BACKGROUND:

Summary

The Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, a body corporate and politic ("District"), owns fee title interest in real property located in the County of Riverside identified as APN 169-290-004, referenced as RCFC Parcel No. 1090-1, located in the city of Jurupa Valley, County of Riverside, also known as Bly Channel.

The District intends to convey to the County of Riverside, on behalf of its Transportation Department ("County"), a perpetual, non-exclusive easement for rights to operate and maintain the District's existing open channel within RCFC Parcel 1090-1 ("Easement"), having an approximate width of 104 feet in which open channel is intended to be replaced by County with an underground reinforced concrete box, including the use, repair, reconstruction and inspection thereof, and including rights of ingress and egress thereto, over, under and across that portion of APN 169-290-004 ("Easement Area").

Pursuant to the California Water Code Appendix §48-9, the District's Board of Supervisors ("Board") has the power to convey an interest in real property which it owns when necessary or convenient to the full exercise of its powers, and District staff has evaluated and determined that the conveyance of the Easement does not interfere with the use of the property by the District.

Pursuant to the California Water Code Appendix §48-13, the District's Board may determine any real property held by the District is no longer necessary to be retained for the uses and purposes thereof and may thereafter sell or otherwise dispose of said property or lease the same.

Resolution No. F2025-17 has been approved as to form by County Counsel.

Impact on Residents and Businesses
