southern California divorcee.

Says Mrs. John R. Crooker, "It's hard to believe—I wouldn't believe it even if he said it himself."

Mrs. Crooker said her son visited her only a few days ago that he was coming to Maine. He last lived here, home three years ago.

Mrs. Crooker confirmed that her son worked for Mrs. McCauley as a houseboy while attending the University of California.

Crooker was described by his mother as a brilliant student.

Postal Receipts in Corona Gain 12% This Year

Postal receipts in Corona for the first six months of last year, according to a report from postmaster Frank Emerson.

Total receipts for January through June this year reached $67,303.51. Last year's January through June receipts reached $59,968.52, Mr. Emerson said.

Mr. Emerson said the rise could be attributed to the general increase in business and activity in Corona and the neighborhood area. Seven new subdivisions are being built in the Corona area at present.

Joseph Gonzales Mass Scheduled for Saturday

Mrs. Josepha F. Gonzales, 62, 130 S. Buena Vista street, died at the Corona hospital last night. She was born March 13, 1893 in Mexico. She had lived in the Corona area since 1916. She had been employed at the James packing house.

Mrs. Gonzales was a member of St. Edward's Catholic church and the Supreme Forest Woodman's Circle.

She is survived by her widower, Casimiro Gonzales and daughter, Lupe, at home; by a son Jesus, at North Buena Vista street, and by two sisters, Angelena Figueroa of Mexico City, and Maria Basco of Gary, Ind.

Rosary will be held Friday at 8 p.m., in the chapel of the Brown and Grimes Funeral Home. Mass will be celebrated Saturday at 9 a.m., in St. Edward's Catholic church with Rev. Monsignor Mathew Thompson officiating. Interment will follow at the Sunnyvale cemetery. Friends may call after 3 p.m., Thursday.

COUNCIL DENIES PERMIT FOR RELIGIOUS GROUP BROADCAST ON STREETS

A protest banning religious groups from using street loudspeaker advertising was in a letter filed with the City Council last night by City Manager Ralph Piffner.

The letter was from the Rev. Carl White of the Four Square Church in Corona. He said he had been to the City Manager's office to request permission to use a loudspeaker to advertise church sermons as he drove through Corona. What right, he asked in the letter, did the Council have to prohibit a servant of God from advertising in any way he wished?

"Please let me know," he said, "what right you have to stop God's program?"

Then he asked, "Doesn't Corona need God?" He replied vehemently "by himself," "Yes, I sure does!"

The City Council said the law still stands. It was the feeling of board members that no exceptions should be made.

CORONA SON SAVES MAN FROM DROWNING AT BEACH

Donald Crossley, 24, son of Mrs. Evelyn McNutt, clerk of the Corona, and a graduate of Corona High School, Class of '49, saved a man from drowning at Huntington Beach last weekend. But Crossley, his mother disclosed today, didn't stay around to be acclaimed a hero and doesn't even know the name of the man he pulled from the water.

The near-drowning occurred when the unidentified man and a woman companion were caught in a rip tide. Crossley brought in the man and someone else through when they were swept out into deep water and couldn't get back to the beach.

Incidentally, John C. Rossley, brother of Donald, is in Lima Peru, for the summer. Mrs. Crossley said. John is a junior at Stanford University.

George Richtmyer Injured in Auto Accident Thursday

Lt. George Richtmyer, about 40, of Garden Grove, is in the Corona Naval hospital recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident Thursday, June 30.

He received a compound fracture of his right leg just below the knee, plus multiple abrasions. His car went out of control in a construction area on the Santa Ana Canyon highway about 10 p.m. Thursday. The car skidded and went into an embankment.

Lt. Richtmyer was pinned under his car when it rolled over, according to Commander Lester Boston, administrative and communications officer at the hospital.

The incident was taken first to a Santa Ana hospital, and then taken to the Naval Hospital early the next morning. He is not discovered pinned under his car until several hours later, according to Commander Boston said.

Lt. Richtmyer has been at the Naval Hospital for about a year and a half working as a special services officer in charge of welfare and recreation personnel.

MERCURY DROPS WITH GROUND FOG IN L.A.; STILL MILD HERE

A wave of ground fog swept in to the Los Angeles basin this morning and made the mercury reverse its field. The temperature retreated 4 degrees between 7 and 8 p.m. AIR pollution control officials said the mercury fell from a high of 81 degrees to 77 degrees and the temperature at noon was 81 degrees.

Slightly warmer afternoons are forecast except near the coast. In the interior and desert regions temperatures up to 102 in the upper valley and 100 in the lower valley are expected. Cloudy skies and a high of 87 is the forecast for Newport and Balboa.

COUPLE ACCUSED OF MURDER OF MAN, 50, IN APARTMENT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fifty-year-old Clarence W. Stanley and his 44-year-old wife Virginia have been booked on suspicion of murder after a 50-year-old man died in their apartment.

Detectives say they believe Clae Riley was fatally struck when he attempted to break up a quarrel between the Stanleys.

However, doctors say there was no evidence of violence on Riley's body except for a cut lip.

Mrs. Stanley was taken to county general hospital with a fractured skull. Stanley is quoted as telling police, "I just walked over to shake hands with him and the first thing I knew he keeled over."

UPPER COLORADO STATES SAY CALIFORNIA IS WASTING 1,500,000 ACRES FEET WATER YEARLY

The Upper Colorado river states, incorporated, has charged that Southern California water users are wasting more than one and a half million acre feet of Colorado river water each year. Tom Bolack, of Farmington, N. M., chairman of the organization, says this amount is almost as much water as is now being used in the entire Upper Colorado river basin.

The House Interior committee is expected to file its report today on the $600,000,000 Upper Colorado water storage project. The committee, apparently striving for a vote on the controversial authorization bill this month, whipped the 25-page report into shape during the Fourth of July weekend.

Kaiser Steel Co. Workers To Get Wage Increases

Two million dollars in wage increases were added to local annual pay checks at Kaiser Steel Company in Fontana when company and union officials today announced their agreement to follow the average 15-cent-an-hour increase negotiated last week by eastern steel companies and the United Steel Workers of America, CIO.

Officials said the increase was made effective as of July 1, in accordance with a previous agreement, but that it would take two or three weeks to negotiate details. At that time all pay checks will be made retroactive to July 1 with regard to the increase. It was estimated that the majority of employees would receive increases amounting to between $250 and $400 a year.

The contract between the union and Kaiser Steel normally does not come up for negotiation until August. A threatened strike in the steel industry in the East was forestalled recently when an agreement was reached.

10,000 TO BE DRAFTED INTO ARMY IN SEPT.

Defense Department has announced that 10,000 men are to be drafted into the army in September. The quota has remained steady at 10,000 since April. In all, more than 1,939,000 men have been drafted since the Korean war started.

LIKE WILLING TO CANCEL DIXON-YATES DEAL IF CITY OF MEMPHIS BUILDS POWER PLANT

President Eisenhower says he will be willing to call off the controversial Dixon-Yates contract if the city of Memphis, Tennessee, is able to build a power plant of its own. Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that administration officials now are studying the possible legal involvements of the Memphis plan before making a final decision. He said he does not expect a decision for about two weeks.

ITALY INSTALLS NEW PRO-WESTERN GOVERNMENT

Italy has a new pro-Western government pledged to mild reforms at home and the Western alliance abroad.

President Gronchi is scheduled to swear in the cabinet of Christian Democratic Premier Antonio Segni later today. However, one other important formality faces the new three-party coalition—approval by parliament next week.

As approved by the president today, the new cabinet has all but one of the four parties in the coalition that fell two weeks ago. The small Republican group refused to accept cabinet posts, but has agreed to give its badly-needed votes to Segni in parliament.

DROWNED AT LA JOLLA

LA JOLLA (AP)—A San Diego man—33-year-old Benjamin Smith—was drowned Monday while swimming in an area just south of Scripps pier. He had been swimming in an area called "dangerous" by lifeguards. Lifeguards and a Coast Guard helicopter have not located the body.

The decision by the City Council to turn "thumbs down" on Miss Harlow's business proposal...

The idea for a cut and cover garbage arrangement with outlying districts on an appropriate piece of her 640 acres was extended...

On Decoration Day, Miss Harlow and Mrs. Ruby Clark contacted him in his home...

It is appropriate at this point in the story to explain that cut and cover garbage disposal...

Miss Harlow and Mrs. Clark attended the Planning Commission meeting at which the application for the cut and cover business was presented...

Except for P. J. Weisel, Jerry L. Fontaine, and Mr. Beisel, all were in agreement that the matter should be further investigated before a final decision should be made...

1. How would the city sewage disposal located adjacent to Temescal Creek and above the water wells serve the Corona area?

2. What about the dirty garbage and trash dumps scattered through out areas where permits do not exist, namely one on the Weisel property directly on the Temescal Creek, and others in the district located in ravines which are out-lets into Temescal Creek?

3. What about the trucks which transport garbage to the hog farm above water wells that supply Corona's water and feasibility for a cut and cover business in the Temescal Canyons?

4. What about the Sherman hog ranch in Peris?

THINKING OUT LOUD

COUNTY SHOULD BAN OUTSIDE-COUNTY GARBAGE; DISPOSAL OF WITHIN COUNTY TRASH IS A PROBLEM

In our opinion, garbage from outside Riverside county should not be dumped in this county.

Are the rock formations in Temescal canyon such that cut-and-fill garbage disposal is adequate?

Riverside county and the City of Corona have had plenty of dump problems within the county.

We believe entirely with Chairman William E. Jones of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors that the only garbage from outside of the county that should be permitted is where the garbage is immediately dumped into cooking facilities so that it is at least partly purified.

The faults reported in the Riverside county land formation, with cut-and-fill is such that pollution, in our opinion, is possible and probable.

We like to have our columns open to opinions from both sides—but not to take quotations except from persons directly interested.

We believe that citizens of Corona, Temescal canyon and water companies that have invested hundreds of thousands if not millions of dollars in this area should have first consideration in a program of private profit and public utility.

Do you think progress and new homes follow the trail of garbage wagons from metropolitan centers?

Why not dump the garbage 40 or 50 miles out in the ocean? The effect would be less than to dump it in the city—or is it necessary also that the ocean be not contaminated with garbage and filth?

In an allegation that the Daily Independent did not check the water pollution charge, let us quote John W. Bryant, chief engineer, Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District who gave us information over his signature June 24, 1955, as follows: (and we quote)

"The runoff from the lands in this area is high. The area drains into Temescal Canyon which serves as a recharge area for the Temescal Groundwater Basin. I am, therefore, very concerned as to the possibility of a garbage dump, located in this area, being a source of pollution to the water supply in the Temescal Basin."

"It is my recommendation that this application be denied. "Very truly yours, JOHN W. BRYANT, CHIEF ENGINEER."

Should we first contact the local newspaper or our elected county officials? Shall the decision for the permit lie in the hands of the Planning Commission, Board of Supervisors and Health Department, or does the matter rest with the city?

The newspaper reports that the new paper management was not present at the Planning Commission meeting, the newspaper had a representative at the City Planning Commission did not bother to obtain facts from Miss Harlow, nor check those given to him enough to cover that no representative from any official public service has investigated the property enough to merit such a prompt "hands down" from the City Council.

Corona is criminal is not condoned and without ample expression of evidence for and against him, we should not be so important in the interests that all first district residents have in the democratic action of the city and the business processes are responsible for the newspaper's report.

Should such an investigation reveal that powerful monopolies of pollution attitude and prejudice judgment by the City Council, then it is high time that a permanent commission be formed to the people to prevent such book-winking of the whole truth in matters that prove even more harmful.

Mr. Griffin says, "The news columns belong to the public. When a reader reads a news story he has a right to expect that it be a straightforward presentation of facts about a newsworthy occurrence and which reflects my feelings behind why I believe Miss Harlow's story should be familiar to the reading public."

Let us hope that public opinion will be more lenient now on Miss Harlow's behalf and insist that she be given the fair consideration that she has not experienced thus far. A pleasure-trip by automobile up Lake Mathews Road would supply some first-hand information as to location and feasibility for a cut and cover business in the Temescal Canyons.

