Copy of email sent to Art Tinoco on September 6th concerning missing election records from the Special Election Primary

Art,

In your response to my email you said, "After a thorough search, we were unable to locate records or forms for June 27, June 30, or July 1." I have observed the pick-up, delivery, and counting of the post office ballots a number of times, and I believe the person in charge of the daily counting of these ballots is Nikki. She appears to be an organized and responsible election official. Have you asked her about the missing "Daily Mail In-take Forms"?

The reason these forms are essential is that they protect the daily chain-of-custody of voted ballots. This chain of custody procedure of ballots delivered to the ROV from Vote Centers is defined on page 44 of the ROV's "Final Election Administration Plan": "Each evening, the co-leads at each Vote Center location will return vote-by-mail ballot envelopes, all voted ballots, all laptops and routers. Included with the voted ballots is a Ballot Statement that ensures chain-of custody..." The ROV has the same chain-of-custody responsibility for ballots received from the Post Office, and I can personally attest that the ROV has made significant improvements in this process. Your own administration plan states that the ballot statement is the essential control the ROV has for ensuring that the ballots voted by the voters are securely delivered to the ROV, and though you have developed such a ballot statement for post office ballots, it is a significant failing that some of these records are currently missing.

When our team makes a public records request, we are entitled to see these ballot statements: public records represent any records produced during the election, "regardless of the manner in which the record has been stored" (Government Code, section 7920.545). These records are the "audit trail" our team uses to check the ROV's election results according to election code 15302d: "a reconciliation of the number of ballots counted... with the number of votes recorded...by the vote counting system." The ballot statements are "the supporting documentation for verifying the accuracy of reported election results" (California Voting System Standards, pp. 20-21). That these supporting documents are currently missing calls into question the accuracy of your certification of the Special Election Primary.

On a more encouraging note, your team has produced a clear and thorough Standard Operating Procedure for your Roster Audit required by Election Code 15302b & c. Our team has been requesting a clear SOP like this one for your required Reconciliation Audit (15302d). We believe you need to include ballot statements in this audit SOP just as you have included them in your Roster Audit.

Matt Ceballos's argument that ballot statements are not used in the Reconciliation Audit because they are inaccurate does not make sense in light of the ROV's policy to not check the accuracy of the ballot counts on these ballot statements when they arrive at the ROV. The time to check the accuracy of the ballot counts on the statements is when they arrive at the ROV. This is especially true in light of Election Code 15304 which allows you to appoint election officials to check the accuracy of "the materials returned from the precincts" and if anything is inaccurate, "the precinct officers may be summoned...to correct the errors or omissions."

Public Comment
Greg Langworthy

If the ROV misplaces or does not use ballot statements, then citizen oversight cannot check your work. By comparison, an individual declaring a business expense on his tax return needs to keep his receipts to support his deductions. Without these records, the deduction would not be justified. In the same way, the ROV needs to keep all the ballot collection logs so both the ROV and REIT can reconcile the election results during the canvass of the election, as is required by California law, and then all will be able to see that the election certification was justified.

We believe our audit of the 2024 General Election exposed significant weaknesses in our current system, and we have scheduled a meeting with our county auditor to check our work. We remain committed to work with you and our supervisors with the goal that Riverside County will be a model of election integrity, validity, accuracy, and transparency for other counties. This will require teamwork, effort, communication, persistence, and prayer from all of us.

Let us know what you think.

Sincerely,
Greg

TANAWAH DOWNING

CIVIL RIGHTS LITIGATOR & ADVOCATE

Subject: Notice of Constitutional Non-Conformance and Action Item request

Honorable Commissioners,

I'm writing to you today to inform you of a situation that is of the utmost urgency and asking that you immediately take action to investigate the non-conformance of Constitutional obligations that I have outlined below. Be advised that this dispute has been submitted to the United States Supreme Court and Article III has been invoked by a United States Citizen demanding that the Court fulfill the obligation of Original Jurisdiction, as codified within the United States Constitution. As a Constitutional obligation, when Article III is invoked, because a State is named a Party, the obligation is not discretionary and non-delegatable and must be performed. Failure to do so would be a breach of Constitutional obligation resulting in a public wronging. Unfortunately, the Clerk of Court is obstructing the administration of Justice by refusing to docket the case, which is of course a crime and intentional refusal to enforce the body of laws governing this nation, by an agent obligated to do so as a result of the Oath or Affirmation taken upon entry into their Office. I will be addressing these criminal acts in the very near future, however, the intent of this letter is to bring to your attention a different matter and to give you and your office sufficient time to consider the issue so that you can be adequately prepared when it is brought forward to the public domain.

As an Advocate for the People, I hereby submit this Action Item request to you to immediately take action to address these direct, willful deprivation of rights secured by and enumerated in, the Constitution for the United States of America, by states subjected to the jurisdiction thereof.

Let me be clear, I am not trying to change the laws, rather I am pointing out what the laws state and that the ways in which they are being enforced directly contradict with what is specified. Therefore, I am not trying to change the laws, I am asking that we enforce them. If the laws state that something will be done, in a certain way, then we must follow that way. Laws do not change arbitrarily, that is tyranny. Constitutionalism demands that the laws evolve only through suffrage therefore, it is up to the People to decide whether or not the Constitution applies to them and not a judge or a State. If in the opinion of the People of the United States, any of the provisions or guarantees of the United States Constitution be in any particular way wrong, then let it be corrected by an amendment in the way in which the Constitution so designates. Until, if and when that time comes, every single United States Citizen is entitled to every single right secured by and enumerated in the United States Constitution, regardless of where they choose to reside within the jurisdictional United States of America.