These people immediately concerned are entitled that an impartial Planning Commission will make a true survey based on what is absolutely fair treatment, and there will be no coercion from Miss Harlow's side. It is possible that the authorities may find that there are many places available for Riverside county refuse cut and cover dump.

This true story ends on the note of cordial invitation from Miss Harlow to all interested officials who may wish to interview her and investigate the property under cut and cover consideration.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

A wild wind tore off roofs and uprooted trees in the Alherbi neighborhood near the location of Concordia Ranch on the Corona-Eskmore highway. No one was injured.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

In the early morning hours a truck and trailer filled with lemons en route to the Exchange Lemons plant from Fullerton, spread a layer of lemons along Sixth and North Main streets. A holding pin in the endgate of the trailer broke which allowed the gate of the trailer to open and spill the lemons. The spreading continued until the driver was stopped by city traffic officers.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A business of a questionable type called "Home Industries" was closed by the city police on complaint of the Business Men's Association. The promoter was reported to be a Los Angeles man by the name of Bremner. The scheme was to have women make dresses in their homes who, in he slightest, had to pay a fee of $5. Those who had made the payment were reimbursed. The promoter left Corona in a few short days.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Four Corona Scouts were counting the days until they left for Washington, D. C., to attend the National Boy Scout Jamboree. They were Billy Newhouse, Troop 34; Kenneth Whitecomb and Mack Robinson, Troop 35; and Louis Keller, Troop 37.

None Injured in 3 Vehicle Crash West of Corona

Car and Trailer Truck Destroyed by Fire; Occupants Escape

No one was injured in a spectacular accident involving three vehicles and a solid three miles of blocked traffic about 12:30 today near the Green River Camp on Highway 91 west of Corona.

California Highway Patrol Traffic Officers Robert Murphy and Glenn Vetus, investigating the accident, prescribed it as follows:

Robert V. Rios, 19, of Riverside, who was driving his sedan west on Highway 91, had pulled off to the right side of the highway and paused. George A. Vandenberg, 31, of Chino, following at a distance in his car, apparently thought Rios intended to pull back on the highway...

Both vehicles did not clear but it is thought Pierce hit the rear of Vandenberg's car which in turn hit Rios' car. Rios' car, spilled across the approximately eight inch high center divider between the opposing two-lane one-way roads. His car came to rest facing south on the outside lane of the eastbound road.

Vandenberg's car, pinned tightly to the rear of the truck, was pushed forward on the highway a distance of about 100 feet before the two vehicles came to a stop.

Both vehicles were damaged with the interior of Vandenberg's car and the truck cab and chassis destroyed. The first trailer also received fire damage. The entire rear half of Vandenberg's car was smashed by the collision, although the front wheel was not damaged.

Riverside State Forestry fire truck and one from Orange County responded to the alarm. Traffic was bumper to bumper for some three miles but traffic officers from Riverside and Orange districts kept it flowing well under the circumstances.

Tomorrow's Headlines Today U.S. to Protect Reds On Neutral Inspection Team in S. Korea From Attacks

DAILY ANALYSIS OF WORLD NEWS By U.P. Foreign News Writers

America's top diplomat says the United States has told Korea that it will protect the freed members of the Neutral Nations Inspection team in South Korea.

Secretary of State Dulles says South Korea should not use force to oust the Communist Polish and Czech members of the team. But he held a news conference in Washington that the United States sympathizes with South Koreans' dislike of the Communist members.

Red communist members in their renewed attempt to capture the U.S. inspection team were stopped by American troops in a South Korean compound. American troops stopped 300 South Korean war veterans as they stormed Wolmi, a half mile from the compound.

American Army troops are under orders to shoot if necessary to protect the U.N. inspection team. The troops have used tear gas to stop an attack. It was the second attack on Wolmi in six days of South Korean government inspired riots.

The State Department announced that the United States intends to protect the Communist members of the neutral team faces possibilities that a large scale armed force may be used to keep South Korea from upsetting the terms of the Korean armistice.

The Exchange Lemon Products company of Corona will be represented at a reception this evening in the Soviet Embassy at Washington, D.C.

D. R. Thompson, general manager of the company, is getting the Sunkist Growers representing the Exchange Lemon company, the Vladimir Matkevich, first deputy minister of Soviet Agriculture, a visitor here last week, sent "his sincere thanks to the Exchange Lemon representatives" for their entertainment of the 12-man delegation headed through W. F. Calkins of the University of California, who has established the company representatives "a cordial invitation to attend a reception at the Soviet Embassy" tonight.

Common farm problems are under discussion in a Washington talk between Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Vladimir Matkevich, first deputy minister of Soviet Agriculture. Matkevich heads the 12-man delegation of farm experts who have been touring American farm lands for more than a month. They arrived in Washington yesterday from California on the last leg of their trip.

Supervisors Set Hearing Date on Garbage Dump

Application Carried Up to Board After Planner Rejected Plea

A hearing on the request of Miss Leila Harlow for an M-3 permit to establish a garbage dump south of Corona, has been set for Sept. 19 at 10 a. m., before the Riverside County Supervisors. The action was taken at this morning's meeting of the Supervisors.

Miss Harlow's request for an M-3 permit was denied on Aug. 9, by the Riverside County Planning Commission. The Planning Commission has sent a recommendation to the Supervisors that the permit be denied. The final decision lies with the Supervisors. The Supervisors usually follow the recommendations of the Planning Commission, but not always. Those opposing the establishment of a garbage dump contend that the dump would contaminate the domestic water supply of the city of Corona, that it would bring garbage trucks from metropolitan areas down the streets of Corona, and that the dump would endanger the health of community. Letters from the County Health Officer and the County Welfare Officer, both of whom oppose the establishment of a dump at that location, were introduced as testimony at previous hearings.

Miss Harlow had asked for a continuance of the case but the Supervisors, instead of giving an indefinite continuance, set the hearing for Sept. 19 at 10 a. m.

Serious as the uprisings in North Africa, they do not compare with the Riff war of the early 1920's.

Yet the North Africans taking part in the present disturbances are using only guerrilla tactics. They cannot meet the French in open battle as they did in the Riff war.

In the Riff war, which grim old Abd El Krim started against the Spaniards in 1920, the Riffs killed 18,000 Spanish soldiers in a single battle. They had the Spaniards almost defeated when the French finally came to their rescue. It took a major effort by the French to suppress the Riff war.

However, the Riff war was confined largely to the high Atlas mountains. The rest of North Africa remained relatively quiet.

The disturbing thing about the Riff events of this weekend is that they were scattered over so many parts of Morocco and Algeria in Algeria, the French have resorted to the method of reprisals. The French say the Algerians are taking arms and leadership from Arab league circles in Egypt. Abd El Krim, who now is 72 years old, lives in Cairo and has been conducting an open campaign for a revolution in French North Africa.

But the French do not know for certain whether the Old Lion of the Atlas has had any share in the direction of the present revolt.

TOP FRENCH GENERAL KILLED IN CRASH WHILE DIRECTING TROOPS; 1000 DIE IN ARAB RIOTS

French authorities fear the toll from weekend fighting in North Africa may top 1,000. The latest official figure is 835 dead, mostly in Algeria. French forces evacuated nine Arab villages today in Algeria and the destruction of the villages was complete.

In Morocco, the French went into action at Qued Zent, where scores of Europeans were cut to pieces or burned alive. An emergency evacuation of the town was ordered. The commander in chief of French forces in Morocco, General of the Army Raymond Buge, died today in an airplane crash while directing French forces against an Arab rebellion.

EGYPTIAN AND ISRAELI FORCES BATTLE AGAIN

The Egyptian government reports one soldier dead and four others wounded in a clash with Israeli forces in eastern Gaza. The Egyptians claim an Israeli patrol opened fire on an Egyptian border outpost. An Israeli spokesman says the Egyptians fired first on an Israeli settlement.

TWO DEAD AND OTHERS INJURED IN COAL MINE

Two men are dead, one is missing and eight others have been injured critically in a coal mine accident at Shenandoah, Penn. The accident occurred when a 100-foot high coal breaker collapsed without warning.

Nine truckloads of Korean girl friends, of American GI's rode by shouting against the trade teams the American soldiers must guard by the terms of the armistice.

The girls were dressed in Western clothes and wore big straw hats.

Special Meeting of School Board Called Tonight

A special meeting of the Corona school board was called for tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the office of the Administration building. It is not expected that the president of the board, George Kibby, will be present as he has been ill the past several days. Neither is the board secretary, L. L. Lillis, who will attend as he has been out of town and it is believed he will return on Tuesday for his meeting.

The three other trustees, Mrs. E. M. Jones, Mrs. M. H. Jones and Mark Hendrickson are expected to be in attendance at this meeting. The well-known Riverside Business Manager George Brokaw, the Assistant Superintendent of Schools, and the principal of the school are expected to attend.

Among the items scheduled to be discussed tonight are the selection of a vice principal for the Corona Junior High School, a report on the junior high school exercise building, school buses, summer recess, and other items. The principal of the school is welcome to attend.

Arrest Trio in Riverside for Sordid Racket

Sheriff's deputies arrested a 17-year-old Los Angeles girl on charges of prostitution and her husband and a Riverside taxicab driver on a pandering charge.

The arrest climaxed a week-long investigation of the trio's alleged vice operations in the Riverside National Camp between Glen View Hot Springs and Corona. The suspects were believed to have operated at the Riverside labor camp for the Mexican Nationals.

The girl, who is 17 years old, was picked up at a Strom street address in Riverside, with Magdaleno being arrested later. Sheriff's investigators at the Riverside jail apparently had been carrying on an investigation since June 15. It was suspected that Magdaleno had been contacting the Mexican laborers at the camp and directing them to the young couple.

The girl was booked at Juvenile Hall on a Welfare and Institution charge covering most juvenile crimes.

CITY COUNCIL WILL CONSIDER RESTAURANT GRADING TONIGHT

Paul Bagley, county health inspector, said the proposal for a restaurant grading system will be considered at its meeting this evening.

The ordinance would call for restaurants receiving a grade following inspections given by the city health department. Inspections would be held at regular intervals, perhaps monthly. Bagley said, giving the inspectors time to meet recommendations. If a restaurant fails an inspection, the rating would be given, he said.

It is expected that, if the proposed ordinance is passed, a period of time would elapse before the first inspection is made to enable the operators to make their own improvements.

Jewel Thief, Injured by Upland Couple, Gets Away With $10,000 Loot

A thief took a beating the other night from the people he robbed but he still got away with an estimated $10,000 worth of jewelry.

William P. Sliker, 47, former vice executive and his wife, returned to their Upland home about 11 p. m. Saturday and noticed a down stairs room had been ransacked. Suspecting intruders, the pair moved quietly with Mrs. Sliker taking up a pick handle found lying on a chair.

Escaped Through Window

When the pair got used the lone intruder, he fought his way out the window. Mrs. Sliker broke the pick handle over his head, but the man succeeded in diving through the window. He was soaked in blood from wounds inflicted by Mrs. Sliker. He escaped through the window. Mrs. Sliker received several months ago as assistant general manager of Garrett & Co., Inc., at Gusti.

Direct Phone 542 Call Aids Quick Extinguishing of 7-Acre Brush Fire

The happy news in the Priny Corona Daily Independent that there had been no fires in the Temescal Gardens locality was short lived when a seven-acre brush fire broke out Saturday near Envoys street in a vacant hillside area.

The efficiency of the direct phone call to 542 was well shown when the records indicated the first alarm was received at 4:03 p. m., and the arrival of the first of six trucks on the scene of the fire at 4:15 p. m.

Actual dispatch time, according to James E. Chambers, assistant State Forest Ranger, was nine minutes. Had the phone call been directed through the telephone company, it should have had to travel through the city facilities, then by radio to the sheriff's office in Riverside, from there to the forestry station in Perris, where the alarm would have then been dispatched by radio to the various fire-fighting units.

Although the fire was worthy of the best protection from Elsinore, Cal., La Sierra, Norco and the U. S. Forest Service, the court calling of the 542 emergency number saved much dispatch time and greater damage in the fire area itself. Also the prompt response of the U. S. Forest Service was praised by Chambers, who said the early arrival of their trucks contributed largely to the quick control of the blaze.

WED KOREAN RETURNING TO AMERICAN AIRMEN

Communist North Korea is returning two American officers to the United States — one injured and the other dead.

Shot down by Red anti-aircraft fire over the neutral zone of Korea last Wednesday, they are air force 1st Lt. Guy Bumpass of Jackson, Miss., and the body of Captain Charles Brown of West Louisville, Ky.

The Reds refused a request to send Swedish or American doctors to them.

THREE MEN FINED FOR FOREST VIOLATION

Fines totaling $65 were imposed this past week in the Elsinore Justice Court as a result of smoking and forest fire closure violations in the Trabuco District of the Cleveland National Forest.

T. M. Pewins, of San Diego, and R. E. Gunn, Jr., of Elsinore, each were fined $35, with $15 suspended, for hunting on National Forest lands which were closed because of high fire hazard.

A Mr. Levi, of Anaheim, received a fine of $40 for smoking in an area closed because of the high fire hazard.

Ranger Paul K. Drwden, fire control assistant for the Trabuco District, warns that fire danger is now extreme throughout this district. All forest users are requested to use the utmost vigilance and caution when traveling through the forest area.

Supervisors Deny Permit for Site Near Corajco

It took the Riverside County Board of Supervisors only 20 minutes to turn down Miss Letwin's application for a permit to establish a commercial garbage dump south of Corona yesterday.

City Manager Ralph Piffner told the supervisors that he could bring in 12,000 people from Corona who were against the garbage dump. He also pointed out the scandals in Los Angeles garbage disposal operations.

Among those in opposition to the establishment of the dump were included the County Flood Control District, the County Health Department, the County Planning Commission, the Temescal Water Company, and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company.

Man Tries To Take Student Off Norco Bus

A difficult situation that arose at the Sierra Vista school in Norco a few days ago was reported to the school board last night by Supt. George Kibby.

Mrs. Mildred Flueisch, principal, notices a man waiting near a school bus stop to unlash children from the school. The man seemed agitated, racing back and forth.

The man became violent, Kibby said, and demanded the release of the child, whom, he said, was his youngster.

Supt. Kibby reported that he contacted the County Counsel and that the County Counsel backed them up in that they should not release the child to anyone who could not prove custody of the child.

Council Approves Recreation Area For Prado Dam Basin Land

Passes $300 Sewer Fee New Houses and Annexation Area

The City Council concurred with support from Riverside and San Bernardino Counties last night when it put the seal of approval on Resolution number 1398, a request to the State Park Commission to accept lands in Prado Dam for development as a State Park.

The Riverside County Board of Supervisors yesterday agreed to throw support behind a proposal that the State Beaches and Parks Department take over the land for development as a recreation facility.

Agastian, racing promoter, stated: "I think there would be a great future for a major league track in the Southern California area." Recent rumors have indicated this track was tentatively planned for the Prado Dam Basin area.

The Council also passed and adopted a resolution calling for a $300 per acre charge for time into a proposed sewer line on the west side of the city. The ordinance included a provision that any areas annexed to the city after Oct. 1, 1955, would be required to pay a similar per-acre charge for the privilege of using the disposal plant facilities.

In addition, the area entering the city would have to install a feeder pipe to city lines existing at the time of annexation. Maintenance costs undoubtedly would be assumed by the city.

The Council approved the following purchases: A 1956 solo motorcycle, included in the budget, for $806.79, which includes the trade-in of an older motorcycle.

A public address system for the council chamber, for $150, made necessary by complaints of not being able to hear from the audience.

A used 40 foot square metal Quaker kit, for $750, from the old Corona Clipper yard, plus $350 to move the structure to the city yard, where it will be used as a recreation shop and storage point.

A pull bucket, for $500, from the city. Reelands, to be pulled behind a truck for minor street cleaning, and a Wayne three-cubic-yard capacity street sweeper, for $1-

Resignation of Kibby Accepted "With Regrets"

Superintendent Will Complete Contract Through June

While the letter on George Kibby's resignation as superintendent of the Corona Unified School District was made public Oct. 4, it was not officially presented to the Corona school board until last night's meeting.

After the chairman of the board, Homer Holton, read the letter aloud, Mrs. Evelyn McMurphy, clerk, made the motion to accept Kibby's resignation "with regrets." She further stated that she and the board members who oppose independence courtesy shown by Mr. Kibby always has been appreciated.

Before voting on the question, Holton reiterated "I want to express my agreement with Mrs. McMurphy's statement. We are most grateful to Mr. Kibby for his friendly cooperation." He then called for the vote and acceptance of the resignation passed unanimously.

After the vote, Holton read a letter from Gordon Duncan, principal of the Corona senior high school, who had requested Holton to read the letter at the meeting if the resignation was accepted.

Kibby's resignation becomes effective at the termination of his contract in June of 1956.

Wells at School Site Would Have Cost $8000 More

By JUSTIN HAMMOND

Because of the question raised by Ray T. Williams in his Mailbag letter in the Independent last night about the wells on the site for the proposed senior high school, I question Supt. George Kibby and Trustee Mark Hendrickson about these wells this morning.

Williams' statement is correct. However, according to Kibby and Hendrickson, the school district did not want to buy the wells. They could have been purchased, but, according to Hendrickson, who has had considerable experience with wells, they would be expensive to operate.

Moreover, they would furnish about ten times more water than possibly could be used for a school plant. It would cost in the thousands of dollars it would take to install a pressure water system.

When buildings are erected at this location, the pumping equipment for the wells probably will be dropped below the surface of the school grounds and landscaping will make them inconspicuous, Kibby stated.

The escrow for the purchase of this site of approximately 40 acres at Tenth and Lincoln streets closed, Hendrickson said, Nov. 14.

Beaten Bodies of 3 Boys, Plea One On Another, Are Found in Chicago Suburbs

Chicago police have identified two of the three badly mutilated bodies found in a Chicago Forest preserve on Chicago's outskirts today as John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Aston, 11. The Schuessler boys and Robert Peterson, 14, had been missing since they left home for a movie on Sunday.

The bodies had been piled one on top of another in a ditch. Of the three youths, whose heads had been severely beaten, many have been the victims of a sex fiend.

"MOST HORRIBLE SEX CRIME," WIRELESS SAID; MOUTHS TAPED; FEET, HANDS, WRISTED; AX USED?

Walter McCarron, the Cook county coroner, terms the slayings the "most horrible crime in years." He adds: "I must have been done by a madman."

He says the boys had been strangled, their mouths taped shut and their hands and feet wired together. Their heads had been badly battered. One appeared to have been struck with an ax.

McCarron says the bodies had been dead for 12 to 24 hours. He would not permit the parents to view them for identification. Instead, it would be taken to view them.

Parents of the youngsters say they left home Sunday with 84 other children to go downtown to Chicago's Loop.

Authorities say no effort had been made to conceal the bodies. Their clothing, which had been stripped from their bodies, was missing. They say he believes they may have been held captive for a time and that one person was responsible for the three slayings.

FAURE WINS FRENCH VOTE; AVERTS WORLD CRISIS FEARS

A critical period of uncertainty for the free world has ended. The French have given a vote of confidence to President Charles Faure. Western leaders had feared Faure's policy for Algeria would bring about his downfall today. His defeat might have had repercussions in the Saar referendum next Sunday, in tense North Africa and at the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva next week.

For days, Faure and his backers had jockeyed for support, emphasizing the international implications of the vote. When the Socialists decided today to vote against Faure, the outcome looked bleak.

The program is entirely voluntary as far as the students are concerned and Frazier reported that last semester 30 per cent of the students took advantage of it with several if them coming back for two or more interviews.

He also expressed his gratitude to Lawrence Thome, supervisor of child welfare and attendance, and to Gordon Duncan, principal of the senior high school, for their interest and support.

Superintendent George Kibby reported that the enrollment figure for the end of the first month of this semester totaled 4486, a comparison with Sept. 30 of 1954. The 1955 enrollment is divided as follows:

Senior high 788 Junior high 1656 Elementary 2550 Kindergarten 350 Special classes 28

The fate of a Princess, and a Commoner are being decided tonight in that vast staid eldorado of the British empire known as Buckingham Palace.

Queen Elizabeth the second sat down with her prime minister, Sir Anthony Eden, to discuss the question on all lines—Will there be a wedding for Princess Margaret and Captain Peter Townsend?

If there is truth in a smile, then the answer must be yes. For the Princess, 25, was smiling radiantly when she drove off to a public engagement this evening after spending two hours alone with the handsome R-A-P captain.

It is believed Margaret told her sister, the queen, that she wants to marry the divorced commoner despite disapproval from the Anglican church. And it is believed that Queen Elizabeth and Eden discussed ways and means for this at Buckingham palace.

Under Competition the Customer Can Always Be Right

Beauty's Parents Are Bearing Up; But It's Wearing

By GAY PAULEY
U.P.'s Staff Correspondent

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N. Y. — It's nice to have a potential Miss America of 1956 around the house, but Mr. and Mrs. William Kalis have found it's also wearing.

As parents of one of the cuties who will compete for the national title at Atlantic City Sept. 5-10, they've about had it.

The front lawn of her suburban New York City home is trampled to the hilt, but Mr. and Mrs. William Kalis have found it's also wearing.

"Life has become just one big 'if' at our house now," said Kalis. "If Diana wins, if she goes to Atlantic City, if she gets a job as secretary-typist for a New York firm. And, proud as Mr. and Mrs. are of the tall, brown-haired beauty, they're not sure they ever wanted her in a beauty contest in the first place."

Family Excitement
Said Kalis, who is the stepfather of Diana Deutsch, Miss New York of 1956, "She plans a career as an entertainer. We're not sure just what she ought to do, but I'll be glad to get about her training without interruption."

Then proud parent takes over, and Kalis admits sheepishly he has no choice. "I've got to take my wife, my mother-in-law, my mother and my sister."

"Yes," his wife interjects, "and you not only gave it, but asked if anyone else was interested?" Mrs. Kalis, a beauty in her own right and a former actress, added that she has been "relegated to the role of chauffeur for my daughter."

Diana already is busy with public appearances, which will become more of same and one solid year of travel if she wins the national crown.

Well Padded
Another beauty in the family, daughter Brenda, who's 16, tells everyone, "I'm just the sister of Miss New York."

Diana is five feet, six inches, weighs 123 pounds and measures 36-23-36.

"I've been told by some of the experts she ought to drop a few pounds," said Mrs. Kalis. "But I just tell them I haven't stuffed my children with vitamins, orange juice and milk all these years, to start starving them now."

Although the Kalis household never has been barren, the parent's philosophy of dealing with their children hasn't changed. "Said Mrs. Kalis—"I tell my kids, 'love God, pay your bills, and be punctual.'"

"And I feel," she added, "that although we were reluctant to have Diana enter, she will benefit, whether or not she wins at Atlantic City. All of a sudden she isn't a teenager; the transi-

We assume no responsibility for statements or opinions in letters. We reserve the right to shorten letters to one-half column and to delete attacks on persons or objectionable controversial subjects.

No matter how anyone has felt regarding the proposed cut and cover dump issue which went before the Riverside County Board of Supervisors Monday, Oct. 17, the testimony of Dr. Richard Pomeroy, respected consultant on major water, sewage and waste disposal problems in the Southern California area, graduate of California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, teacher, doctor of philosophy and chemistry, and a civil and chemical engineer whose integrity and personal record has merited his advising Corona in the past concerning possible "water pollution" in the proposed Harlow dump area.

His facts, based on personal investigation and a wide experience with real emergency problems elsewhere showed that the greatest effect of cut and cover dumping on the property outlined on the permit request would be a small amount of ground hardening, one-half mile below the site and no effect whatsoever above it. His survey proved that at the existing 220-foot elevation, debris, other than liquid or industrial waste, dumped into 12 foot trenches and covered with two feet of soil would present no risk whatever to underground water streams.