Public Comment
David Hansen

NOTICE OF CONSTITUTIONAL NON- CONFORMANCE

Currently, there are more than 700,000 people across the United States who are imprisoned on direct, facial Constitutional violations, because their judgements derive from direct breaches in Constitutional obligations by numerous states that are acting in direct, willful defiance of the procedures and processes codified within the United States Constitution for the adjudication of crimes. Unfortunately, any judgement rendered as a result of a breach of Constitutional obligation is unconstitutional because such judgements are tainted by the illegality of the way in which they were obtained. No judgement can be Constitutional if they derive from an unconstitutional act.

Clause 1 of Amendment 5 to the United States Constitution states, "No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime unless on presentment or indictment by a Grand Jury." That is clear, no person can be arrested and held to answer for a capital or infamous crime unless upon a presentment or indictment by a grand jury. Title 18 USC §4083 defines an infamous crime as, "Any crime punishable by more than 1 year imprisonment in a penitentiary."

There are 13 states that outright do not conduct a Grand Jury proceeding at all, including the State of Washington. These states are choosing to charge persons for infamous crimes by information and not by indictment, as Constitutionally required, however, according to Title 18 USC §555, "Information can only be used for other than infamous crimes." As a result, millions of United States Citizens have been deprived of Due Process and are now unlawfully imprisoned because the states failed to adhere to the procedures and processes required for the adjudication of crimes, resulting in judgements that are void and completely without force or effect under Civil Rule 60.

This systemic failure of the Justice System to adhere to the agreed upon code of conduct established by the majority goes far beyond those 13 states that are acting in direct, willful defiance of the Constitution because most other states permit the Prosecuting Attorney to charge by Indictment or Information, as required by law, such as the State of Oklahoma or the State of Florida. Unfortunately, states do not have the power to substitute their own alternative legislation for the provisions and guarantees of the United States Constitution and if they do, then the "Judges in every state are bound thereby to anything in the Constitution." According to the Rules of Civil Procedure, "Rules must not conflict with statutes, nor impair the rights of the parties involved in the dispute, thus a court has no power to create a rule which would constitute a waiver of a Constitutional right." Or as stated by the United States Supreme Court in the case Miranda v. Arizona, "Where rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there can be no legislation created nor rule made which would abrogate them." Furthermore, sedition is defined as, "The speaking or writing of words, such as law established, to cause disaffection to the Constitution in order to procure its alteration in any way other than lawful manner." Our Constitution is a rigid Constitution that can only be altered in accordance with the Special Amending Procedures found within Article V. Any attempt to alter it in any other manner, such as by legislation enacted by a State, would be an act of sedition by a body of men attempting to procure its alteration in any way other than lawful manner. There is only one way to change the Constitution and that is through an authentic act of the People and until that happens, the Constitution is wholly with force and effect on all persons individually and collectively.

When a Prosecuting Attorney chooses to rely upon a state statute to deprive a person of a right secured by and enumerated in the Constitution for the United States of America, that act is a crime called Deprivation of Rights under Color of Law (Title 18 USC §242) and when a state judge chooses to hold a person over for trial without having the proper charging instrument, as Constitutionally required, that judge has entered into a Conspiracy to Deprive of Rights (Title 18 USC §241) and when that judge then orders law enforcement to perform an arrest on that individual without the correct charging instrument, as Constitutionally required, those performing the arrest are complicit in the criminal conspiracy and the crime of kidnapping has occurred, which if the crime of Deprivation of Rights under Color of Law occurs in conjunction with a kidnapping, the penalty is death, as prescribed by law. This is a very serious matter that happens in every single state across the nation, every single day affecting millions of United States Citizens and it is imperative that the Legislative Branch immediately take action to correct the criminal acts of those enforcing and administering the laws of our nation unlawfully.

In light of the evidence raised, as well as the supporting evidence that I can provide, upon request for the deprivation of Constitutional rights for millions of United States Citizens, I again implore you and appeal to your honorable nature to immediately initiate a public investigation of these criminal acts to ensure that those tasked with administering and enforcing those laws of this nation are doing it in compliance with the authority with which they are invested by law and when it is determined that there was an abuse of delegated authority, that any and all liberties be immediately restored to all affected parties without delay or obstruction. Any person who pays any public official to act unlawfully, is subject to criminal sanctions, which carry a possible punishment of death, as prescribed by law. I would advise this commission to immediately cease any further payment, benefits, or programs which permit any public official to act contrary to the Supreme Law of the Land.

While it is not the duty of a servant to question the motives of his superior, if he has reason to believe that his acts are unjust, he should obey his conscience and refuse to comply. Ultimately, the servant of a tyrant cannot take refuge in the excuse that he was just "following orders". Therefore, in the wise words of President Abraham Lincoln, "I do suppose that it will be much safer for all, both in private and public station to abide by and conform to, all those acts which stand un-repealed, than to violate any of them trusting to find impunity in their absolute immunity." Absolute immunity only covers civil liability and not criminal liability, so any deprivation of Constitutional rights under the authority of an inferior law or ruling is a crime that no public official can avoid liability for violating and the punishment, as required by law, is one which none of them want to be enforced.

I am available for discussion, should the Legislature desire my professional guidance in further understanding or addressing this matter, as I am currently actively engaged in bringing this matter to the attention of the public and preparing to present this debate to the United States Supreme Court. Your timely response to this matter is in the best interests of your constituents and this nation.

Respectfully and Peacefully
a Servant of Justice,