Regarding the effects of rainfall, Dr. Pomeroy pointed out that even the heaviest rainfall would not penetrate deeply enough to leak into any underwater supply. He showed how the 90-degree higher difference in temperature on cut and cover areas would result in oxidation processes sufficient to dry out moisture each season. Contaminating deposits of lime, toxic compounds, sodium potassium, and carbon dioxide effects, Dr. Pomeroy explained that through the existing clay, clay rock, silt soil, and sand on the Harlow property, travel of such conditions would be sufficiently slow and devious that there would be no adverse effects.

He cited his own domestic waste disposal problems in a Los Angeles area where human and garbage wastes flow past drinking water wells without health damage. Dr. Pomeroy stated that of ten the public is frightened because of water pollution rumors but simply is uninformed about the subject and urged that more knowledge be exchanged regarding the true facts of water and waste conditions.

Herbert Schultze, Miss Harlow's attorney, showed evidence that he had no health risks involved, trucking only at night, and also guaranteed restrictions under special time limit conditions, offering local county residents and the Riverside county dump facilities the use of the proposed dump site under County Health Department rules.

In time Miss Harlow's cut and cover would have improved the contours of the rising terrain on her property, making it much more ideal for the nice conditions advocated by Monday's strongest authors. The County Board of Supervisors denied the granting of a permit for the Harlow cut and cover business.

However, all voters know that the board is there to insure what is best for all county residents, and we trust their considered decisions. Such a conscientious attitude on their part leads many people to feel encouraged that some day we may see an end to the haphazard dumping now prevalent in the Temescal area.

CALIF. DEMOCRATIC COUNCIL CHIEF BLASTS DULLES; HINTS COLLUSION WITH COMMUNISTS

A top California Democratic Party official Thursday night blasted Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for barring American newsmen from Communist China.

Alan Cranston, Los Altos, president of the California Democratic Council, delivered the attack on Dulles in a speech to the Orange County Council of Democratic Clubs in Santa Ana.

"Suppression by our government of American newsmen in a Communist country amounts to collusion with Communism against the fundamental principles of Democracy," said Cranston.

"The success or failure of America policy toward China," he said, "may determine the survival of freedom in all Asia and perhaps in all the world."

Cranston, a former foreign correspondent, said a free press is America's best guarantee of personal liberty.

Registration for Nov. 4 Election Ends on Sept. 11

Citizens Who Have Changed Precincts by Moving Must Sign Up

Registrations for the November election are being received at the Corona City Hall by City Clerk Robert A. (Bob) Annis. He reports that the citizens are just struggling in with their registrations. While he does not keep the records, which are sent to the county, his guess is that more Democrats are registering in Corona than Republicans.

Registration will continue until Thursday, Sept. 11.

"It would avoid waiting periods if the citizens who wish to register would come in early," Mr. Annis said. "Many usually wait until the final day or two and then there is a rush. We could give much better service."

"To register a citizen must have lived in the state a year in the county 90 days and in the precinct 54 days prior to the date of the election, which this year is November 4. Persons who will be 21 years old by election day also may register."

All citizens who have changed addresses without changing their voting registrations are reminded by County Clerk Gordon Pequet that they will be unable to vote in the November election unless they re-register before the September deadline.

Instructions have been given local election boards to challenge voters suspected of voting in the wrong precinct. A person can easily correct his registration by contacting one of the several deputy registrars.

Election officials estimated that at least 25 per cent of the voters in the primary were voting in the wrong precinct. Some were challenged by officials and were not permitted to vote.

WHERE OH WHERE HAS MY LITTLE DOG GONE?

"Such", a friendly, stumpy-wagging cocker, didn't run but regret her mistress, Jan Wallis, as she returned to her Cajalero Road home after work yesterday afternoon. When whistles and calls went unanswered, Mrs. Wallis started a search, first casual and then too concerned, and then methodical, plodding over every foot of the rugged homestead, and at last frantic, but all to no avail. "Such" was gone, without a trace.

Mrs. Wallis, who is in the advertising department of the Daily Independent, said the dog is as friendly as she can be, and she climbed into the rear seat of a car unknown to the driver or followed someone off. With the coming of hot weather, Mrs. Wallis removed the blond-red dog's harness, the only means of identification beside the dog's own description.

ROCK TRUCK COMPLAINTS—Constable Forrest Black points to the spot, at "X", nearly 60 feet away, where the rock shown fell from a truck, then rolled through the Pepper Corner service station. Small children living near the station-grocery, as well as shoppers and cars, are the area continually. The trucks, like that at right, are hauling rock from a quarry southeast of Highway 71 and Cajalero Road to a causeway project in the beach area. Manuel Cisneros, who delivers a rural route for the Daily Independent, said he had to pull to the curb to avoid being hit by a rock coming around the corner at right. Other complaints have been received of rocks falling at South Main and Grand. Police have followed through with citations on several of the complaints when license numbers had been taken. Traffic officers themselves have not witnessed personally any of the falling rock, despite stepped-up efforts in patrolling the route taken by the trucks. After watching one bad corner for some time with no results, the officer left. Retiring just minutes later, he found two rocks at the corner. Since that can't follow every truck, officers ask that if anyone sees rock falling from one of the trucks, he should take the license number and contact police, who will follow through with a citation. The trucks are owned and operated by a number of individual drivers, police said, since they can't follow every truck, officers ask that if anyone sees rock falling from one of the trucks, he should take the license number and contact police, who will follow through with a citation. Shakespeare Said It: 'All That Glisters Is Not Gold'; Be Wary

By BURT IRWIN
"All that glisters is not gold, often have you heard that told," writes Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice," but a lot of people don't seem to believe it. When the Daily Independent received a press release from the Reader's Digest on a current article about deals not being all they seem, Editor J. C. Hammond asked me to see if there was any local activity like those mentioned. When I went home I found it in my mailbox.

Highest Award

My wife, Barbara, the firm letter stated had been chosen as an "award winner" in a new drawing contest held recently. Names were drawn from a local directory, but awards issued to these lucky names. Three awards were given, and Barbara, happily, received the highest award, $125. It is "applicable only toward purchase of the (merchandise) listed in the contest."

Jones Sees Good Chance of Making Compromise of Bradley-Burns Tax

Supervisor William Jones called Publisher J. C. Hammond this morning, before Mr. Hammond was taken ill, and told him that he thought there was a good chance of working out a compromise on the disputed Bradley-Burns tax bill. Jones said that possibly a program could be worked out whereby both Corona and Palm Springs could pay five per cent to the county from sales tax receipts. At present Corona and other Riverside County cities are paying ten percent while Palm Springs has been paying nothing. Jones said that he thought the other supervisors would go along with a compromise plan.

Connie Nicholas Pleads Innocent

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Mrs. Connie Nicholas, 42, went to court in a paddy wagon today and pleaded innocent to a charge that she killed her wealthy lover, Forrest Teel, 54, when he left the apartment of a younger woman.

Million-Gallon Frozen Lemonade Sales in Week

Sales of Product Made in Corona Reach All Time Output Record

"During a recent week, consumers purchased almost one million gallons of all brands of frozen lemonade, a Corona product. The peak of this high for any week in the history of frozen lemonade, 'Specials' are one reason Sunnikist enjoyed an increased brand share of this 90-cent market. D. R. Thompson, manager of the Sunnikist products department, reports in the Sunnikist letter that because of its current high price, the consumer, in looking for ways to stretch budget dollars further, is using frozen lemonade for those betwixt-meal drinks and refreshments."

"In both of the two holiday fresh lemon marketing promotions—Memorial Day and the Fourth of July—we gained the greatest retail support in merchandising and advertising fresh Sunnikist lemons that we have ever experienced." L. H. Wohlwend, Sunnikist general sales manager, reported to the board of directors. A guarantee price was named for a three-week period preceding the two holidays and the experimental plan resulted in pricing showed good results.

Good Weather Lacking

The coolest weather and the lowest rainfall in years were recorded in a number of states during June but despite the lack of warm temperatures, trade interest in fresh lemons remained at a good level, largely due to the intensive sales and promotional program of Sunnikist sales and dealer service personnel.

J. C. Hammond Collapses in News Office

A telephone call from Senator Nelson Dilworth's office in Sacramento to the Independent last night brought word that the State Appointments board had passed the name of the new Corona Senior High School.

Sewing Machine

A woman here, thinking she was signing a receipt for a sewing machine on a trial basis, was surprised when a collection agent came around wondering why she hadn't made payments. A sharp operator peddled the machine by getting her name on a contract, then he sold the contract to a credit agency and skipped with the agency's money.

15 Crewmen Perish as Tankers Collide; Blast 'Like Stick of Dynamite'

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—Two tankers, one loaded with a million gallons of gasoline, crashed in flames in thick fog today, killing at least 15 men and injuring 36.

Five hours after the collision, nine bodies were found entombed below decks in the larger of the two ships. Six other men died when they leaped into the fiery sea after the collision off Fort Adams.

The ships, the 10,000-ton S. S. Guilfoill out of Philadelphia, and the coastal tanker S. S. Graham, collided in a half-mile channel at the entrance to Narragansett Bay. The collision occurred within sight of the still-beached wreckage of the Norwegian freighter Vestbyville, which ran aground last September.

The Guilfoill skipper, Capt. M. Eden, Port Arthur, Tex., perished with his ship.

The Graham burned fiercely at the southern tip of Rose Island in Newport Harbor. At one time, the heat was so intense that fireboats could not get near the vessel and it had to be towed off the shore.

Engineer Melvin J. Wroten, aboard the fully-loaded Graham, said "it was like a stick of dynamite. It was awful and it was beautiful and, oh my God, I lived through it."

U. S. Broadens U. N. Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The United States today broadened its proposal for an emergency session of the U. S. General Assembly to permit a wide-ranging debate on the Middle East. The session would open formally Friday.

A U. S. proposal submitted previously to the U. N. Security Council called for an assembly session to discuss only the plight of Lebanon. Today's revision suggested the assembly consider the situation in both Lebanon and Jordan.

Also on the agenda of the Security Council was a Soviet proposal calling for an emergency convocation of the 81-member assembly to discuss the withdrawal of U. S. and British troops from the Middle East.

The U. S. resolution was to be taken up first, and appeared certain to be approved by the 11-member Security Council. There can be no veto in the voting.

McClellan Asks Perjury Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamster President James Hoffa, threatened with possible perjury action, promised the Senate Rackets Committee today he would restore part of the money paid to a prize fighter from union welfare funds.

Hoffa pledged the repayment after Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) called for a Justice Department investigation of possible perjury in the testimony Hoffa gave to the committee last year.

At the same time, committee members called for the ouster of Teamster Vice President Owen "Bernie" Brennan, because of his alleged associations with gangsters and criminals.

Hoffa's original story came into direct conflict today with testimony by former heavyweight Embrill Davidson, who told the committee he received a $75 weekly salary from the Teamster welfare fund while working for Brennan, who was his manager.

School Loan OK'd

A telephone call from Senator Nelson Dilworth's office in Sacramento to the Independent last night brought word that the State Appointments board had passed the name of the new Corona Senior High School.

Dr. James Merrifew, superintendent of Corona Schools, was in Sacramento yesterday and reports that the local application, one of more than a hundred, passed through smoothly.

It is estimated that in addition to the money that the School District has on hand that the loan will run $1,250,000. The final figure cannot be determined until the final plans and specifications for the building are completed.

Merrifew said today that the building, built recently by the Corona School District have run under the average, on a per square foot basis, compared to other districts in the state. "The Merrifew has stated, 'we plan to continue to build as economically as possible.'"

Members of the State Appointments Board include Senator Dilworth, Donald Doyle of Los Angeles, and H. H. Jaqueth, director of the Division of Finance.

SKINDIVERS TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION AT POOL THIS EVENING

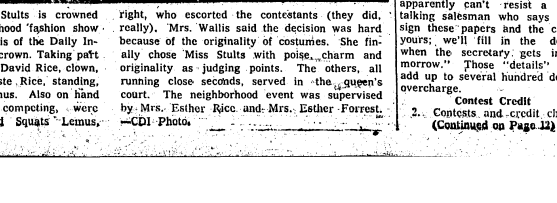

A skindiving exhibition will be presented free of charge this evening at the Corona Municipal Plunge.

Members of the Aqua Ducks, a skindiving club forming in Corona, will demonstrate use of the equipment and other equipment. The demonstration will last from 6 to 7 p. m.

Michael Garcia is serving as president of the club.

SUMMER FUN

Jeannette Stulls is crowned "queen" following a neighborhood fashion show yesterday, judged by Jan Wallis of the Daily Independent, who is placing the crown. Taking part were, from left, Sherry Meier, David Rice, clown, Mrs. Wallis, the queen, Celeste Rice, standing, Marcia Lemus and Alena Lemus. Also on hand for the festivities, but not competing, were Topsy Lemus, lying, left, and Squats' Lemus, right, who escorted the contestants (they did, really). Mrs. Wallis said the decision was hard because of the originality of costumes. She finally chose Miss Stulls with poise, charm and originality as judging points. The others, all running close seconds, served in the queen's court. The neighborhood event was supervised by Mrs. Esther Rice and Mrs. Esther Forrest. —CDI Photo.

Lt. Dick Wade and radar car—
"We allow reasonable speed."

Radar Control Device Deters Speeders

By JACK SIMPSON
Every morning about 7 o'clock Lt. Dick Wade of the Traffic Division of the Corona Police Department parks his squad car on Main Street near the Junior High School.
As soon as he does, traffic begins to slow down markedly. You see, Wade operates the radar speed control car.
"Today's more sophisticated driver has come to accept radar speed control as a part of driving," Wade said as he sat in the car waiting for speeders.
"The combination of the marked police car with its lights on top and the radar box on the side do a lot to slow down traffic—even if we don't have to cite anyone," Wade said.
Preventative Enforcement
He said Chief Joe Lowery's philosophy is one of preventative traffic enforcement.
"The chief would much rather have us slow down traffic or prevent traffic violations than write a lot of tickets," Wade said.

"There is no such thing as a citation quota in Corona," he added.
Wade or another officer operates the radar car around the clock and in all weather conditions—but not too many tickets are written from the car. The warning signs at the entrances to the city alert drivers to the potential presence of the radar unit. When drivers spot the unit they slow down.
Reasonable Speed
"We allow a reasonable variance from the posted speed by taking into account the weather and traffic conditions at the time," Wade said.
He pointed out a pickup truck which had just come through the school zone faster than the rest of the traffic.
"If he had been going just two miles per hour faster, I would have written him up," Wade said.

How does the radar work? Wade explained that the black box with the two plastic wands mounted on the swiveling spotlight is just one part of the device. Inside the car are the real working innards of the equipment.
Mounted on the floor hump under the dash is a large metal box with a meter on top. The large box contains all the tubes and circuitry of both the transmitter and the receiver; the meter reads off speed directly in miles per hour.
The readings are in true speed—not what your speedometer says.
How it Works
Impulses of high-frequency radio waves are sent to the control head on the spotlight, then aimed at oncoming traffic.
When the impulses meet an object, they are bounced back to the receiving wand and activate the meter.

"Normally, we can get better readings on the larger objects, such as trucks or buses," Wade said.
But, he added, the faster vehicle always registers on the meter. He cited the example of a small foreign car overtaking a fast truck. The small car traveling at a higher rate of speed would register, even though it might be alongside the larger metal target.
Technique Used
Wade said the normal technique is to park parallel with the curb, aim the control head at oncoming traffic behind the "pretty well," Wade said.
If nothing else works, a traffic officer will pull over an entire line of cars and write every one of them a ticket.
"That hasn't happened very often," Wade said, with a wry smile.

The range of the radar varies with the characteristics of the atmosphere on any given day, but accurate readings can be obtained for several blocks from the car.
"Usually, I can get a reading before the driver realizes that he is being clocked," Wade said.
"So, even if he slows down to pass me, I can testify that he was exceeding the speed limit when he came within range."
What if all of the traffic is moving faster than the speed limit? In a case like that, Wade said, the usual procedure is to move out into the traffic and drive at the speed limit.
"It slows down the traffic pretty well," Wade said.
If nothing else works, a traffic officer will pull over an entire line of cars and write every one of them a ticket.
"That hasn't happened very often," Wade said, with a wry smile.

Take Series Lead; SF Next Stop

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rookie Tom Tresh crashed a three-run home run in the eighth inning today to give the New York Yankees a 5-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants and a three-game to two lead in the World Series.
Tresh's dramatic wallop into the lower right field stands capped a sudden explosion that wrecked the Giants just when it seemed the San Francisco pitcher Jack Sanford was nearing a brilliant shut out.
Sanford, who hurt the Yankees in the second game of the series last Friday, struck some 18 Yankees today and, until the eighth, the only runs he had given up were scored on a wild pitch in the fourth inning and a passed ball in the sixth.
In fact, Sanford had just struck out three straight batters; two of them in the seventh inning and one to start the eighth, when the roof fell in on him.
A crowd of 63,175 saw Tony Kubek open the winning rally by grounding a single into right field. Bobby Richardson followed with a single to left that moved Kubek to second and brought Tresh to the plate.
Tresh, a brilliant switch-hitting rookie whose father also played in the major leagues, struck out the Giants with his three-run homer that sent Sanford into the showers and down to defeat.
The victory went to Ralph Terry, who pitched all the way for the Yankees and allowed eight hits. It was the first series victory of Terry's career after four straight defeats. Terry struck out seven Giants.
The teams will be idle Thursday and the sixth game of the series will be played in San Francisco Friday.

Late News In Brief

Castro Admits Affair With Reds

MIAMI (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro told the Cuban people Tuesday night for the first time that Russian military "technicians" are stationed in their country.
In a speech broadcast by Radio Havana, Castro reiterated the familiar charge that the United States is preparing to invade Cuba. He said "it is for defense that we got these weapons and those technicians."
He scoffed at reports that the United States is preparing to approach a satisfactory conclusion, would be renewed today. U. N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was a particular target of Castro's anti-American diatribe.
Castro apparently was stung by Stevenson's response to a speech by Dornicos at the United Nations which the Cuban president plugged the Castro line about U.S. "acts of war" against Cuba.

Final Rebuttals Given in Marrs Trial

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—Final argument rebuttals were to be delivered today by both prosecution and defense attorneys in the murder trial of Robert Marrs, charged with the slaying of the evangelist Dr. Dan Gilbert.
The defense claimed in final argument Tuesday that the prosecution failed to prove its charge of first degree murder. Defense counsel Robert Stebbins said by definition of the conditions necessary to establish first degree murder, prosecutor George W. Porter Jr. had not succeeded in proving his charge.
Following rebuttals, Superior Judge James Cunningham will issue instructions to the jury and there is a possibility the case will then go to the jury.

Mariner II to Miss Venus by 20,900

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists disclosed today that the Mariner II Venus probe will miss the bright planet by 20,900 miles instead of 9,000 miles as previously estimated.
The scientists told a news conference, however, that the wider miss will not spoil the scientific value instruments designed to study the atmosphere and surface of Venus.
As the trajectory is now calculated, the scientists said, the 447-pound spacecraft will pass "well within the region where the scientific planetary experiments are expected to be very effective."

Coast Guard to Inspect Russ Fleet

KODIAK, Alaska (UPI)—Federal and state officials planned to leave today aboard the Coast Guard cutter Storrs on an inspection tour of a massive Russian fishing fleet off the eastern coast of Kodiak Island.
State Department fisheries assistant William C. Herrington and Ralph C. Baker of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries were to accompany Alaska Gov. William Egan on the trip.
The Russian fishing flotilla, estimated at between 115 and 135 vessels by Navy authorities, extends over an area the length of Kodiak Island.
A section of the fleet near Two Headed Island brought slving complaints from several American crab fishermen, who said the Russians were destroying their crab fishing gear.

Fisherman Gets Life's Biggest Catch

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI)—NATO officials came to the aid of fishing captain Stanley Drake today and confirmed he had made one of the biggest catches on record—a submarine.
Drake had told skeptical friends that he was reeling in his trawler nets off Plymouth Monday when he felt a huge strain on the winch. He pulled harder and pretty soon up jumped a Danish submarine, thoroughly emmeshed.
NATO officials said the submarine had been lying off Plymouth during a NATO sea exercise and Drake's nets wrapped around its super structure.
Rather than rip the nets, the sub captain decided to surface and give the fishermen the surprise of his life.
The two skippers exchanged apologies, the sub submerged and Drake went back to smaller game.

Viet Nam Troops Still in Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials said today they believed "several thousand" Communist North Vietnamese troops were still in Laos in violation of an international accord signed last summer.
The State Department, however, was reluctant to make formal charges of a violation.
Under a 14-nation agreement signed at Geneva July 23, all foreign forces were supposed to be out of Laos by last Sunday. Russia and the United States were among the signers. The accord followed a cease-fire in the Laos Civil War and formation of a coalition government of neutrals, Communists and pro-Western factions.
The United States completed withdrawal of its 666 military advisers from the country by the Sunday deadline.
American officials have estimated that during the height of the fighting earlier in the year about 10,000 black-uniformed troops from North Viet Nam were in Laos in areas held by Laotian Communist guerrillas.

Rock Trucks Will Continue to Roll

Trucks loaded with rocks continued along Highway 71 near Corona, on the old Livingston main streets, and indications are that they will continue to do so for some time to come.
The September-October edition of a magazine called "Johnston's Inland Progress," published by the Johnson Tractor Company, features an article on the source of the rocks, and tells where they are being taken.
The article reads in part:
"J. B. Stringfellow Co.'s machinery is really hustling these days to keep pace with the never-ending demand for the company's quarry rock. A Seal Beach breakwater project is taking a large share of the firm's production, and the Dominguez Slough Flood Control project in Long Beach requires another big chunk of rip-rap rock.
In order to keep the company's rock crusher steadily breaking every full shift, Stringfellow recently added its fleet two Cat DW1 Tractors equipped with Athey Rear-dump Rock Wagons. These 36-ton capacity machines currently are hauling at six-minute cycles over a short 300 yard course between quarry and crusher. Each unit is capable of hauling some 2000 tons per day, with the remainder of the quarry hauling handled by a series of dump trucks.

UNIQUE OCCUPATION—Mr. and Mrs. K. R. "Ted" Bear of 1190 First St. in Norco "pick" red earthworms for shipment to the mid-west. They must count 55 to 60 to the carton, and many dozens of cartons often go in a day.—CPI Photo.

Worm Farming a Wiggly Way to Make Ends Meet

By JERRY HOLTMAN
With Norco boasting such animals, and what have you? It's not surprising to find that a red earthworm farm can also be found in the community.
In the past, there have been a number of worm farms there, but, as far as I can determine, there is now only one. And, not surprisingly, it was probably the first establishment of its kind in the area.
On First Street
The farm belongs to Mr. and Mrs. K. R. "Ted" Bear and is located at 1190 First St.
The Bears came to Norco 10 years ago for the express purpose of raising worms. They had become acquainted with the process by helping out a cousin in El Monte for two years. They and the cousin both established worm farms side by side, but today they are carrying on alone.
At one time, the Bears shipped from 100 to 150 pounds of worms a week—and you'll have to admit, that's a lot of worms—but then everybody started getting into the act, and this cut down on the demand considerably. Worm farms were advertised as a way to make your back yard "without working," but many of those who went into the business discovered that this was a cruel hoax, and were soon out of it again.

Work Not Easy
Aside from raising the worms, the "picking" of them is more work than most people would want to tackle for the money that's involved. For instance, the Bears had an order one day last week for ten dozen cartons of worms. From 55 to 60 worms go into each carton, and these must be counted out individually. Just try counting from one to 60 ten dozen times, even without picking up worms while you do it, and you'll begin to see what a job worm raising is.
But the picking is only one small part of the job. There is also a lot of work to raising the worms.
This is done in beds. They are something like flower beds, and the Bears have a series of them under lattice work. This to keep the ground moist.
Seek Moisture
During off-season, mainly in winter, the beds are allowed to dry up. This makes the worms go down deep, seeking moisture, and while they are there, they don't multiply. Then, when the Bears want a big supply of worms, they moisten a bed, and also provide a rich mixture of food on top. This includes rabbit manure, and such staples as ground corn, wheat, barley, and walnut meats and hulls. Best mess is also added.
The moisture plus the food keeps the worms to the top of the ground, and also causes

Pfiffner Moves Out of Office

City Manager Ralph Pfiffner has deserted his office at City Hall. He's taken up quarters in the Civic Center as the building's first official occupant.
"I've taken the City Council at their word when they said the moving should start as soon as possible," Pfiffner said.
He had ordered the paneling of his City Hall office torn out last week and hauled to the Civic Center for use in Planning Director Harvey Stotticmyer's new office.
Now a brand-new, dark paneling—almost ceiling high—graces Pfiffner's quarters. Located in a suite of offices to the right as you enter the main door of the Civic Center.
Most of the remodeling in the city offices has been completed. Yet to be finished is minor woodwork around the doors and windows and some wainscoting in Finance Officer Fred Graber's office.
City Hall personnel are preparing for the move this week-end. City Clerk Billie Dober said all offices would be open for business at 8 a. m. Monday in the Civic Center.
"It might be a bit hectic for the first few days, though," she said.

Strike bill ends Congress-President buckpassing

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional enactment of legislation in the railroad shop-craft dispute ended more than three months of buckpassing between Congress and President Johnson.

The President and many members of Congress, especially in the House, tried as hard as possible to avoid having to take the final action to put Union men back to work under a compulsory settlement.

Whether called compulsory arbitration or not — and the administration doggedly insisted it was proposing mediation to finality — the central feature of the rail legislation finally enacted is something labor fiercely opposes.

For in being bound by a compulsory settlement, labor loses its major weapon — the strike — without gaining anything in return.

The first time Johnson sought permanent anti-strike legislation to extend the no-strike deadline and overthrew the President's proposal.

That House members should resist such legislation more than senators is not surprising. Only one-third of the senators must stand for reelection in 1968, while all House members must. For

Rail strike bill in brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the major provisions of the bill to end the nationwide rail strike signed Monday night by President Johnson:

- Orders striking members of six railroad shopcraft unions to return to work immediately.
- Requires appointment of a five-member presidential board to impose a compulsory agreement if no settlement is reached in 90 days.
- Allows a 90-day no-strike no-workout period for the presidential board to try to get an agreement.
- Provides for the presidential board to impose a compulsory agreement if no settlement is reached in 90 days.
- The board's recommendations could be binding until as late as Jan. 1, 1969.

many urban Democrats, labor is the key both to financing, and supplying campaign workers.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, contended the President's bill was one-sided and unfair. He said that in any case there was no proof a railroad strike would create chaos as the administration claimed.

But all efforts by Staggers and fellow Commerce Committee Democrats to force the administration into making plans to move essential supplies in event of a strike met the response that this was impractical.

The dispute could find its own way back to Congress in 1969. Meanwhile, several other disputes in the rail industry also could be thrust into the hands of congressmen who dislike having to deal with such disputes but apparently prefer temporary solutions to any permanent anti-strike legislation.

Neighborhood Youth Corps gets valuable experience

Fifty-one enrollees in the Neighborhood Youth Corps summer placement program in the Corona school district are gaining valuable experience in eight job stations. Corona NYC job co-ordinator Bob Kremer told the board of education last night.

Among them, 19 boys are clerical aides, 20 girls are teacher aides in the Head Start program, two boys are working on the landscaping crew, one boy is learning warehouse techniques, another operates an offset press in the print shop and a girl is learning key-punch and tab operations in the data processing center.

Thirty-four of the 51 took voluntarily the three-hour General Aptitude Test Battery (GATB) test by which the Department of Education says can be predicted with 90 per cent accuracy what kind of a job a student can do, rather than what he wants to do, Kremer said.

The test, with 12 basic sections, covers intelligence, clerical precision and manual dexterity.

Kremer said it was particularly encouraging to see the "glint in the eye" of some students along side a "brain child" when they discover they can move pegs quicker and better than he.

NYC enrollees are paid $1.35 per hour, work a maximum 32 hours a week and are encouraged to attend summer school, Kremer said.

As an incentive, arrangements were made with the welfare department that if enrollees bank 50 per cent of their earnings, no deductions are made from the family welfare checks, he said.

Reagan refuses to budge on a $194 million debt pay off now

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Reagan administration refused to budge today, despite Democratic criticism, from its insistence that the state pay off all its $194 million cash debt this year.

"We're steadfast on that," said Finance Director Gordon P. Smith as the Assembly began taking a long, thorough look at the governor's $1.01 billion tax increase program. Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and others have contended the state legally could pay off the debt in installments, over several years.

Hearing scheduled

But Smith told a reporter "That's starting down the road to deficit financing. Who wants that?"

The debt involves the state's obligation to repay money it borrowed from special state funds to pay for general operating expenses when tax revenues were low and bills still came in.

The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, headed by Republican John C. Veramo of Modesto, scheduled a hearing tonight on Reagan's tax proposal. The committee plans to consider proposed amendments on Wednesday and then study the whole tax picture — probably in closed session — before passing on a bill to the Ways and Means Committee.

Tax puzzle

Major stumbling blocks in the Assembly appeared to be the difference over the debt, school aid, Reagan's proposal for a $38 million extension of the sales tax to labor on repair services, and the big size of the tax bill.

Meanwhile, other parts of the tax puzzle — the biggest problem still before the legislature — were beginning to fall into place.

The Senate passed a bill to the Assembly Monday to implement next year the only direct property tax relief left in Reagan's measure — help for an estimate several hundred thousand older Californians.

The measure, sponsored by Democrat Sen. James Q. Wedworth of Hawthorne, grants local property tax amnesty to qualifying elderly homeowners in the state.

If they die first, the bill is settled by the homeowner's estate.

Reagan's tax bill provides up to $25 million beginning next year for those qualified. They must meet all these tests:

- Be 65 years or older for men and 62 and older for women.
- Be residents of California at least five years.
- Have annual incomes of less than $5,000.
- And have homes assessed at less than $7,500. This would mean a house with a market value of up to about $30,000, depending on the assessment ratio in that county.
- Unruh said today he expects no major change in Reagan's program in the Assembly.
- "It will still be the Reagan tax bill."

More school aid

But the Lingwood Democrats has said it should be trimmed by at least $50 million and provisions made for new financial help to schools and general property tax cuts.

Unruh proposed $375 million in school aid and property tax relief, but Reagan has set aside only $120 million in new general school aid in his bill at this point. Unruh contends some of the $194 million debt payoff funds could be used for school aid and property tax relief instead.

Finance Director Smith said the administration has an open mind on just how the new help is distributed to the school districts, but he declared $120 million is all that can be spared for that use this year.

Most tax experts gave little chance for a new "homeowners relief and tax reform" proposal — a tax increase bill of nearly $1 billion — put forward Monday by 15 Assembly Democrats.

Two-thirds needed

It would put a greater burden on business and the high-bracket taxpayers.

Unruh said he may ask the Assembly Democratic caucus to take a position on the Reagan tax program this week. The governor needs a two-thirds majority to get his bill through the 80-member Assembly. Thus with Democrats controlling the lower house 42-38, the governor needs all the Republicans and at least 16 Democrats to approve the bill.

If any changes are made in the Assembly, a two-house conference committee would have to write a final compromise version.

Is it 'ja' or 'nicht' for Luftwaffe man in a jam?

By MARJORIE FREEMAN
Luftwaffe flyer Herman Anthony Frommnecht, 24, yesterday found Corona's austere Municipal Court a place of warm hearts and kindly people.

Herman, a handsome, sun-tanned, deep-voiced lad who, were he in show business, would set teenaged girls screaming, was up for arraignment on a charge of driving under the influence. During a recess in the preliminary hearings Assistant District Attorney Dirk Gombert was told Herman spoke no English. The German lad, wearing jail denim, was hustled out to the corridor where Gombert tried out his German, learned as a World War II flyer, while court employees and spectators were hastily canvassed to see if anyone spoke German. None did.

Leaning on the door jamb and jabbing the air with his pipe, Gombert tried in pidgin German and basic English to explain the complexities of an arraignment. Herman looked lost and unhappy, but eager to please. "Ja," he said, each time Gombert stopped speaking.

"Guilty or not guilty?" Court Clerk Mrs. Martha Crowe asked sympathetically.

"Bitte (please)," asked Herman, helplessly.

For a little while it seemed American justice was hanging in the balance. Then everybody breathed again when Herman from Judge Henry H. Draeger, filling in for vacationing Judge David N. Strausser, that he thought he understood enough German to follow Herman.

When court resumed the deputy district attorney explained that Herman is one of a group of Luftwaffe men who'd just completed a course at Los Alamitos air base and were scheduled to leave for home on Monday. Herman hoped to be among them.

Gombert suggested the base be contacted to check the story and the arraignment be continued until tomorrow at 2 p.m. The judge agreed. Behind the thick thatch of blonde hair that never would be countenanced in the American Air Force, Herman's smile was trusting. He still didn't know what was going on, but from the reassuring voices and encouraging smiles he knew he had friends in the court.

Council backs police

By HENRY LEPPARD
Corona's City Council today is standing 100 per cent behind the police department in its conduct of an arrest that ended with the death of a 16-year-old youth at the police station.

The action was taken by the council last night as the city's answer to charges leveled by the Mexican-American Political Association meeting in Riverside over last weekend. The association adopted a resolution condemning the Corona Police Department for "killing" Corona High School student Joseph Miranda.

The Riverside County coroner's office ruled that Miranda died as the result of illness brought on by drinking. The coroner's report said Miranda choked to death on his own vomit after becoming ill at the police station.

Corona police officers had arrested Miranda at the high school following a call from school officials. A brief struggle erupted at the police station while the suspect was being booked, and Miranda a short while later collapsed and died while still at the station.

The plant is a surprisingly quiet place, considering the nature of the operation. Transformation of mountain into roofing granules begins with a massive "shot" in the quarry, blast that sounds more like a dull thud.

City Manager Glenwood Wilson last night reminded the council of the association's stand, and said he thought the councilmen should go on record in their support of the police department in the matter. He indicated the police department deserves commendation because of "the manner in which it has discharged its responsibilities in providing protection and maintaining law and order."

Wilson's proposal immediately won the support of Councilman James Rust and Councilwoman Rena Parker. The Rust said he had made his own investigation of the way the police department had handled the Miranda affair, and added that he supposed other councilmen also had made investigations. He said he felt the police department "deserves our support."

Mrs. Parker then moved that the council give "congratulatory commendation" to the police department in connection with this particular problem, and many of the others they have had to contend with. The council unanimously approved Mrs. Parker's motion.

3M blasts 484,000 pounds of explosives

By MARJORIE FREEMAN
They've been working on it for months, and this afternoon at three with all the preliminary suspense and even the countdown of an atomic bomb test, Corona's 3M plant set off 484,000 pounds of explosives, to move 750,000 tons of rock.

There's a viewing area for the press reporters and photographers, television camera men and a crew from Encyclopedia Britannica which is to film the blast in slow motion for educational purposes.

And in case anyone is wondering apprehensively where what is going up will come down, 15-foot high berms, or dykes, of previously blasted rock will confine the debris to the quarry floor area, according to plant manager G. J. (Jerry) La Venture.

To the uninitiate, the big question is why the blast? And the answer is, to get rock enough to crush into granules to coat asphalt shingles for western roofings.

The United States has become a nation of colorful rooftops, largely through the work of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co's roofing granule division, and the Corona plant and quarry on 1,000 acres in Temescal Canyon serve seven Western states. Three other such 3M plants are located at Belle Mead, N.J., Little Rock, Ark., and Wausau, Wis.

Now employing about 100 persons, the plant first opened here in June, 1948. Of the employees who started when operations began, more than 35 per cent are still on the job.

La Venture came to Corona from the Arkansas plant in 1948. The former plant manager and now regional manager for the seven western states, H. E. Sandisch, retired Aug. 1.

3M entered the roofing market in 1937, following development of durable, colorful, non-fired roofing granules. The new granules soon replaced the natural slate granules then in use.

Democrats repudiate a CDC stand

The Riverside County California Democratic Council today is on record repudiating the recent action of the California Democratic Council which in convention assembled resolved that—

President Lyndon Johnson should stop the bombings of North Viet Nam and seek a cease-fire with the UN.

The Riverside County group went on record "as giving full support to our President Lyndon B. Johnson concerning his policy in Viet Nam." They also commended him for "his wise and prudent handling of this very difficult situation."

At the same meeting the group, by resolution, commended Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz "for his courageous stand in support of the domestic farm laborer and his needs in the current highly publicized farm labor crises and

"For his understanding and willingness to assist in the elimination of inadequate housing and his strong stand on the need for a decent wage according to American standards."

Robert Le Gro, president of the Corona Democratic Club, reported "there is considerable interest among Norcorians in the formation of a CDC-affiliated debating club in Norco." He said there would be a meeting April 29 at the Corona Democratic headquarters to discuss the question.

Corona attorney Edmond O'Brien, according to C.D.C. president Don Chapman, was officially appointed parliamentarian for the group, and Lawrence Duckwald, also of Corona, was appointed political action chairman for the Corona-Norco area.

Defendant too late for trial

Gate Hill, 54, of Los Angeles is scheduled for a jury trial in Corona Municipal Court yesterday forenoon — showed up in the afternoon, explaining that he had erred in his timing. Obligated to waive his jury trial request, he pleaded guilty to a petty theft charge. He was given three years' probation, fined $166 and ordered to make restitution for the theft.

Issue on Norco Post Office to be aired at Apr. 29 meet

NORCO — Opposition to the proposal to make the Norco Post Office a branch of the Corona Post Office is gaining momentum in this new city. U.S. Postal Department inspectors have been making a survey on such a proposal. The reason cited for the change is an economy measure in the postal department.

The Norco Chamber of Commerce this week sent letters to all organizations requesting representation at a meeting to discuss the proposal and perhaps to draft a resolution opposing the move. The resolution would be forwarded to the Regional Post Office Department and to Senators Thomas Kuchel and George Murphy and Congressman John V. Tunney, who is a member of the House Post Office Committee.

The meeting is scheduled for April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the city office in Norco Community Center.

Postmark retained
By becoming a branch Post Office, the Norco facility would no longer have a postmaster, but would be under management of an administrative head. There is a difference of $600 a year in the salary of a postmaster and administrator.

The inspectors said Norco could still have a post office and would retain the Norco postmark but that all incoming mail would go to Corona for sorting and then be sent to Norco for delivery. Residents would still use a Norco mailing address.

Prior to the survey the Norco Citizens Civic Association and the Norco Chamber of Commerce had been working toward getting a larger post office building. Bids were called for by the Post Office De-

Board prexy tells creed as a trustee

Mrs. Margaret Verity, president of the Board of Trustees of the Corona Unified School District, has stated, in a statement of principles left with this newspaper prior to her departure on a long-planned vacation, that a school board member should honor his membership responsibility which his membership demands.

"Because of the vital and important role which the public schools of our state and county play in providing the basic foundations for democratic living and for sustaining the American way of life; and because, therefore, school board membership represents such a challenging responsibility, a school board member should honor the high responsibility which his membership demands," she said.

Children first
"Members should do this," she continued, "by thinking of children first. By providing for every educable child, each should have the amount and kind of education that will make him useful to himself and others according to the principle of providing the maximum opportunity for every boy and girl.

Members of school boards, and candidates for the office should possess and strive to develop certain specific personal qualities and attitudes, she continued. "The following are essential:

"1. A sincere and unselfish interest in public education and in the contribution it makes to the development of children."
"2. A knowledge of the community which the school system is designed to serve and a willingness to assume a role of leadership in education."

"3. A sense of loyalty to the community which the school system is designed to serve and a willingness to assume a role of leadership in education."
"4. A deep sense of loyalty to associates and respect for group decisions cooperatively reached;

"5. A respect for and an interest in people and ability to get along with them."
"6. A willingness to work through defined channels of authority and responsibility, and

"7. A willingness to devote the necessary time to become an effective board member," she concluded.

Mrs. Verity has been a member of the CUSD Board of Trustees for nine years. Elections is next Tuesday.

Grace Lutheran sets service this evening
Grace Lutheran Church, 616 Merrill, will conduct a Maundy Thursday Communion Service at its sanctuary at 7 o'clock tonight, church officials announced.

The church's interim pastor, Rev. Ronald Kusel, will speak on the "Seven Last Words," the announcement stated.

Seal gifts reported
The Corona-Norco area has contributed $1,998 to the 1965 Easter Seal appeal, according to an announcement today by co-chairmen Jean Ann Hirsch and Hugh Kinkins.

NO WIRES CROSSED—Engineer Del Crane of Norco was one of several who helped assemble the new electric organ for the Church on the Hill in Norco. The intricate mechanism took many hours of work by volunteer church members. Project chief engineer C. L. Small of Anaheim has been devoting evenings and weekends since August to the gigantic undertaking. The organ will be used for the first time on Easter Sunday.

14 construction projects planned

Glen Day, local office manager for Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. and a candidate for reelection to the board of trustees of Corona Unified School District, today pointed out there are 14 school construction projects in the district either in the planning stage or classed as "future projects in the development stage."

"Barring any radical increase in construction costs," he said, "bond and state loan funds are available to complete all projects."

- Projects in the planning stage, he said, are as follows:

 1. Elementary school site near Joy St. $ 100,000
 2. Junior High site near River Road. 300,000
 3. Construction of Norco Senior High. 3,500,000
 4. Construction of New Elem. School (Joy St.). 843,000
 5. Garretson School Addition. 270,000
 6. Vicentia School Addition. 335,000
 7. Norco Junior High School Addition No. 3. 301,000

$5,649,000

Future projects in the development stage, subject to minor changes should there be shifts in centers of population, are as follows, he said:

- 1. Second Corona elementary site. $ 100,000
- 2. Elementary site near Cresta Verde area. 80,000
- 3. Elementary site near Norco Highlands. 300,000
- 4. Build on Norco Highlands site. 900,000
- 5. Build on Corona elementary site. 900,000
- 6. Build on Fullerton St. site or Cresta Verde. 835,225
- 7. Build on new Junior High School, 1st phase. 1,000,000

At Church on the Hill

A story behind that new organ

By JO MONICH

Few churches will be fitted with Easter music emanating from a do-it-yourself electronic organ kit. However, those attending Easter services at the Church on the Hill in Norco will hear just such music.

When the new church was in the planning stages a committee was appointed to look into the purchase of an organ. Chairman Harold Strukman, assisted by Peter Vander Feer, Ed Roukema, Case Van Der Eyk, Mrs. Clarence Van Heukelom, Mrs. Marvin Brommer, Mrs. Feber and Mrs. Aric Ver Kaik — found what they required at a price they could afford but a specialized electronics engineer had to be located.

Bert Range, a member of the church, enlisted the help of an Anaheim friend, C. L. Small, who has donated time since last August in assembling the intricate mechanism. Small — assisted by Range and his son Mike, Del Crane, Ernie Boone and Eldon Heat-on, (all of whom attend the church) — has put in an average of six hours each weekend and one or two hours each night on the project. The unfinished cabinet, which is included in the kit, was put together by James Vander Veen. Small and his crew of volunteers also undertook the task of installing the amplifier and speaker systems.

Not simple
The organ, which is approved by the American Guild of Organists, is one vast maze of wires to the inexperienced eye. There were 175 tubes, 32 pedals, 65 stops and the two-manual keyboards. As the engineers worked, frequent checks were made with the instruction books, as one tiny error in a connection could mean hours of time lost. Small has found the assembly job challenging but rewarding.

The speaker system comprises 15 eight-inch and 15 twelve-inch speakers, which are placed throughout the church. The tower speaker, which will allow church music to be heard for several miles across the valley, is the next project to be completed by the volunteer engineers.

Rev. Clarence Van Heukelom says that the tower speaker will have a time clock system which will allow recordings to be heard at frequent intervals. One of the speakers on the tower will be turned directly to the California Rehabilitation Center.

Three organists
The three organists at Church on the Hill — Nina Vander Feer, Mrs. Helen Van Heukelom and Mrs. Brummet — are delighted with the nearly completed instrument. The walnut finish of the cabinet matches the walnut pews and altar furnishings. The tone is beautiful. Best of all, the cost

Karl's was trying to make up her mind on which of the pastel colors to choose for her Easter shoes. Peggy is a student at California State in Fullerton and is spending her vacation with her parents, of a do-it-yourself electronic organ is about half that of one already assembled.

As the need arises in the fast growing church, Small will add the third manual and chimes. At the present time, he is considering assembling a similar instrument for his home.

Norco license plan to meet opposition

A hearing on the possibility of business licenses for Norco agriculture, set for Monday night at 7:30 at the Norco Community Center, will include some opposition to the plan from the Norco Farm Bureau Center.

Norco Farm Bureau President Mansfield Williams said today:

"I plan to attend this hearing Monday evening and present testimony opposing the imposition of a business license on agriculture by the City of Norco.

"Agriculture, and the poultry industry in particular, cannot absorb any additional expenses," he said.

Trucker sues Corona firm

RIVERSIDE (CNA)—A Riverside trucker has filed suit here in Superior Court for a $123,572.91 judgment against Corona Quarries, Inc.

William Stringfellow charged that between May 1, 1962, and Dec. 31, 1963, he had furnished dump trucks to the Corona firm to haul rocks at $1.80 a ton.

Some 308,532.23 tons were hauled during that period, the suit alleged, and the firm had "failed and refused" to pay $123,572.91 due for services rendered.

3 Coronans on Queen Mary Axel Springborgs Nettie Whitcomb

By HENRY LEPPARD
"Oh, it was just wonderful! I'd do it again!"
That was Mrs. Florence Springborg's refutation today of widespread publicity criticism of the last voyage of the Queen Mary, England's former luxury liner that docked at Long Beach Saturday to become a floating museum and convention center.

Mrs. Springborg and her husband, Axel, who made the entire trip from Southampton around the Horn to Long Beach, declared that contrary to published reports there was not a rat or a cockroach aboard the Queen that they saw and they "were on all the decks."
"Rats? That was the dog-nosed lie you ever heard," Mrs. Springborg asserted with considerable emphasis.
For Springborg, the trip was a combined family reunion and a wedding anniversary celebration.
"I must have met at least another 200 people," she said.

By JO MONICH
Mrs. Nettie Whitcomb, one of three Coronans on the Queen Mary omega cruise, pooh poohs and resents the criticism issued by apparently disgruntled voyagers. Mrs. Whitcomb said today:
"The trip was one of the most fabulous experiences of my life."
Taking, one by one, the widely publicized critical remarks, Nettie clipped off her reasons for staunchly defending the one time queen of the seas.
She added: "The remarks about the poor service were either coming from someone's homes in Pennsylvania and Florida."
She added: "The remarks about the poor service were either coming from someone's homes in Pennsylvania and Florida."

Lack of drinking water? "Not at all," said Mrs. Whitcomb. "There wasn't a time when I didn't have plenty of fresh water in my room, which incidentally, was spacious and very comfortably furnished including a private bath." (She shared the A deck quarters with a congenial woman who maintains homes in Pennsylvania and Florida.)
She added: "The remarks about the poor service were either coming from someone's homes in Pennsylvania and Florida."

THREE CORONANS ON QUEEN MARY—Mrs. Nettie Whitcomb and Mr. and Mrs. Axel Springborg, all of Corona were aboard the Queen Mary when she made her final voyage from Southampton to Long Beach. Although there were some complaints about the heat on board in tropical areas, service and what some passengers called rats, the general consensus seemed to be that the old Queen was entitled to the benefit of the doubt on her last voyage with a pickup crew. One woman passenger acutely told a television audience that the only rats aboard "were two-legged ones."

Concede areas to Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy suggests the United States should concede some areas of South Vietnam to the Viet Cong in a bid to generate peace talks.
The proposal by McCarthy, the Minnesota Democrat who plans an antiwar campaign challenge to President Johnson in four 1968 primaries, drew immediate fire Sunday from the administration.
Eugene M. Anderson, a U.S. representative to the U.N. General Assembly, said McCarthy's proposal.
"I was surprised to hear him say that because I think that anyone who understands the Communists understands that you don't begin negotiating with Communists from a position of weakness if you want to negotiate seriously and expect to achieve anything by negotiations.

In an interview, Mrs. Anderson predicted ultimate U.S. success in Vietnam if the public shows the same perseverance — "that the South Vietnamese are showing."
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also ruled out yielding to the Viet Cong control of land in South Vietnam.
"I think this struggle will be won in the countryside," he said. "This is why I have never believed in enclaves. And this is why I think that some of these gimmicks that have been devised have not really had much merit."
McCarthy said the Viet Cong has strongholds in some areas of South Vietnam, and suggested there are other areas the United States need not control.

"You let the Viet Cong come in, you see what happens and during the time you try to negotiate," he said.
The Minnesota also said the reported impending resignation of U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg is evidence of U.S. reluctance to negotiate an end to the Vietnam war.

McCarthy spoke on the CBS program "Face the Nation." Humphrey was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers." Meanwhile Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., 75-year-old dean of the Senate and a Johnson war policy critic, said in an interview that Johnson "is really asking unconditional surrender."

involved in planning and producing tableaux performed by each room."
Jefferson school program will be held at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, and the fifth and sixth grades will give a musical program on Friday.
The program at Lincoln will be put on for students at 10 Wednesday morning and for parents at the PTA meeting at 7 Wednesday night.
At least three of the schools are planning to help others less fortunate than themselves with Christmas collecting canned goods for the Settlement House and gifts for the Peppermint Ridge. El Cerrito collecting canned goods and staples for needy families and Kimbell children bringing the money they would have spent on gift exchanges to go towards gifts for American Indian children.

Eagle Valley Road approved

RIVERSIDE (CNA) County supervisors today approved a $180,000 cooperative road project for Corona area citrus men.
The action by supervisors followed a recommendation from the County Planning Department to have the county construct a road in the Eagle Valley area southeast of Corona.
In recommending that the county construct the road it was on the condition that the property owners pay one-half of the $180,000 estimated cost for the project. In addition to the actual construction cost the property owners must provide the county with a 60 foot right of way so the 20 foot street can be constructed.

William R. Livingstone, assistant county planning director, said supervisors today requested to construct the Eagle Valley Road between Cajalco Road just east of the Temescalwash, and La Sierra Avenue on the west side of Lake Mathews, followed a complete investigation by the commission.

He told supervisors the commission found that the road would serve over 900 acres that had recently been planted in citrus crops. At the present time, the commission noted, the area is producing 120,000 boxes of fruit a year but this figure would increase to 650,000 boxes in the near future.
The commission pointed out that the type of roads presently serving the area were inadequate and hazardous and sometimes impossible in wet weather.
The commission noted that the annual payroll from the citrus area was presently $300,000 which is increasing as the area developed further.

Supervisors gave a tentative nod to the project in early November, but held off final action pending the commission's recommendation.
The commission noted that

Artificial heart is ultimate solution

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washansky's doctors were increasingly confident he would survive as he began his second week with his transplanted heart Sunday by eating his favorite meal — steak and eggs.
Since they are dealing with the unknown, the doctors said there may be complications they had not foreseen. But one said privately: "We think we've got our problems licked."
"I am very confident—the will pass through," said Dr. Christian N. Barnard, leader of the team which replaced the 53-year-old wholesale grocer's failing heart on Dec. 3 with the healthy heart of a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto crash.
Barnard in an article on the historic operation for The Associated Press said the future of heart transplantation appears most encouraging and plans are under way for a second such operation at Groote Schuur Hospital within the next few weeks.
He warned, however, that heart transplant operations will not become widespread for a number of years, but the difficulties are not only those associated with the organization of a large and highly skilled team but are most particularly concerned with the supply of suitable hearts for transplantation," Barnard said.
Developments in overcoming the rejection tendency may mean the donor and recipient will not have to be so closely matched and may even allow the use of organs from animals in man, he said.
"Research work in the field of organ preservation may advance sufficiently to allow the establishment of organ banks," he added, "but despite all these possible future expansions of the technique, the demand for new hearts is very likely to always to exceed the supply."
"Artificial hearts are the logical alternative, and even though these are more likely to be freely available in the future, their development, and even more so their perfection, are still many years ahead,"

Barney's program was presented last Thursday.
Noro Junior High School students and their parents are invited to a band concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Noro Junior High multipurpose room. An assembly featuring the school band and chorus will take place Friday afternoon at the school.
Noro Junior High's fine arts department will present a program at 7:30 tonight. The "Ukulele" band and chorus will perform and the drama club will give a choral reading of "It Was the Night Before Christmas." It will be repeated in an assembly for the student body at 2 p.m. Thursday. At 7 p.m. Friday the students will have a Christmas dance.
Eastvale and George Washington elementary will have no program but both have planned room parties for students Friday afternoon.

Santas to visit
Noro's newest school, Highland Elementary, will have a song concert at the Noro Community Center at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The school choir will sing for the students Thursday during school hours.
Wednesday evening at Noro Elementary School the choir will sing for students and parents at the regular PTA time of 7:30.
Riverview School will have children in first, second, third and fourth grades sing at 7 p.m. Wednesday and Santa will visit the youngsters after their performance. The school choir sang Christmas carols this afternoon for the student body.
Thursday evening at Sierra Vista three kindergarten classes will present a Christmas program in music followed by the rhythm band directed by Mrs. Lottie Tibbets and the choir directed by Lorin Farmer. Harry Kern, Jr. will play special selections on his electric organ. A student song assembly will be held Wednesday morning with Mrs. Gail Barnes directing.
Corona Elementary School's program will be presented at the PTA meeting at 7:30 Thursday night.
Garretson's three kindergartens will put on a program for parents at the PTA meeting also at 7:30 Thursday night.
Home Gardens school program will be put on for fellow students tomorrow morning and for parents at 7:30 tomorrow night at Lincoln school.
A three-day program is

Court to rule on freedom of school choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide the constitutionality of school desegregation by "freedom of choice."
It said it would review a ruling by the U. S. Circuit Court in Richmond that validated a freedom-of-choice plan for schools in New Kent County, Virginia. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Legal Defense and Educational Fund had appealed.
Freedom of choice plans permit students to choose the school they wish to attend.

Tunnays have a baby girl

Congressman John V. Tunney, D-Riverside, and his wife Mike today are the parents of a 7 lb. 13 oz. girl named Arteme.
The child was born in George Washington Hospital Washington, D. C., at 4:14 p.m. Saturday. Mother, 31 and the congressman, are reported doing well.
The Tunnays also have two boys, Edward 6, and Mark, 3.

Justice putting the heat on draft violators

By STAN BENJAMIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — In putting the heat on draft law violators the Justice Department may also be re-establishing the line between criminal prosecution and administrative enforcement—a line which critics of draft chief Lewis B. Hershey say is being eroded.
Hershey and Attorney General Ramsey Clark announced jointly Saturday the Justice Department has directed all U.S. attorneys to speed up draft law prosecutions and has set up a special coordinating unit to help them.
In an Oct. 28 letter to local draft boards, Lt. Gen. Hershey recommended he is not legally authorized to order—that the boards lift the deferment of anyone interfering with the draft or military recruiting and put such persons at the top of the induction list. The rule was felt to be aimed principally at college students.
Hershey said at a Nov. 8 news conference: "If the Department of Justice wants to prosecute him we'll certainly do it."
That is what the Justice Department says it now intends to do, as far as possible.
Daniel O. Gerner, deputy director and general counsel of the Selective Service System, said in a Sunday telephone interview that once the Justice Department takes an alleged violation to court, the case would be out of the hands of the draft board.
"Once a violator is convicted," Omer said, "he's classified 4-F—unqualified for military service—until he's finished his prison sentence. Then his classification is reopened and he is put in any class he's eligible for."

into the military for the violator.
That sanction is authorized by Selective Service regulations issued by the President to carry out provisions of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967.
That basic law deals directly with certain other offenses including altering or destroying draft cards, interfering with the draft system, and influencing others not to serve. It provides for up to five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on conviction.
Hershey's Oct. 28 letter urged draft boards to apply the delinquency procedure to those who violate the draft law in any way.
Hershey charged Hershey was trying to use the draft to punish demonstrators and was overstepping his authority.

Consulting Coronans

Today's question:
Do you think a college professor who lends or joins his students in violating the law should be fired?
I absolutely do. The taxpayers are giving money to pay for their salaries and the professors that do this are worse than the students.

Seth Thomas Cummings set his famous clock for 5 a. m. on May 27, and joined Karem temple on its pilgrimage to the City of Brotherly Love, visiting Muscle Shoals and Mammoth Cave on the return trip. He reports that the Alabama project has his approval and recommends that it be leased to Henry Ford. Speaking of brotherly love, Seth became intimately acquainted with numerous "flappers" en route but likes fried chicken as well as ever. While in New York he called on a lady, better known as the Statue of Liberty, and, so to speak, he went to her head. He is reticent as to whether she had a similar effect on him, but appears not to have been spoiled, though the ten pounds of salt put between the sheets of his berth the last night on the train may have had a preservative effect on everything but his temper.

CORONA

(E. G. Ashmore, care agent)

Just now is a mighty good time to invest in Corona real estate, because it is relatively cheap and is bound to advance sharply in value within the year.

Business is on the boom in Corona these days, and a prediction made in this magazine by me some time ago to the effect that Southern California in general and Corona in particular were destined to have one of the greatest periods of prosperity in their history is beginning to come true.

With the Corona and Santa Fe railroad soon to be a reality, opening up a vast new country to development, and the richest tin mine in the world. Oil in paying quantities and of a very high gravity has been discovered just south of town. Vast deposits of silica are developed rapidly. Various companies are shipping large quantities of superior clays. The finest rock quarry in California is shipping between 1,500 and 2,000 cars of crushed rock every month. The largest and finest quality fruit crop in the history of the country with the rainfall records for twenty-five years broken, insures plenty of water for crops. All lines of business are working full time with large forces of men employed. These are a few of the reasons why things look pretty good just now. Needless to say the Santa Fe is alive and getting the lion's share of the business.

E. Tinney, transferred to Streator. D. O. Falkenstein, apprentice instructor from Shopton, succeeds Mr. Schneider.

Florence Pruder, the genial and popular stenographer in Mr. Howatt's office, is thinking seriously of purchasing a Buick sedan.

We wonder if you are acquainted with "Blah, blah, and drop dead." This little girl we have in mind has sure endeared herself in the hearts of all of us by her cute little utterances. We give you three guesses—You are correct!

Last month's notes reported the arrival of a baby girl at the home of William Lingo, apprentice instructor. Bill was very much wrought up over this. However, after investigating, it was found that it was an erroneous report, and that the little girl in question was really Billy Jr. Accept our apologies, Bill.

DALLAS

(D. E. Barnhill, care mechanical department)

Conductor Frank Barnett is back on the job after having spent several days in the Temple hospital. We are glad to see you back in the line-up, Frank.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. O. R. Bonner's father, who passed away recently. We extend our sympathy to her and hers in their bereavement.

Extensive repairs have been under way for some time on the water tank and facilities at East Dallas, and it is expected that much improvement will result from them.

Mrs. J. G. Vanderburg and daughter Charlsie, of Silsbee, Tex., were visitors recently in Gainesville, Denton and Dallas, where they spent several days with relatives and friends.

City Freight Agent W. F. Bogie is now in far-off Oregon enjoying the fruits of the land. He will be gone for some time, and is making quite a tour of the Pacific Northwest while away.

The rip track and yard force of the car department has now gone past the 800-day mark without a personal injury and have set out to make it a thousand, if not more. We know they can do it. Go after it, boys.

The new stack on the stationary boiler stands high enough to get us particular attention from the local aviators. They fly higher now when going over East Dallas. Good idea, boys. Stacks and planes don't mix well.

The yard office force are much pleased with the improvements made there recently when a
